OVERVIEW

We operate with the fabless model, focusing on the R&D and design of chips while outsourcing wafer fabrication to external foundries and most packaging and testing to third-party packaging and testing service providers. We offer a comprehensive portfolio of high-performance and reliable products and solutions for application sectors such as (i) automotive electronics, (ii) energy and industrial automation and (iii) consumer electronics. Our three core product categories – sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips – form a complete chain that covers (i) sensing, (ii) signal processing and (iii) system power supply and power drive. These products play a critical role in enabling the connection and interaction between the physical and digital worlds.

According to Frost & Sullivan in terms of revenue from analog chips in 2024, we ranked 14th among all analog IC companies in the Chinese analog chip market, with a market share of 0.9%, and fifth among Chinese analog chip companies.

Our products enable the connection and interaction between the physical and digital worlds:

- Sensor products serve as the starting point of the connection and interaction between the physical world and the digital world. Sensor products detect physical quantities or changes in the surrounding environment (such as temperature, pressure or current) and convert these inputs into electronic signals for processing by the back-end of the electronic systems. Our sensor products include magnetic sensors, pressure sensors, and temperature and humidity sensors;
- Signal chain chips collect, amplify, transmit and process electronic signals along the signal input-to-output path. These chips ensure the accuracy and integrity of electronic signals to meet the functional requirements of electronic systems. Our signal chain chips include sensor signal conditioning chips, isolators, amplifiers, general-purpose interface chips, and MCU/SoC products; and
- Power management chips are primarily used for the power supply and power drive of the electronic system. They ensure the stable power supply and efficient operation of the electronic systems. Our power management chips include gate drivers, motor drivers, power supply chips, automotive LED drivers, and power path protection chips.

To better serve the end customers in various application sectors, we develop products to meet specific functional requirements of electronic systems. Through the application of sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips collectively, we are able to provide specific solutions that help our end customers meet their desired functionalities and requirements.

SUMMARY

Leveraging our continued R&D and our understanding of market demands, our products have been widely applied across various application sectors such as automotive electronics, energy and industrial automation, consumer electronics, and certain emerging sectors.

OUR COMPETITIVE STRENGTHS

We believe the following strengths position us well to capitalize on future opportunities and deliver continued growth:

- Analog Chip Company in China with an Extensive Product Portfolio Driven by Key Applications: Our extensive portfolio of over 3,600 product models spans sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips, with strong market positions in products such as digital isolators and magnetic sensors.
- Advantages in the High-Barrier Automotive Chip Sector in China: We have established a strong position in the technically demanding automotive electronics sector. According to Frost & Sullivan, we ranked first among Chinese companies for automotive analog chip revenue in 2024. Our automotive-grade products have been adopted by numerous leading domestic NEV manufacturers and global Tier-1 customers, and were used on all of the top ten domestic NEV models in China by sales volume in 2024.
- Strong Product Capabilities Empowered by Robust Technology: We possess end-to-end capabilities from chip design to delivery. Our core products are comparable to, and in certain cases, surpass those of international competitors in key performance metrics, according to Frost & Sullivan. This is demonstrated by our strong performance in products such as digital isolator chips, sensor signal conditioning ASICs and magnetic current sensor chips.
- Rigorous Quality Control System to Ensure Product Reliability: We adhere to a stringent quality policy that covers the entire product lifecycle. Our quality management system has received key industry certifications, including ISO 26262 for functional safety up to the ASIL-D level, and our products meet AEC-Q100 automotive-grade standards. We employ reliability testing standards, in some cases doubling the industry standard, to ensure our products meet the demanding requirements of our customers.
- Visionary and Experienced Management Team and High-Quality Talent Base: Our management team consists of industry veterans with deep technical expertise and an average of over 15 years of experience, including at leading international semiconductor companies. This is supported by a high-quality talent base, enabling our continuous innovation and growth.

We typically engage reputable suppliers to ensure the quality of our products. During the Track Record Period, purchases from our five largest suppliers in each year/period amounted to RMB1,049.0 million, RMB854.9 million, RMB952.5 million and RMB931.2 million, respectively, representing 90.5%, 86.8%, 82.3% and 86.4% of our total purchases, respectively. In addition, during the Track Record Period, purchases from our largest supplier in each year/period accounted for 40.1%, 39.9%, 32.8% and 34.3% of our total purchases, respectively. See “Business – Procurement and Suppliers – Our Suppliers” and “Business – Procurement and Suppliers – Supplier Concentration” for more details of our suppliers and supplier concentration.

SUMMARY

NON-IFRS MEASURE

To supplement our consolidated financial statements, which are presented in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards, we also use adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) as an additional financial measure, which is not required by, or presented in accordance with, IFRS Accounting Standards.

The following table reconciles our profit/(loss) for the year/period presented in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards to adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure).

	Year ended December 31,			Six months ended June 30,
	2022	2023	2024	2024	2025
	RMB'000	RMB'000	RMB'000	RMB'000	RMB'000
				(unaudited)
Profit/(loss) for the year/period	250,121	(305,335)	(402,878)	(265,251)	(78,010)
Add:
Equity-settled share-based transactions	196,705	221,073	70,895	147,309	42,839
Effect of corresponding income tax	(26,438)	(9,483)	(16,019)	(641)	(6,268)
Adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure)	420,388	(93,745)	(348,002)	(118,583)	(41,439)

We define adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) as profit/(loss) for the year/period, excluding equity-settled share-based transactions and effect of corresponding income tax. We have made the following adjustment consistently during the Track Record Period.

- Equity-settled share-based transactions represent the non-cash employee benefit expenses incurred in connection with our award to key employees after taxation adjustment. Such expenses in any specific period are not expected to result in future cash payments.
- Effect of corresponding income tax represents the tax impact associated with equity-settled share-based transactions.

We believe that adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our consolidated results of operations in the same manner as they help our management. However, our non-IFRS measure does not have a standardized meaning prescribed by IFRS Accounting Standards, and our presentation of adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. The use of adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider them in isolation from, or as a substitute for an analysis of, our results of operations or financial condition as reported under IFRS Accounting Standards.

Comparison between the six months ended June 30, 2025 and the six months ended June 30, 2024: Our revenue increased by 79.5% from RMB848.9 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB1,523.7 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily driven by the increase in revenue from sales of (i) sensor products, (ii) power management chips and (iii) signal chain products, mainly due to the continued growth in demand from the automotive electronics sector, the recovery of the demand from the industrial and automation sector, as well as the consolidation of the business and financial performances of MagnTek.

Comparison between 2024 and 2023: Our revenue increased by 49.5% from RMB1,310.9 million in 2023 to RMB1,960.3 million in 2024, primarily driven by the increase in revenue from sales of (i) sensor products, (ii) signal chain chips and (iii) power management chips, mainly due to the increased sales volume in line with the increasing demand from end customers, particularly in the automotive electronics sector.

Comparison between 2023 and 2022: Our revenue decreased by 21.5% from RMB1,670.4 million in 2022 to RMB1,310.9 million in 2023, primarily due to the decrease in revenue from signal chain chips and power management chips, mainly as a result of intensified price competition from leading global companies, which led us to adjust our product pricing accordingly.

Please see “Financial Information - Review of Historical Results of Operations – Revenue – Revenue by Products” for details of reasons for the changes in revenue of our sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips.

SUMMARY

We conducted thorough reviews and valuation of our inventories during the Track Record Period. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, we recorded impairment loss of inventories of RMB25.1 million, RMB61.8 million, RMB91.6 million, RMB36.0 million and RMB35.9 million, respectively. The increases of impairment loss of inventories during the Track Record Period were primarily attributable to (i) the decrease in realizable value of inventories as a result of the decrease of our product prices amid intensified market competition over the Track Record Period; and (ii) our adoption of the approach by fully impairing long-aged inventories. The impairment losses related to long-aged inventory, particularly in 2023, was primarily because, prior the first half of 2022, amid strong market conditions and in anticipation of continued customer demand, we proactively increased our procurement and production levels. However, the semiconductor industry subsequently entered an inventory destocking cycle in the second half of 2022, which led to a slowdown in sales and resulted in the long age of certain finished goods. Please see “Financial Information – Review of Historical Results of Operations – Cost of Sales” for details of the breakdown of our impairment loss of inventories during the Track Record Period by nature.

Our gross profit margin decreased from 48.5% in 2022 to 33.9% in 2023, and further decreased to 28.0% in 2024. The gross profit margins of our three main categories of products, namely sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips, also experienced a consistent decrease from 2022 to 2023 and further to 2024. The decrease in gross profit margins during the Track Record Period was mainly because of the intense market competition from leading global analog IC companies, which led us to adjust our prices to remain competitive price-wise. However, the rate of the overall gross profit margin decline from 2023 to 2024 was relatively smaller than the decline from 2022 to 2023, primarily due to our cost-saving efforts, including enhanced manufacturing efficiency and more effective control over production costs.

Our gross profit margin increased from 29.7% in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 32.9% in the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in gross profit margins was mainly because of (i) increasing demand from downstream markets; (ii) our strategic optimization of our product mix, which led to a decreased sales contribution from products with lower gross margins; and (iii) implementation of cost-reduction initiatives that lowered our overall cost of production including material costs and packaging and testing costs.

SUMMARY

Profit/(Loss) for the Year/Period

We recorded profit of RMB250.1 million in 2022 and loss of RMB305.3 million in 2023 and RMB402.9 million in 2024. We recorded loss of RMB265.3 million and RMB78.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively. Our losses during the Track Record Period were primarily due to (i) intensified market competition, which led us to adjust our product prices to remain competitive price-wise, (ii) our substantial investment in R&D and market expansion, and (iii) equity-settled share-based transactions in relation to the implementation of a restricted share incentive plan following our A-share listing. While we still recorded net loss, our net loss margin (calculated as loss for the period divided by total revenue) significantly reduced from 31.2% for the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 5.0% for the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily because of (i) increasing demand from downstream markets; (ii) our strategic optimization of our product mix, which led to a decreased sales contribution from products with lower gross margins; and (iii) implementation of cost-reduction initiatives that lowered our overall cost of production including material costs and packaging and testing costs. Additionally, our selling and marketing expenses, administrative expenses and R&D expenses, as percentages to revenue, consistently decreased from the six months ended June 30, 2024 to the same period in 2025, as a result of (i) our efforts to optimize expense management and enhance operational efficiency, resulting in a more cost-effective allocation of resources, and (ii) a reduction in share-based payment expenses. We plan to improve our profitability by implementing business initiatives of achieving sustained growth in revenue, managing gross profit profile and enhancing operating efficiency. See “Business – Challenges to our Industry and Business” for more details.

Our net current assets decreased from RMB5,397.3 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB4,715.3 million as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to the increase in capital expenditures in property, plant and equipment of RMB740.5 million related to (i) the continued construction of our office buildings in Suzhou and Shanghai, and (ii) the increase in our purchase of special equipment for our product design and production.

SUMMARY

Our net current assets decreased from RMB4,715.3 million as of December 31, 2023 to RMB3,931.1 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily due to the decrease in cash and cash equivalents of RMB738.1 million, which was attributable to our continued investments to support expanding production, R&D activities and external strategic investments. In return, our property, plant and equipment increased from RMB1,284.6 million as of December 31, 2023 to RMB1,523.6 million as of December 31, 2024, and our financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (non-current) increased from RMB155.5 million to RMB290.1 million, which was primarily due to the increase in the investment in unlisted units in investment funds during the same period.

Our net current assets decreased from RMB3,931.1 million as of December 31, 2024 to RMB3,850.9 million as of June 30, 2025, primarily due to the decrease in cash and cash equivalents of RMB300.0 million, which was primarily attributable to use of cash and cash equivalents for raw material procurement, partially offset by the increase in trade and other receivables of RMB276.8 million, primarily in line with our business growth and revenue increase.

As of December 31, 2022, we had total equity of RMB6,498.5 million. Our total equity decreased to RMB6,207.5 million as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to decrease in our retained profits attributable to our loss for the year of RMB305.3 million in 2023, repurchase of shares of RMB200.1 million and our dividends paid in 2023 of RMB80.9 million partially offset by the issue of ordinary shares for equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB70.6 million and equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB221.1 million. Our total equity decreased to RMB5,947.1 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily attributable to the decrease in our retained profits attributable to our loss for the year of RMB402.9 million, settlement of equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB72.0 million and equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB70.9 million. Our total equity decreased to RMB5,917.8 million as of June 30, 2025, primarily attributable to the decrease in our retained profits attributable to our loss for the period of RMB78.0 million, partially offset by equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB42.8 million. Our net losses for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2024 were primarily due to (i) our significant investment in R&D and market expansion, (ii) intensified market competition, which led us to adjust our product prices to remain competitive price-wise, and (iii) payment in relation to the implementation of a restricted share incentive plan following our A-share listing. See the Consolidated Statements of Changes in Equity to the Accountants' Report set out in Appendix I to this prospectus for more details.

Our interest-bearing borrowings increased from RMB28.4 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB594.5 million as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to additional bank loans obtained for business operations and our subsidiary, Shanghai Naxi, obtaining bank financing for the purchase of an office building. Our interest-bearing borrowings further increased to RMB853.8 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily because we sought financing for the acquisition of MagnTek in 2024. Our interest-bearing borrowings further increased to RMB878.2 million as of June 30, 2025, primarily because of new borrowings incurred in the first half of 2025.

SUMMARY

COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE AND CHALLENGES TO OUR INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS

The analog IC industry is characterized by its extensive applications and diverse product portfolio, resulting in a competitive landscape with numerous market players. According to Frost & Sullivan, as of the end of 2024, there were over 400 analog IC design companies in China, including several major international players and nearly 30 listed companies to achieve meaningful business scale and long-term success. As of the end of 2024, there were over ten thousand players in the Chinese sensor product market, including nearly two hundred listed companies. Despite the large number of players, a large amount of market share is held by major international players and a few top domestic listed companies.

We compete primarily on product quality, our ability to meet end customers' demands, industry experience and brand and reputation. We believe the analog IC market presents high entry barriers for competitors to achieve meaningful business scale and long-term success, including technological expertise, substantial R&D investment, first-mover advantages, an extensive product portfolio, strong customer recognition, and established collaborations with foundries. However, given the wide range of downstream applications, such as automotive, energy and industrial as well as consumer electronics, each with distinct product needs, smaller players are able to compete in specific lower-end segments. As a result, while the markets are concentrated at the high end, there remains a broad base of participants in lower-end applications. On the other hand, entry barriers remain generally high in segments such as automotive electronics or energy and industrial automation. We remain focused on leveraging our innovation capability, customer-centric solutions, and operational efficiency to maintain and enhance our position in the market.

According to Frost & Sullivan, the analog IC industry remains dominated by leading international companies as a result of their longer industry experiences, extensive product portfolios and economies of scale. These international companies exert considerable competitive pressure, for instance, in terms of product pricing, which can materially affect the pricing strategies and gross margins of Chinese companies, including us. According to Frost & Sullivan, in recent years, intensified price competition from leading international companies has created challenges for the business of Chinese companies, requiring them to adjust pricing and impacting their profitability. However, according to Frost & Sullivan, despite the competitive pressure, Chinese companies, including us, have demonstrated notable growth by delivering tailored products that address specific industry requirements and customer needs.

SUMMARY

Analysis of Historical Losses

During the Track Record Period, we recorded net profit of RMB250.1 million in 2022 but subsequently incurred net losses of RMB305.3 million and RMB402.9 million in 2023 and 2024, respectively. We recorded net losses of RMB265.3 million and RMB78.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively. Our losses in 2023 and 2024 were primarily due to:

- Intensified market competition. Our gross profit margin decreased from 48.5% in 2022 to 33.9% in 2023, and further decreased to 28.0% in 2024, primarily due to increasing pricing pressure and evolving competitive dynamics. Leading international companies exerted considerable competitive pressure, for instance, in terms of product pricing, which materially affected both Chinese companies' and their own profit margins;
- Substantial investment in R&D and other business aspects. We made investments in R&D and other aspects, such as business development, supply chain infrastructure, product quality management and talent development. These expenditures, while aimed at strengthening our long-term growth, resulted in higher expenses during the Track Record Period;
- Equity-settled share-based transactions. We implemented a restricted share incentive plan following our A Share listing.

While we still recorded net loss for the six months ended June 30, 2025, our net loss margin (calculated as loss for the period divided by total revenue) significantly reduced from 31.2% for the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 5.0% for the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily because of (i) increasing demand from downstream markets; (ii) our strategic optimization of our product mix, which led to a decreased sales contribution from products with lower gross margins; and (iii) implementation of cost-reduction initiatives that lowered our overall cost of production including material costs and packaging and testing costs. Additionally, our selling and marketing expenses, administrative expenses and R&D expenses, as percentages to revenue, consistently decreased from the six months ended June 30, 2024 to the same period in 2025, as a result of (i) our efforts to optimize expense management and enhance operational efficiency, resulting in a more cost-effective allocation of resources, and (ii) a reduction in share-based payment expenses.

SUMMARY

Path to Profitability

We aim to achieve profitability in the coming years by driving sustained revenue growth, optimizing our gross profit profile, and enhancing operating efficiency.

- Achieving sustained growth in revenue. We plan to increase the penetration of our products across automotive electronics, energy, industrial automation and consumer electronics sectors while expanding our product portfolio to capture opportunities from the rising localization of analog ICs in China, and advance global expansion efforts to grow overseas revenue. We also strive to strengthen our technological and R&D advantages;
- Managing Gross Profit Profile. We focus on developing high-value, differentiated products tailored to specific high-value, high-barrier application sectors like automotive electronics. We aim to improve cost efficiency through process innovations, in-house packaging and testing capabilities, and refined supply chain efficiency;
- Enhancing operating efficiency. We expect to efficiently manage expenses by optimizing our selling and marketing expenses, R&D expenses and administrative expenses.

See “Business – Challenges to our Industry and Business” for more details.

RISK FACTORS

We believe there are certain risks and uncertainties involved in our operations, some of which are beyond our control. We have categorized these risks and uncertainties into: (i) risks relating to our business and industry, (ii) risks relating to conducting business in China and other jurisdictions and (iii) risks relating to the Global Offering. - New scientific and technological outcomes or trends could make our products uncompetitive and obsolete.
- We depend on the continued services and contributions of our founders, Directors, senior management and other key employees, including senior R&D personnel and skilled engineers.
- The industry in which we operate is highly competitive. If we fail to compete against other market players, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.
- We have incurred net losses during the Track Record Period, and we may continue to incur net losses in future.

SUMMARY

- Our products are primarily used by end customers of downstream industries and sectors, and our end customer coverage in these industries and sectors may be limited. Factors that adversely affect these industries and sectors or our end customer base therein may adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- The size of the markets in which we operate and the demand for our products may not increase as quickly as we anticipate due to a variety of factors, which would materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- We may not be able to implement our planned growth plan and our business and results of operations may be adversely affected.
- We are subject to rapid fluctuations in the semiconductor industry.
- We may not be able to obtain or maintain adequate intellectual property rights protection for our products, or the scope of such intellectual property rights protection may not be sufficiently broad.
- Acquisitions, investments or strategic alliances may fail and materially and adversely affect our reputation, business and results of operations. We may not be able to effectively integrate or manage our acquired business.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS AND NON-COMPLIANCE

During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we had not been involved in any actual or pending legal, arbitration or administrative proceedings (including any bankruptcy or receivership proceedings) that we believe would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition or reputation and compliance. IMPACT OF THE FINAL RULE BY THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

On October 28, 2024, the U.S. Department of the Treasury (the “Department of Treasury”) issued the “Provisions Pertaining to U.S. Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern” (the “Final Rule”) to implement an outbound investment program that restricts investments by U.S. persons and U.S.-controlled entities. The Final Rule became effective on January 2, 2025.

The Final Rule applies to certain investments by U.S. persons in entities engaged in activities involving semiconductors and microelectronics, quantum information technologies, and artificial intelligence that pertain to national security technologies and products. Covered transactions under the Final Rule include a range of investment activities, such as equity acquisitions, debt financing, and joint ventures, with some transactions outright prohibited and others subject to notification requirements. Exceptions are available for specific categories of transactions, including investments in publicly traded securities under certain conditions.

Following consultations with our legal advisor regarding U.S. foreign investment laws and taking into account of their view, our Directors believe that the Final Rule has no material adverse impact to our business operations, financial performance and the Global Offering because (i) although investments by U.S. persons in us likely constitute “notifiable transactions” under the Final Rule, they do not constitute “prohibited transactions” under the Final Rule, as our business involving the design of ICs do not meet the standard of the design of advanced ICs under the “prohibited transaction” criteria; (ii) Should the purchase of our H Shares in the Global Offering by U.S. persons be considered notifiable transactions, the obligation to report such notifiable transactions to the U.S. Department of the Treasury lies with the U.S. persons making such investments, and there is no reporting obligation imposed on us under the Final Rule; (iii) Investments by persons other than U.S. persons as defined under the Final Rule are not subject to the Final Rule; (iv) although investments by U.S. persons in us likely constitute “notifiable transactions” under the Final Rule, an exception to the notifiable transactions allows U.S. persons to invest in publicly traded securities as long as certain conditions provided by the Final Rule are met; and (v) Additionally, our major shareholders, Directors, and senior management are not considered “U.S. persons” as defined by the Final Rule.

Please see “Regulatory Overview – Final Rule by the U.S. Department of the Treasury” and “Business – Impact of the Final Rule” for details.

SUMMARY

RECENT DEVELOPMENT AND NO MATERIAL ADVERSE CHANGE

Recent Operational and Financial Development

We continue to record revenue growth and improvement in gross profit margin post June 30, 2025, primarily driven by robust demand of products in the automotive electronics sector and a recovery in the energy and industrial automation sector. The successful integration of MagnTek further contributed to our revenue growth through business synergies and market expansion. Some of our new products have continued to demonstrate improved gross profit margins.

Despite the above, our results are affected by many various factors, including among others, market demand for our products, volatility of price of raw materials, our ability to raise the average selling price of our products and the effectiveness of our cost control measures. Given our loss making position in 2023 and 2024, we expect that we may not be able to turn our losses into profits for the year ending December 31, 2025, as the pace of recovery in downstream market demand is expected to take time, and the full financial impact of our strategic initiatives, including launching new products, securing volume orders from major customers and implementing measures to improve our cost structure and operational efficiency, is expected to take time to be fully realized. See “Risk Factors – Risk relating to our business and industry – We have incurred net losses during the Track Record Period, and we may continue to incur net losses in future.”

Unaudited Financial Information for the Nine Months Ended September 30, 2025

Our revenue increased by 73.2% from RMB1,366.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB2,365.6 million for the same period in 2025. This growth was primarily driven by strong demand from key downstream sectors, including automotive electronics and energy and industrial automation.

- Sensor Products: Our revenue from sales of sensor products increased by 360.0% from RMB139.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB640.3 million for the same period in 2025. This significant increase was primarily attributable to the consolidation of the financial results of MagnTek following its acquisition, and was also supported by an increase in sales volume of our magnetic sensor products to key customers in the automotive electronics sector.
- Signal Chain Chips: Our revenue from sales of signal chain chips increased by 25.0% from RMB718.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB898.0 million for the same period in 2025. The growth was primarily due to the recovery in demand from customers in the energy and industrial automation sector for our products.
- Power Management Chips: Our revenue from sales of power management chips increased by 64.7% from RMB496.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB818.1 million for the same period in 2025. This was primarily due to strengthening demand from the automotive electronics and energy and industrial automation sectors for our products, particularly our gate driver products.

SUMMARY

Our cost of sales increased by 65.0% from RMB968.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB1,597.7 million for the same period in 2025, which was generally in line with our revenue growth.

As a result of the foregoing, our gross profit increased by 93.1% from RMB397.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB767.8 million for the same period in 2025. Our gross profit margin increased from 29.1% for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to 32.5% for the same period in 2025. This increase was primarily due to a favorable shift in our product mix, with a higher proportion of revenue being contributed by our higher-margin products, such as certain magnetic sensor products.

Our (i) selling and marketing expenses increased from RMB135.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB175.4 million for the same period in 2025, (ii) administrative expenses increased from RMB218.6 million to RMB221.1 million, and (iii) research and development expenses increased from RMB495.7 million to RMB561.6 million over the same periods. The movements in these expenses were primarily attributable to several factors, including (i) the consolidation of MagnTek's operating expenses following its acquisition, and (ii) an increase in employee compensation resulting from expansion of our workforce. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in share-based payment expenses recognized during the period, as certain equity incentive plans reached their final vesting period.

Primarily as a result of the foregoing, we experienced an improvement to our net loss condition. Our net loss decreased from RMB407.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to RMB140.5 million for the same period in 2025, and our net loss margin improved from 29.8% for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 to 5.9% for the same period in 2025.

Our unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial information for the nine months ended September 30, 2025 has been reviewed by our Reporting Accountants in accordance with Hong Kong Standard on Review Engagements 2410 "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity" issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certificate Public Accountants. Please see Appendix IIA to this prospectus for details of such financial information.

SUMMARY

Recent Regulatory and Industry Development in Relation to Tariffs

In 2025, the United States government announced a series of tariff increases on imports from China. Beginning in February 2025, a baseline 10% tariff was imposed on all imports from China, followed by successive adjustments in March and April 2025. In April 2025, the tariff rate on imports from China introduced by the U. S. government increased to 145%.

In response to the tariff tensions initiated by the United States, China implemented a series of measures, including raising additional tariffs on U.S. goods to as high as 125%. In addition, there are recent developments in the semiconductor industry relating to the application or interpretation of these tariffs. On April 11, 2025, the China Semiconductor Industry Association issued a notice clarifying the rules for determining the country of origin for semiconductors in connection with import declarations and tariff charges. According to the notice, the country where the wafer was fabricated will be deemed the country of origin, regardless of where the chip is packaged.

In May 2025, the U.S. and China reached an agreement to temporarily defer the implementation of tariff increases for at least 90 days. As of the date of this prospectus, the abovementioned tariff policies might remain subject to further adjustments. See “Risk Factors – We may be subject to the risks associated with international trade policies, geopolitics and trade protection measures, including imposition of trade restrictions and sanctions, and our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected” for more details.

Repurchase of A Shares

According to the announcement published by our Company on November 24, 2025 on the Shanghai Stock Exchange, our Company proposed to repurchase its A Shares with the Group’s own source of funds rather than the net proceeds from the Global Offering, primarily to meet the needs of the relevant employee incentive plans. The repurchases will be conducted from time to time within a twelve-month period from the date of the board resolutions approving the repurchase plan, in an aggregate amount of not less than RMB200 million and not more than RMB400 million. Based on a repurchase price of not more than RMB 200 per A Share, our Company expected to repurchase a total of approximately 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 A Shares. Our Company has no intention to conduct any repurchase prior to the Listing. Our Company expects that the repurchase of A Shares will not affect our ability to maintain a public float above the minimum prescribed percentage of H Shares required to be held in public hands, being 10% under Rule 19A.13A(2)(a) of the Listing Rules.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in our H Shares involves significant risks. You should carefully consider all of the information in this prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below, before making an investment in our H Shares. The following is a description of what we consider to be our material risks. Any of the following risks could have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In any such case, the market price of our H Shares could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment.

These factors are contingencies that may or may not occur and we are not in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring. The information given is as of the Latest Practicable Date unless otherwise stated, will not be updated after the date hereof, and is subject to the cautionary statements in “Forward-looking Statements” in this prospectus.

RISKS RELATING TO OUR BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

New scientific and technological outcomes or trends could make our products uncompetitive and obsolete.

Our success depends on our ability to develop and integrate our technologies to support our products. To remain competitive, we must maintain and enhance our technologies to meet the latest downstream market needs, technological advancement and industry standards. The development activities related to our technologies may involve significant time, risks and uncertainties: for instance, our R&D team may not be able to coordinate and manage the development projects, the expenses associated with these investments may affect our margins and operating results and these investments may not generate sufficient revenue to offset related liabilities and expenses.

Moreover, our products are used in a variety of application sectors and downstream industries. Technological advancement and new industry standards in these downstream industries may affect the application requirements of our end customers and their products. If we fail to develop new products or refine our technologies to match the different or additional requirements of our end customers, the sale of our products may decrease, and our business, financial condition and results of operation may be adversely affected.

In addition, leading industry competitors continuously upgrade their product portfolios, which may render our products less attractive or even obsolete. Therefore, to mitigate this risk, we must continuously enhance our technologies, to meet the latest downstream market needs, technological advancement and industry standards. However, we cannot guarantee that we will be successful in matching all, or any, of the above, or that our technologies will maintain their competitiveness in the future compared to alternatives developed by our competitors.

RISK FACTORS

The industry in which we operate is highly competitive. If we fail to compete against other market players, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

The analog IC industry in which we operate is highly competitive. We primarily compete with other companies that focus on developing and commercializing analog chips. If we compete with players that have a longer operating history than we do, or if we do not have or in the future gain more financial resources and sophisticated technological capabilities and broader customer base and relationships than our competitors, we may not be able to respond as quickly and effectively to new opportunities, technologies, industry standards, customer demand or regulatory requirements as our competitors.

We may also face competition from new entrants who may offer competitive products at lower prices in the future. Such new entrants may increase industry competition and adversely impact the sales, price, and profit margins of our products and our market share. Further, we may be required to make substantial additional investments in research, development, marketing and sales, recruiting and retaining talents, and acquiring technologies complementary to, or necessary for, our current and future products in order to respond to such potential competitions, and we cannot assure you that such measures will be effective.

The risk that the leading international industry players in China's analog IC industry can exert price pressure on domestic competitors, including us. In order to secure our market share and maintain the competitiveness of our products, we have had to implement strategic price adjustments, which resulted in a general decrease in the gross profit margin and average selling prices for our main product categories during the Track Record Period. For instance, our gross profit margin decreased from 48.5% in 2022 to 33.9% in 2023, and further decreased to 28.0% in 2024. The gross profit margins of our three main categories of products, namely sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips, also experienced a consistent decrease from 2022 to 2023 and further to 2024. The decrease in gross profit margins from 2022 to 2024 was mainly because of the intense market competition from leading global analog IC companies, which led us to adjust our prices to remain competitive price-wise. In addition, from 2022 to 2024, the average selling price of our sensor products decreased from RMB2.09 to RMB0.94 per unit, the average selling price of our signal chain chips decreased from RMB0.92 to RMB0.43 per unit, and the average selling price of our power management chips decreased from RMB2.16 to RMB1.57 per unit.

Our ability to maintain or improve our gross profit margin and increase our average selling prices is, and may continue to be, subject to the level of price competition among market players (especially the leading international players). There can be no assurance that we will be able to effectively manage such competition. Any continued decline in our gross profit margin and/or average selling prices as a result thereof could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

RISK FACTORS

We may be subject to the risks associated with international trade policies, geopolitics and trade protection measures, including imposition of trade restrictions and sanctions, and our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Our operations are subject to deterioration in the political and economic relations among countries and sanctions and export controls administered by government authorities and other geopolitical challenges, including, but not limited to, economic and labor conditions, increased custom duties, tariffs, taxes and other costs and political instability. Margins on the sales of products that include components obtained from certain suppliers from other countries and regions could be materially and adversely affected by international trade regulations, including custom duties, tariffs and antidumping penalties. In particular, the U.S. government imposed economic and trade sanctions directly or indirectly affecting China-based technology companies. It is possible that the extent and scope of such sanctions may escalate. There is no assurance as to how the U.S.-China trade tensions might develop or whether there will be any changes to the scope and extent of goods that are or will be subject to such export controls, sanctions, tariffs, or new trade policies introduced by the two countries. We cannot predict the implications of the ongoing U.S.-China trade tensions and the resulting impact on our industry and the global economy.

In recent years, the United States has increased export controls restrictions on China through the Export Administration Regulations (the “EAR”), administered by the Bureau of Industry and Security of the U.S. Department of Commerce (“BIS”), which includes a list of foreign persons on which certain trade restrictions are imposed (the “Entity List”). The export, re-export and/or transfer (in-country) of items subject to the EAR to a listed foreign person is generally prohibited unless the specified license requirements are met. These restrictions or regulations, and similar or more expansive restrictions or regulations that may be imposed by the U.S. or other jurisdictions in the future, may materially and adversely affect our ability to acquire technologies, systems, devices or components that may be critical to our technology infrastructure, product offerings and business operations. Any uncertainties and changes in these current or future restrictions or regulations may have a negative impact on our reputation and business. If certain of our customers and suppliers are listed on the Entity List and subject to restrictions from sourcing or selling technologies, software, or components subject to the EAR from or to us, we may not be able to obtain, extend or maintain the requisite regulatory permits in relation to our transactions with these customers and suppliers.

RISK FACTORS

In addition, on August 9, 2023, the Biden Administration issued the Executive Order on Addressing United States Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern (“Reverse CFIUS EO”) granting the U.S. government the authority to establish and enforce an outbound investment screening regime. On October 28, 2024, the Department of the Treasury issued the Provisions Pertaining to U.S. Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern (the “Final Rule”) to implement an outbound investment program that restricts investments by U.S. persons and U.S.-controlled entities imposed by Executive Order 14105, “Addressing United States Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern”. The Final Rule has become effective on January 2, 2025. The Final Rule targets investments by U.S. persons involving persons and entities associated with “countries of concern,” currently including China, that engaged in activities in certain sectors such as semiconductors and microelectronics, quantum information technologies or artificial intelligence (which the Final Rule defines as “covered activities”). The persons and entities from countries of concern engaged in covered activities defined as “covered foreign persons”. The Final Rule imposes prohibition or notification requirements on a wide range of investments by U.S. persons subject to the Final Rule, which are defined as “covered transactions”, include acquisitions of equity interests (including purchases of shares in an initial public offering or contingent equity), certain debt financing, joint ventures, and certain investments as a limited partner in a non-U.S. person pooled investment fund. See “Regulatory Overview – Final Rule by the U.S. Department of the Treasury” for details of the Final Rule.

Following consultations with our legal advisor regarding U.S. foreign investment laws and taking into account of their view, our Directors believe that the Final Rule has no material adverse impact to our business operations, financial performance and the Global Offering for the reasons outlined below: (i) We are a “covered foreign person” and our business constitutes “covered activities” and investments by U.S. persons in us likely constitute “notifiable transactions” under the Final Rule. However, they do not constitute “prohibited transactions” under the Final Rule, as our business involving the design of ICs do not meet the standard of the design of advanced ICs under the “prohibited transaction” criteria; (ii) Should the purchase of our H Shares in the Global Offering by U.S. persons be considered notifiable transactions, the obligation to report such notifiable transactions to the U.S. Department of the Treasury lies with the U.S. persons making such investments, and there is no reporting obligation imposed on us under the Final Rule; (iii) Investments by persons other than U.S. persons as defined under the Final Rule are not subject to the Final Rule; (iv) An exception to the notifiable transactions allows U.S. persons to invest in our publicly traded securities, including securities traded on a non-U.S. exchange, as long as (a) the trade does not afford the U.S. person rights beyond standard minority shareholder protections with respect to the covered foreign person; and (b) the shares are officially available for public trading after the initial public offering on a non-U.S. exchange such as the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. The exception does not apply to the shares purchased by investors before the public trading of the shares issued pursuant to an initial public offering officially begins. This means that transactions by any U.S. person purchasing our H Shares before the public trading of our H Shares issued pursuant to the Global Offering starts would be deemed a “notifiable transaction” under the Final Rule; and (v) additionally, our major shareholders, Directors, and senior management are not considered “U.S. persons” as defined by the Final Rule. However, the Final Rule nonetheless may increase the compliance burden of U.S. investors and may cause certain U.S. investors to adopt a more cautious approach in their investments, affecting the investor sentiment towards us, and therefore negatively impacting our ability to raise capital.

RISK FACTORS

In 2025, the United States government announced a series of tariff increases on imports from China. Beginning in February, 2025, a baseline 10% tariff was imposed on all imports from China, followed by successive adjustments in March and April 2025. In April 2025, the tariff rate on imports from China introduced by the U. S. government had increased to 145%. In response to the tariff tensions initiated by the United States, China implemented a series of measures, including raising additional tariffs on U.S. goods to as high as 125%. In May 2025, the U.S. and China reached an agreement to temporarily defer the implementation of tariff increases for at least 90 days. As of the Latest Practicable Date, it remained uncertain how the Sino-U.S. and the global trade tension will develop. In the event that our customers reduce their orders, be such due to a decrease in overall demand of our products, replacing us with other suppliers, downturn of the macro-economy or other reasons, our business, financial conditions and results of operation will be adversely affected. Also, in the event that we are required to adjust our pricing strategies due to the changes of competition dynamics, our business, financial conditions and results of operation will be adversely affected. We cannot assure you that our sales to the U.S. in the future will remain unaffected or how our sales will be affected in light of the uncertainties relating to the geopolitical landscape and the development of the trade tension and tariff imposition. Any trade restrictions imposed by the U.S. on our products may increase our U.S. customers' purchase costs of our products and hence lower our competitiveness.

During the Track Record Period, our products were offered to our end customers in China and overseas. We cannot assure you that our end customers will not engage in the export of their goods incorporating our products or solutions into the U.S. or other countries and regions, and that such export will not be subject to the restrictions introduced by the U.S. or other jurisdictions. If the export sales of the end customers' end products are restricted, prohibited or made subject to any trade conditions under any international policies or international export controls or economic sanctions imposed by any jurisdictions, the end customers' demand in our products may drop significantly and, as a result, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

Our products are primarily used by end customers of downstream industries and sectors. Factors that adversely affect these industries and sectors or our end customer base therein may adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our products are primarily offered to end customers across key industries and sectors, including automotive electronics (such as electrification scenarios as well as thermal management), pan-energy sector (such as industrial control, photovoltaic and wind power systems, smart grid infrastructure, energy storage systems, data centers and servers), and consumer electronics (such as white goods, smartphones, and computing devices). Therefore, factors that adversely affect these industries and sectors or our end customer base therein could also materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. These factors include, among others:

- a decline in demand for, or negative perception of, or publicity about, products of these industries;
- rising material and labor costs relating to the design and production of analog chips in these industries;
- the reduction or elimination of preferential tax treatments and economic incentives for manufacturers in these industries;

RISK FACTORS

- regulatory restrictions, trade disputes, industry-specific quotas, tariffs, non-tariff barriers and taxes that may have the effect of limiting exports of these industries from China;
- a downturn in general economic conditions or major countries and regions that import products of these industries;
- increasing level of competition from analog chip providers in these industries in other countries and regions; and
- any financial difficulties, market share loss, or reputational harm to end customers that use our products.

The size of the markets in which we operate and the demand for our products may not increase as quickly as we anticipate due to a variety of factors, which would materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

We are pursuing opportunities primarily in the analog IC market where it is difficult to predict the timing and size of the opportunities for each of our products. If we fail to compete with our competitors, our business, financial condition and results of operations and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

Our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects will depend on our ability to make timely investments in the correct market opportunities in downstream applications including in automotive electronics, energy and industrial automation, and consumer electronics. Even if the markets in the downstream industries grow substantially, we cannot assure you that we will be able to pursue these opportunities. If one or more of these markets experience a shift in customer demand, our products may not be able to compete as effectively, if at all. We may not be able to adjust our inventory level in response to the decline in the demand of our downstream markets and the price of our products may be adversely affected. If we fail to meet the technological development, industry standards or applicable regulatory requirements, our products may not be incorporated into our end customers' commercialized products. Given the evolving nature of the markets in which we operate, it is difficult to predict end customer demand or the future growth of the markets in which we operate or into which we plan to enter. If we fail to adjust accordingly to changes in the market condition of our downstream industries, our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects will be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

We may not be able to implement our planned growth plan and our business and results of operations may be adversely affected.

The success of our business expansion depends on our ability to efficiently execute our growth plan. We plan to continue our independent innovation and R&D, extend the downstream applications of our products, expand our overseas markets and cultivate our talent team. Diversification of our product portfolio requires significant R&D efforts and expenses, and we may not be able to successfully upgrade our existing or develop new products. See “Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry – We have been and intend to continue investing significantly in R&D activities, which may adversely affect our profitability and operating cash flow and may not generate the results we expect to achieve” in this section for more details. To effectively manage our growth, we need to - monitor and control our expenses and investments in anticipation of expanded operations;

- improve our supply chain to support our growth;
- enhance our administrative infrastructure and systems;
- refine our talent management structure and recruit additional key personnel;
- carry out pre-communication/collaboration with our distributor partners in anticipation of expanded operations;
- refine our operational, financial and management internal controls and reporting systems;
- comply with different or additional laws and regulations; and
- timely address unforeseen challenges as they arise.

Our current and planned structures, systems and policies may not be adequate to support the long-term growth of our operations. If we fail to effectively and successfully manage our growth, our expenses may increase and we may not respond to challenges or execute our business strategies in a timely manner due to factors beyond our control.

We may not be able to develop business relationship with potential customers in our industry. If we or our distributors fail to identify and leverage new business opportunities, we may not be able to establish and expand our presence in additional downstream industries on our own or through our distributors.

RISK FACTORS

In addition, developing international markets requires significant investment of capital and human resources, which may adversely impact our current performance. We may not be able to identify profitable international markets. Even if we identify profitable international markets, we may not be able to enter into or compete in the identified markets due to factors such as, but not limited to:

- our or our distributors' limited business experience in the international markets;
- competition with local competitors which may have greater resources and more favorable market positions;
- different demand dynamics of our products;
- diversity of end customer preferences and demand, and our ability to anticipate or respond to such preferences and demand;
- compliance with applicable laws and regulations; and
- potentially adverse tax consequences.

Any of such circumstances could adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to rapid fluctuations in the semiconductor industry.

Our performance is subject to the macrocondition of the semiconductor industry in which we operate. According to Frost & Sullivan, the semiconductor industry has historically experienced rapid fluctuations, including cyclical downturns due to constant and rapid technological changes, short product life cycles, and fluctuations in product supply and demand. Downturns in the semiconductor industry are characterized by a sudden and unforeseen decline in product demand, accelerated erosion of average selling prices, lower capacity utilization rates, higher inventory levels and lower inventory valuation. Due to the above factors beyond our control, we may not be able to adjust our inventory level to the decline in demand and the price of our products may be adversely affected. We may experience such adverse effects in future fluctuations. If we cannot anticipate market changes or adjust to unforeseen fluctuations, our business, financial condition and results of operation may be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

We may not be able to obtain or maintain adequate intellectual property rights protection for our products, or the scope of such intellectual property rights protection may not be sufficiently broad.

Our success depends in a large part on our ability to protect our proprietary technology as well as our product from competition by obtaining, maintaining and enforcing our intellectual property rights, including patent rights. We have been protecting the proprietary technologies that we consider commercially important by, among others, filing patent applications in China and other jurisdictions. As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had 251 granted patents in China and overseas, including 160 invention related patents, as well as including but not limited to integrated circuit layout design registrations, software copyrights and registered trademarks in China and overseas. See “Business – Intellectual Property” for more details. The intellectual property application process may be expensive and time-consuming, and we may not be able to file and prosecute all necessary or desirable intellectual property applications at a reasonable cost or in a timely manner, if at all. In addition, we may however fail to identify patentable aspects of our R&D outputs before it is too late to obtain patent protection. As a result, we may not be able to prevent competitors from developing and commercializing competitive products in all such fields.

Even if we have identified, filed and prosecuted our intellectual property applications, our applications may not be granted or our intellectual property may be invalidated for multiple reasons, including known or unknown prior deficiencies in the intellectual property application or the lack of novelty of the underlying technology. Moreover, the patent position of analog chips providers like us may be uncertain because it involves complex legal and factual considerations. As such, we cannot assure you that we will be able to discern the scope of the intellectual property protection or obtain adequate intellectual property protection with respect to our products.

Even if our intellectual property applications are approved, they may not be approved in a form that will provide us with any meaningful protection from competition or with any competitive advantage. For instance, our competitors may be able to circumvent our patents by developing similar or alternative technologies or products in a non-infringing manner. The issuance of a patent is not conclusive as to its inventor, scope, validity or enforceability, and our patents may be challenged in the courts or patent offices in China and other jurisdictions. Further, although various extensions may be available, the life of a patent and the protection it affords is limited. For example, in China, invention patents and utility model patents are valid for 20 years and 10 years from the date of application, respectively. If we fail to extend the life of our patents, we may face competition for any approved products or solutions even if we successfully obtain patent protection once the patent life has expired for the product or solution.

The CNIPA and various governmental patent agencies require compliance with a number of procedural, documentary, fee payment, and other similar provisions during the patent application process and over the lifetime of the patent. Non-compliance events, including failure to respond to official actions within prescribed time limits, non-payment of periodic maintenance fees and failure to properly legalize and submit formal documents, can result in abandonment or lapse of the relevant patent or patent application, leading to partial or complete loss of patent rights in the relevant jurisdiction. If our patent rights are compromised, we may lose market share to our competitors.

Any of the foregoing could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, competitive position and prospects.

RISK FACTORS

We have incurred net losses during the Track Record Period, and we may continue to incur net losses in future.

For the year ended December 31, 2022, we recorded net profit of RMB250.1 million. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2024, we incurred net loss of RMB305.3 million and RMB402.9 million, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, we recorded net losses of RMB265.3 million and RMB78.0 million, respectively. Our net losses during the Track Record Period were primarily due to (i) our significant investment in R&D and market expansion, (ii) intensified market competition, which led us to adjust our product prices to remain competitive price-wise, and (iii) payment in relation to the implementation of a restricted share incentive plan following our A-share listing. We anticipate that our cost of sales and operating expenses will further increase in the foreseeable future as we continue to grow our business, expand geographically, invest and innovate our technology infrastructure, and further broaden our service offerings.

We plan to improve our profitability by implementing business initiatives of achieving sustained growth in revenue, managing gross profit profile and enhancing operating efficiency. However, our future profitability will depend on a variety of factors, including the expansion and performances of our existing business, competitive landscape, customer preference and macroeconomic and regulatory environment. Our revenue may not grow at the rate we expect and it may not increase sufficiently to offset the increase in our costs and expenses. We may continue to incur losses in the future and we cannot assure you that we will eventually achieve our intended profitability.

Acquisitions, investments or strategic alliances may fail and materially and adversely affect our reputation, business and results of operations. We may not be able to effectively integrate or manage our acquired business.

We may in the future enter into strategic alliances with various third parties. Strategic alliances with third parties could subject us to a number of risks, including

- disclosure or misappropriation of proprietary information;
- defaults including breach of covenants, non-performance by the counterparty; and
- negative publicity related to these third-parties or such strategic alliances.

In addition, we may acquire additional assets or businesses that may generate synergies when combined with our existing business. The cost of identifying and consummating acquisitions may be significant. We may also have to obtain shareholders' approvals and approvals and licenses from the government authorities for the acquisitions and comply with applicable laws and regulations. Obtaining such approvals and licenses may delay, if not halt, our acquisition efforts. Future acquisitions and the subsequent integration of new assets and businesses into our own may entail a number of risks, including:

- increased operating expenses and capital need;
- share dilution from the issuance of additional securities;

RISK FACTORS

- incurrence of debt, goodwill impairment charges, amortization expenses for other intangible assets and contingent or unforeseen liabilities;
- diversion of our management's attention and resources from our existing business in the pursuit of such acquisition;
- frictions in the assimilation of operations, talents, intellectual property and products of an acquired business; and
- loss of key personnel and business relationships as a result of such acquisition.

We acquired MagnTek in 2024. See “History and Corporate Structure – Major Acquisitions, Disposals and Mergers – Acquisition of MagnTek” for more details. The integration of the businesses of MagnTek or the business of future acquisition targets into our business landscape requires significant attention from our management to ensure that the expansion does not disrupt any existing operations and to unify and execute our internal control policy over these acquisition targets. Integration of MagnTek, along with future expansion, may require significant time and commitment from our management, as well as substantial operational, financial and other resources to monitor the operation and development of MagnTek. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to successfully integrate the businesses of MagnTek, whose integration work remains in its early stages, or be able to realize anticipated benefits or synergies, and we may incur costs in excess of what we anticipate.

If we fail to address the risks related to our future acquisitions and subsequent integration of new assets and businesses, we may not be able to realize the anticipated benefits of such acquisitions and our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We are exposed to concentration risk of reliance on our major suppliers.

During the Track Record Period, we rely on our suppliers, primarily including suppliers of wafer production, chip packaging and chip testing services. Purchases from our five largest suppliers in each year or period during the Track Record Period accounted for 90.5%, 86.8%, 82.3% and 86.4% of our total purchase amount for the year ended December 31, 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. We depended on Supplier A to provide a substantial portion of our wafer supplies and Supplier B to provide a substantial portion of packaging and testing services during the Track Record Period. Purchases from Supplier A accounted for 40.1%, 39.9%, 25.8% and 34.3% of our total purchase amount for the years ended December 31, 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. Purchases from Supplier B accounted for 34.1%, 28.1%, 32.8% and 26.0% of our total purchase amount for the years ended December 31, 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. See “Business – Procurement and Suppliers – Our Suppliers – Our Major suppliers” for more details.

RISK FACTORS

Our reliance on these major suppliers subjects us to the concentration and counterparty risk from these suppliers. We cannot assure you that we will be able to maintain our relationships with our major suppliers in the future. Moreover, we cannot guarantee that our major suppliers will not have a change of business scope or business model or will continue to maintain their market position and reputation. Any material adverse change to the operation, financial performance, or financial condition of our major suppliers may result in material adverse impact on their business with us. For example, if the supply of wafers or packaging and testing services is disrupted or delayed, there can be no assurance that we will be able to find new suppliers with similar supply capacity on comparable commercial terms within a reasonable period of time, or at all. Should any of these occur, our business, financial condition, results of operations, and profitability may be adversely affected.

Because of the complex proprietary nature of our products, if there was a disaster or other business disruption at any of our foundry and packaging and testing services partners' facilities, procurement of and transition to new partners would take a significant period of time to complete and would likely adversely affect our inventory, business, results of operations and financial condition. Further, we are vulnerable to the risk that our current wafer foundry and packaging and testing services partners may be unable to meet the demand for our products or cease operations altogether. Moreover, any shortage in the raw materials used by our wafer foundry and packaging and testing services partners may result in shortage in their supply of our products and delay in their packaging and testing process. Therefore, we are vulnerable to the risk that our current wafer foundry and packaging and testing services partners may be unable to meet our demand.

In addition, our ability to receive sufficient supplies of our products could be adversely affected by events such as natural disasters, including earthquakes, drought and typhoons, and geopolitical challenges in locations where our suppliers operate. Our ability to receive sufficient supplies of our products could also be adversely affected by international trade policies, geopolitics and trade protection measures, including imposition of trade restrictions and sanctions. See "Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry – We may be subject to the risks associated with international trade policies, geopolitics and trade protection measures, including imposition of trade restrictions and sanctions, and our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected" in this section for more details.

Moreover, increased regulation or heightened societal and industrial expectations regarding responsible sourcing practices could increase our compliance costs. Any failure to comply with such regulations or meet such expectations as a result of misconduct by our suppliers could result in negative publicity that adversely affects our reputation. Given that we do not directly control the procurement or employment practices of our wafer foundry and packaging and testing services partners, we could be subject to financial or reputational risks as a result of their conducts. To the extent we are unable to manage these risks, our ability to timely supply competitive products will be harmed, our costs will increase, and our business, results of operations and financial condition will be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

We have been and intend to continue investing significantly in R&D activities, which may adversely affect our profitability and operating cash flow and may not generate the results we expect to achieve.

We invest in R&D activities to develop and introduce new and enhanced products. For the years ended December 31, 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, our R&D expenses amounted to RMB403.8 million, RMB521.6 million, RMB540.0 million, RMB319.2 million and RMB361.3 million, respectively, accounting for 24.2%, 39.8%, 27.5%, 37.6% and 23.7% of our total revenue for the respective years. The industry in which we operate is subject to rapid technological innovations. To expand our product and solution portfolio and to remain competitive in the industry, we need to continue investing significant resources in R&D activities. As a result, we may continue to incur significant R&D expenses in the future.

However, we cannot guarantee that our efforts will be successful or deliver the effects, functions or benefits we expect. R&D activities are inherently uncertain. We may not be able to obtain sufficient resources, including qualified R&D personnel and R&D equipment to support the R&D of new or enhanced products. Even if we succeed in our R&D efforts and generate the results we expect, we may still encounter practical difficulties in commercializing our R&D outcomes. R&D activities are time-consuming and by the time our products and solution are due for commercialization, new technologies could render our products obsolete, in which case we may not be able to recover related R&D costs, which could result in a decline in our revenue, profitability and market share.

Even if our R&D efforts successfully result in the development and commercialization of new products, these efforts may not contribute to our future results of operations within our expected timeframe, or at all. The success and profitability of our new products are subject to various factors such as market demand, macroeconomic conditions or the pace of technological advancement, which are beyond our control. Therefore, the contributions from our R&D efforts may not meet our expectations or even cover the costs of such efforts, which would materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and competitive position.

We may be unable to protect our trade secrets.

In addition to our existing intellectual property rights and/or applications (such as issued patent and/or pending patent applications), we rely on trade secrets, including unpatented know-how, technology and other proprietary information, to protect our products and thus maintain our competitive position. We protect these trade secrets, in part, by entering into non-disclosure and confidentiality agreements, non-compete covenants or include such undertakings in the agreements with parties that have access to them. We also enter into employment agreements with our employees that include undertakings regarding assignment of inventions and discoveries. Nevertheless, there can be no guarantee that an employee or a third party will not make an unauthorized use or disclosure of our proprietary confidential information. This might happen intentionally or inadvertently. If a competitor gains access to and makes use of such information, our competitive position will be compromised, in spite of any legal action we might take against persons making such unauthorized disclosures. In addition, to the extent that our employees or business partners use intellectual property owned by others in their work for us, disputes may arise as to the rights in related or resulting know-how and inventions.

RISK FACTORS

Trade secrets are difficult to protect. Our employees or business partners may intentionally or inadvertently disclose our trade secret information to competitors, or our trade secrets may otherwise be misappropriated. Enforcing a claim that a third party illegally obtained and is using any of our trade secrets is expensive and time-consuming, and the outcome is unpredictable. If we fail in prosecuting or defending any such claims, in addition to paying monetary damages, we may lose valuable intellectual property rights. Even if we are successful in prosecuting or defending against such claims, litigation could result in substantial financial and human resource costs.

We may become involved in lawsuits to protect or enforce our intellectual property and our patent rights could be found invalid or unenforceable if being challenged in court or before any related intellectual property agency in any jurisdiction.

Competitors may infringe our patent rights or misappropriate or otherwise violate our intellectual property rights. In the case where our employees are obligated to assign any inventions created during their work to us under assignment agreement, such employees may breach or violate the terms of these agreements. To counter infringement or unauthorized use, litigation may be necessary to enforce or defend our intellectual property rights, to protect our trade secrets or to determine the validity and scope of our own intellectual property rights or the proprietary rights of others. This can be expensive and time-consuming. Any claims that we assert against perceived infringers could also provoke these parties to assert counterclaims against us alleging that we infringe their intellectual property rights. Many of our current and potential competitors could dedicate substantially greater resources to enforce and/or defend their intellectual property rights than we do. Accordingly, despite our efforts, we may not be able to prevent third parties from infringing upon or misappropriating our intellectual property. An adverse result in any litigation proceeding could put our patents, as well as any patents that may be issued in the future from our pending patent applications, at risk of being invalidated, held unenforceable or interpreted narrowly.

Furthermore, depending on the scope of discovery required in connection with intellectual property litigation, some of our confidential information could be compromised by disclosure. Defendant counterclaims alleging invalidity or unenforceability are common, and can be asserted on numerous grounds. Third parties may also raise similar claims before the CNIPA or other administrative bodies in China or other jurisdictions. Such proceedings could result in revocation or amendment to our patents in such a way that they no longer cover and protect our products or product and solution candidates. The outcome following legal assertions of invalidity and unenforceability is unpredictable.

If a defendant were to prevail on a legal assertion of invalidity and/or unenforceability, we would lose at least part, and potentially all, of the patent protection on our products or product and solution candidates. Such a loss of patent protection could materially and adversely affect our business.

RISK FACTORS

If third parties claim that we infringe upon their intellectual property rights, we may incur liabilities and penalties and may have to redesign or suspend the sales of products involved.

The industry in which we operate is patent-intensive. Companies, including us, in this industry routinely seek patent protection for their product and solution designs. Some of our competitors have large patent portfolios with broad rights and may claim that our expected commercial use of our products or solutions has infringed their patents. Specifically, these competitors may allege that certain features of our products or solutions fall within the coverage of their patents. Therefore, our competitors may initiate legal proceedings alleging that we are infringing, misappropriating or otherwise violating their intellectual property rights in connection with the commercialization of our products or solutions.

Whether a product or solution infringes a patent involves an analysis of complex legal and factual issues and the conclusion of such analysis is often uncertain. Although we intend to identify and avoid intellectual property infringement activities, (i) we may hire employees who have previously worked for our competitors and cannot assure that such employees will not use their previous employers' proprietary know-how, technology and other proprietary information in their work for us, which could result in litigation against us; (ii) in the case where our employees are obligated to assign any inventions created during their work to us under assignment agreement, we may not obtain these agreements in all circumstances and the assignment of intellectual property under such agreements may not be self-executing and (iii) our competitors may also have filed for patent protection which is not as yet a matter of public knowledge or claimed trademark rights that have not been revealed through our searches of relevant public records. Therefore, our efforts to identify and avoid infringing on third parties' intellectual property rights may not always be successful. Any claims of patent or other intellectual property infringement, regardless of their merit, could be expensive and time-consuming. These claims and the relevant proceedings could diverge management attention and result in substantial financial costs. If our competitors or employees succeed in raising their claims, we may be required to suspend our sales efforts of the relevant products in controversy, redesign, reengineer or rebrand such products, pay substantial damages to third parties, or enter into royalty or licensing agreements which may not be available on terms favorable to us.

In addition, new patents obtained by our competitors could threaten the continued life of the product or solution in the market even after it has already been introduced.

RISK FACTORS

Changes in patent law could diminish the value of patents in general, thereby impairing our ability to protect our patents.

The scope of patent protection in various jurisdictions is uncertain. Changes in either the patent laws or their interpretation in China or other relevant jurisdictions may diminish our ability to protect our inventions, obtain, maintain, defend and enforce our intellectual property rights and, more generally, could affect the value of our intellectual property or narrow the scope of our patent rights. We cannot predict whether the patent applications we are currently pursuing and may pursue in the future will be issued as patents in any particular jurisdiction or whether the claims of any future granted patents will provide sufficient protection from competitors. The coverage claimed in a patent application can be significantly reduced before the patent is issued, and its scope can be reinterpreted after issuance.

Even if patent applications we own currently or in the future are issued as patents, they may not be issued in a form that will provide us with any meaningful protection or competitive advantage, or prevent competitors or other third parties from competing with us and gaining competitive advantage. As a result, the issuance, scope, validity, enforceability and commercial value of our patent rights are highly uncertain.

Increases in costs of the materials and other components used in our products would adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Significant changes in the markets in which our suppliers purchase materials, components and supplies for the production of our products may adversely affect our profitability. As a result of the global semiconductor shortage and inflationary pressures, we may in the future experience increases in the cost of our products. We price our products based on a variety of factors, including costs, gross margin and market conditions. Given the competitive nature and pressure of the market in which we operate, we may not be able to pass on the cost increase to our customers by increasing the price of our products. Therefore, any significant increase in the cost of our products may have an adverse impact on our gross margin, business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, as our prices vary across our products, our products have different margin profiles depending on the amount, number, and type of components that we deliver. If we fail to maintain our products mix or maintain our gross margin and operating margin, our business, results of operations and financial condition would be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

We recorded net operating cash outflows historically and there can be no assurance that we will have net cash inflow from operating activities in the future.

We recorded net cash used in operating activities of RMB228.8 million, RMB139.4 million and RMB307.7 million in 2022, 2023 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. See “Financial Information – Liquidity and Capital Resources – Cash Flow Analysis – Operating Activities.” We cannot assure you that we will be able to generate positive cash flows from operating activities in the future. If we record net operating cash outflows in the future, our working capital may be constrained, which may adversely affect our financial condition. Our future liquidity primarily depends on our ability to maintain adequate cash inflows from our operating activities and adequate external financing, or other sources such as external debt, which may not be available on terms favorable or commercially reasonable to us or at all.

If we fail to obtain sufficient funding in a timely manner and on reasonable terms, or at all, we will be in default of our payment obligations and may not be able to expand our business. Thus, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

We may be subject to inventory obsolescence risk.

Our inventories were RMB593.1 million, RMB805.4 million, RMB822.9 million and RMB1,042.4 million as of December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 and June 30, 2025, respectively. For the same years/period, our inventory turnover days were 172 days, 294 days, 211 days and 166 days, respectively and our impairment loss of inventories amounted to RMB25.1 million, RMB61.8 million, RMB91.6 million and RMB35.9 million, respectively. As our business expands, our inventory obsolescence risk may also increase with the increase in our inventories and our inventory turnover days. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to maintain proper inventory levels for our raw materials, outsourced processing materials and finished products. We maintain our inventory levels based on our internal forecasts of customer demand. If our forecast demand is higher than actual demand, we may be exposed to increased inventory risks due to the accumulation of excess inventory. Excess inventory may increase our inventory holding costs, risk of inventory obsolescence or write-offs. Conversely, if our forecast demand is lower than actual demand, we may not be able to maintain an adequate inventory level and may lose sales and market share to our competitors. Therefore, our business prospects, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

We generated a substantial portion of our revenue through our distribution network. Any decrease in sales from, or loss of our distributors would have adverse impacts on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

During the Track Record Period, a substantial portion of our revenue was derived from sales to our distributors. For the years ended December 31, 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, our total sales to distributors amounted to RMB1,401.0 million, RMB976.7 million, RMB1,402.3 million, RMB618.1 million and RMB1,223.6 million, respectively, accounting for 83.9%, 74.5%, 71.5%, 72.8% and 80.3% of our revenue for the corresponding years/periods, respectively. See “Business – Sales and Marketing ” for more details. Our revenue and sales volumes depend on our ability to maintain and expand our distribution networks. The effective management and expansion of our distribution network depends on our ability to (i) enter into renewal agreements with existing distributors on terms favorable to us, such as credit periods and (ii) develop new relationship with additional distributors. Any decrease in sales from, or loss of our distributors without a corresponding increase in sales from other distributors due to the changes in the distributors’ business models or for any other reasons would adversely impact our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We have limited control over the operations of our distributors. Our business may be adversely affected due to risks relating to the acts of our distributors and their potential breach of distributorship agreements or applicable laws and regulations.

We rely on distributors for the marketing and sales of our products. We enter into distributorship agreements with our distributors to regulate their conducts in the marketing and sales of our products. However, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in detecting any non-compliant activities by our distributors violating the provision of our distributorship agreements or the applicable laws and regulations. Specifically, we may be exposed to the risks of misconducts and violations committed by our distributors. Misconducts and violations may occur in the form of unauthorized misrepresentation to our end customers, misappropriation of third-party intellectual property and other proprietary rights and bribery or other unlawful payments during the course of their distribution.

In any such event, we may, as a result, incur liability to our end customers for claims of misconducts committed by such distributor. Any such claim could subject us to litigation and impose a significant strain on our financial resources and divert the management attention, regardless of whether the claims have merit. Additionally, such an event could result in complaints from our end customers and subsequent adverse impact on our business and reputation.

RISK FACTORS

We may not be able to fully maintain quality control over our products.

The quality of our products depends on the effectiveness of our quality control and quality assurance protocol, which in turn depend on factors such as the quality and reliability of equipment used, the quality of related training programs and our ability to ensure that our employees adhere to our quality control and quality assurance protocol. However, our quality control and quality assurance protocol may not be effective in preventing and resolving deviations from our quality standards. Any failure to execute our quality control and quality assurance protocol could render our products unsuitable for use or adversely impact our market reputation and relationship with business partners.

In addition, the quality of our products or services provided by our suppliers is beyond our control. We cannot assure you that the products manufactured by our wafer foundry partners or services provided by our packaging and testing service providers are safe and free of defects or can meet the relevant quality standards. We depend on the quality control procedures of our suppliers. In the event of any quality issues, we could be subject to complaints and product liability claims and we may not be able to seek indemnification from our suppliers. If we engage in legal proceedings against our suppliers, such proceedings may be time-consuming and costly regardless of the outcome. Any such issues may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We may have limited control over the quality, availability and costs of our wafer foundry and packaging and testing service providers.

We primarily partner with third-party wafer foundry providers for manufacturing our wafer products and third parties packaging and testing service providers for the packaging and testing of the foundry-manufactured products. The stability of operations and business strategies of these third-party providers are beyond our control. The lack of necessary materials, equipment, or services can disrupt the supply of wafer foundry as well as the packaging and testing processes of our products. Additionally, we cannot assure you that we will be able to maintain good relationship or renew our agreements with these third-party providers on commercially reasonable terms, if at all. If we fail to continue our cooperation with these companies, or if their business or operations are interrupted or fail due to factors beyond our control, including natural disasters including earthquakes, drought and typhoons, and geopolitical challenges in locations where they operate, and we fail to find comparable alternatives on reasonable terms, our business and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. Given that we do not directly control the procurement or employment practices of our wafer foundry and packaging and testing service providers, we could be subject to financial or reputational risks as a result of their conducts that violate applicable laws and regulations. To the extent we are unable to manage these risks, our ability to timely supply competitive products will be harmed, our costs will increase, and our business, results of operations and financial condition will be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

Our historical results may not be indicative of our future performance, and we may not be successful in expanding our operations or managing our growth.

In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, our revenue was RMB1,670.4 million, RMB1,310.9 million, and RMB1,960.3 million, RMB848.9 million and RMB1,523.7 million, respectively. There can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain our historical growth rates in future periods. We may encounter risks and difficulties frequently experienced by rapidly growing companies in constantly evolving industries, and any predictions about our future revenue and expenses may not be as accurate as they would be if we had a longer operating history or operated in a more predictable industry. Our business, results of operations, and financial condition depend in part on our ability to effectively manage our growth or implement our growth strategies. See “Business – Our Strategies” for more details. We intend to grow by expanding our business, increasing market penetration of our existing products, and developing new ones. The management of our growth may place significant demands on our managerial, administrative, operational, financial, and other resources. Moreover, our growth depends on the ability to maintain stable production capacity and offer reliable products to our customers. Our efforts to grow our business may be more costly than we expect, and we may not be able to increase our revenue enough to offset our increased operating expenses. We may incur significant losses in the future for a number of reasons, including the other risks described herein, and unforeseen expenses, difficulties, complications, delays, and other unknown events. If we are unable to achieve and sustain profitability, our business may be harmed. If we fail to achieve the necessary level of efficiency as we grow, our growth rate may decline, investors’ perceptions of our business and prospects may be adversely affected, and the market price of our Shares could decline.

Failure to obtain or maintain any of the government grants or preferential tax treatments could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition.

During the Track Record Period, we received government grants, many of which are non-recurring in nature or are subject to periodic review. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, the government grants we recognized as other net income amounted to RMB15.7 million, RMB17.1 million, RMB11.3 million, and RMB5.4 million, respectively. In addition, we and certain Subsidiaries of ours are subject to preferential income tax treatments. See “Financial Information – Principal Components of Consolidated Statements of Profit or Loss – Income Tax” for more details.

If we cease to be entitled to such government grants or preferential tax treatment or if the relevant PRC laws and regulations change, our income tax expenses may increase, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. As these government grants are provided typically on a one-off basis, there is no guarantee that we will continue receiving or benefiting from them in the future. In addition, we may not be able to successfully or timely obtain the government grants or preferential tax treatment that may become available to us in the future, and such failure could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

RISK FACTORS

We have granted, and may continue to grant, certain awards under our share incentive plans, which may result in increased share-based compensation expenses, affect our financial condition and results of operations, and potentially dilute the shareholding of our existing shareholders.

We adopted share incentive plans including share-based compensation for the benefit of our Directors and employees to incentivize and reward the eligible persons who have contributed to our success. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, we incurred equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB196.7 million, RMB221.1 million, RMB70.9 million, and RMB42.8 million, respectively. We believe the granting of share-based compensation is of significant importance to our ability to attract and retain key personnel and employees. Nevertheless, share-based compensation expenses would potentially dilute the shareholding of existing shareholders. We may continue to grant share-based compensation awards to employees in the future. As a result, our expenses associated with share-based compensation may increase, which may affect our financial condition and results of operations. We may re-evaluate the vesting schedules, lock-up period, or other key terms applicable to the grants under the share incentive plan from time to time. If we choose to do so, we may experience a substantial change in our share-based compensation expenses in the reporting periods following this Global Offering.

Fair value change for financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We made investments in certain financial products during the Track Record Period and recorded a carrying amount of financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (“FVPL”) (current) of RMB3,463.6 million, RMB2,249.6 million, RMB2,080.1 million, and RMB1,808.6 million as of December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024, and June 30, 2025, respectively. Our financial assets primarily consist of structured deposits with low risks issued by banks in China. See Note 17 to the Accountants’ Report set out in Appendix I to this prospectus for more details.

We face exposure to fair value change for the financial assets at FVPL. Going forward, we may continue to invest in financial products. We cannot assure you that factors beyond our control, such as general economic and market conditions, changes in market interest rates, stability of the capital markets and regulatory environment, will result in fair value gains on the financial products we invest in or we will not incur any fair value losses on our investments in the financial products in the future. If we incur such fair value losses, our results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected. These investments may earn yields substantially lower than anticipated, and the fair values of these financial products may fluctuate significantly, which contribute to the uncertainties in valuation. Any failure to realize the benefits we expected from these financial products may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition. In the event that we fail to address any and all uncertainties and risks, we may have limited or no recourse and the value in our investments may decrease.

RISK FACTORS

We are subject to credit risk related to delay in payment and defaults of customers or related parties, which would adversely affect our liquidity and financial condition.

We are exposed to credit risk related to delay in payment and defaults of our customers or related parties. As of December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024, and June 30, 2025, our trade receivables amounted to RMB188.5 million, RMB179.2 million, RMB392.6 million, and RMB578.0 million, respectively, and our bills receivables amounted to RMB9.1 million, RMB7.3 million, RMB30.1 million and RMB14.3 million, respectively. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, our trade receivables and bills receivables turnover days amounted to 34 days, 53 days, 57 days and 60 days, respectively. We may not be able to collect any, if not all, such trade and prepayments and other receivables due to a variety of factors that are beyond our control, including long payment cycle, adverse operating condition or financial condition of our customers, and our customers' inability to pay caused by their end customers' delay in payment. In such circumstances, we may have to make impairment provisions and our liquidity and financial condition will be adversely affected.

We recorded a significant amount of goodwill. If we determine our goodwill to be impaired, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

As of June 30, 2025, we recorded goodwill of RMB504.1 million, which primarily arose from the acquisition of MagnTek completed in October 2024. See "History and Corporate Structure – Major Acquisitions, Disposals and Mergers – Acquisition of MagnTek" for more details about the acquisition of MagnTek. Goodwill represented a significant portion of the assets on our consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2025. The value of goodwill is based on a number of assumptions made by the management. If any of these assumptions does not materialize, or if the performance of our business is not consistent with such assumptions, we may be required to have a significant write-off of our goodwill and record a significant impairment loss, which could in turn adversely affect our results of operations. Any significant impairment of goodwill or other intangible assets could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. See Note 14 to the Accountants' Report set out in Appendix I to this prospectus for more details regarding our impairment policy in relation to goodwill.

Our products may fail to meet new industry standards or requirements and the efforts to meet such industry standards or requirements could be costly.

Our products are based on industry standards that are continually evolving. The development of existing industry standards and emergence of new industry standards could render our products obsolete. To identify and comply with these industry standards, we may need to redesign our products, which may be time-consuming and costly, and the outcomes of which may be uncertain. If we cannot successfully redesign our products, our products may not be able to comply with new industry standards or compete with the products offered by our competitors. In this circumstance, we could miss opportunities to achieve crucial design wins and lose market share to our competitors, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

RISK FACTORS

Our business is primarily based in China and is susceptible to any policy changes in China affecting the semiconductor industry which may materially and adversely affect our business.

During the Track Record Period, substantially all of our business operations were based in China and vast majority of our revenue was derived from our sales in China. As such, we are dependent on policies affecting the semiconductor industry in China. In recent years, the PRC government has implemented policies or policy changes to stimulate growth in the semiconductor industry. Many semiconductor companies, including us, have leveraged such favorable policies. Our success, continuous growth and prospects depend and will continue to depend on policies favorable to the semiconductor industry in the foreseeable future. However, we cannot assure you that the PRC government will implement additional favorable policies to, or maintain the policies currently in effect with regards to the semiconductor industry that benefit us. As a result, if such policies change or terminate in the future, our business, financial condition, results of operations and future business growth could be materially and adversely affected.

If we are unable to ensure the manufacturing or delivery of high quality products on schedule and on a large scale, our business may be materially and adversely affected.

Mass production of our products is crucial to our future financial prospects. As an analog IC company, we operate under the fabless model, focusing on the R&D and design of ICs while outsourcing wafer fabrication to external foundries and most packaging and testing to third-party packaging and testing service providers. We may face difficulties meeting our delivery deadlines when there is a surge in customer demand. If any of our third-party partners' production facilities experiences interruptions, delays or disruptions in supplying products, our ability to deliver products to customers would be impeded. Failure to fulfill customers' requirements and quality control problems that occur in the manufacturing process could prevent us from meeting the stipulated delivery deadline. For example, a decline in yield rates would adversely affect our third-party partners' production efficiency and product quality. We may also experience delays in shipments caused by our third-party logistic service providers. These delays or product quality issues could have an immediate and material adverse effect on our ability to fulfill orders and damage our reputation and brand, affecting our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Further, if our third-party partners' production facilities or suppliers experience any difficulties or shortages of raw materials, or if our suppliers are otherwise unable or unwilling to continue to supply in required volumes or at all, our supply may be disrupted, and we may be required to seek alternate sources of supply. The process would be time-consuming and could be costly and impracticable. Interruptions to supply will have an adverse effect on our ability to meet scheduled product deliveries and subsequently lead to the loss of sales.

RISK FACTORS

We may be subject to product liability claims if our products or solutions contain defects. We could incur significant expenses remediating such defects, and, as a result, our reputation and market shares may be adversely affected.

Products within the industry, such as the ones we develop, are complex and may contain errors, defects, security vulnerabilities or software issues that are difficult to detect and correct, particularly when first introduced or when new versions or enhancements are released. Despite the verification and testing procedures in place, our products may contain serious errors, defects, security vulnerabilities or software issues which we are unable to successfully correct in a timely manner or at all. Some errors or defects in our products may only be discovered after they have been tested, commercialized and deployed by our end customers. Under these circumstances, we may incur additional remedial costs to recall, repair or replace and additional development costs to redesign our products. Furthermore, because we may be subject to warranty and indemnification provisions based on certain of our agreements with our customers, we may be subject to claims or threats of claims by our customers for their financial loss related to defects in our products. Any such claims would be time-consuming and costly for us to defend and divert our management attention, thereby adversely affecting our business, financial condition and results of operations. Additionally, our customers may terminate the business relationship with us altogether and as a result, our business and prospects may be adversely affected. These claims and terminations by our customers may generate negative publicity on us and adversely impact our reputation, business and results of operations.

Failure to fulfill our contractual obligations could adversely affect our liquidity and financial condition.

Our contract liabilities primarily arise from advance payments made by our customers to us before we fulfill our performance obligations. Our contract liabilities were RMB22.3 million, RMB16.5 million, RMB16.1 million and RMB18.8 million as of December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 and June 30, 2025. See “Financial Information – Selected Balance Sheet Items – Net Current Assets – Contract Liabilities” for more details. There is no assurance that we will be able to fulfill our obligations in respect of contract liabilities as the fulfillment of our performance obligations is subject to various factors that are beyond our control. If we are not able to fulfill our obligations with respect to our contract liabilities, the amount of contract liabilities will not be recognized as revenue and we may have to refund the advance payment made by our customers. As a result, our liquidity and financial condition may be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

Our business growth and results of operations may be adversely affected by changes in global and regional macroeconomic conditions, natural disasters, health epidemics and pandemics, and social disruption and other outbreaks.

Uncertainties about global and regional macroeconomic conditions including fluctuation of interest rates, inflation level, conditions in the industries in which we operate, unemployment, labor and healthcare costs, access to credit, consumer confidence and other factors beyond our control may pose risks and materially and adversely affect the demand for our products. In addition, natural disasters such as floods, earthquakes, sandstorms, snowstorms, fire or drought, the outbreak of a widespread health epidemic, acts of war, terrorism or other force majeure events beyond our control may disrupt our R&D, manufacturing and commercialization activities and business operations, all of which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

If we fail to obtain and maintain the requisite licenses and approvals required in any jurisdiction where we operate, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

The industries we operate in are highly regulated. For example, under the current PRC regulatory scheme, a number of governmental authorities jointly regulate major aspects of our industries. We are required to obtain and maintain the requisite licenses and approvals required in China and in other jurisdictions where we operate. See “Regulatory Overview” and “Business – Licenses, Approvals and Permits” for more details. Compliance with the relevant regulations may require substantial expense and non-compliance may expose us to sanctions and penalties. Moreover, we cannot assure you that we can successfully update or renew the licenses required for our business in a timely manner as the licenses may only be valid for a limited period of time. Neither can we assure you that these licenses are sufficient to conduct all of our present or future business. Considerable uncertainties exist regarding the interpretation and implementation of existing and future laws, regulations and policies governing our business activities. We cannot assure you that we will not be found in violation of any future laws, regulations and policies or any of the laws, regulations and policies currently in effect due to changes in the relevant authorities’ interpretation of these laws, regulations and policies. In the past, we have experienced instances of non-compliance in this regard. For example, we established a subsidiary in Hong Kong in 2015, which qualified as an “outbound investment with an investment amount of less than RMB300 million” under relevant regulations, but we did not complete the required registration procedures with the relevant provincial development and reform commission. If we fail to complete, obtain or maintain any of the required licenses or approvals or make the necessary filings in any of the jurisdiction where we operate, we may be subject to various penalties, such as confiscation of the revenue that were generated through unlicensed activities, or the suspension or revocation of our licenses and approvals. Any such penalties may disrupt our business operations and materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

RISK FACTORS

Any failure to offer high-quality support services for our customers or end customers may harm our relationships with them and, consequently, our business.

We typically do not allow customers to return or exchange products except that our customers may negotiate with us on return and indemnification of defective products due to our faults. We have developed a standard product return or exchange procedure according to our customer complaint handling procedure. As we expand our business, we need to be able to continue to provide efficient customer support at scale. We may not be able to recruit customer support specialists with sufficient experience in customer support service or to enhance our infrastructure to efficiently process and respond to our customers' requests. As a result, we may not be able to respond to our customers' request for return, exchange, technical support or maintenance assistance in a timely manner. Because technical support and maintenance assistance is complex and case-specific, we may not be able to modify the future scope and delivery of such services as our business and product portfolio develop. Under such circumstance, we may fail to compete with changes and updates in the technical services provided by our competitors.

If we experience increased customer demand for support and maintenance, our operational expense may increase and adversely impact our financial condition and results of operations. Our ability to attract new customers is highly dependent on our business reputation and on positive recommendations from our existing customers. If we are unable to provide efficient maintenance and support services with results satisfactory to our customers, our reputation and business may be harmed. In addition, our distributors provide customer service to our end customers. Although we require our distributors to follow relevant standards and protocols established by us, we may not be able to continuously monitor or control the quality of customer service provided by our distributors. If our distributors fail to conform to our standards and protocols or provide satisfactory services on our products, our reputation and business may be adversely affected.

If the quality of our products deteriorates, we will incur higher costs associated with returns and exchanges. We may also be required by law to adopt new or amend existing return, exchange and warranty policies from time to time. While these policies improve customer experience and promote customer loyalty, which may in turn help us acquire and retain customer, they also subject us to additional costs and expenses that may not be offset by increased revenue. If we revise these policies to reduce our costs and expenses, our customers may be dissatisfied. Customer dissatisfaction may result in loss of existing customers or failure to acquire new users, which may materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

RISK FACTORS

Our insurance coverage may not be sufficient to cover all losses or potential claims by our customers, which would affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have maintained insurance policies to cover various aspects of our business, including property loss and product liability to secure our business continuity. However, the amount of coverage, depending on the insurance policies to which we subscribe, may not be adequate to fully compensate all types of loss, damage and liability we may suffer in the future. For example, insurances covering loss from acts of war, terrorism, or natural disasters may be unavailable or cost prohibitive. In addition, we cannot guarantee that our policies can be renewed on similar or acceptable terms, or at all. If we suffer unexpected severe losses or losses that far exceed the policy limits, it could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

We may not be able to obtain additional capital when desired, on favorable terms or at all.

To remain competitive and expand our business, we may need additional capital to support our operations. The amount of additional capital we need depends on factors including, but not limited to:

- our R&D expenses;
- our relationships with our customers and suppliers;
- our ability to control the cost and increase the sale of our products;
- sales and marketing expenses;
- enhancements to our infrastructure and systems;
- potential acquisitions of businesses and product lines; and
- general economic conditions, inflation, rising interest rates, and international conflicts and their impact on the downstream industries.

Our ability to obtain additional capital depends on factors, including, but not limited to:

- our market position and competitiveness in the analog IC industry;
- our overall financial condition, results of operations and future profitability;
- general market conditions for financing activities in China; and
- general economic and political conditions in China and internationally.

RISK FACTORS

If our capital need is materially different from those currently planned, we may initiate financing activities for additional capital sooner than anticipated. Such financing may not be available on favorable terms on a timely basis, or at all. If we cannot obtain adequate capital on terms favorable to us, or at all, we may not be able to continue our operations, R&D and sales and marketing efforts, take advantage of future opportunities or respond to competitive pressures. Under these circumstances, our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected.

We depend on the continued services and contributions of our founders, Directors, senior management and other key employees, including senior R&D personnel and skilled engineers.

Our future performance depends on the continued services and contributions of our founders, senior management and other key employees, to oversee and execute our business plans, identify and pursue new opportunities and perform effective product design and R&D. We rely on our experienced senior management team to oversee and conduct our business operations, including maintenance of distributor and supplier relationships, compliance with relevant laws and regulations and facilitation of the commercialization and production of our products. Any loss of the service of or changes in the positions of our key personnel could significantly delay or prevent us from achieving our strategic business objectives, and adversely affect our business, financial condition and operating results. Hiring and integrating suitable replacements into our team also requires significant amount of time, training and resources, and may impact our existing corporate culture. Our future success depends, to a significant extent, on our ability to attract, train and retain qualified personnel, particularly skilled engineers with expertise in sensor technology, signal chain technology, isolation and interface technology, and power and driver technology. However, we cannot assure you that we will be able to develop or retain qualified personnel that we will need in order to achieve our strategic objectives. If we fail to respond in a timely manner to the loss of service of or changes in the positions of our key personnel, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

Our business and prospects depend on our ability to build our brand and reputation, which could be harmed by negative publicity regarding us, our Directors, employees, branding or products. Any negative publicity, whether warranted or not, could adversely affect our business.

We believe that our brand is integral to the success of our business. Since we operate in a highly competitive market, brand maintenance directly affects our ability to maintain our market position. The successful maintenance of our brand depends on our ability to provide competitive products and to strengthen business relationship with our customers. The successful promotion of our brand depends on the effectiveness of our marketing efforts and the amount of word-of-mouth referrals by our customers. We may incur extra expenses in promoting our brand. However, we cannot assure you that these activities will be successful or effective as expected. In addition, any negative publicity about our Company, Directors, employees, branding or products, whether warranted or not, may adversely affect our reputation and business. If our brand and reputation is damaged, we may face challenges in maintaining our current business relationships with our customers and in entering into new markets, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

RISK FACTORS

Our information technology networks and systems may encounter malfunction, unexpected system failure, interruption, insufficiency or security breaches.

We rely on our and third-party information technology systems to facilitate communications among our employees and with suppliers and customers. We also use the information technology systems to communicate with our logistics providers on demand forecast, order placements and manufacturing and service status and capacity. These information technology systems may be susceptible to damage, disruptions or shutdowns due to failures during maintenance, power outages, hardware failures, malware attacks or catastrophic events. If the information technology systems suffer damage, disruption or shutdown, we may incur substantial costs in repairing or replacing these systems. If we do not effectively resolve the issues in a timely manner, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. In addition, if the information technology systems fail to satisfy additional requirements related to our business expansion, our future growth may be adversely affected.

Security breaches and other disruptions could compromise our confidential and proprietary information, which could cause our business and reputation to suffer.

We collect and store business data and transaction data generated during or in connection with our business operations, including our business and transactions with our customers, suppliers and business partners. See “Business – Information Security and Data Privacy” for more details. The secure maintenance of such data is critical. Despite our data security and protection measures, our information technology and infrastructure may be vulnerable to breaches by hackers, employee error, malfeasance or other disruptions such as natural disasters, power losses or telecommunication failures. Any such breach could compromise our networks and the information stored therein, possibly resulting in legal and regulatory actions, disruption of operations and customer services, and otherwise harming our business, reputation and future operations.

Failure to detect or prevent fraudulent or illegal activities or other misconduct by our employees, suppliers, customers or other third parties may materially and adversely affect our business.

We are exposed to fraudulent or illegal activities or other misconduct by our employees, suppliers, customers or other third parties, that could subject us to liabilities, fines and other penalties imposed by government authorities. Although we have established internal control policies and relevant contractual covenants, we cannot assure you that we will be able to prevent fraud or illegal activity by such persons or that similar incidents will not occur in the future. Any illegal, fraudulent, corrupt or collusive activity by our employees, suppliers, customers or other third parties, including, but not limited to, those in violation of anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, financial and economic sanctions and similar laws, could also subject us to negative publicity that could severely damage our brand and reputation and subject us to significant financial and other liabilities to third parties and fines and other penalties imposed by government authorities. Accordingly, our failure to detect and prevent fraudulent or illegal activities or other misconduct by our employees, suppliers, customers or other third parties could materially and adversely affect our business.

RISK FACTORS

We are subject to the social insurance and housing provident fund regulations in China.

Under PRC laws and regulations, we are required to make contributions for the social insurance and housing provident funds for the benefit of our employees. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we did not make contributions to the relevant social insurance and housing provident funds for certain employees by ourself but delegated such contributions to the social insurance and housing provident funds to third parties, primarily because certain of our employees prefer to participate in the social welfare schemes in their respective places of residence without our registered subsidiaries established, where they primarily conduct their work. We might be subject to additional contribution, late payment fee and/or penalties imposed by the relevant PRC authorities if the third-party agencies failed to pay the social insurance or housing provident funds for the relevant employees in full amount and/or in a timely manner, or if the validity of such arrangements are challenged by competent PRC authorities. We might also be subject to potential labor disputes arising from such arrangements with the relevant employees. If we are otherwise subject to investigations related to noncompliance with labor laws and are imposed severe penalties or incur significant legal fees in connection with labor law disputes or investigations, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be adversely affected.

We may be involved in legal proceedings and commercial or contractual disputes, which could materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may be involved in commercial or contractual disputes, legal and administrative proceedings, and claims arising out of the ordinary course of our business. We cannot assure you that we will not be involved in various disputes in the future, which may expose us to additional risks and losses. In addition, existing or future disputes, proceedings and claims may be costly to defend or resolve. We may have to pay legal costs associated with such disputes, including fees relating to appraisal, auction, execution and legal advisory services. Litigation and other disputes may lead to inquiries, investigations and proceedings by regulatory authorities and other governmental agencies. Any claims, disputes, inquiries, investigations and proceedings may result in damage to our reputation, additional operating costs and diversion of resources and management's attention from our core business. The disruption of our business due to judgment, arbitration and legal proceedings against us or adverse adjudications in proceedings against our Directors, senior management or key employees may materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

RISK FACTORS

Our legal right to some leased properties may be challenged.

As of the Latest Practicable Date, we leased 10 properties for our primary operation activities across China. Under the Measures for Administration of Lease of Commodity Properties (《商品房屋租賃管理辦法》), which was promulgated by the Ministry of Housing and Urban-Rural Development of the PRC on December 1, 2010 and became effective on February 1, 2011, both lessors and lessees are required to file the lease agreements for registration and obtain property leasing filing certificates for their leases. As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had not completed lease registration for nine properties we leased in China. According to the relevant PRC laws and regulations, we may be required by relevant government authorities to file future lease agreements for registration within a time limit, and may be subject to a fine ranging from RMB1,000 to RMB10,000 for such non-registration exceeding such time limit. As of the Latest Practicable Date, one of our leased properties, which was used as office premises, had not received real estate ownership certificate. Therefore, such lessor may not be entitled to lease the relevant property to us, and our use of this leased property may not be valid or may be affected by third parties' claims or challenges against the lease.

RISKS RELATING TO CONDUCTING BUSINESS IN CHINA AND OTHER JURISDICTIONS

Failure to fully adapt to changes in the economic, political and social conditions, as well as government policies, laws and regulations, and industry practice guidelines in China could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The majority of our business assets are located in China and vast majority of our sales and revenue was derived from China during the Track Record Period. Accordingly, our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects are subject to the economic, political and legal conditions in China. Political and economic policies of the PRC government could affect our business and financial condition. Failure to fully adapt to these changes in political and economic policies may adversely affect our growth. In recent years, the PRC government implemented a series of laws, regulations and policies which imposed stricter standards with respect to, among other things, quality and safety control, and supervision and inspection of companies in our industry. See “Regulatory Overview” for more details. Laws, regulations and policies related to our industries will continue to evolve and undergo changes or adjustments, compliance to which may incur additional costs for us. If we cannot fully comply with these Laws, regulations and policies, our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

Uncertainties embedded in the legal systems of certain geographic markets where we operate could affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Legal systems of the geographic markets where we operate vary significantly from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. Some jurisdictions have a civil law system based on written statutes and others are based on common law. Unlike the common law system, prior court decisions under the civil law system may be cited for reference but have limited precedential value. The legal systems of some geographic markets where we operate are consistently evolving. Laws and regulations that are recently enacted may not sufficiently cover all aspects of economic activities in such markets. In particular, the interpretation and enforcement of these laws and regulations are subject to future implementations, and the application of some of these laws and regulations to our businesses is not settled. Since local administrative and court authorities are authorized to interpret and implement statutory provisions and contractual terms, it may be difficult to evaluate the outcome of administrative and court proceedings and the level of legal protection we have in many of the geographic markets where we operate. Local courts may have discretion to reject enforcement of foreign awards or arbitration awards. These uncertainties may affect our judgment on the relevance of legal requirements and our ability to enforce our contractual rights or claims. In addition, the regulatory uncertainties may be exploited through unmerited or frivolous legal actions, claims concerning the conduct of third parties, or threats in attempt to extract payments or benefits from us.

Furthermore, many legal systems in the geographic markets where we operate are based in part on their respective government policies and internal interpretations, some of which are not published on a timely basis or at all and may have retroactive effects. There are other circumstances where key regulatory definitions are unclear, imprecise or missing, or where interpretations that are adopted by regulators are inconsistent with interpretations adopted by a court in analogous cases. As a result, we may not be aware of our violation of certain policies or rules until sometime after the violation. In addition, administrative and court proceedings in certain of our geographic markets may be protracted, resulting in substantial costs and diversion of resources and management attention.

It is possible that a number of laws and regulations may be adopted or construed to be applicable to us in our geographic markets and elsewhere that could affect our businesses and operations. Scrutiny and regulations of the industries in which we operate may further increase, and we may be required to devote additional legal and other resources to addressing these regulations. Changes in current laws or regulations or the imposition of new laws and regulations in our geographic markets may slow the growth of our industries and affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

RISK FACTORS

Regulations on currency exchange may limit our foreign exchange transactions, including our ability to pay dividends and other obligations, and may affect the value of your investment.

The conversion of Renminbi is subject to applicable laws and regulations in China. We cannot guarantee that under a certain exchange rate, we will have sufficient foreign exchange to meet our foreign exchange needs. Under the current PRC foreign exchange control system, foreign exchange transactions under the current account conducted by us, including the payment of dividends, do not require advance approval from the State Administration of Foreign Exchange (“SAFE”). We are required to present documentary evidence of such transactions and conduct such transactions at banks that have the licenses to carry out foreign exchange business. Foreign exchange transactions under the capital account conducted by us, however, must be registered in advance by the SAFE or its designated banks.

Under existing foreign exchange regulations, following the completion of the Global Offering, we will be able to pay dividends in foreign currencies without prior approval from the SAFE by complying with certain procedural requirements. However, any change in these foreign exchange policies or any insufficiency of foreign exchange may restrict our ability to obtain sufficient foreign exchange for dividend payments to shareholders or to satisfy any other foreign exchange requirements, or to capitalize our capital expenditure plans, and even our business, results of operations and financial condition, may be affected.

Fluctuations in exchange rates could result in foreign currency exchange losses.

Most of our revenue and expenditures were denominated in Renminbi. We recorded net foreign exchange gain of RMB2.3 million in 2022, and net foreign exchange loss of RMB2.1 million, RMB0.6 million and RMB1.2 million in 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. Any significant revaluation of the Renminbi may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Additionally, the proceeds from the Global Offering will be in Hong Kong dollars. Fluctuations in the exchange rates among the Renminbi, the Hong Kong dollar, the U.S. dollar and other foreign currencies will affect the relative purchasing power in Renminbi in terms of the proceeds from the Global Offering. Fluctuations in the exchange rate may also incur foreign exchange losses and affect the relative value of any dividend issued by us, thereby adversely affecting our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, appreciation or depreciation in the value of the Renminbi relative to the Hong Kong dollar or the U.S. dollar may affect our financial results in Hong Kong dollar or U.S. dollar terms without giving effect to any underlying change in our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Our operations are subject to PRC tax laws and regulations.

As a company incorporated in China, we are subject to PRC tax laws and regulations. We cannot assure you that we are able to fully comply with such laws and regulations. Any violation of such laws and regulations may result in fines, other penalties, actions or proceedings that could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

RISK FACTORS

Holders of our H Shares may be subject to PRC income tax obligations.

Under the current PRC tax laws and regulations, non-PRC resident individuals and non-PRC resident enterprises are subject to different tax obligations with respect to the dividends paid to them by us and the gains realized upon the sale or other disposition of H Shares by them. Non-PRC resident individuals are required to pay PRC individual income tax at a 20% rate for the dividends or gain from share transfer derived in China under the Individual Income Tax Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國個人所得稅法》) and its implementation regulations. Accordingly, we are required to withhold such tax from dividend payments, unless applicable tax treaties between the PRC and the jurisdiction in which the foreign individual or enterprise resides reduce or exempt the relevant tax obligations. Pursuant to the Arrangement between the Mainland of China and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (“HKSAR”) for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Taxes on Income (《內地和香港特別行政區關於對所得避免雙重徵稅和防止偷漏稅的安排》) signed on August 21, 2006, the PRC government may impose tax on dividends paid by a PRC company to a resident of the HKSAR (including natural person and legal entity), but such tax will not exceed 10% of the total amount of the dividends payable by the Chinese company. If an HKSAR resident directly holds 25% or more of the equity interest in a PRC company, such tax will not exceed 5% of the total dividends payable by the Chinese company. The Fifth Protocol to the Arrangement between the Mainland of China and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Taxes on Income (《〈內地和香港特別行政區關於對所得避免雙重徵稅和防止偷漏稅的安排〉第五議定書》) issued by the STA effective on December 6, 2019 stipulates that the arrangements or transactions made for the primary purpose of obtaining the above-mentioned tax benefits are not subject to the above-mentioned provisions. For non-PRC resident enterprises that do not have establishments or premises in the PRC, and for those who have establishments or premises in the PRC but whose income is not related to such establishments or premises, under the Enterprise Income Tax Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國企業所得稅法》), and its implementation regulations, dividends paid by us and gains realized by such foreign enterprises upon the sale or other disposition of H Shares are typically subject to PRC enterprise income tax at a 10% rate. The Circular on Issues Relating to the Withholding of Enterprise Income Tax by PRC Resident Enterprises on Dividends Paid to Overseas Non-PRC Resident Enterprise Shareholders of H Shares (《關於中國居民企業向境外H股非居民企業股東派發股息代扣代繳企業所得稅有關問題的通知》) issued by the STA, also stipulates that the withholding tax rate for dividends payable to non-PRC resident enterprise holders of H Shares shall be 10%, subject to a further reduction under a special arrangement or an applicable treaty between China and the jurisdiction of the residence of the relevant non-PRC resident enterprise. Despite the arrangements mentioned above, the interpretation and application of applicable PRC tax laws and regulations are subject to the then relevant laws and regulations due to several factors, including whether the relevant preferential tax treatment will be revoked in the future such that all non-PRC resident individual holders will be subject to PRC individual income tax at a flat rate of 20%. If there is any change to applicable tax laws and rules and interpretation or application with respect to such laws and rules, the value of your investment in our H Shares may be materially affected.

RISK FACTORS

You may experience difficulties in effecting service of legal process and enforcing judgments against us, our most Directors and senior management.

We are a company incorporated under the PRC laws and a majority of our assets and subsidiaries are located in China. The majority of our Directors and senior management reside within China. The assets of these Directors and senior management also may be located within China. As a result, it may be complex and difficult to effect service of process upon or to enforce judgements against us, most our Directors and senior management outside China.

Any failure to comply with relevant regulations regarding the registration requirements for employee share incentive plans may subject our share incentive plan participants or us to fines and other legal or administrative sanctions.

In February 2012, SAFE promulgated the Notices on Issues Concerning the Foreign Exchange Administration for Domestic Individuals Participating in Stock Incentive Plan of Overseas Publicly Listed Company (《關於境內個人參與境外上市公司股權激勵計劃外匯管理有關問題的通知》), replacing earlier rules promulgated in 2007. Pursuant to these rules, PRC citizens and non-PRC citizens who reside in China for a continuous period of not less than one year and participate in any stock incentive plan of an overseas publicly listed company, subject to a few exceptions, are required to register with SAFE through a domestic qualified agent and complete certain other procedures. In addition, an overseas-entrusted institution must be retained to handle matters in connection with the exercise or sale of stock options and the purchase or sale of shares and interests. We, our executive officers and other employees who are PRC citizens or who reside in China for a continuous period of not less than one year and who have been granted options of H shares will be subject to these regulations when we become an H-share listed company upon the completion of the Global Offering. Failure to complete SAFE registrations may subject them to fines and legal sanctions. In light of the above, we cannot assure you that we will continuously adopt additional H shares incentive plans for our directors, executive officers and employees under PRC law. In addition, the STA has issued certain circulars concerning employee share options and restricted shares. Under these circulars, our employees working in China who exercise share options or are granted restricted shares will be subject to PRC individual income tax. We have obligations to file documents related to employee share options or restricted shares with relevant tax authorities and to withhold individual income taxes of those employees who exercise their share options. If our employees fail to pay or we fail to withhold their income taxes according to relevant laws and regulations, we may face sanctions imposed by the tax authorities.

RISK FACTORS

RISKS RELATING TO THE GLOBAL OFFERING

We will be concurrently subject to listing and regulatory requirements of mainland China and Hong Kong.

As we are listed on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange and will be listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, we will be required to comply with the applicable listing rules and other regulatory regimes of both jurisdictions unless an exemption is available or a waiver has been obtained. Accordingly, we may incur additional costs and resources to ensure our compliance with the listing rules of both jurisdictions.

The characteristics of the A share and H share markets may differ.

Our A Shares are listed and traded on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange. Following the Global Offering, our A Shares will continue to be traded on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange and our H Shares will be traded on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. Under current laws and regulations in China, without the approval from the relevant regulatory authorities, our H Shares and A Shares are neither interchangeable nor fungible, and there is no trading or settlement between the H Share and A Share markets. With different trading characteristics, the H Share and A Share markets have divergent trading volumes, liquidity and investor bases, as well as different levels of retail and institutional investor participation. As a result, the trading performance of our H Shares and A Shares may not be comparable. Nonetheless, fluctuations in the price of our A Shares may adversely affect the price of our H Shares, and vice versa. Due to the different characteristics of the H Share and A Share markets, the historical prices of our A Shares may not be indicative of the performance of our H Shares. Therefore, you should not place undue reliance on the trading history of our A Shares when making your investment decision in our H Shares.

There has been no prior public market for our H Shares, and an active trading market for our H Shares may not develop or be sustained.

Prior to the Global Offering, there was no public market for our H Shares. We cannot assure you that a public market for our H Shares with adequate liquidity and trading volume will develop and be sustained following the completion of the Global Offering. In addition, the Offer Price of our H Shares is expected to be fixed by agreement between the Overall Coordinators and us, and may not be an indication of the market price of our H Shares following the completion of the Global Offering. If an active public market for our H Shares does not develop following the completion of the Global Offering, the market price and liquidity of our H Shares may be materially and adversely affected. The price and trading volume of our H Shares may be volatile, which could lead to substantial losses to investors.

RISK FACTORS

The price and trading volume of our H Shares may be subject to significant volatility in response to various factors beyond our control, including the general market conditions of securities in Hong Kong and elsewhere in the world.

The Hong Kong Stock Exchange and other securities markets have, from time to time, experienced significant price and trading volume volatility that are not related to the operating performance of any particular listed company. The business and performance and the market price of the shares of other listed companies engaging in similar business may also affect the price and trading volume of our Shares. In addition to market and industry factors beyond our control, the price and trading volume of our Shares may be highly volatile for specific business reasons, such as fluctuations in our revenue, earnings, cash flows, investments, expenditures, regulatory developments, relationships with our suppliers, movements or activities of key personnel, or actions taken by competitors. Moreover, shares of other companies listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange have experienced price volatility in the past, and it is possible that our H Shares may be subject to changes in price not directly related to our performance.

Future sales or perceived sales of substantial amounts of our H Shares in the public market could have a material adverse impact on the prevailing market price of our H Shares and our ability to raise additional capital in the future, or may result in dilution of your shareholding.

The market price of our H Shares and our ability to raise equity capital in the future at a time and price that we deem appropriate could be negatively impacted as a result of future sales of a substantial number of our H Shares or other securities relating to our H Shares in the public market, especially by our Directors, executive officers and Single Largest Shareholder Group, or the issuance of new shares or other securities, or the perception that such sales or issuances may occur. In addition, our Shareholders may experience dilution in their holdings if we issue more securities in the future. Furthermore, we may issue Shares pursuant to any existing or future share option incentive schemes, which would further dilute our Shareholders' interests in our Company. New shares or shares-linked securities issued by us may also confer rights and privileges that take priority over those conferred by the H Shares. Certain amount of the Shares controlled by our Single Largest Shareholder Group are subject to certain lock-up periods beginning on the date on which trading in our Shares commences on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. While we currently are not aware of any intention of such persons to dispose of significant amounts of their Shares after the expiry of the lock-up periods, we cannot assure you that they will not dispose of any Shares they may own now or in the future. Market sale of Shares by such Shareholders and the availability of these Shares for future sale may have a negative impact on the market price of our Shares.

In addition, while investors subscribing shares in the Global Offering are not subject to any restrictions on the disposal of the H Shares they subscribed (except as disclosed in "Cornerstone Investors"), they may have existing arrangements or agreement to dispose part or all of the H Shares they hold immediately or within certain period upon completion of the Global Offering for legal and regulatory, business and market, or other reasons. Such disposal may occur within a short period or any time or period after the Listing Date. Any sale of the H Shares subscribed by such investors pursuant to such arrangement or agreement could adversely affect the market price of our H Shares and any sizeable sale could have a material and adverse effect on the market price of our H Shares and could cause substantial volatility in the trading volume of our H Shares.

RISK FACTORS

The interests of our Single Largest Shareholder Group may not be aligned with the interests of other Shareholders.

Our Single Largest Shareholder Group have substantial influence over our business, including matters related to our management, policies and decisions regarding acquisitions, mergers, expansion plans, consolidations and sales of all or substantially all of our assets, election of directors and other significant corporate actions. Immediately following the completion of the Global Offering and assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and no Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans, our Single Largest Shareholder Group will hold approximately 26.46% of the issued share capital of our Company (excluding the 118,216 A Shares held by our Company as treasury Shares). This concentration of ownership may discourage, delay or prevent a change in control of our Company, which could deprive other Shareholders of an opportunity to receive a premium for their Shares as part of a sale of our Company and might reduce the price of our H Shares. These events may occur even if they are opposed by our other Shareholders. In addition, the interests of our Single Largest Shareholder Group may differ from the interests of our other Shareholders. It is possible that our Single Largest Shareholder Group may exercise their substantial influence over us and cause us to enter into transactions or take, or fail to take, actions or make decisions that conflict with the best interests of our other Shareholders.

Our historical dividends may not be indicative of our future dividend policy, and there can be no assurance whether and when we will pay dividends in the future.

We have declared dividends in the past. We protect our Shareholders' interest by ensuring a consistent dividend policy. However, there is no assurance that we will be able to declare or distribute dividends of any amount in any year in the future. Under the applicable PRC laws and regulations, the payment of dividends may be subject to certain limitations, and the calculation of our profit under the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises may differ in certain respects from the calculation under IFRS Accounting Standards. The declaration, payment and amount of any future dividends are subject to the discretion of our Directors, after taking into account various factors, including but not limited to our results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, capital expenditure requirements, market conditions, our strategic plans and prospects for business development, regulatory restrictions on the payment of dividends and other factors as our Directors may deem relevant, and subject to the approval at Shareholders' meeting. Any declaration and payment as well as the amount of dividends will be subject to our constitutional documents and the applicable PRC laws and regulations. See "Financial Information – Dividends" for more details of our dividend policy. No dividend shall be declared or payable except out of our profits and reserves lawfully available for distribution. Our historical dividends should not be taken as indicative of our dividend policy in the future.

RISK FACTORS

Under the existing PRC foreign exchange regulations, payments of current account items, including profit distributions, interest payments and trade and service-related foreign exchange transactions, can be made in foreign currencies without prior SAFE approval by complying with certain procedural requirements. However, approval from or registration with competent government authorities is required where Renminbi is to be converted into foreign currency and remitted out of China to pay capital expenses such as the repayment of loans denominated in foreign currencies. If the foreign exchange control system prevents us from obtaining sufficient foreign currencies to satisfy our foreign currency demands, we may not be able to pay dividends in foreign currencies to our Shareholders. Further, we cannot assure you that new regulations will not be promulgated in the future that would have the effect of further restricting the remittance of Renminbi into or out of China.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

In preparation of the Global Offering, we have sought the following waivers from strict compliance with the relevant provisions of the Listing Rules.

MANAGEMENT PRESENCE IN HONG KONG

Pursuant to Rules 8.12 and 19A.15 of the Listing Rules, we must have a sufficient management presence in Hong Kong. This normally means that at least two of our executive Directors must be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong.

Since our principal business and operations are substantially located, managed and conducted in the PRC, our Directors consider that appointment of additional executive Directors who will be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong would not be beneficial to, or appropriate for, our Group. As none of our executive Directors are ordinarily based in Hong Kong, we do not, and do not contemplate that we will in the foreseeable future, have a sufficient management presence in Hong Kong for the purpose of satisfying the requirements under Rules 8.12 and 19A.15 of the Listing Rules.

Accordingly, we have applied to the Stock Exchange for, and the Stock Exchange has granted, a waiver from strict compliance with the requirements under Rules 8.12 and 19A.15 of the Listing Rules. We will put in place the following measures in order to ensure that regular communication is maintained between the Stock Exchange and our Company:

- (a) we have appointed two authorized representatives pursuant to Rule 3.05 of the Listing Rules, who will act as our principal channel of communication with the Stock Exchange. The two authorized representatives are Mr. Jiang Chaoshang, our executive Director and secretary to the Board, and Mr. Cheng Ching Kit (“Mr. Cheng”), one of our joint company secretaries. Mr. Jiang Chaoshang confirms that he possesses valid travel documents and can readily travel to Hong Kong, whilst Mr. Cheng is ordinarily resident in Hong Kong. Each of the authorized representatives will be available to meet with the Stock Exchange in Hong Kong within a reasonable period of time upon the request of the Stock Exchange and will be readily contactable by telephone and email. Each of the authorized representatives is authorized to communicate on behalf of our Company with the Stock Exchange;
- (b) the authorized representatives have means to contact our Directors (including our independent non-executive Directors) promptly at all times as and when the Stock Exchange wishes to contact our Directors for any matter;
- (c) all of our Directors have confirmed that they possess, can apply for or renew valid travel documents to visit Hong Kong, and would be able to meet with the Stock Exchange upon reasonable notice and within a reasonable period. Each of our Directors will be readily contactable by telephone and email, and is authorized to communicate on behalf of our Company with the Stock Exchange;
- (d) each of our Directors has provided his/her respective contact details, including mobile phone numbers, email addresses and addresses, to the Stock Exchange and the authorized representatives. In the event that any Director expects to travel or otherwise be out of office, he/she will provide the contact details and his/her place of accommodation to the authorized representatives;

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

- (e) our Company has appointed Somerley Capital Limited as compliance advisor, pursuant to Rule 3A.19 of the Listing Rules, who will have access at all times to the authorized representatives, our Directors and other senior management of our Company, and will act as an additional channel of communication with the Stock Exchange for the period commencing on the date of the listing of our H Shares on the Main Board and ending on the date when our Company distributes its annual report for the first full financial year in accordance with Rule 13.46 of the Listing Rules; and
- (f) meetings between the Stock Exchange and our Directors can be arranged through the authorized representatives or the compliance advisor of our Company or directly with our Directors within a reasonable time frame. Our Company will inform the Stock Exchange promptly in respect of any change in its authorized representatives and/or compliance advisor.

APPOINTMENT OF JOINT COMPANY SECRETARIES

Pursuant to Rule 8.17 of the Listing Rules, we must appoint a company secretary who satisfies Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules. According to Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules, our company secretary must be an individual who, by virtue of his or her academic or professional qualifications or relevant experience, is, in the opinion of the Stock Exchange, capable of discharging the functions of company secretary.

The Stock Exchange considers the following academic or professional qualifications to be acceptable:

- (a) a member of The Hong Kong Chartered Governance Institute;
- (b) a solicitor or barrister (as defined in the Legal Practitioners Ordinance (Chapter 159 of the Laws of Hong Kong)); and
- (c) a certified public accountant (as defined in the Professional Accountants Ordinance (Chapter 50 of the Laws of Hong Kong)).

Note 2 to Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules further provides that the Stock Exchange considers the following factors in assessing the “relevant experience” of the individual:

- (a) length of employment with the issuer and other issuers and the roles he or she played;
- (b) familiarity with the Listing Rules and other relevant laws and regulations including the SFO, the Companies Ordinance, the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance and the Takeovers Code;
- (c) relevant training taken and/or to be taken in addition to be the minimum requirement under Rule 3.29 of the Listing Rules; and
- (d) professional qualifications in other jurisdictions.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

Pursuant to paragraph 13 of Chapter 3.10 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants, the Stock Exchange will consider a waiver application by an issuer in relation to Rules 3.28 and 8.17 of the Listing Rules based on the specific facts and circumstances. Factors that will be considered by the Stock Exchange include:

- (a) whether the issuer has principal business activities primarily outside Hong Kong;
- (b) whether the issuer was able to demonstrate the need to appoint a person who does not have the Acceptable Qualification (as defined under paragraph 11 of Chapter 3.10 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants) nor Relevant Experience (as defined under paragraph 11 of Chapter 3.10 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants) as a company secretary; and
- (c) why the directors consider the individual to be suitable to act as the issuer's company secretary.

Further, pursuant to paragraph 13 of Chapter 3.10 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants, such waiver, if granted, will be for a fixed period of time (the “Waiver Period”) and on the following conditions:

- (a) the proposed company secretary must be assisted by a person who possesses the qualifications or experience as required under Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules and is appointed as a joint company secretary throughout the Waiver Period; and
- (b) the waiver will be revoked if there are material breaches of the Listing Rules by the issuer.

We have appointed Ms. Wang Yifei (“Ms. Wang”) as one of our joint company secretaries. Ms. Wang is our securities affairs representative. Ms. Wang joined our Group as a legal specialist in June 2020, until April 2022, and has served as our securities affairs representative since April 2022. Although our Company believes, having regard to Ms. Wang's past experience in handling corporate matters, that she has a thorough understanding of our Company and the Board, Ms. Wang does not possess the requisite qualifications required by Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules. Therefore, our Company has appointed Mr. Cheng, who possesses such qualification, to be a joint company secretary to assist Ms. Wang in the compliance matters for the Listing as well as other Hong Kong regulatory requirements for a period of three years commencing from the Listing Date. For the biographies of our joint company secretaries, see “Directors and Senior Management – Joint Company Secretaries” in this prospectus. Over such three-year period, we will implement measures to assist Ms. Wang to satisfy the requisite qualifications as prescribed in Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

Accordingly, we have applied to the Stock Exchange for, and the Stock Exchange has granted, a waiver from strict compliance with the requirements under Rules 8.17 and 3.28 of the Listing Rules in relation to Ms. Wang's appointment as a joint company secretary pursuant to Chapter 3.10 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants on the following conditions:

- (a) Ms. Wang must be assisted by Mr. Cheng, who possesses the qualification and experience as required under Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules and is appointed as a joint company secretary throughout the validity period of the waiver; and
- (b) the waiver is valid for a period of three years from the Listing Date and will be revoked immediately if and when Mr. Cheng ceases to provide such assistance or if there are material breaches of the Listing Rules by our Company.

It is anticipated that Ms. Wang will gain experience with the assistance of Mr. Cheng. Before the end of the initial three-year period, we will evaluate the then experience of Ms. Wang in order to determine whether the requirements as stipulated in Rules 3.28 and 8.17 of the Listing Rules can be satisfied at the time and on-going assistance would be needed. We would then endeavor to demonstrate to the satisfaction of and seek the confirmation from the Stock Exchange that Ms. Wang, having had the benefit of Mr. Cheng's assistance for three years, would then have acquired the "relevant experience" within the meaning of Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules so that a further waiver would not be necessary.

WAIVER IN RESPECT OF INVESTMENTS AFTER THE TRACK RECORD PERIOD

Pursuant to Rules 4.04(2) and 4.04(4)(a) of the Listing Rules, the accountants' report to be included in a listing document must include the income statements and balance sheets of any subsidiary or business acquired, agreed to be acquired or proposed to be acquired since the date to which its latest audited accounts have been made up in respect of each of the three financial years immediately preceding the issue of the listing document.

Pursuant to Rule 4.02A of the Listing Rules, acquisitions of business include acquisitions of associates and any equity interest in another company. Pursuant to Note 4 to Rule 4.04 of the Listing Rules, the Hong Kong Stock Exchange may consider granting a waiver of the requirements under Rules 4.04(2) and 4.04(4) on a case-by-case basis, and having regard to all relevant facts and circumstances and subject to certain conditions set out thereunder.

Since June 30, 2025 and up to the Latest Practicable Date, the Group has proposed to make the following investments (the "Investments"), details of which are set out as below:

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

Investment in Shenzhen Rongxin Semiconductor Co., Ltd. (深圳市榮芯半導體有限公司, “Shenzhen Rongxin”)

On June 23, 2025, Suzhou Naxing entered into a capital increase agreement with Shenzhen Rongxin and its then shareholders, pursuant to which Suzhou Naxing subscribed for RMB909,100 of the increased registered capital of Shenzhen Rongxin at a consideration of RMB10,000,000 (“Shenzhen Rongxin Investment”). The consideration was determined after arm’s length negotiations with reference to a valuation report of Shenzhen Rongxin issued by an independent valuer. To the best knowledge, information and belief of the Directors and having made all reasonable enquiry, each of the ultimate beneficial owners of Shenzhen Rongxin and Shenzhen Rongxin itself as of the Latest Practicable Date is an Independent Third Party. The consideration had been settled in July 2025 with the Group’s own source of funds.

Shenzhen Rongxin is primarily engaged in the design, sales, and technical services of integrated circuit chips, as well as electronic component distribution and software and IT solutions in China. The Directors believe that the Shenzhen Rongxin Investment will create synergy effect between the businesses of the Company and Shenzhen Rongxin and therefore optimize the Company’s business development in sensor products. Accordingly, the Directors believe that the terms of the Shenzhen Rongxin Investment are based on normal commercial terms, fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Shareholders as a whole. According to the audited financial information of Shenzhen Rongxin, as of December 31, 2023 and 2024, (i) its total assets were approximately RMB6.3 million and RMB0.7 million, respectively; and (ii) its net loss was approximately RMB9.3 million and RMB11.5 million, respectively.

After completion of the Shenzhen Rongxin Investment, Shenzhen Rongxin will be held as to 8.33% by Suzhou Naxing and will not become a subsidiary of our Company. After completion of the Shenzhen Rongxin Investment, the remaining 91.67% equity interests in Shenzhen Rongxin will be held by Independent Third Parties.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

Investment in Lesnet (Suzhou) Technology Co., Ltd. (萊斯能特（蘇州）科技有限公司, “Suzhou Lesnet”)

On November 3, 2025, our Company entered into an equity transfer agreement with (i) the then shareholders of Suzhou Lesnet, Suzhou Yuyi Beilan Venture Capital Partnership (Limited Partnership) (蘇州貝瀾晟德創業投資合夥企業（有限合夥）), Suzhou Guorun Ruiqi Venture Capital Enterprise (Limited Partnership) (蘇州國潤瑞祺創業投資企業（有限合夥）), Zhejiang Sentronic Semiconductor Co., Ltd. (浙江森尼克半導體有限公司), Shanghai Beiguiyan Enterprise Management Partnership (Limited Partnership) (上海北歸雁企業管理合夥企業（有限合夥）), Suzhou Suxin Equity Investment Partnership (Limited Partnership) (蘇州蘇新股權投資合夥企業(有限合夥)), Suzhou Yuyi Beilan Venture Capital Partnership (Limited Partnership)(蘇州雨逸貝瀾創業投資合夥企業（有限合夥）), Ge Youzheng (葛有鏘), Shanghai Hong Zhenfu Enterprise Management Co., Ltd.(上海宏振福企業管理有限公司), Zhejiang Shenghetianxia Enterprise Management Consulting Co., Ltd.(浙江盛合天下企業管理諮詢有限公司) and Anhui Xiuhanyun New Research Venture Capital Partnership (Limited Partnership)(安徽岫瀚雲新研創業投資合夥企業（有限合夥）) (the “then shareholders of Suzhou Lesnet”), which are Independent Third Parties, (ii) Wang Hui, the founder of Suzhou Lesnet, and (iii) Suzhou Lesnet, pursuant to which our Company acquired approximately 55.22% equity interest in Suzhou Lesnet from the then shareholders of Suzhou Lesnet, at a consideration of RMB57.1 million (“Suzhou Lesnet Investment”). The consideration was determined after arm’s length negotiations with reference to a valuation report of Suzhou Lesnet issued by an independent valuer. To the best knowledge, information and belief of the Directors and having made all reasonable enquiry, each of the ultimate beneficial owners of Suzhou Lesnet and Suzhou Lesnet itself as of the Latest Practicable Date is an Independent Third Party. The consideration is expected to be settled with the Group’s own source of funds rather than the net proceeds from the Global Offering in December 2025, subject to the performance of the condition precedent therein by Suzhou Lesnet.

Suzhou Lesnet is primarily engaged in the R&D, production and sales of micro-electro-mechanical systems (MEMS) sensor chips for industrial and automotive sectors in China. The Directors believe that the Suzhou Lesnet Investment will create synergy effect between the businesses of the Company and Suzhou Lesnet and therefore optimize the Company’s business development in sensor products in automotive and industrial industries. Accordingly, the Directors believe that the terms of Suzhou Lesnet Investment are based on normal commercial terms, fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Shareholders as a whole. According to the unaudited management accounts of Suzhou Lesnet, as of December 31, 2023 and 2024, (i) its total assets were approximately RMB10.7 million and RMB31.3 million, respectively; and (ii) its net loss was approximately RMB25.0 million and RMB21.1 million, respectively.

After completion of the equity transfer, (i) Suzhou Lesnet will be held as to 55% by Suzhou Naxing and will become a subsidiary of our Company, and (ii) the remaining 45% equity interests in Suzhou Lesnet will be held by Independent Third Parties.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

Conditions for granting the waiver and its scope in respect of the Investments

We have applied for, and the Hong Kong Stock Exchange has granted, a waiver from strict compliance with Rules 4.04(2) and 4.04(4)(a) of the Listing Rules in respect of the Investments on the following grounds:

The percentage ratios of the Investments are less than 5% by reference to the most recent fiscal year of the Track Record Period

The applicable percentage ratios calculated in accordance with Rule 14.07 of the Listing Rules for the Investments are all less than 5% by reference to the financial year ended December 31, 2024. Accordingly, we do not expect the Investments to result in any significant changes to our financial position since June 30, 2025, and all information that is reasonably necessary for potential investors to make an informed assessment of the activities or financial position of the Group has been included in this prospectus. As such, we consider that a waiver from compliance with the requirements under Rules 4.04(2) and 4.04(4)(a) of the Listing Rules would not prejudice the interests of the investors.

The historical financial information of Shenzhen Rongxin and Suzhou Lesnet is not available and would be unduly burdensome to obtain or prepare Shenzhen Rongxin and Suzhou Lesnet do not have historical financial information which is readily available for disclosure in this prospectus in accordance with the Listing Rules. Given that we do not hold a controlling equity interest in Shenzhen Rongxin, we are unable to exercise any control nor have any significant influence over Shenzhen Rongxin. Hence, we are unable to provide our reporting accountants with access to Shenzhen Rongxin's books and records to prepare the historical financial information required under the Listing Rules. In addition, it would require considerable time and resources for our Company and its reporting accountants to fully familiarize themselves with the management accounting policies of Suzhou Lesnet and compile the necessary financial information and supporting documents for disclosure in this prospectus. As such, our Company believes that it would be impractical and unduly burdensome for us within the tight timeframe to disclose the audited financial information of Shenzhen Rongxin and Suzhou Lesnet as required under Rules 4.04(2) and 4.04(4)(a) of the Listing Rules.

In addition, having considered the Investments to be immaterial and that we do not expect the Investments to have any material effect on our business, financial condition or operations, we believe that (i) it would not be meaningful and would be unduly burdensome for us to prepare and include the financial information of Shenzhen Rongxin and Suzhou Lesnet during the Track Record Period in this prospectus, and (ii) the non-disclosure of the required information pursuant to Rules 4.04(2) and 4.04(4)(a) of the Listing Rules would not prejudice the interests of the investors.

Ordinary and usual course of business

Shenzhen Rongxin and Suzhou Lesnet are engaged in business activities complementary with and closely related to the existing business of our Company. Our Company has conducted minority investments during the Track Record Period. As a result, our Company is of the view that the conducting of the Investments is within our ordinary and usual course of business.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

Alternative disclosure of the Investments in this prospectus

Our Company has disclosed alternative information about the Investments in this prospectus. Such information includes those which would be required for a discloseable transaction under Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules that the Directors consider to be material, including, for example, descriptions of Shenzhen Rongxin's and Suzhou Lesnet's principal business activities, the consideration amounts, the basis for the determination of the consideration, how the consideration will be satisfied, the reasons for and the benefits of the Investments, the book value of the total asset and the net loss of Shenzhen Rongxin and Suzhou Lesnet for the two financial years immediately prior to the Investments, and a statement as to whether each of the counterparties and the ultimate beneficial owners of the counterparties is an Independent Third Party and the confirmation from the Directors that the terms of the Investments are fair and reasonable in the interest of the Shareholders as a whole. Since the applicable percentage ratios of the Investments are all less than 5% by reference to the most recent fiscal year of the Track Record Period, our Company believes that the current disclosure is adequate for potential investors to form an informed assessment of our Company.

ALLOCATION OF OUR H SHARES TO EXISTING MINORITY A SHAREHOLDERS AND THEIR CLOSE ASSOCIATES UNDER RULE 10.04 AND PARAGRAPH 1C OF APPENDIX F1 TO THE LISTING RULES

Paragraph 1C(2) of Appendix F1 to the Listing Rules provides that, without the prior written consent of the Stock Exchange, no allocations will be permitted to existing shareholders or their close associates, whether in their own names or through nominees, in the Global Offering unless the conditions set out in Rules 10.03 and 10.04 of the Listing Rules are fulfilled.

Our A Shares have been listed on the STAR Market (stock code: 688052) of the Shanghai Stock Exchange since April 22, 2022. As such, our A Shares are widely held and actively traded.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

We have applied to the Stock Exchange for, and the Stock Exchange has granted to us, a waiver from strict compliance with the requirements under Rule 10.04 of the Listing Rules and consent pursuant to Paragraph 1C(2) of Appendix F1 to the Listing Rules to permit H Shares in the International Offering to be placed to certain existing minority A Shareholders who (i) hold less than 5% of the total number of A Shares of our Company in issue prior to the completion of the Global Offering; and (ii) are not and will not become (upon the completion of the Global Offering) core connected persons of our Company or the close associates of any such core connected persons (collectively, the “Existing Minority A Shareholders”, and each an “Existing Minority A Shareholder”), subject to the following conditions:

- (a) the Joint Sponsors will confirm that each Existing Minority A Shareholder to whom our Company may allocate H Shares in the International Offering is interested in less than 5% of the total number of A Shares of our Company in issue prior to the completion of the Global Offering;
- (b) the Joint Sponsors will confirm that each Existing Minority A Shareholder is not, and will not be, a core connected person of our Company or any close associate of any such core connected person immediately prior to or following the Global Offering;
- (c) the Joint Sponsors will confirm that none of the Existing Minority A Shareholders has the right to appoint any Director and/or any other special rights;
- (d) the Joint Sponsors will confirm that allocation to the Existing Minority A Shareholders and/or their close associates will not affect our ability to satisfy the public float requirement as prescribed by the Stock Exchange under Rule 19A.13A(2) of the Listing Rules;
- (e) each of our Company, the Joint Sponsors and the Overall Coordinators shall confirm to the Stock Exchange in writing that, to the best of its knowledge and belief, it has no reason to believe that the Existing Minority A Shareholders or their close associates received any preferential treatment in any allocation in the International Offering by virtue of their relationship with our Company.

provided further that:

- (a) the Joint Sponsors will confirm the matters set out in (a) to (d) above;
- (b) the Joint Sponsors will confirm to the Stock Exchange in writing that, to the best of their knowledge and belief, they have no reason to believe that any of the Existing Minority A Shareholders or their close associates received any preferential treatment, or is in a position to exert influence on the Company to obtain actual or perceived preferential treatment in the allocation as a placee by virtue of their relationship with our Company, and details of the allocation to the Existing Minority A Shareholders holding more than 1% of the issued share capital of the Company immediately prior to the completion of the Global Offering will be disclosed in this prospectus and/or the allotment results announcement, as the case may be;

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

- (c) our Company will confirm to the Stock Exchange in writing that no preferential treatment has been, nor will be, given to the Existing Minority A Shareholders or their close associates, nor is the Existing Minority A Shareholder in a position to exert influence on the Company to obtain actual or perceived preferential treatment, by virtue of their relationship with our Company in any allocation in the placing tranche; and
- (d) the Overall Coordinators will confirm to the Stock Exchange (in the form satisfactory to the Stock Exchange) that, to the best of their knowledge and belief, no preferential treatment has been, nor will be, given to the Existing Minority A Shareholders or their close associates by virtue of their relationship with our Company in any allocation in the placing tranche.

Allocation to the Existing Minority A Shareholders and/or their close associates will not be disclosed in our Company's allotment results announcement unless such Existing Minority A Shareholders are interested in 1% or more of the issued share capital of our Company before the Global Offering, as our A Shares are listed and trading on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange, and there are practical difficulties for our Company to ascertain all the Existing Minority A Shareholders.

DISCLOSURE OF OFFER PRICE

Paragraph 15(2)(c) of Appendix D1A to the Listing Rules provides that the issue price or offer price of each security must be disclosed in the prospectus. Pursuant to Paragraph 12 of Chapter 4.14 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants, the Stock Exchange also allows an indicative offer price range to be included in the prospectus, as an alternative to the disclosure of a fixed offer price.

We have applied to the Stock Exchange a waiver from strict compliance with paragraph 15(2)(c) of Appendix D1A to the Listing Rules so that the Company will only disclose the maximum Offer Price in the Prospectus on the below basis:

- (a) The Offer Price will be determined with reference to, among other factors, the closing price of our A Shares on the Shanghai Stock Exchange on the last trading day on or before the Price Determination Date. Our Company is unable to control the trading price of our A Shares on the Shanghai Stock Exchange;
- (b) Setting a fixed offer price or an offer price range with a low-end may adversely affect our ability to price our H Shares in the best interests of our Shareholders and the market price of the A Shares and the Hong Kong Offer Shares;
- (c) Pursuant to paragraph 9 of the Third Schedule to the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance, the amount payable on application and allotment on each share shall be specified in the prospectus. Disclosure of a maximum offer price complies with the requirements prescribed under paragraph 9 of Part I of the Third Schedule to the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance by providing a clear indication of the maximum subscription consideration a potential investor shall pay for the Offer Shares; and
- (d) A maximum Offer Price will be disclosed in this prospectus. This alternative disclosure approach would not prejudice the interests of the investing public in Hong Kong.

WAIVERS FROM STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH THE LISTING RULES

The Stock Exchange has granted to us a waiver from strict compliance with paragraph 15(2)(c) of Appendix D1A to the Listing Rules on the conditions that the Prospectus will disclose:

- (a) the maximum Offer Price;
- (b) the time for the determination of the Offer Price and the form of its publication;
- (c) the historical prices of the Company's A Shares and trading volume on the Shanghai Stock Exchange during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date;
- (d) the determinants of the final Offer Price; and
- (e) the source for investor to access the latest market price of the Company's A Shares.

See "Structure of the Global Offering – Pricing and Allocation" in this prospectus for the historical prices of our A Shares and trading volume on the Shanghai Stock Exchange.

ANALOG INTEGRATED CIRCUITS INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Definition of Analog Integrated Circuits

Analog integrated circuits (Analog ICs), or analog chips, a type of integrated circuits, are specifically designed to capture, process, and transmit continuous analog signals, such as sound, temperature, and light. Analog signals use a series of continuously changing electromagnetic waves or voltage signals to represent information content.

Integrated circuits (ICs) can be divided into analog ICs, microprocessor, logic ICs and memory. Microprocessor, logic ICs and memory can be collectively referred to as digital IC. Analog ICs are an important part of integrated circuits, accounting for approximately 15% of the overall integrated circuits market size in terms of the sales revenue in 2024.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

With the increasing integration of semiconductors and the continuous expansion of application, some integrated circuits now incorporate both analog and digital IC circuits' functions, forming analog-digital hybrid chips. This further elevates the internal complexity and functional requirements.

Source: WSTS, Frost & Sullivan Report

Status Quo of Analog Integrated Circuits

In 2024, the global analog integrated circuits market reached RMB565.7 billion, marking a 47.4% growth compared to 2020. Driven by robust market demand, China's analog IC market has achieved rapid expansion, with a market size of RMB195.3 billion in 2024, accounting for over 35% of the global market share. Although international companies still dominate China's market, domestic companies have experienced significant growth in recent years, demonstrating continuous technological breakthroughs and escalating market penetration. The sustained enhancement of domestic companies' competitiveness and the acceleration of localization have become the defining trends in China's analog IC industry development.

Characteristics of Analog Integrated Circuits Market

- Analog ICs Primarily Utilize Mature Process Nodes

The analog integrated circuits industry predominantly relies on mature process technologies, contrasting sharply with digital ICs' pursuit of process miniaturization. This stems from analog ICs' unique requirements for precise current/voltage control and high signal-to-noise ratio, where mature processes offer superior device matching, process stability, and cost efficiency. China has sufficient production capacity for mature processes, therefore less affected by international trade conflicts.

- Long Product Validation Cycle and High Replacement Cost

Analog ICs are mostly used for equipment power management, signal conditioning and other core functional modules, which need to pass the function verification and reliability test for up to 12-24 months. For example, automotive electronics needs to meet the complicated automotive-grade testing and verification, as well as a long supply cycle guarantee. This industry feature also results in high comprehensive costs for downstream clients to switch suppliers. Replacing analog ICs suppliers may incur high hidden costs, including system redesign, testing and certification, and shutdown risks.

- Fragmented Applications and Complex Product Portfolios

The downstream of analog ICs covers consumer electronics, industrial control, automotive, communications and other sectors, resulting diversity of product needs. A single analog IC company needs to maintain a large number of different item numbers to match market needs. The product catalogs top-tier international companies can contain more than 50,000 models, and the life cycle of some products could last more than 10 years. Although the product catalogs of leading Chinese companies only contain thousands of models, still lag behind those of international counterparts, these companies are rapidly enriching their product portfolios.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

- Popularity of Distribution Model

Due to the wide range of downstream applications, distributors usually play an important role in the sales process of analog ICs. Through distributor networks, analog IC companies can reach scattered small and medium-sized customers, and reduce sales costs. The distribution system is irreplaceable in regional coverage, inventory buffer and small batch order response for analog IC companies. The direct selling mode mainly serves the head strategic customers.

Analog Integrated Circuits Industry Chain Analysis

Source: Frost & Sullivan Report

The upstream of the analog ICs industry chain mainly includes wafer fabrication, IC packaging & testing and IC design tools, providing the necessary technical foundation and manufacturing conditions. The midstream is centered on analog IC designers and solution providers, who complete circuit design and verification based on their innovation capability and accumulation of expertise. The design process needs to balance performance, power consumption and cost. The downstream demand is scattered in the fields of such as automotive, industrial, communications, consumer electronics and others. The diversity of downstream demands drive designers to build a huge product library, and meet the needs of different customers through flexible product combinations.

Business Model in Analog Integrated Circuits Market

The analog ICs industry primarily operates under two models – IDM and fabless.

In the IDM model, companies design analog ICs and complete manufacturing and packaging & testing process in house. This enables them to have stronger resource aggregation capabilities and can integrate design and production processes to develop new products, but it also requires huge financial support. Since production equipment requires a large amount of capital investment.

In the fabless Model, companies focus on analog IC design, and outsource manufacturing and packaging & testing process. Therefore, they can significantly reduce production line investment, concentrate resources on research and development, and respond more agilely to market demand by providing customized services based on customer needs.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Leading fabless companies are exploring new models by not only focusing on integrated circuit design, but also having their own process platforms. It requests wafer manufacturers to cooperate in applying unique manufacturing processes and proprietary equipment, but the production line itself does not belong to the fabless companies. This new model can better optimize design process collaboration, accelerate product iteration, and enhance market competitiveness without largely investing in fixed asset.

Classification of Analog Integrated Circuits

According to different functions and product types, analog ICs are mainly classified into signal chain ICs and power management ICs.

Signal chain ICs is an integrated circuit with the functions of receiving, transmitting, converting, amplifying and filtering analog signals. Its product categories mainly include isolator, comparators, signal conversion, interface, amplifiers, timer, clocks, etc.

Power management ICs is an integrated circuit used to manage the relationship between battery and circuit, and is responsible for the conversion, distribution, detection and monitoring of electric energy. Its categories can be mainly divided into linear regulators, DC/DC switching regulators, grid driver, AC/DC converter and controller, battery charging and management, etc. and others.

Source: Public Information, Frost & Sullivan Report

Analog ICs are widely used across various industries. Below is an overview of the market conditions in the sectors where the Company's key downstream customers operate:

In energy sector, driven by the expansion of new energy and supported by efficiency improvements and cost declines in wind and solar generation, China's renewable cumulative installed power capacity (mainly including installed solar power and wind power) rose from 534.4 GW in 2020 to 1,407.4 GW in 2024, at a CAGR of 27.4%, lifting its share of China's cumulative installed power capacity (mainly including installed solar power, fossil fuel power, hydropower, wind power, nuclear power, and others) from 24.3% to 42.0%; it is projected to reach 3,536 GW by 2029, at a CAGR of 18.6%, accounting for 63.3% of China overall capacity.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

In industrial sector, driven by the continuous development of industrial manufacturing, the China industrial electric drive solution market increased from RMB30.6 billion in 2020 to RMB37.0 billion in 2024, with a CAGR of 4.8%, and is expected to grow steadily to RMB 48.3 billion by 2029 at a CAGR of 5.5%. The growth momentum is primarily driven by ongoing industrial electrification and the demand for cleaner and more efficient solution.

Communications sector: Driven by both capacity upgrades and incremental deployments progressing in parallel, the number of 5G base stations in China increased from 0.7 million units in 2020 to 4.3 million units in 2024 at a CAGR of 56.0%, and is expected to reach 6.5 million units by 2029, with a CAGR of 8.2%.

Consumer electronics sector: From 2020 to 2024, China's major consumer electronics shipments experienced cyclical fluctuations followed by a gradual recovery. Total shipments rose from 535 million units in 2020 to 614.8 million units in 2021, primarily driven by surging demand for remote work and home entertainment during the pandemic, which boosted categories such as laptops, tablets, and televisions. In 2022, however, overall shipments declined to a cyclical low of approximately 516.8 million units, impacted by global inflationary pressures, economic uncertainty, and channel inventory adjustments. Beginning in 2024, with macroeconomic recovery and a rebound in end-user demand, the market stabilized and resumed growth, reaching 549.1 million units and is expected to reach 625.3 million units by 2029, with a CAGR of 2.5%.

Automotive sector: China's new energy vehicle (NEV) market has experienced explosive growth in recent years. The sales volume surged from 1.3 million units in 2020 to 12.8 million units in 2024. The penetration rate of new energy vehicles in China has rapidly increased from 5.4% in 2020 to 40.9% in 2024. With the continuous advancement of automotive electrification, it is expected that by 2029, the penetration rate will exceed 75% and the sales volume will reach a CAGR of 11.1% from 2024 to 2029.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Market Size of China's Analog Integrated Circuits, by Product Type

In 2020, the market size of China's analog IC market was RMB121.1 billion. By 2024, the China's market reached RMB195.3 billion. From a segmented market perspective, the power management ICs market has grown from RMB76.8 billion in 2020 to RMB124.6 billion in 2024, achieving a CAGR of 12.9%, driven by the escalating demand for high-efficiency solutions in development of new energy vehicles, smart devices and AI infrastructure. This segment is expected to maintain strong momentum, expanding to RMB223.4 billion by 2029 at a CAGR of 12.1% from 2025 to 2029. The slightly slower growth of signal chain ICs compared to power management ICs is primarily due to maturing demand in downstream sectors such as industrial applications, where signal chain ICs have traditionally held strong, while rapidly evolving fields like new energy vehicles continue to drive higher demand for power management ICs.

SENSOR MARKET OVERVIEW

Definition and Classification of Sensors

A sensor refers to a component that collects various signals from the physical world and outputs them to the backend system for further processing. Analog chips play a core role in sensors. They are required to perform processing such as amplification, filtering, and analog-to-digital conversion on the collected signals, so as to make the signals suitable for digital systems, thereby achieving the connection between the physical world and the digital world.

Sensors can be classified into two forms: chip-level sensors and module-level sensors. A chip-level sensor is a sensor that integrates functional elements and circuits onto a single chip, such as pressure sensors, magnetic sensors, temperature sensors, humidity sensors, optical sensors, acoustic sensors, etc. A module-level sensor is a module that integrates multiple chip-level sensors or other components together to form a unit with specific functions, such as camera, radar, LiDAR, etc.

A chip-level sensor can perceive, detect and respond to the external environment or the internal state change of the system. It can convert physical quantity, chemical quantity, biomass and other measured signals (e.g. temperature, pressure, light intensity, humidity, movement, etc.) into recognizable electrical signals or other forms of output signals (e.g. voltage, current, etc.), in order to measure, record, transmit, or control.

Composition of Sensors

The core components of a chip-level sensor include the sensing element, integrated circuit, and packaging structure. Among these, signal conditioning chip, a type of analog IC, processes the raw signals (such as microvolt-level voltages or resistance changes) from the sensing element and converts them into usable digital signals. In the case of magnetic sensors, the analog IC plays a pivotal role in achieving high precision and low power consumption. Through advanced integration and seamless collaboration between the analog IC and the sensing element, magnetic sensors have found widespread applications in automotive electronics, industrial automation, medical devices, consumer electronics, and many other fields.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The price increase of analog chips began at the end of 2020 and continued until mid-2022. The main reasons for the rising prices of various analog chips were (i) the increased demand from downstream markets, as well as (ii) disruptions to the supply chain caused by the pandemic. These factors affected the demand-supply stability of the industry, including by raising raw material and product transportation costs, led to a substantial rise in wafer prices, which was passed on to analog chip design companies and their downstream customers.

From 2022 to 2024, as the pandemic came under effective control, the global supply chain gradually recovered, and the semiconductor industry underwent a destocking process. To cope with increasingly fierce competition, especially the competitive pressure from local Chinese companies, overseas leading companies adopted low-price strategies to compete with Chinese companies in an effort to maintain market share. This led to sustained intense market competition and put pressure on domestic companies, who also lowered their selling prices in order to maintain customer base and market share, resulting in reduced gross margins and net profit margins for domestic companies.

The destocking process were driven jointly by analog IC manufacturers and their downstream customers, aiming to reduce excess inventory accumulated during the pandemic period. As global logistics normalized, the efficiency of raw material procurement and product transportation improved, alleviating previous cost pressures, reducing the need for high inventory levels. Overseas leading companies adopted low-price strategies to compete with local Chinese firms, prompting the entire industry to accelerate inventory clearance to maintain market share. Key downstream sectors included consumer electronics, automotive electronics, energy and industrial automation. These downstream customers had stockpiled chips due to supply chain disruptions in early 2021 -2022, leading to high inventory levels; starting in second half of 2022, as demand slowed, they proactively reduced inventory to optimize cash flow and lower inventory holding costs.

By 2024, inventories of analog chip manufacturers had dropped to a low point in the middle of 2024, prompting manufacturers to actively expand production. Throughout this period, market competition remained one of the core variables influencing price trends. Particularly from 2023 to 2024, competition between overseas and domestic manufacturers further intensified, not only in terms of pricing but also across multiple other aspects including channel expansion, technical support, and customer responsiveness. Although price competitions did indeed lower the market prices of some products in the short term, as competition deepened, companies began to realize that relying solely on price cuts was unsustainable to build long-term competitiveness. Consequently, more and more companies shifted their focus towards product innovation, niche market exploration, and enhancing customer service capabilities.

The average price of products from overseas manufacturers is consistent with the trend of changes in the average price of products from domestic manufacturers, and the prices of similar products from overseas manufacturers are usually about 20% higher than those from domestic manufacturers.

The potential for future overall analog chip product price increases is expected to largely depend on the introduction of new product categories—particularly those offering high performance, high integration, and high levels of customization. These higher-value-added and technically demanding products can help companies achieve differentiated competitive advantage while maintaining reasonable profit margins.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Looking ahead, analog chip industry prices are expected to stabilize or experience slow growth, supported by several key factors:

- Technology Innovation Enhancing Value: With sustained R&D investment by domestic analog chip companies, more products featuring proprietary intellectual property rights are entering the market. This has raised the overall technological sophistication and value of products, thereby supporting price increases.
- Diversified Customer Demand Driving Growth in High-End Products: Rapid development in downstream applications such as new energy vehicles and industrial automation has created substantial demand for high-performance analog chips. These products typically command strong pricing power due to their advanced functionalities and critical roles in downstream applications.
- Accelerated Domestic Substitution Shifting Bargaining Power: International trade and export control policy uncertainties have prompted downstream customers in China to prioritize supply chain security and thus increasingly prefer local suppliers. This trend has strengthened the negotiating position of domestic analog chip companies, contributing to a more favorable pricing environment for products offered by them.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Competitive Landscape of China Pressure Sensor Market

China's pressure sensor market has long been dominated by European and American companies. With ongoing technological advancements and expanding application scenarios, market competition has intensified, leading to a diversified and stratified landscape. Companies compete across dimensions such as accuracy, stability, cost, and response speed, driving the industry toward greater specialization and segmentation. In 2024, the total market size of China's pressure sensor sector reached RMB 64.3 billion, with the top five companies accounting for a combined market share of 40.7%. Among them, leading U.S. and European players such as Company Q¹ and Company R² hold a relatively strong position. However, as domestic manufacturers make continuous breakthroughs in precision control technologies for industrial and automotive-grade pressure sensors, the competitive landscape in China is expected to be reshaped.

Competitive Landscape of China Temperature & Humidity Sensor Market

China's temperature and humidity sensor market exhibits a certain degree of concentration. In 2024, the market size reached RMB 29.4 billion, with the top five companies accounting for 45.8% of the market share. While the market has not yet become highly consolidated, leading American and European companies such as Company R and Company A still maintain a relatively dominant position. Nevertheless, as Chinese manufacturers achieve innovation breakthroughs in high-precision measurement algorithms and accelerate their global expansion by establishing overseas distribution channels, the structure of China's temperature and humidity sensor market is also poised for transformation.

The company's business covers the global market. In 2024, the company generated USD 38.5 billion of revenue.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

From 2020 to 2024, the average price of pressure sensors in China showed a continuous downward trend. This was mainly driven by the acceleration of domestic substitution and expanded production capacity. As domestic production scaled up, manufacturing costs steadily declined. Meanwhile, strong bargaining power from customers in sectors like automotive and industrial automation further accelerated the price decline. In next few years, the growing demand for high-sensitivity, high-stability pressure sensors in new energy vehicles is expected to prompt leading companies to focus more on high-performance product segments and lift average prices through product mix optimization. Due to the large number of product types, diverse packaging forms, and varying precision requirements, the industry's average price exhibits a wide range. European and American manufacturers remain dominant in specialized high-pressure and high-temperature applications, with product prices generally 15%–25% higher than those of domestic suppliers.

Due to the increasing standardization and price transparency in China's temperature and humidity sensor market, industry prices gradually declined from 2020 to 2024. As large-scale applications in smart homes and other mass-consumption scenarios expanded, demand for low-cost, high-volume supply intensified. Temperature and humidity sensor integration trends further reduced the unit value of individual temperature and humidity sensors, heightening competition. By 2025, the average price of temperature and humidity sensors is expected to stabilize, as most manufacturers approach begin to adopt stable pricing strategies. Starting in 2026, the industry is expected to enter a phase of mild price recovery, with average prices gradually rising through 2029. Given the wide variety of applications and distinct product specifications, the price range remains broad. European and American manufacturers typically command an average premium of around 20% over domestic firms, leveraging their technological experience and reliability advantages.

Driven by the impact of the pandemic and upstream raw material shortages, the average selling price of magnetic sensors in China had temporary increase during 2020–2021. From 2022, as domestic manufacturers achieved greater technological maturity in Hall and AMR sensors, the pace of localization accelerated, leading to a decline in market average prices. In 2023, with the increasing standardization of Hall and AMR sensor technologies and diminishing product differentiation, market competition intensified, resulting in a continued downward trend in average prices. This trend persisted into 2024, with the industry average price continuing to decline. By 2025, the industry average of magnetic sensors is expected to further decrease, although the rate of decline is expected to slow down. Fluctuation in upstream rare earth material costs may lead to occasional price increases. Emerging industries such as new energy vehicles and humanoid robotics are creating strong demand for high-sensitivity magnetic angle sensors. These trends will lead to significant application structure optimization, forming a new, value-driven supply-demand pattern in the industry. Given the coexistence of multiple sensing principles—from Hall and AMR to TMR and GMR—the performance and cost structures vary widely, resulting in a highly differentiated pricing landscape. International players continue to lead in automotive electronics and precision industrial applications, with product prices generally 10%–20% higher than those of domestic competitors.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Cost of Analog IC and Sensor Product

8-inch silicon wafer constitute the primary cost item for analog chips and sensors. The prices of 8-inch silicon wafer rose from 2020 amid pandemic-driven demand and upstream constraints, peaking in 2022. Since then, prices have trended lower as input costs normalized and capacity additions intensified competition. Looking ahead, pricing is expected to stabilize around 2020 levels as supply–demand conditions rebalance.

Market Entry Barriers of Analog ICs and Sensors

- Technological Barriers

Analog ICs and sensors design demands a comprehensive and intricate consideration of a wide array of parameters, including power consumption, accuracy, and power supply voltage. This complexity makes it highly reliant on long-term accumulated experience. Talent reserves are also crucial. However, a large number of top-tier talents are concentrated in leading companies. These leading firms offer better pay, more advanced R&D facilities, and greater career development opportunities. As a result, new entrants face significant challenges in attracting and cultivating high-level teams, which severely restricts their technological innovation and product development capabilities.

- Investment Barriers

Analog ICs and sensors necessitate long-term and substantial R&D investment. With the continuous advancement of technology, the process difficulty escalates under advanced processes. Moreover, leading companies have formed significant scale advantages through years of accumulation. They can spread the high R&D costs over a large number of products. In contrast, new entrants not only need to invest heavily in R&D but also have to bear the risk of initial losses due to low market share and high costs, making it extremely difficult for them to break into the market.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

- Customer and Verification Barriers

End customers, particularly in the automotive and industrial fields, have extremely high requirements for components reliability. ICs and sensors used in cars, for example, must endure harsh environmental conditions like high temperatures, vibrations, and electromagnetic interference. This requires long-term and rigorous testing and verification. Leading companies have established strong customer and verification barriers through stable supply and excellent product reputation over the years. Customers in these industries are highly risk-averse and tend to choose partners with a proven track record of good historical performance. New entrants find it arduous to obtain orders quickly as they lack the necessary certification and customer recognition, which hinders their market penetration.

- Supply Chain Barriers

Analog ICs mainly adopt either the IDM or fabless model. For new entrants, establishing stable cooperation with wafer fabs is essential. However, the resources of leading foundries are limited. These foundries prioritize large-scale customers with long-term contracts. Small companies often struggle to secure production capacity. Sudden disruptions in the supply of raw materials or manufacturing capacity constraints can affect product delivery. Companies need to have a rapid response mechanism in place to deal with such uncertainties, which poses another challenge for new entrants in the Analog ICs market.

It also states that key technical shortcomings should be made up, the organizational methods such as "selecting the best candidates via open competition mechanism" should be optimized and innovated, focusing on breakthroughs in key core technologies in the fields of high-end chips, operating systems, industrial software, core algorithms and frameworks, and strengthening the integrated research and development of general-purpose processors, cloud computing systems, and key software technologies. In addition, the competitiveness of key links in the industrial chain should be improved, and the supply chain systems of key industries such as 5G, integrated circuits, new energy vehicles, artificial intelligence, and industrial Internet should be improved.

In May 2022, the State Taxation Administration issued the Guidance of Preferential Tax Policy for Software Enterprises and Integrated Circuit Enterprises. In order to facilitate timely understanding of the applicable tax incentives, the above guidelines specify the contents of the incentives, eligibility criteria and policy basis for integrated circuit enterprises. For example, enterprises engaged in integrated circuit design, equipment, materials, packaging and testing encouraged by the state are entitled to periodic reduced enterprise income tax; key integrated circuit design enterprises encouraged by the state are entitled to periodic reduced enterprise income tax; and employee training fees of enterprises engaged in integrated circuit design are deductible before tax according to the actual amount incurred.

FINAL RULE BY THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

On October 28, 2024, the U.S. Department of the Treasury (the “Department of Treasury”) issued the “Provisions Pertaining to U.S. Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern” (the “Final Rule”) to implement an outbound investment program that restricts investments by U.S. persons and U.S.-controlled entities imposed by Executive Order 14105, “Addressing United States Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern”. The Final Rule became effective on January 2, 2025.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW

Application Scope of the Final Rule

The Final Rule applies to investments by U.S. persons as to “covered transactions” involving “covered foreign person” associated with a “country of concern” in “covered activities.”

- “Covered activities” include activities in (1) semiconductors and microelectronics sectors, (2) quantum information technologies sectors and (3) artificial intelligence sectors that pertain to national security technologies and products.
- “Covered transactions” under the Final Rule include (1) acquisition of equity (including purchases of shares in an initial public offering) or contingent equity, (2) debt financing, (3) conversion of contingent equity interest, (4) greenfield and brownfield investments, (5) joint ventures, and (6) investments made as a limited partner.
- “Covered foreign person” means (1) a person of a country of concern who or who is engaged in activities involving one or more of the three sectors of semiconductors and microelectronics, quantum information technologies, and artificial intelligence, and (2) a person that directly or indirectly holds a board seat on, a voting or equity interest in, or any contractual power to direct the management or policies of a person of a country of concern.
- “Country of concern” for now is the People’s Republic of China, including Hong Kong and Macau.

Major Components of the Final Rule

Under the Final Rule, a “covered transaction” may be a “prohibited transaction” which is outright prohibited or a “notifiable transaction” which are subject to notification requirements. In addition, certain transactions that would have been considered prohibited or notifiable transactions may be exempted from the prohibition or notification requirements and may be considered an “excepted transaction” under the Final Rule if certain conditions are met. Details of the prohibited transactions, notifiable transactions and excepted transactions are set forth below.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW

Prohibited Transactions

Prohibited transactions refer to the prohibition on certain U.S. investments in a covered foreign person engaged in covered activities pertaining to specified categories of advanced technologies and products. A U.S. person may not engage in such transaction unless an exemption for that transaction has been granted. For instance, investments by U.S. persons in covered foreign persons engaged in the following activities in the semiconductor industry reach the threshold for “prohibited transactions” under the Final Rule:

- Developing or producing any electronic design automation software for the design of integrated circuits or advanced packaging;
- Developing or producing specified front-end semiconductor fabrication equipment, equipment for performing volume advanced packaging, or commodity, material, software, or technology designed exclusively for use in or with extreme ultraviolet lithography fabrication equipment;
- Designing integrated circuits that meet or exceed the performance parameters listed in ECCN 3A090.a (under the EAR), or integrated circuits for operation at or below 4.5 Kelvin;
- Fabricating certain advanced integrated circuits with specified parameters; or
- Packaging any integrated circuit using advanced packaging techniques.

Notifiable Transactions

Notifiable transactions refer to the transactions where the business activities conducted by a covered foreign person do not reach the threshold for prohibited transactions but still require notification by a U.S. person of their transactions to the Department of Treasury. For instance, transactions are notifiable if the covered foreign person in the semiconductor sector is engaged in the design, fabrication and packaging of ICs that do not meet the specific threshold mentioned above. A U.S. person shall file a notification of their covered transactions with the Department of Treasury.

Excepted Transactions

The Final Rule provided certain categories of excepted transactions from coverage, provided that such transactions did not afford the U.S. person certain rights beyond standard minority shareholder protection. Excepted transactions include (1) investments in publicly traded securities, (2) securities issued by investment companies, (3) certain limited partner or equivalent investments, (4) derivatives, (5) full buyouts from a person of a country of concern, (6) intracompany transactions, (7) certain syndicated debt financings, (8) equity-based compensation, and (9) certain transactions involving a person of a country or territory outside of the U.S. based on a determination by the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury.

Notably, under the Final Rule, the “publicly traded security” exception exempts the investments in publicly traded securities of covered foreign persons. However, any acquisition of an equity interest in a covered foreign person that is not yet publicly traded for the purpose of facilitating an initial public offering would not be an excepted transaction of the Final Rule.

MAJOR ACQUISITIONS, DISPOSALS AND MERGERS

Acquisition of MagnTek

MagnTek is a limited liability company established in the PRC on September 23, 2009, and is principally engaged in the R&D and sales of semiconductor integrated circuits and sensor chips based on magnetic semiconductor ICs. Immediately before the acquisition by our Company: (i) MagnTek was held as to 62.68% by QST Corporation Limited (上海矽睿科技股份有限公司) (“QST”), 17.56% by Shanghai Lairui Enterprise Management Partnership (Limited Partnership) (上海萊睿企業管理合夥企業(有限合夥)) (“Shanghai Lairui”) and 19.76% by Shanghai Liuci Enterprise Management Partnership (Limited Partnership)(上海留詞企業管理合夥企業(有限合夥)) (“Shanghai Liuci”); (ii) partnership interests of Shanghai Lairui were held by QST and 27 individuals; and (iii) the partnership interests of Shanghai Liuci were held by four individuals. To the best knowledge of our Directors, each of QST and the partners of Shanghai Lairui and Shanghai Liuci is an Independent Third Party.

HISTORY AND CORPORATE STRUCTURE

On June 21, 2024, our Company entered into a partnership interest transfer agreement (the “Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement”) with Mr. Zhu Jianyu, Mr. Jiang Jie, Mr. Fang Jun and Mr. Wei Shizhong, each of whom, as a seller, is a partner of Shanghai Lairui or Shanghai Liuci and an Independent Third Party. Pursuant to the Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement, our Company agreed to acquire 13.51% partnership interest in Shanghai Lairui from Zhu Jianyu and Jiang Jie, and 43.82% partnership interest in Shanghai Liuci from Mr. Fang Jun and Mr. Wei Shizhong. On October 14, 2024, a supplemental agreement to the Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement (the “Supplemental Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement”), was entered into by our Company, Suzhou Naxing and all partners of Shanghai Lairui and Shanghai Liuci including Mr. Zhu Jianyu, Mr. Jiang Jie, Mr. Fang Jun and Mr. Wei Shizhong, each of whom, as a seller, is an Independent Third Party. Pursuant to the Supplemental Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement, our Company and Suzhou Naxing acquired all the remaining partnership interests in Shanghai Lairui and Shanghai Liuci. The consideration of RMB95,153,533.17 due upon closing (the “Closing”) was fully settled on October 18, 2024 and an additional amount of RMB155,328,678.32 was paid as of April 2, 2025 following the Closing. A further aggregate amount of RMB66,696,232.40 shall be payable by us to the relevant sellers (the “Relevant Sellers”) in three installments due in December 2025, December 2026 and December 2027, respectively, subject to the terms and conditions of the post-closing arrangements set forth in the Supplemental Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement. The aforementioned terms and conditions include, among others, (i) one year has lapsed since all handover work set out in the Supplemental Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement is done, which is expected to be in December 2025; (ii) the Relevant Sellers have been employed with the Group since the date of the Supplemental Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement till the relevant due date of the installments and (iii) there has been no breach or violation of applicable laws, regulations, employment agreements or other internal policies of the Group bringing losses to the Group. The consideration paid and payable by us under the Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement and the Supplemental Partnership Interest Transfer Agreement were determined based on arm’s length negotiations among the parties and the total shareholders’ equity value of MagnTek as of December 31, 2023 as set out in the valuation report of MagnTek issued by an independent valuer dated June 11, 2024 (the “MagnTek Valuation Report”). The three installments are expected to be funded approximately 40% from our Company’s own funds and approximately 60% from long-term loans obtained from commercial banks, subject to minor adjustments in the proportions as may be necessary at the time of payment.

HISTORY AND CORPORATE STRUCTURE

On June 21, 2024, our Company entered into an equity transfer agreement with QST and Shanghai Lairui (the “Equity Transfer Agreement”), whereby our Company acquired 62.68% equity interest in MagnTek from QST and 5.60% equity interest in MagnTek from Shanghai Lairui. The consideration of RMB614,539,400.49 due upon closing was fully settled on October 18, 2024. Following the Closing, an additional amount of RMB68,282,155.62 shall be payable by us to the relevant sellers under the Equity Transfer Agreement (the “Relevant Equity Interest Sellers”) in December 2027 (the “Contingent Additional Amount”), subject to the terms and conditions of the post-closing arrangements set forth in the Equity Transfer Agreement, which include, among others, (i) the completion of relevant handover work including but not limited to the relevant business registration, handover of corporate governance matters and transfer of certain material intellectual properties; and (ii) the fulfillment of the financial performance commitments, which require MagnTek to record a minimum audited net profit of RMB39.1 million, RMB51.5 million and RMB75.7 million for the years 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively, as set out in the Equity Transfer Agreement. MagnTek recorded net profit of RMB58.4 million for the year 2024, and thus had fulfilled the financial performance commitments in 2024. The consideration paid and payable by us under the Equity Transfer Agreement was determined based on arm’s length negotiations among the parties and the total shareholders’ equity value of MagnTek as of December 31, 2023 as set out in the MagnTek Valuation Report. The Contingent Additional Amount is expected to be funded approximately 40% from our Company’s own funds and approximately 60% from long-term loans obtained from commercial banks, subject to minor adjustments in the proportions as may be necessary at the time of payment.

On October 18, 2024, we gained the control and consolidated the results of MagnTek. On the same date, our Company initiated the board restructuring of MagnTek, nominating new board members and certain senior management of MagnTek. Such nomination was approved by the shareholders of MagnTek on the same day, formally confirming our control over the composition of MagnTek’s board.

Considering MagnTek’s continuous advancement in research and development and growth of production technology in chips based on magneto-electric induction technology and intelligent motion control, our Company believes that the acquisition of MagnTek was in line with our expansion and development strategy in semiconductor integrated circuits businesses by enhancing our overall technical strength and product competitiveness, enriching the supply of our product categories, promoting the integration of our products, technologies, markets, customers and supply chain resources in the industry value chain, which would in turn enable our Group to benefit from the enhanced business synergy and improve cost efficiency.

HISTORY AND CORPORATE STRUCTURE

Following the completion of the acquisition, MagnTek contributed positively to our overall performance for 2024:

- The consolidation of MagnTek's operations resulted in an increase in revenue, accompanied by a corresponding increase in cost of sales, which was in line with the revenue contribution from MagnTek;
- MagnTek's gross profit margin in 2024 was higher than the Group's overall gross profit margin, which contributed to an improvement in the Group's overall gross profit margin for the year; and
- MagnTek's selling and marketing expenses, administrative expenses and R&D expenses, as a percentage of its revenue in 2024, were lower than the Group's corresponding expenses as a percentage of the total revenue. As a result, the consolidation of MagnTek's results had a positive impact on the Group's overall expense structure, contributing to improved operating efficiency.

Upon completion of the acquisition, MagnTek became a wholly-owned subsidiary of our Company. The acquisition of MagnTek during the Track Record Period constituted a material acquisition of subsidiary as one of the applicable percentage ratios under Rule 14.07 of the Listing Rules was more than 25% but less than 100%. According to Rule 4.05A of the Listing Rules, the acquisition of MagnTek would have been classified at the date of application for our Listing as a major transaction under Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules. For further details of the financial performance of MagnTek, please refer to the historical financial information of MagnTek set out in Appendix I to this prospectus.

As advised by our PRC Legal Advisor, the acquisition of equity interests of MagnTek has been properly and legally completed and settled and all necessary approvals from the relevant authorities have been obtained.

OUR A SHARE LISTING AND REASONS FOR THE H SHARE LISTING

In April 2022, our A Shares were listed on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange with the stock code of 688052. Our Directors confirm that, as of the Latest Practicable Date, there had been no instances of any material non-compliance with the applicable rules of the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange and other applicable PRC securities laws and regulations. To the best knowledge of our Directors, as of the Latest Practicable Date, there are no material matters in relation to our compliance record on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange that should be brought to the attention of the Stock Exchange or potential investors of the Global Offering. Our PRC Legal Advisor is of the view that, since our A Share listing and up to the Latest Practicable Date, there had been no instances of any material non-compliance with the applicable rules of the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange and other applicable PRC securities laws and regulations. Based on the independent due diligence conducted by the Joint Sponsors and considering our PRC Legal Advisor's view above, no material matter has come to the Joint Sponsors' attention that would cause them to disagree with our Directors' confirmation with regard to the compliance record of our Company on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange.

HISTORY AND CORPORATE STRUCTURE

We seek to list our H Shares on the Stock Exchange to raise additional capital for business growth and expansion, diversify our fundraising channels, reinforce our industry standing, enhance global brand awareness and competitiveness and optimize our capital structure and shareholder composition to support sustainable development and governance. See “Business – Our Strategies” and “Future Plans and Use of Proceeds” in this prospectus for more details.

PUBLIC FLOAT

Rules 19A.13A(2) of the Listing Rules require that there must be an open market in the securities for which listing is sought. Where a new applicant is a PRC issuer with other listed shares at the time of listing, this will normally mean that the portion of H shares for which listing is sought that are held by the public, at the time of listing, must: (a) represent at least 10% of the issuer’s total number of issued shares in the class to which H shares belong (excluding treasury shares); or (b) have an expected market value of not less than HK$3,000,000,000.

So far as our Directors are aware, all 19,068,400 H Shares to be issued pursuant to the Global Offering, representing approximately 11.81% of our total issued share capital immediately upon Listing (assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and excluding the treasury Shares), will be counted towards the public float for the purpose of Rule 19A.13A of the Listing Rules at the time of the Listing, which is higher than the prescribed percentage of H Shares required to be held in public hands of 10% under Rule 19A.13A(2)(a) of the Listing Rules. Accordingly, at the time of Listing, we will be able to satisfy and maintain a sufficient public float as required under Rule 19A.13A(2) of the Listing Rules where at least 10% of our Company’s total number of issued shares (excluding treasury Shares) will be held by the public.

FREE FLOAT

Under Rule 19A.13C(2) of the Listing Rules, a PRC issuer with other listed shares at the time of listing must ensure that the portion of H shares for which listing is sought that are held by the public and that are not subject to any disposal restrictions (whether under contract, the Listing Rules, applicable laws or otherwise) at the time of listing (a) represent at least 5% of the total number of issued shares in the class to which H shares belong at the time of listing (excluding treasury shares), with an expected market value at the time of listing of not less than HK$50,000,000, or (b) have an expected market capitalization of not less than HK$600,000,000.

Our Company has proposed to adopt mechanism B under Chapter 4.14 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants. Accordingly, 10% of the initial Offer Shares shall be allocated to the public subscription tranche, and at least 40% of the Offer Shares shall be allocated to the placing tranche (other than cornerstone investors) according to paragraph 3.2 of Practice Note 18 to the Listing Rules. Each of the cornerstone investors will agree with the 6-month lock up period, as such the cornerstone investors shall not be counted towards the free float for the purpose of Rule 19A.13C(2) of the Listing Rules at the time of the Listing. Therefore, at least 50% of the Offer Shares will not be subject to lock-up at the time of the Listing. Taking into account of the total number of Offer Shares which will not be subject to lock-up at the time of the Listing with expected market capitalization calculated based on the maximum Offer Price of HK$116.00 per H Share, which is higher than the prescribed percentage of free float of at least 5% and expected market capitalization of not less than HK$50,000,000 under Rule 19A.13C(2)(a), our Company will thereby satisfy the free float requirement under Rule 19A.13C(2)(a) of the Listing Rules at the time of Listing.

- (1) including 155,905 thousand units sold through MagnTek since the completion of its acquisition by us in October 2024.

During the Track Record Period, we achieved overall increase in our sales volume, primarily resulting from our continuous launch of new product types as well as the increasing demands from our end customers. In 2023, our sales volume of power management chips slightly decreased as compared with that in 2022, primarily because customers in the energy and industrial automation sector, especially the PV industry, experienced an inventory adjustment phase, when the PV industry was undergoing challenges including market imbalances due to significantly increased production supply, relatively weakened demand and the phasing out of outdated technologies. As a result, our end customers in the PV industry focused on the de-stocking of their existing inventories, which resulted in reduced demand for our products in 2023.

Automotive Electronics

The increasing trend towards electrification and intelligence of vehicles are driving growth in the automotive-grade semiconductor market. Automotive-grade ICs are distinct from typical analog ICs due to the significantly more stringent requirements for reliability, longevity and performance demanded by automotive applications. They are engineered to operate smoothly over extended lifespans than typical analog ICs and across harsh environmental conditions than the ordinary use scenarios, including extreme temperatures, vibration and humidity. A critical industry standard for automotive-grade ICs is AEC-Q100, a failure-mechanism-based stress test that ensures the ICs meet rigorous reliability benchmarks. Furthermore, many automotive-grade ICs incorporate functional safety features, such as built-in diagnostics and redundancy, which are essential for safety-critical systems and represent a higher level of design complexity. Energy and industrial automation refers to industrial applications in relation to an energy system, covering all stages from power generation, transmission and distribution to end-use electricity consumption. Our products play critical roles in energy and industrial automation sectors, addressing the increasing demand for efficiency, reliability and integration in these fields. As these industries undergo significant technological advancements, our products are designed to meet the evolving needs of end customers and contribute to the development of energy-efficient and high-performance systems.

Energy

In the energy sector, we focus on supporting (i) the transition to sustainable energy solutions, with a particular emphasis on PV applications, and (ii) power supply for systems such as 5G telecom infrastructure and data centers.

- As electronic systems in the energy sector become increasingly complex, market demand is shifting from discrete component to integrated functions. According to Frost & Sullivan, a key trend in the analog IC industry is the functional integration, which involves consolidating various analog design components into a single chip to improve performance, reduce costs and accelerate product development cycles. We have embraced this trend and continue to collaborate closely with leading PV industry players to deliver reliable and integrated solutions tailored to their needs. Our product portfolio includes those used for PV inverters, energy storage converters, PV arrays/optimizers and energy storage BMS.
- Our isolated driver chips are used in DC-DC power supplies within systems such as 5G communication systems and data centers to enhance power supply performance. These chips improve resistance to lightning strikes and power surges, enhancing the system's overall stability and interference immunity while ensuring timely sampling and protection. Additionally, in AC-DC power supplies for data centers and AI servers, our isolated driver chips improve power supply performance and contribute to higher power efficiency.

Industrial

In the industrial sector, our digital isolators are widely used in industrial control systems, where, due to their smaller size, higher integration, lower power consumption and faster communication speeds, they are gradually replacing traditional opto-isolators, according to Frost & Sullivan. These characteristics make digital isolators a core component in high-voltage safety applications within industrial control systems.

We have extensive experience in ensuring that our products meet the reliability demands of high-voltage operating environments. We have developed a robust high-voltage testing system, including a partial discharge testing system, which has been widely recognized by domestic and international safety certification organizations. This ensures that our digital isolators maintain their reliability under real-world conditions, enhancing their suitability for demanding industrial applications.

One of our recent inductive encoder models has been designed as a solution that may be used for joint movement in humanoid robots. This model utilizes a triple-layer inductive design with dual-sided signal collection, improving measurement accuracy while addressing limitations of traditional single-sided signal collection designs. These features make it a suitable solution that may be used for joint movement in humanoid robots.

Our sensor products, motor driver chips, real-time control chips and power supply chips may be used to achieve functions such as precise sensing, motion control and efficient power delivery. These functions may be used on humanoid robots. The diagram below sets forth an illustration of how our products may be applied in humanoid robots:

OUR BUSINESS MODEL

Our Fabless Model

We operate with the fabless model, focusing on the R&D and design of ICs while outsourcing wafer fabrication to external foundries and most packaging and testing to third-party packaging and testing service providers. According to Frost & Sullivan, the fabless business model is consistent with the increasing trend of specialized division of labor within the semiconductor industry.

The following diagram illustrates our fabless business model:

We have developed our own wafer manufacturing process platforms tailored to application sectors, which allows us to collaborate with our foundry partners to achieve customization and cost efficiency in wafer manufacturing without owning fabrication plants. We outsource chip packaging and testing to packaging and testing suppliers, or to a much lesser extent, at our own factory.

Our Chip Packaging and Testing Capabilities

We partner with trusted third-party packaging and testing suppliers for a substantial majority of product packaging and testing. We also conduct a small portion of chip packaging and testing at our own factory in Suzhou, China, which is managed by Suzhou Nashwey Semiconductor Co., Ltd., our subsidiary. In the six months ended June 30, 2025, in terms of quantity, the packaging and testing of our products conducted by this factory accounted for approximately 7% of total packaging and testing conducted for our products. Although the packaging and testing conducted at our own factory during the Track Record Period was not significant, our in-house chip packaging and testing capabilities enable product customization, particularly for certain product models such as some pressure sensor product models, which are customized and where specialized packaging can be critical to product performance. This approach also helps us safeguard proprietary technologies, reducing reliance on external providers for sensitive processes and reinforcing our competitive edge in high-reliability applications. It also allows us to enhance quality control and improve cost efficiency. By internalizing key packaging and testing processes, we gain greater flexibility in production planning, ensuring faster response times to customer demands and market changes.

As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had 251 granted patents, including 160 invention related patents in China and overseas. As of the same date, we had 193 integrated circuit layout design registrations, 28 copyrights, 56 registered trademarks, and three domain names in China and overseas. For our portfolio of material intellectual property rights for our core technologies of which we are the registered owner as of the Latest Practicable Date, please see “Appendix VI – Statutory and General Information – B. Further Information about our Business – 2. Our Intellectual Property Rights.”

We rely primarily on a combination of patents, copyrights, trademarks, trade secret and unfair competition laws and contractual rights, such as confidentiality agreement, to protect our intellectual property rights. We have established comprehensive internal policies, covering the acquisition, maintenance, implementation, licensing, and transfer of intellectual property, as well as research on intellectual property information. Our R&D staff conducts searches and analyses of R&D outcomes upon project completion.

BUSINESS

To protect technical secrets and prevent unauthorized disclosures, we enforce strict confidentiality measures. We clearly state all rights and obligations regarding the ownership and protection of intellectual properties in all employment agreements and commercial agreements we enter into. In addition, we also seek to preserve the integrity and confidentiality of our data and trade secrets by maintaining physical security of our premises and physical and electronic security of our information technology systems, including the intellectual property information management systems.

We regularly monitor the market for potential unauthorized use or infringement of our patents, trademarks, copyrights and trade secrets. Based on our analysis of any such activities, we may enforce our rights and take appropriate action as we deem necessary, which may include issuing cease-and-desist letters, pursuing litigation or seeking other available legal remedies.

We acquire patents through self-development. As of the Latest Practicable Date, we owned all of our patents as well as patent applications. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we did not experience any threatened or pending disputes relating to infringement of intellectual property rights which would have a material adverse effect on our business.

SALES AND MARKETING

During the Track Record Period, our products were sold in China as well as overseas countries and regions such as Japan and South Korea. As we gradually expanded overseas, our revenue from sales to customers outside mainland China amounted to RMB169.5 million, RMB161.9 million, RMB305.4 million, RMB130.8 million and RMB170.4 million in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively, accounting for 10.1%, 12.3%, 15.6%, 15.4% and 11.2% of our total revenue for the respective years/periods.

Our Sales Network

Our products are sold through both direct sales and distribution. During the Track Record Period, a majority of our revenue was generated from our distributors. The table below sets forth a breakdown of revenue contribution by sales channels for the periods indicated.

Our Distribution Channels

According to Frost & Sullivan, engagement of distributors for the sales of products are in line with the industry norm in the analog IC industry. With expertise in IC sales marketing, our distributors help us expand sales channels, enhance market penetration, and provide timely market insights. The distribution model streamlines our operations, strengthens customer relationships across various industries, and improves our financial flexibility. By utilizing distributor resources, we can focus on R&D and design for our products, further optimizing our technological capabilities.

The relationships between distributors and us are categorized as seller-buyer relationships – they buy our products from us and then resell the products to end customers. Our distributors maintain a “buy-out” model with us. Distributors are not allowed to sub-distribute without our prior consent. To the best of our knowledge, we do not have any sub-distributor during the Track Record Period. Historical sales generated by these distributors were generally recurring in nature except in cases where we discontinued our business relationships with certain distributors as detailed below.

As of June 30, 2025, we had 161 distributors. The following table sets forth the movement in the number of our distributors during the periods indicated.

	Year ended 31 December			Six months ended
	2022	2023	2024	June 30, 2025
Distributors at the beginning of year/period	58	87	102	149
Addition of new distributors	30	18	59 ⁽¹⁾	15
Termination of existing distributors	1	3	12	3
Distributors at the end of year/period	87	102	149	161

Note:

(1) including net increase of 46 distributors as a result of our acquisition of MagnTek

BUSINESS

We engaged 30, 18, 59 and 15 new distributors in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. The larger number of additional distributors in 2024 was primarily attributable to our acquisition of MagnTek. We engaged new distributors to help us expand our professional channels and build up a quality distribution network, and to replace the distributors that were terminated. We discontinued our partnership with one, three, 12 and three distributors in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively primarily due to alternation of their own business plans, expiration of distributorship agreements as well as our optimization of distributorship network based on our evaluation of our distributors' performances. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we did not have any material disputes or lawsuits with these departing distributors.

To the best of our knowledge, during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, all of our distributors were Independent Third Parties. To the best of our knowledge, besides the ordinary course distribution arrangement with us, there is no other relationship between the distributors and each of our Company, our subsidiaries, our Shareholders who own 5% or more of the total issued Shares, Directors or senior management or any of their respective associates.

The prices at which our distributors sell our products to the end customers are typically determined by themselves by taking into consideration the gross profit margins they deem reasonable.

Principal Contractual Terms with Distributors

During the Track Record Period, we generally enter into distribution agreements with each of our distributors. The key terms of our distribution agreements included the following:

- Term. The term of the distribution agreement is typically two years and shall be automatically renewed for an additional period of one year thereafter, unless either party gives prior written notice of non-renewal.
- Purchase. The purchase amount is specified in purchase orders. We do not impose sales targets on our distributors.
- Selling Price and Credit Terms. We generally negotiate selling prices with our distributors based on our internal pricing and market conditions. We normally grant a credit term of 30 days to distributors and may grant longer credit terms on a case-by-case basis.
- Authorized downstream industries. We typically specify the downstream industry in which a particular distributor is authorized to sell our products. This ensures an organized and balanced coverage of end customers in various industries by our distribution network.
- Product Return or Exchange. We may negotiate for product exchange for defective products but we shall not be liable for the risk of loss or damage during the distributor's handling. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, product returns and exchanges by distributors were insignificant. According to Frost & Sullivan, our product return and exchange policy with our distributors is in line with the industry norm.

Robust Management of Distributors

Our distributor management covers criteria for selection, pricing mechanisms, logistics, return and exchange policies, and inventory management systems.

- Selection criteria. We select distributors with an established sales network, strong customer relationships, and demonstrated capabilities in market management and sales operations. We also consider factors including corporate governance, business reputation and financial stability.
- Anti-cannibalization management. We have implemented measures to manage competition among our distributors and mitigate potential cannibalization. Distributors are required to input all their customer information and place orders through our centralized CRM system. This system ensures clarity in order management, reduces conflicts among distributors, and protects the interests of our distribution network. Distributors are not permitted to market or sell our products to end customers that not reported in our CRM system without our prior approval, which helps reduce cannibalization risks. Additionally, we monitor the downstream industries in which the distributor is authorized to sell our products.
- Sales and inventory management. Under our buy-out model with distributors, we do not directly manage distributor inventory. Distributors are required to provide monthly sales forecasts and we regularly inquire their purchase and sales information. We conduct POS audits quarterly on a random basis to request selected distributors to submit invoices issued to their end customers. We hold quarterly operational meetings to monitor their sales performance and customer development. Under the circumstances where we identify any distributor having high inventory levels, we actively work with the relevant distributor to formulate inventory optimization plans. In addition, we do not allow product returns by distributors except due to product defects. Based on the above, we believe the channel stuffing risks are remote.

Our Direct Sales

To a lesser extent, we sell our products through our direct sales team. Through direct sales, we can understand customers' technology and business development plan firsthand, and engage in deep collaboration with customers in strategy, technological roadmap and product development. Such proximity with our customers allows us to sell our products effectively and efficiently.

BUSINESS

Pricing

We price our products considering a variety of factors, including costs, gross margin and market conditions. We adjust the final pricing based on the specific client on a case-by-case basis.

Due to our diversified product portfolio and the large number of product models, the prices of different products may vary significantly. The table below sets forth the average selling price of our main products during the Track Record Period.

	Year ended December 31,			Six months ended June 30,
	2022	2023	2024	2024	2025
	RMB/unit	RMB/unit	RMB/unit	RMB/unit	RMB/unit
Sensor Products	2.09	2.63	0.94	1.60	0.66
Signal Chain Chips	0.92	0.43	0.43	0.46	0.50
Power Management Chips	2.16	1.88	1.57	1.62	1.47

During the Track Record Period, primary reasons for the fluctuations of the average selling prices of our products include:

- Sensor products: Our sensor products consist of three main sub-categories, namely magnetic sensor products, temperature and humidity sensor products and pressure sensor products. In 2022 and 2023, the price of our temperature and humidity sensor products was typically substantially lower than that of our magnetic sensor products and pressure sensor products. As a result, any increase in sales of our temperature and humidity sensors relative to the other two sub-categories would result in decline in the overall average selling price of our sensor products, and vice versa. For instance, the average selling prices of our sensor products increased from RMB2.09/unit in 2022 to RMB2.63/unit in 2023, primarily because more magnetic sensor products and pressure sensor products were sold relative to temperature and humidity sensor products. The average selling price of our sensor products decreased from RMB2.63/unit in 2023 to RMB0.94/unit in 2024 and further to RMB0.66/unit in the first six months ended June 30, 2025 primarily due to the relatively lower prices and large sales volume of magnetic sensor products sold through MagnTek.
- Signal chain chips and power management chips: we experienced an overall decline in the average selling price of our signal chain chips and power management chips primarily due to the intensified market competition. See “– Challenges to Our Industry and Business” for more details. In addition, we experienced an increase in the sales volume of products with relatively lower prices, such as gate drivers and isolators, as a result of enhanced market demand from automotive electronics sector as well as the recovery of market demand from energy and industry automation sector since 2023.

BUSINESS

Our signal chain product category encompasses a wide range of products with a significant variation in selling prices. According to Frost & Sullivan, the average selling prices of our major signal chain product lines in terms of revenue contribution, such as our digital isolators, isolated sampling and isolated interface products, were within the typical industry range during the Track Record Period. However, the overall average selling price for the signal chain product category as a whole is substantially influenced by our product mix in any given period. For instance, certain product lines that are sold in very high volumes at lower prices have the effect of lowering the overall average selling price for the signal chain product category.

Backlog

The table below sets forth the movement of backlog value of our main products during the Track Record Period.

PROCUREMENT AND SUPPLIERS

Raw Materials and Procurement

We operate with a fabless model and outsource wafer manufacturing and most of chip packaging and testing to our suppliers. During the Track Record Period, we primarily procured (i) foundry-manufactured wafers from mainland China, and (ii) chip packaging and testing services from mainland China.

Our procurement team is primarily responsible for formulating procurement plans based on the anticipated sales, the manufacturing lead time, inventory levels and production schedules. Pursuant to the procurement plans, our procurement team places purchase orders to our foundry suppliers. The foundry suppliers then manufacture wafers with our designed ICs and deliver the products to our warehouses. We arrange subsequent chip packaging and testing with our packaging and testing partners. Upon completion, our packaging and testing partners deliver the finished products to us for sale.

Our Suppliers

During the Track Record Period, our suppliers primarily consisted of (i) foundries, and (ii) companies that provide chip packaging and testing services. We had 13 foundry suppliers and 19 packaging and testing suppliers as of the Latest Practicable Date.

Supplier Selection and Management

We typically engage reputable suppliers to ensure the quality of our products. We consider a comprehensive set of factors when selecting suppliers, which mainly include technological expertise, product quality, responsiveness and delivery speed. In addition, we also implement measures to continuously monitor the final product quality. See “Quality Control – Product Quality and Safety” for further details.

We generally enter into framework agreements with our suppliers, which set forth the general terms and conditions of purchase.

- Term and Termination. The framework agreement normally has a term ranging from one to five years, which are subject to automatic renewal unless terminated.
- Material Costs. For chip packaging and testing suppliers, we will pay for the chip packaging and testing materials if the products are inspected and accepted by us. For wafer manufacturers, we do not provide or pay for any raw materials.
- Price. The framework agreements generally do not specify quantity and price, which we set out in separate purchase orders.
- Principal Obligations. Suppliers are responsible for timely delivery and quality assurance of products or services. Our suppliers must meet our specified quality requirements and are responsible for defects resulting from suppliers’ conduct.
- Product Warranty and Return. Our suppliers generally provide a warranty period of one year. For defective products, our suppliers will arrange for product return at their costs.
- Confidentiality and IP Protection. Our suppliers are obligated to keep all technical documents, design specifications, and proprietary information strictly confidential, and to use such information solely for fulfilling their contractual obligations. Unauthorized use, disclosure, or reverse engineering of our intellectual property is expressly prohibited.

Supplier Concentration

Overview of Relationship with Major Suppliers

During the Track Record Period, we primarily procured foundry-manufactured wafers from Supplier A, and chip testing and packaging services from Supplier B. Supplier A is a semiconductor manufacturer based in Shanghai, China. We started business collaboration with Supplier A in 2013. Supplier B is a company headquartered in Hong Kong and it has several chip testing and packaging service subsidiaries based in China. We started business collaboration with Supplier B in 2016. According to Frost & Sullivan, it is in line with industry practice for chip design companies to rely on a limited number of foundry partners and chip testing and packaging suppliers to ensure consistently quality products and centralized management of manufacturing demands.

BUSINESS

In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, our purchases from Supplier A were RMB464.6 million, RMB393.3 million, RMB299.4 million and RMB369.0 million, respectively, representing 40.1%, 39.9%, 25.8% and 34.4%, respectively, of our total purchases for the same periods. Our purchases from Supplier B were RMB395.1 million, RMB276.7 million, RMB379.3 million and RMB280.5 million, respectively, representing 34.1%, 28.1%, 32.8% and 26.0%, respectively, of our total purchases for the same periods. For 2024, our procurement from Supplier A decreased as we focused on consuming the existing wafer inventories and thus reduced procurement from Supplier A; as a result, Supplier B, a packaging and testing service supplier, surpassed Supplier A to become our largest supplier in 2024. As our procurement from Supplier A returned to the level in response to our needs, Supplier A became the largest supplier for the six months ended June 30, 2025. As we source a significant portion of foundry-manufactured wafers and chip testing and packaging services from Supplier A and Supplier B, if our relationship with either Supplier A or Supplier B is terminated, interrupted, or modified in any way adverse to us, there may be material interruptions to our operations and business. See “Risk Factors – Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry – We are exposed to concentration risk of reliance on our major suppliers.”

We have expanded and globalized our procurement network to include more wafer manufacturers and chip testing and packaging companies, and strengthening our collaborative relationships with existing suppliers. We understand there are additional alternative suppliers with the technical knowledge to produce products as currently supplied by Supplier A and Supplier B. According to Frost & Sullivan, there are approximately over 20 wafer foundry alternative suppliers and over 50 packaging and testing alternative suppliers with comparable prices, product quality and specifications to achieve similar functions and comparable delivery time under reasonable commercial terms. As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had 13 foundry suppliers and 19 packaging and testing suppliers. Our Directors are of the view that our relationship with Supplier A and Supplier B is unlikely to materially adversely change or terminate, because (i) we have maintained a long-term and stable collaboration relationship with Supplier A and Supplier B, and (ii) during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we did not have any disputes with Supplier A or Supplier B.

Meanwhile, we have collaborated closely with major chip packaging and testing partners and developed mature and stable packaging and testing processes. To enhance efficiency and quality control, we have invested in testing equipment, which is utilized by select testing partners only for the testing of our products, securing production capacity for us. According to Frost & Sullivan, such investment is consistent with industry norm. We expect to maintain or increase such investment, which we believe, although leading to short-term capital expenditure, would help us optimize our long-term cost associated with testing by maintaining close collaboration with our testing partners and offering stable supply of testing capacity for our needs. Besides, we have established our in-house packaging and testing factory mitigating the impact of potential industry-wide capacity fluctuations on the output and delivery cycles on certain of our products.

Key Terms of Agreements with Major Suppliers

Salient terms of our agreements with Supplier A and Supplier B typically include:

- Term. The term of our agreements are typically more than three years.
- Pricing. The framework agreements generally do not specify quantity and price, which we set out in separate purchase orders.
- Payment. We are required to make payment within 30 days upon invoice.
- Product Warranty. The manufactured products must meet the specifications as mutually agreed, and the product warranty period is typically one year.

QUALITY CONTROL

Product Quality and Safety

We have established a rigorous and well-structured quality management system that integrates industry-leading standards and best practices to ensure product reliability and customer satisfaction. Our overall quality framework is built upon ISO 9001. In addition, we adhere to specialized certifications such as ISO 26262 for functional safety, ISO/IEC 17025 for laboratory accreditation, and ISO 14001 for environmental management, reinforcing our commitment to safety, precision, and sustainability. Our quality management system has successfully passed audits by multiple OEMs and Tier 1 companies in the automotive industry, and we have obtained AEC-Q100 qualification for our automotive-grade products, demonstrating our commitment to meeting the stringent requirements of automotive-grade products. In 2023, we became a member of the Automotive Electronics Council and joined its Component Technical Committee.

From product design to production, quality is embedded throughout our entire product lifecycle. We employ rigorous validation and verification processes to ensure reliability and compliance with industry standards, with all R&D workflows and project documentation managed through an IT-backed system for consistency and traceability. We actively promote quality awareness through comprehensive training programs on quality systems and tools, and KPI-driven assessments. Our continuous improvement initiatives encourage proactive participation, rewarding teams for contributions to process optimization and innovation.

In addition, we work closely with customers to ensure compliance with their specific product development, manufacturing, and shipping requirements while conducting thorough contract reviews to align expectations. Our customer feedback mechanisms allow us to promptly address concerns and drive continuous improvement.

Product Returns and Warranty

Our products do not have explicit warranty due to their nature. Within the term of the agreement with our customers, we actively provide services with respect to any product quality issue. We maintain cordial communication with our customers after sales and proactively work with them to resolve any quality issues.

We typically do not allow customers to return or exchange products except for defective products due to our faults. In isolated cases, we may coordinate product exchanges for customers to accommodate their adjustments in product designs, product processes and product promotion and marketing arrangements. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, (i) we had not received any material complaints relating to product quality; and (ii) we had not experienced any product recalls or accidents due to product defects.

LOGISTICS AND INVENTORY

Logistics

We engage qualified third-party logistics service providers for the delivery of all finished goods from our warehouse to locations specified by our customers. We set strict standards for the transportation of our products and conduct regular evaluations to ensure compliance and efficient delivery. As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had not experienced any significant delay or inappropriate handling of goods that materially and adversely affected our business operations.

Inventory Management

Our inventories include raw materials, work in progress, finished goods, goods in transit and goods delivered to customers. We attach great importance to our inventory health, assigning dedicated staff to provide management with regular reports on the status of inventory. To ensure effective inventory management, we implement various policies, including the first-in, first-out method, maintaining safety stock to address demand fluctuations or supply delays, and tracking inventory flow through our warehouse management system. We take inventory level into consideration when formulating procurement plans. We adhere strictly to our warehouse management policy to implement daily inventory operations. In the course of business operations, we conduct monthly inventory checks to ensure the safety and integrity of inventories. Additionally, we utilize a report-based system that features an early-warning mechanism for aging materials, allowing us to prioritize the consumption of elder inventories. In 2025, we have established a dedicated team responsible for the oversight of inventory management. This team holds regular meetings and implements targeted actions to reduce long-aged inventories and optimize inventory turnover.

BUSINESS

A primary focus of our enhanced inventory strategy is the continuous improvement of our demand forecast accuracy. By more precisely aligning our supply and production planning with anticipated customer demand, we aim to minimize the risk of accumulating excess or obsolete inventory arising from supply-demand mismatches. This effort is supported by our Enterprise Supply Planning (“ESP”) system, which serves as an integrated supply planning system and automates critical planning processes, including demand-supply matching and production capacity planning, to improve inventory turnover. Please see “– Challenges to our Industry and Business – Path to Profitability – Enhancing Operating Efficiency – Enhancing Administrative Efficiency” for details.

Through these measures, we seek to strengthen our dynamic inventory management, maintain reasonable inventory levels and reduce inventory costs.

INFORMATION SECURITY AND DATA PRIVACY

In the course of our business operations, we collect, store and process internal data primarily related to finance, operations, R&D and transaction data with business partners. Such data is mostly processed and managed through digital IT systems except a small portion of data that is stored on local computers or in the form of physical documents. Given that we only make transactions with enterprises, our business generally does not involve the collection or processing of customers’ personal information.

All of our IT servers are housed in our own data center with controlled access and automated environmental monitoring. Access to systems is managed through a centralized IAM (identity and access management) platform that governs user authentication and authorization based on their roles and is subject to internal audit reviews. Employees are required to sign confidentiality agreements upon joining and receive training on data protection protocols, with access rights deactivated upon departure. For document management, we have established a classified document platform where documents are categorized into four levels, namely internal, confidential, highly confidential, and top secret, with access strictly restricted according to classification, and declassification requiring director-level approval. Locally stored files are encrypted with security classifications, and decryption of high-level documents also requires elevated approval. Physical records of sensitive data are kept in secure, access-controlled archives.

To reinforce our data security and protection measures, we have implemented a comprehensive approach that includes stringent data encryption, secure data storage protocols, and strict transmission policies to ensure the confidentiality and integrity of sensitive information. Moreover, we implemented a robust information backup management system, which sets forth the guiding principles, detailed procedures and mechanisms for data recovery. In addition, we formulated a scheme on information security management to set out the general guidance and principles of our information security management, under which we established a series of policies and procedures, including among others, policies on system operation management, password management and corporate trade secret protection and procedures on document control and confidentiality management. These systems, policies and procedures collectively form a solid framework that safeguards our data and upholds our stringent standards for information security.

BUSINESS

During the Track Record Period, we did not engage in any cross-border data transmissions. In the course of our business operations, we may share our own business-related data with third parties strictly on a need-to-know basis, in accordance with applicable laws and relevant contractual arrangements. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, as advised by our PRC Legal Advisor, we had not been subject to any material claim or penalty or accident in relation to data privacy and security, and we had been in compliance with the relevant PRC Data privacy and protection laws and regulations in all material aspects.

INTRA-GROUP TRANSACTIONS

We operate through subsidiaries in several jurisdictions, including Mainland China, Hong Kong, Germany and Japan. In the ordinary course of our business, we engage in various intra-group transactions to facilitate our operations. These transactions primarily consist of (i) the sale of finished products and procurement of materials between our group entities, and (ii) the provision of intra-group services, such as R&D and market support. Our transfer pricing policies are designed to comply with the arm's-length principle as set forth in the transfer pricing guidelines for multinational enterprises and tax administrations (the “OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines”) promulgated by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (the “OECD”), an international organization of international cooperation, and the applicable laws and regulations in the jurisdictions where we operate.

We have engaged an independent professional tax advisor (the “Transfer Pricing Consultant”) to review our intra-group transactions during the Track Record Period. In its assessment, the Transfer Pricing Consultant adopted the transactional net margin method, which is a commonly accepted method for evaluating the profitability of fabless semiconductor companies. To assess the profitability of the intra-group transactions, the full cost mark-up was selected as the profit level indicator. For our subsidiaries providing sales support or contract R&D services, other appropriate profit level indicators, such as the operating margin, were applied.

The Transfer Pricing Consultant conducted a benchmarking study by selecting comparable independent companies to establish arm's-length profit ranges. Based on this analysis, the Transfer Pricing Consultant concluded that the profits earned by each of our relevant group entities for their functions performed were consistent with the arm's-length principle in all material respects.

Based on the foregoing, our Directors, as advised by the Transfer Pricing Consultant, are of the view that our transfer pricing arrangements are in compliance with applicable laws and regulations in all material respects, and the risk of our Group being subject to a material adverse transfer pricing adjustment by tax authorities is relatively low. In addition, during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we were not aware of any inquiry, audit, investigation or challenge by any relevant tax authorities in any jurisdiction in relation to our intra-group transactions.

COMPETITION

The analog IC industry is characterized by its extensive applications and diverse product portfolio, resulting in a competitive landscape with numerous market players. We compete primarily on product quality, our ability to meet end customers' demands, industry experience, brand and reputation.

We believe the analog IC market presents high entry barriers for competitors, including technological expertise, first-mover advantages, an extensive product portfolio, strong customer recognition, and established collaborations with foundries. We remain focused on leveraging our innovation capability, customer-centric solutions, and operational efficiency to maintain and enhance our position in the market.

CHALLENGES TO OUR INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS

Industry Background

According to Frost & Sullivan, the analog IC industry remains dominated by leading international companies as a result of their longer industry experiences, extensive product portfolios and economies of scale. These international companies exert considerable competitive pressure, for instance, in terms of product pricing, which can materially affect the pricing strategies and gross margins of Chinese companies, including us. According to Frost & Sullivan, in recent years, intensified price competition from leading international companies has created challenges for the business of Chinese companies, requiring them to adjust pricing and impacting their profitability. However, according to Frost & Sullivan, despite the competitive pressure, Chinese companies, including us, have demonstrated notable growth by delivering tailored products that address specific industry requirements and customer needs.

In many of our downstream application sectors, Chinese end customers have established a strong presence in global market, emerging as key drivers for industry development and product innovation. According to Frost & Sullivan, the localization rate of analog chip market in China grew from 11% in 2020 to 22% in 2024, and is expected to further grow in light of the favorable policy support. We believe we are well-positioned to capture this growth opportunity. In addition, as a Chinese analog chip company, we gain deep insights into end customers' technological advancements and evolving needs. By fostering deep collaborations with leading domestic brands to respond swiftly to market dynamics, we are uniquely positioned to accelerate product innovation. Our ability to deliver solutions aligned with customer demands will further distinguish us in a competitive landscape.

Future Growth in Market Demand

The market for analog chips is expected to continue quick and significant growth. According to Frost & Sullivan: the power management chip and signal chain chip market in China is expected to grow quickly at a CAGR of 12.1% and 9.1% respectively from 2025 to 2029. The market for analog chips used in (i) energy and industrial automation and (ii) automotive electronics, two major downstream applications sectors for our revenue and sales, are expected to grow at a CAGR of 14.5% and 17.6% respectively from 2025 to 2029. Thus, we believe industry leaders are well positioned to achieve growth in sales and sustainable development.

Analysis of Historical Losses

We have experienced strong business expansion during the Track Record Period, demonstrating our ability to refine our products, and penetrate new downstream applications. The aggregate sales volume of our sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips increased from 1,430.9 million units in 2022 to 1,915.5 million in 2023, and further increased to 3,001.3 million units in 2024, representing a CAGR of approximately 44.8%. The increase in our revenue reflected our expanding market presence, a broader customer base across various downstream applications and the increase in sales to our existing customers. Our revenue decreased from RMB1,670.4 million in 2022 to RMB1,310.9 million in 2023, primarily due to decrease in prices of our signal chain chips and power management chips as a result of intensified market competition. Our revenue increased by 49.5% from RMB1,310.9 million in 2023 to RMB1,960.3 million in 2024, primarily driven by the increasing demand from end customers, especially the robust demand growth in the automotive electronics sector. Our revenue further increased by 79.5% from RMB848.9 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB1,523.7 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to increasing demand from downstream end customers, particularly in the industrial and automation sector.

Despite our strong business expansion during the Track Record Period, we recorded net profit of RMB250.1 million in 2022 but subsequently incurred net losses of RMB305.3 million, RMB402.9 million, RMB265.3 million and RMB78.0 million in 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively. Our losses during the Track Record Period were primarily due to:

Intensified market competition. Our gross profit margin decreased from 48.5% in 2022 to 33.9% in 2023, and further decreased to 28.0% in 2024, primarily due to increasing pricing pressure and evolving competitive dynamics. Leading international companies exerted considerable competitive pressure, for instance, in terms of product pricing, which materially affected both Chinese companies' and their own profit margins. According to Frost & Sullivan, a majority of publicly listed Chinese analog chip companies experienced decrease in gross profit margin, decrease in net profit or even net loss from 2022 to 2024; at the same time, certain leading international companies, as a result of their price reduction, also experienced decrease in gross profit margins or net profit margins from 2022 to 2024.

Substantial investment in R&D and other business aspects. We made investments in R&D and other aspects, such as business development, supply chain infrastructure, product quality management and talent development. These expenditures, while aimed at strengthening our long-term growth, resulted in higher expenses during the Track Record Period. We incurred R&D expenses of RMB403.8 million, RMB521.6 million, RMB540.0 million, RMB319.2 million and RMB361.3 million in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively accounting for 24.2%, 39.8%, 27.5%, 37.6% and 23.7% of total revenue of the same years/periods. Please see “Research and Development – Key R&D Projects” for details of our key R&D projects carried out during the Track Record Period. We also incurred selling and marketing expenses of RMB70.0 million, RMB117.4 million, RMB188.9 million, RMB85.5 million and RMB110.0 million in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively, accounting for 4.2%, 9.0%, 9.6%, 10.1% and 7.2% of our total revenue during the same years/periods. We also incurred administrative expenses of RMB169.1 million, RMB245.1 million, RMB286.9 million, RMB139.5 million and RMB143.2 million, accounting for 10.1%, 18.7%, 14.6%, 16.4% and 9.4% of our total revenue during the same years/periods.

Equity-settled share-based transactions. We implemented a restricted share incentive plan following our A Share listing. As a result, we record equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB196.7 million, RMB221.1 million, RMB70.9 million, RMB147.3 million and RMB42.8 million in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively.

Path to Profitability

In the coming years, we plan to break even and realize profitability by implementing business initiatives of achieving sustained growth in revenue, managing gross profit profile and enhancing operating efficiency.

Achieving Sustained Growth in Revenue

We seek to drive continual overall revenue growth through the following measures:

- (i) Increasing the penetration rate of our products among automotive electronics, energy and industrial automation, and consumer electronics applications while expanding our product portfolio to capture the market opportunity brought by the increasing localization rate of analog ICs in China. Our efforts include:

Launching New Products for Downstream Sectors

- In terms of products in automotive electronics applications:
 - As of the Latest Practicable Date, we launched various automotive-grade products catering to the trending demands of end customers such as power path protection chips, high-side/low-side switches, small motor driver SoCs, magnetic switches, angle sensors and solid-state relays. Several of our automotive-grade products, including multi-channel tail light driver chips, magnetic current sensors, and certain interface chips, have achieved stable mass production and large-scale shipments. Our motor driver chips and integrated motor driver SoCs have also secured multiple design-wins with key customers.

BUSINESS

- In terms of products in energy and industrial automation:
 - For energy and industrial automation applications, we have introduced, real-time control MCUs, high-precision industrial encoders and application-specific SoCs. For instance, our real-time control MCU is designed with high computational performance, precise control and secure communication capabilities for applications such as power and motor control.
- In terms of products in consumer electronics:
 - For consumer electronics applications, we have introduced lithium battery protection MOSFETs, low-power temperature and humidity sensors, and DC motor drivers. For instance, we have newly launched our new-generation low-power linear Hall sensor chip, which is designed for use in applications such as 3D joysticks in AR/VR controllers and gaming controllers. We believe the continued diversification of our product offerings will cater to the various needs of end customers in different application sectors and contribute to our revenue growth.

We believe the launch of these products enhances our ability to meet diverse customer needs, thereby increasing our penetration in key downstream application sectors, which is expected to drive sustained revenue growth over the long term.

Serving Major Customers

- To increase revenue through major customers, particularly in the automotive electronics sector, we have established a dedicated strategic automotive sales team and an automotive key account sales team. These teams are designed to cater specifically to the needs of automotive manufacturer customers and Tier 1 customers, ensuring tailored support and closer engagement with key industry players. Additionally, we have set up regional sales centers in Beijing, Shenzhen, Tokyo, Seoul and Munich to address the unique requirements of customers in different geographic markets such as North China, South China, East Asia and Europe. This targeted and region-specific approach allows us to deepen relationships with major customers, expand our market share, and enhance revenue generation in the automotive sector.
- For instance, Customer F, a subsidiary of a leading global automobile manufacturer and one of our five largest customers in 2023 and 2024, is an example of the importance of serving major customers in the automotive electronics sector in driving our revenue growth. We began our business relationship with Customer F in 2023, and the revenue contribution from this customer increased significantly by 152.7% from RMB64.7 million, or 4.9% of our total revenue in 2023, to RMB163.4 million, or 8.3% of total revenue in 2024. The increase in our revenue from Customer F was primarily driven by the growth in sales volume, particularly of our power management chips, as the localization rate of semiconductor components in Customer F's products continued to rise. We plan to expand our product portfolio to further capture this trend of increased localization among key customers, thereby boosting our sales volume and contributing to revenue growth.

Diversifying Customer Base

We intend to continue to diversify our customer base. By continuing to launch new products for the automotive electronics, energy and industrial automation and consumer electronics sectors, as detailed above, we aim to reduce our reliance on any single application sector. Concurrently, our global expansion initiatives, as further detailed below, are designed to broaden our geographical revenue sources. Furthermore, while we continue to deepen our relationships with major direct customers and Tier 1 customers, we are actively leveraging our global distribution channels to reach a wider and more fragmented base of small and medium-sized customers. Our strategy to this end includes active participation in prominent domestic and international industry events, technology exhibitions and seminars to enhance our brand visibility and generate new leads. We also proactively contribute to the establishment of key industry standards, for example in the automotive industry, which positions us as an essential technology partner for a broad range of companies seeking to comply with and adopt these new standards and incorporate our products. We believe this balanced approach of serving both large, strategic accounts directly and a broad market through distribution partners will create a more resilient and diversified revenue stream.

These diversification efforts, powered by the continuous launch of products for new scenarios, have already begun to yield results by expanding our presence in new markets and emerging applications, thereby diversifying our customer base. For instance, within the energy and industrial automation sector, we are addressing the demand from new customers for AI infrastructure. Additionally, we are positioning ourselves at the forefront of future technologies, having established collaborations with new customers developing humanoid robots that utilize our sensing and control chips. In the consumer electronics sector, our products are now being adopted by customers with applications such as food delivery robots and smart door locks.

(ii) Achieve global expansion and enhance our overseas revenue through the following measures:

- Deepening Strategic Partnerships with Global Tier 1 Customers: By leveraging partnerships with Tier 1 customers, we are quickly integrating into the supply chains of mainstream automotive manufacturers, which we expect to increase our international revenue contribution and drive long-term business growth. As of the Latest Practicable Date, in collaboration with several overseas Tier 1 customers, we had multiple automotive-grade chips entering into product validation or small-scale production and delivery phases. In 2024, we entered into a strategic partnership with a global Tier-1 automotive company to jointly develop automotive pressure sensor chips with functional safety features for its next-generation global products. This product, with enhanced reliability and accuracy, is designed for use in automotive safety-critical systems such as airbags, side-impact monitoring and battery pack collision detection, providing heightened safety assurance; and we have recruited professionals with cross-cultural expertise in countries such as Japan, South Korea and Germany, enabling us to build localized operational capabilities and directly address the needs of overseas customers. As of June 30, 2025, we had established local sales offices in Japan, South Korea and Germany to directly address the needs of customers in these key international markets. These offices are staffed with professionals who have cross-cultural expertise and deep knowledge of the local market environment. The professionals are equipped with necessary language proficiency and cultural familiarity that enable them to effectively communicate and build strong relationships with local customers. We have continued to expand our presence and relationship with customers in these markets. As of June 30, 2025, we had 25, 122 and 25 customers in Japan, South Korea and Germany respectively.

- Building Localized Capabilities to Serve Overseas Customers:

Our localized strategy focuses on providing tailored customer support, responding promptly to customer needs, conducting joint R&D collaborations and navigating local market dynamics to improve market penetration. Additionally, we have implemented region-specific marketing initiatives and established partnerships with local distributors and service providers to further strengthen our presence.

As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had successfully engaged customers in Japan, South Korea and Germany, leveraging our localized capabilities to secure new orders and foster closer relationships with global clients. By strengthening our local operations, we aim to enhance customer support, improve market penetration and foster closer relationships with global clients;

- Leveraging Global Distribution Channels: We plan to capitalize on global distribution networks to accelerate our international market presence and contribute to our global expansion. We aim to streamline the delivery of our products to a broader customer base overseas. This approach not only enhances the accessibility of our products but also allows us to penetrate new markets more efficiently, reduce lead times, and strengthen relationships with key customers globally.

- (iii) Strengthening technological barrier for competitive advantage. We will continue to focus on R&D to enhance core product performance and reliability, driving product iterations and increasing product value. We plan to reinforce our platform-based innovation capabilities in areas such as isolation+ and sensors, leveraging highly integrated and high-performance solutions to enhance market competitiveness. Please see “Research and Development – Key R&D Projects” in this section for details of certain key R&D projects carried out by us.

We believe our products have several distinguished advantages, which provides us with the competitive edges compared to other industry peers. According to Frost & Sullivan, our core products are comparable to, and, in certain cases, surpass, the products of international competitors in terms of metrics such as performance, power consumption and functional integration. Please see “– Our Competitive Strengths – Industry – Strong Product Capabilities Empowered by Robust Technology” for details of the technological advantages of our products.

Managing Gross Profit Profile

We plan to optimize our gross profit profile by (i) developing differentiated products targeted to high-value markets, (ii) improving cost structure, and (iii) refining supply chain efficiency.

Developing Products Targeted to High-Value Markets

We focus on developing high-performance, high-reliability products designed to meet the specific needs of our application sectors. In recent years, Chinese companies has been important sources for R&D and innovation in various application sectors. We understand the technology trends and practical requirements of end customers, which allows us to respond swiftly to differentiated demands and, through close collaboration, develop innovative products that address unique end customer needs and requirements. For example, we have launched an embedded motor driver signal chain chip model in 2023. It is an application-specific processor that integrates four half-bridge drivers to control low-power DC motors. It supports a variety of motor types, including BDC motors, BLDC motors and stepper motors, and is widely used in the automotive electronics applications such as active grille shutters, seat ventilation and adaptive front lighting systems. Due to its advanced features and performance, the price of this model is higher than the average selling price of our signal chain chips.

We intend to continuously expand our product portfolio while focusing on high-value, high-barrier segments such as automotive electronics. In response to the intensified competition pressure, we plan to (i) prioritize R&D in differentiated solutions with sophisticated architectures and higher integration, (ii) expanding our product portfolio both through differentiated categories and customized solutions tailored to specific customer needs, and (iii) continue upgrading flagship products to maintain technological advantages and sustain a margin level. Through these measures, we aim to enhance end customer loyalty, stabilize our unit pricing, and increase overall gross profit margins.

Refining Supply Chain Efficiency

A well-structured supply chain strategy ensures that we can mitigate cost fluctuations while maintaining competitive pricing. We had established and/or maintained stable relationship with multiple foundries and chip testing and packaging companies in various countries and regions during the Track Record Period. As our business continues to grow, we expect to benefit further from economies of scale. Larger order volumes have enabled us to obtain preferential pricing from upstream suppliers, leading to cost savings and a more competitive cost structure. Strengthening relationships with suppliers has also helped us negotiate better terms. Leveraging our continuous expansion of business operations and economies of scale, we engage in communications with suppliers to achieve more favorable procurement prices and seek cooperation with additional suppliers so as to provide us with greater flexibility to select cost-effective solutions within our supply chain. We intend to further refine our supply chain management by (i) diversifying supply sources to mitigate reliance risks on any supplier, including by systematically qualifying alternative wafer foundries and packaging and testing service providers for our key products, including by assessment of their technical capabilities, manufacturing processes, production capacities, market position, credentials and commercial backgrounds; (ii) strategically allocating our production volumes among multiple qualified suppliers to enhance supply chain resilience, and (iii) deepen our relationship with existing suppliers to secure more favorable pricing and stable production capacity.

Improving Cost Structure

We have been developing proprietary process platforms for key products while outsourcing wafer manufacturing to foundries. Unlike standard process platforms provided by wafer foundries, our proprietary process platform is specifically tailored to meet the unique performance requirements of our products. By reducing the number of photomask layers and minimizing the die size, we are able to lower the average die cost associated with our products and improve manufacturing efficiency, resulting in a more competitive cost structure and improved gross profit margin. To further optimize our cost, we intend to leverage process innovation to create more reliable and efficient products, ensuring both cost savings and flexible pricing. According to Frost & Sullivan, we are among the few analog chip companies in the industry with a complete product and process development team.

In addition, we plan to improve our in-house packaging and testing capabilities, which helps manage costs and improve margins.

Enhancing Operating Efficiency

In terms of operating expenses, we intend to efficiently manage our expenses as a percentage of our total revenues and expect margin improvements from enhanced operating efficiency.

Enhance Selling and Marketing Efficiency

Specifically, selling and marketing expenses as a percentage of revenue was 4.2%, 9.0%, 9.6%, 10.1% and 7.2% in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively. We expect to benefit from our established brand name, solid industry reputation and advantage of diverse product offerings. In particular, the recognition of our automotive-grade products and our brand name in downstream applications will help reduce our promotion expenses and the expenses associated with new customer acquisition. We plan to further optimize and streamline our sales channels with the goal to enhance overall sales efficiency. We have implemented a comprehensive evaluation framework to systematically assess our distributors. Our evaluation process is based on (i) resource commitment and (ii) performance results. In assessing a distributor's resource commitment, we analyze multiple factors, including its overall business scale, the size and expertise of its sales and technical support teams, the level of strategic engagement from its management, and its investment in dedicated project management and resources. In parallel, we continuously track performance by monitoring key metrics such as effectiveness in new customer acquisition and market penetration, and the ability to successfully convert customer design-wins into mass production orders. This structured evaluation framework provides a clear basis for evaluating our distributors.

Enhance R&D Efficiency

As our technologies mature and the yield rate of our product offering continues to improve, we expect a higher R&D efficiency. We strive to (i) streamline and standardize our R&D process and methods to improve R&D efficiency, and (ii) maintain a well-established and stable R&D team, leading to a decrease in R&D employee expenses as a percentage of revenue.

To enhance our R&D efficiency, we have implemented a structured integrated product development (“IPD”) framework, overseen by a dedicated process management office. The framework establishes and refines standardized R&D workflows for each stage of the product development life cycle, from concept to mass production.

A key element of this framework is a continuous improvement loop. We systematically monitor key R&D performance indicators to identify inefficiencies. Upon identification, we conduct thorough analysis and implement targeted process improvements. This approach is designed to shorten development timelines and improve the predictability of project completion.

Our IPD framework is supported by our Novosense Research and Development Management System. This system provides a single, integrated digital environment that manages the entire product life cycle from concept to production, centralizing project management, technical documentation and cross-team collaboration. By automating key workflows and providing the flexibility to tailor processes for specific projects, the platform reduces manual intervention, eliminates information miscommunication and enhances overall R&D efficiency and coordination.

Through the standardization of processes and the automation provided by our Novosense Research and Development Management System, we aim to shorten product development cycles, improve on-time project completion rates and enhance the return on our R&D investments.

Enhance Administrative Efficiency

Furthermore, we expect more effective management of our administrative expenses through the optimization of our team structure and enhanced efficiency within our management team. We have implemented various information technology systems to support the digitalization of our operations. For example:

- our Customer Relationship Management (“CRM”) system, launched in 2022, is tailored to our specific business model and manages the entire sales and customer lifecycle. The system’s functions begin with capturing potential customer information from multiple channels, and extend to opportunity management, which provides a structured process for tracking and closing sales opportunities. It handles the complete order-to-fulfillment process, accommodating orders received directly from direct sales customers and distributors, including through electronic communication means. By integrating functions such as electronic data interchange, enterprise resource planning and product lifecycle management, our CRM system enhances cross-departmental collaboration between our sales, administration and finance teams. The automation of routine sales and administrative tasks allows us to respond more rapidly to customer needs and optimize the allocation of our internal resources.

- our Enterprise Supply Planning (“ESP”) system, launched in 2023, in partnership with a leading global provider of supply chain solutions, aimed at enhancing our supply chain capabilities. This system functions as an integrated supply planning system that provides end-to-end visibility and control over our supply chain. The system is designed to improve our inventory management and overall supply chain responsiveness by integrating and automating several critical functions, including (i) demand forecasting: the system analyzes historical data and market information to generate more accurate demand forecasts, allowing us to better align our procurement of raw materials and production of finished goods with anticipated customer orders; (ii) inventory optimization: the system helps us determine and maintain optimal inventory levels for raw materials and finished goods across our network. It balances the need to ensure product availability against the costs of holding excess inventory, thereby helping to reduce our inventory carrying costs; and (iii) production and supply planning: the system facilitates the precise matching of supply with demand by generating coordinated production schedules and material requirement plans, thus reducing the accumulation of work-in-progress and unnecessary finished goods inventory. By improving the precision of these functions, the ESP system is designed to increase our order fulfillment accuracy and improve our inventory turnover rates.
- our Supplier Relationship Management (“SRM”) system, launched in 2023, functions to digitalize our procurement and supplier interactions. This system manages the entire supplier lifecycle, from onboarding and qualification to performance management, and automates the procure-to-pay process. By integrating functions such as enterprise resource planning, product lifecycle management and warehouse management, the SRM platform centralizes all supplier information and procurement activities. This creates a unified and efficient workflow, strengthening collaboration between our internal procurement, finance and logistics teams and our external suppliers. The primary objectives of this system are to enhance procurement efficiency, achieve better cost control and optimize our overall supply chain operations.

Business Improvement in the Six Months ended June 30, 2025

While we still recorded net loss for the six months ended June 30, 2025, our net loss margin (calculated as loss for the period divided by total revenue) significantly reduced from 31.2% for the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 5.0% for the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily because of (i) increasing demand from downstream markets; (ii) our strategic optimization of our product mix, which led to a decreased sales contribution from products with lower gross margins; and (iii) implementation of cost-reduction initiatives that lowered our overall cost of production including material costs and packaging and testing costs. Additionally, our selling and marketing expenses, administrative expenses and R&D expenses, as percentages to revenue, consistently decreased from the six months ended June 30, 2024 to the same period in 2025, as a result of (i) our efforts to optimize expense management and enhance operational efficiency, resulting in a more cost-effective allocation of resources, and (ii) a reduction in share-based payment expenses.

BUSINESS

Our Directors believe that our business is sustainable and we will be able to generate sufficient working capital to operate our business in a sustainable manner based on (i) the measures to achieve profitability as disclosed above; (ii) the improved business and financial condition as disclosed above; and (iii) the liquidity and capital resources we maintained during the Track Record Period. In particular, as of June 30, 2025, we had cash and cash equivalents of RMB713.1 million, financial assets measured at FVPL (current) of RMB1,808.6 million, and net current assets of RMB3,850.9 million; and as of September 30, 2025, our total facilities for bank borrowings amounted to RMB830.0 million, of which RMB24.9 million had been utilized.

THE IMPACT OF COVID-19

The outbreak of COVID-19 pandemic has materially and adversely affected the global economy since the first quarter of 2020. In response, the PRC government and the governments of other countries have implemented numerous anti-pandemic measures, including travel bans and restrictions, quarantines, remote work arrangement and shutdowns. Particularly, the emergence of the Omicron variant of COVID-19 in 2022 resulted in extended duration of aforementioned measures. However, substantially all of the cities in the PRC eased or lifted the restrictive measures in January 2023.

The COVID-19 pandemic has made it more restrictive for overseas raw material supplies to enter China due to customs control measures imposed during the COVID-19 pandemic, which partially led to a wafer shortage and drove up raw material prices in 2021 and 2022. The COVID-19 pandemic also negatively affected the mobility of some of our employees. However, the impact of COVID-19 on our overall business operations and R&D process was limited. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we did not experience any material shutdown of business operations due to the COVID-19 pandemic, and our product delivery has not been materially affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. We actively arranged our on-site staff to ensure functioning of our key activities such as R&D and customer service. We diversified the warehousing of our inventories using multiple warehouses in different areas to minimize the impact on our warehousing. In response to COVID-19, we implemented various precautionary measures in line with government guidelines and regulations to ensure that we could maintain our daily operation and R&D activities. Accordingly, our Directors believe that the outbreak of COVID-19 has not had, and will not have, any material adverse impact on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

INSURANCE

We maintain insurance coverage over our daily operations. Our insurance policies primarily include employee-related insurance, property all risk insurance, and product liability insurance, which we believe have covered major risks in our daily operations. We believe our insurance policy as a whole is in line with the general market practice and complies with the relevant rules and regulation in China. Nevertheless, we may be exposed to claims and liabilities which exceed our insurance coverage. Please see “Risk Factors – Our insurance coverage may not be sufficient to cover all losses or potential claims by our customers, which would affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.”

BUSINESS

We enter into standard employment agreements with our employees to cover matters regarding confidentiality, intellectual property, employment, commercial ethics and noncompetition, in particular, the noncompetition provision and confidentiality provision effective during and after their employment with us.

We highly value the potential of our employees and have invested substantial efforts and resources in recruiting and training our employees. We prioritize internal referrals and social recruitment channels while strengthening collaborations with universities to attract top talents. To ensure employees have ample learning opportunities and continuously enhance their capabilities, we organize diverse and comprehensive training programs. In addition to fostering the accumulation and transfer of internal knowledge and expertise, we adopt various approaches to meet the specialized needs of different business units.

As required by laws and regulations in China, we participate in various government statutory employee benefit plans, including social insurance plans, namely pension, medical, unemployment, work-related injury and maternity insurance plans, and housing provident funds. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we have complied with all statutory obligations for social insurance and housing provident funds under PRC laws and regulations in all material aspects and were not subject to any fines or administrative penalties imposed by any regulatory authorities due to non-compliance.

BUSINESS

On August 1, 2025, the PRC Supreme People's Court issued a judicial interpretation (the “New Judicial Interpretation”) that from September 1, 2025, private agreements made between an employer and an employee to waive mandatory social insurance payments is legally invalid and the workers are now granted the right to unilaterally terminate their employment contracts and claim compensation if their employers fail to make the mandatory social insurance contributions. Our PRC legal advisor is of the view that the New Judicial Interpretation will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations, based on the following considerations: (i) upon its implementation, the New Judicial Interpretation will not affect the compliance status of our contributions to social insurance and housing provident funds; (ii) we have not entered into any agreement with, nor made any commitment to, our employees to exempt us from paying social insurance and housing provident fund contributions; (iii) furthermore, the Company has arranged for the payment of the corresponding social insurance and housing provident fund contributions during the Track Record Period through the Latest Practicable Date.

We believe that we maintain good working relationships with our employees, and we have not experienced any material labor disputes, strikes, protests or any difficulty in recruiting staff for our operations during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date.

As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had obtained all land use rights certificates for all land parcels we owned.

Buildings or units

As of the Latest Practicable Date, we owned two buildings or units across China, with an aggregate GFA of approximately 46,144.9 sq. m., which were mainly used as our office space and R&D center. As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had obtained all building ownership certificates for all buildings we owned.

Lease Properties

As of the Latest Practicable Date, we leased 10 properties for our primary business activities across China, with an aggregate GFA of approximately 18,085.4 sq. m., which were mainly as our office space, R&D center and chip testing and packaging facilities. For all these properties we leased, the lessors had obtained the relevant title certificates and/or consent, authorization, or approval which entitled the lessors to lease out such properties. Our leases generally have a term ranging from one to five year(s). We are generally allowed to terminate lease agreements with a prior notice, which provides us with operational flexibility, albeit usually at the cost of forfeiting deposits and/or paying a termination fee.

BUSINESS

Pursuant to the applicable PRC laws and regulations, property lease agreements shall be registered with the relevant local branches of the PRC Ministry of Housing and Urban-Rural Development. As of the Latest Practicable Date, we had not completed lease registration for the nine properties we leased in China. The failure of obtaining lease agreement registration was primarily due to lack of cooperation from our lessors. According to the relevant PRC laws and regulations, we may be ordered by the relevant government authorities to register the relevant lease agreements within a prescribed period, failing which we may be subject to a fine ranging from RMB1,000 to RMB10,000 for each non-registered lease, and a maximum of RMB90,000 for our nine non-registered leases. As advised by our PRC Legal Advisors, the lack of registration of the lease agreements does not affect the validity of such lease agreements, nor materially and adversely affect the operations of our Company and the Group.

Property Valuation

As of the Latest Practicable Date, no single property interest forming part of our Group's property activities had a carrying amount of 1% or more of our total assets and we had no single property with a carrying amount of 15% or more of our total assets, and on this basis, we are not required by Rule 5.01A of the Listing Rules to include in this document any valuation report. Pursuant to section 6(2) of the Companies (Exemption of Companies and prospectuses from Compliance with Provisions) Notice (Chapter 32L of the Laws of Hong Kong), this document is exempted from compliance with the requirements of section 342(1)(b) of the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance in relation to paragraph 34(2) of the Third Schedule to the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance, which requires a valuation report with respect to all of our interests in land or buildings.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE

We are dedicated to fostering long-term positive impacts on the environment, society, and governance (“ESG”) for our stakeholders, including customers, suppliers and the communities influenced by our operations. Our Board of Directors oversees the ESG strategy, ensuring that we operate ethically, responsibly and in compliance with all applicable laws. Following the Listing, we will comply with the requirements of ESG reporting and publish ESG report on an annual basis in accordance with the requirements of Appendix C2 to the Listing Rules. We will focus on ESG matters, risk management and key performance indicators that have a significant impact on our business operations as set out in Appendix C2 to the Listing Rules.

We are dedicated to enhancing our environmental accountability and our role in the public sphere. We recognize the importance of being a responsible corporation and are committed to implementing initiatives that promote sustainability and reduce our environmental footprint.

ESG Governance Structure

In alignment with the global trend toward sustainable development, we are committed to establishing a comprehensive ESG governance framework. We have integrated ESG considerations into our overall strategy, long-term planning, key decision-making processes, and daily operations. Our objective is to create economic value while simultaneously fulfilling our social responsibilities, promoting environmental protection and ensuring that our business development aligns with sustainable development goals. We believe that sound ESG governance not only enhances our corporate image and market competitiveness but also delivers long-term value to stakeholders and contributes positively to society and the environment.

To implement effective ESG governance, we have established the Strategy and ESG Committee and adopted detailed rules for the works conducted by the Strategy and ESG Committee. The Strategy and ESG Committee is responsible for formulating and advising on significant ESG-related matters, including our ESG policies, strategies, objectives and governance structure. It monitors and reviews the implementation and progress of our ESG initiatives on a regular basis and provides recommendations for improving our ESG performance or making key decisions related to ESG matters.

We have also implemented detailed environmental management policies to promote environmental awareness and integrate energy conservation, emission reduction and green and low-carbon practices into our daily operations. Through various initiatives, we aim to enhance our employees' environmental awareness and contribute to energy conservation and emission reduction efforts.

We place significant importance on employee career development and provide diverse training and development opportunities. We are committed to fostering a diverse workforce and building an inclusive culture that encourages collaboration and innovation among stakeholders from different backgrounds.

In addition, we have established robust internal control and compliance mechanisms to enhance governance transparency. We maintain open communication with employees, customers, suppliers, investors and the broader community, actively seeking feedback to continuously optimize our ESG strategies.

ESG Risk Management and Strategy

We have consistently recognized the significance of ESG matters on our business strategy, financial performance and operations. By proactively taking into account the concerns of internal and external stakeholders regarding ESG issues, and considering the specific characteristics of our business, we identify and analyze ESG issues that may have a material impact, and carefully consider these issues when developing our strategic, financial and operational plans.

Through comprehensive issue identification and issue assessment process, we identify and rank material ESG risks in terms of importance to our business operations and importance to our stakeholders. The following sets forth certain material risks identified by us and the mitigation measures taken by us to address these risks:

- Employee care and rights: Risks related to employee care and rights, such as poor working conditions or non-compliance with labor laws or regulations, could harm our reputation and operational stability. To address the risk, we consistently adhere to applicable labor laws and labor standards. We strive to promote a healthy and safe working environment within our own operations by implementing health and safety protocols and providing regular employee training.
- Customer rights protection: Failures in protecting our customer rights could adversely affect customer satisfaction, harm our reputation and potentially lead to legal or regulatory liabilities. To mitigate this risk, we have implemented measures including (i) regular customer satisfaction surveys to assess service quality and identify areas for improvement and (ii) customer complaint handling procedure, which includes defined timelines and standards for addressing customer complaints efficiently and responsibly. Through these initiatives, we aim to enhance customer satisfaction, maintain high service standards and strengthen our reputation for product and service excellence.
- Information and privacy security: we face ESG risks related to information and privacy security, including potential breaches of trade secrets, customer data and personal information, which could result in reputational harm, regulatory penalties or operational disruptions. To mitigate these risks, we have implemented robust measures, including confidentiality system, access controls for sensitive customer data and confidentiality agreements with customers and employees. We also provide regular employee training on information security to further strengthen awareness and compliance.
- Product quality management: We uphold the “robust and reliable” policy as the foundation of our product quality management and we are committed to delivering products through stringent quality control measures implemented across the entire product lifecycle, from research and development to production. Please see “- Quality Control” in this section for further details on our quality management policies and practices.
- R&D and technological innovation: we integrate ESG principles into our research and development activities by prioritizing green and sustainable innovation. Focusing on key areas such as NEV and PV applications, we develop environmentally friendly and intelligent products to contribute to global greenhouse gas reduction initiatives and support broader societal goals, including China’s carbon peaking and carbon neutrality targets.
- Risk management: We have in place a robust risk management and internal control system overseeing operational aspects such as financial reporting, compliance, IP and anti-corruption. Please see “- Internal Control and Risk Management” in this section for further details on our quality management policies and practices.

BUSINESS

- Business Ethics. Upholding strong business ethics is integral to maintaining the trust of our stakeholders and ensuring long-term sustainability. Risks related to unethical practices, such as corruption, bribery, or non-compliance with industry standards, could damage our reputation and financial performance. To mitigate these risks, we maintain a code of conduct that applies to all employees and conduct training sessions on anti-corruption. We have established a whistleblowing mechanism for anonymous reporting.

Environmental Protection

We are committed to minimizing the environmental impact of our operations. Responsible environmental management can lead to economic and environmental coexistence. We have been complying with the relevant laws and regulations of the country and carrying out environmental management efficiently to achieve sustainable development.

Metrics and Targets

We actively promote carbon reduction and environmental protection principles by implementing a series of environmental protection measures to address environmental risks such as climate change and energy shortages. Through environmental impact assessments, we ensure that our products meet sustainable development standards. We have established an efficient energy management strategy and a rigorous environmental metrics monitoring system to ensure that all energy consumption aligns with our ESG governance framework and green energy-saving objectives. We continuously optimize overall energy efficiency to achieve sustainable development.

Our core business involves the R&D, design and sales of products under a fabless model. The primary raw materials we procure are wafers, and we outsource a majority of related packaging and testing processes to external professional processing service providers. Neither our Company nor our subsidiaries are directly engaged in manufacturing activities.

During the Track Record Period, we experienced significant increase in greenhouse gas emission, water consumption and electricity consumption, as a result of the business expansion. The following table sets forth metrics on our greenhouse gas emission, electricity and water consumption during the Track Record Period:

	2022	2023	2024	June 30 2025
Greenhouse gas emission (tCO ₂ e) ⁽¹⁾	1,263.3	3,768.7	7,244.4	4,670.5
Water consumption (tons)	1,508.7	3,985.0	8,724.0	5,242.0
Electricity consumption (kWh)	2,211,867.7	6,608,207.0	12,702,719.0	8,193,882.8

Note:

- (1) tCO₂e refers to tons of carbon dioxide equivalent and is the standard unit for measuring carbon footprint. The greenhouse gas emission in the table above includes only scope 2 emissions, which refer to indirect emissions resulting from the generation of purchase or acquired electricity, heating, cooling and steam consumed within our Group.

BUSINESS

We are committed to reduce our emission and energy consumption in our course of business operations. For electricity consumption, we aim to transition to 100% green electricity for all office operations by 2030. For greenhouse gas emissions, we seek to reduce carbon output by promoting the use of new energy vehicles for employee commuting and business travel through partnerships with ride-hailing platforms. For water consumption, we plan to reduce per capita water usage by encouraging water-saving behavior among employees through internal awareness campaigns.

Energy Conservation Initiatives

We actively engage in energy conservation initiatives as part of our commitment to contributing to societal environmental preservation efforts. Our initiatives include:

- Water Conservation: we enhance water conservation practices by displaying informational posters to promote responsible usage;
- Electricity saving: in the workplace, we promote energy efficiency by ensuring all applicable lighting and electrical equipment are turned off after working hours, avoiding unnecessary use of lighting in unoccupied areas, and setting seasonal temperature guidelines for air conditioning. Employees are also encouraged to minimize the frequent restarting of office electric equipment to reduce energy consumption. We have incorporated rooftop PV systems in our new Suzhou office since 2023 to reduce reliance on traditional energy sources and enhance the use of clean energy; and
- Paper saving: we promote paper-saving practices by adopting electronic office processes to reduce paper usage and encourage double-sided printing and copying and proper paper recycling.

Climate Change and Response

We are aware of the adverse impact of global climate change on economic and social development. The major risks posed by climate change to our business include physical risks and transformation risks, among which, physical risks mainly arise from the risks of physical impacts that may be caused by extreme weather, such as heavy rainfall or natural disasters such as floods and drought, which may disrupt or interrupt logistics and transport as well as upstream production. Transformation risks mainly arise from broad changes in the external environment in terms of policy, law, technology and markets during the transition to a low-carbon economy.

We believe that ESG governance plays a critical role in addressing physical and transitional risks. To manage the uncertainties and risks posed by climate change, we have developed environmental management strategies that include improving resource efficiency, promoting green technology innovation and enhancing the sustainability of our supply chain.

Social Responsibility

We are committed to being responsible corporate citizens, continuously fulfilling corporate social responsibility. We recognize the size and influence of our company and seek to utilize our influence in a socially responsible manner. We actively encourage and support socially responsible initiatives and promote the concept of corporate social responsibility throughout our company.

We are committed to giving back to society in various ways and contributing positively to the community. We place great importance on talent development and have collaborated with universities to establish talent training bases, providing practical opportunities for students to inspire their interest and enthusiasm for technological innovation while nurturing more industry talent for society.

Employee Wellbeing

Our employees are integral to our success. We are committed to providing a safe, inclusive, and empowering workplace. We comply with laws and regulations in relation to labor employment in all material aspects. We have also formulated internal management systems that stipulate provisions for employee onboarding, attendance, transfer, performance appraisal, promotion, remuneration, incentives, benefits and allowances.

We are committed to fostering an inclusive and equitable workplace. We embrace diversity in hiring, provide equal employment opportunities and strictly prohibit discrimination based on gender, age, race, religion or physical status. Our recruitment process ensures fair assessment of candidates based solely on their qualifications and experience. We encourage employees and applicants to raise concerns, which are promptly addressed in line with our commitment to fairness and respect. We hold regular roundtables where our management and employees engage in face-to-face interactions to discuss business updates and promptly address employee queries. We also hold townhall meetings to share industry trends, business updates, vital achievements by various internal departments and exchange of corporate value and culture.

Besides competitive compensation and benefits, we conduct various employee engagement activities throughout the year, such as monthly tea breaks, Women's Day events, sports events and holiday celebrations, to foster a inclusive and cohesive workplace culture.

BUSINESS

We have a diverse employee composition. The table below sets forth our employee composition as of June 30, 2025, in terms of gender, age and education level:

	Number of employees
By Gender
Male	807
Female	421
By age group
50 and above	8
40 to 49	199
30 to 39	652
Below 30	369
By education level
Doctors and professors	18
Masters	507
Bachelors and below	703

Employee Safety and Health

We have established a comprehensive employee safety and health system to ensure that employees work in a safe environment. We also place great emphasis on enhancing employees' safety awareness and their ability to handle emergency situations.

We prioritize employee health and safety through regular training programs. These programs focus on occupational health and safety management to ensure employees are equipped with essential safety knowledge and skills, promoting a safe and secure working environment.

During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, there were no significant incidents related to occupational safety or employee disputes, reflecting our commitment to maintaining a harmonious and compliant workplace.

Professional Development

We are committed to fostering the professional growth of our employees through comprehensive training and development initiatives. Our training programs cover a wide range of topics, including general knowledge, professional skills, management practices and business-specific expertise. Employees are provided with access to both online and offline courses tailored to their developmental needs and business requirements, promoting a culture of continuous learning and knowledge sharing.

We are committed to building a learning-oriented organization and a global talent system through sustained investment in employer branding and organizational talent development. We have implemented a structured and tiered training system that addresses the needs of employees at different career stages, covering both new employee onboarding and professional development for all staff. Our talent development programs are continuously updated and refined to align with the evolving needs of our workforce. By adopting a “standardized + customized” training model, we empower employees to realize their career potential while ensuring a strong talent foundation for our high-quality growth.

Supply Chain Management

Our supply chain plays a critical role in our operations and product delivery. Failure to select high-quality, reliable third-party suppliers, including those for wafer manufacturing, packaging and testing, or to effectively manage these suppliers, could adversely impact our business and harm our reputation.

We have implemented a comprehensive supply chain management system that encompasses the entire lifecycle of supplier engagement, including inspection, admission, performance evaluation, auditing and exit. Our supplier evaluation process incorporates (i) TQRDC (Technology, Quality, Response, Delivery and Cost) criteria, with additional (ii) ESG dimensions to ensure sustainability, social responsibility, and (iii) security, including cybersecurity, information security, and employee safety. We enter into long-term strategic partnerships with key suppliers to ensure upstream material traceability, and actively promote localization of supply chains through detailed assessments and domestic sourcing efforts. We conduct quarterly ESG performance reviews on suppliers covering ethics, environmental compliance, occupational health, and hazardous substance control, and engage with key suppliers annually to review carbon emissions and set improvement targets.

Waste Management

We are committed to complying with environmental protection laws and regulations in the PRC, including the Law on the Prevention and Control of Environmental Pollution by Solid Waste. We have adopted targeted and compliant measures for waste handling, aiming to minimize environmental impact and promote resource recycling. We have designated responsible departments to manage recyclable waste, coordinate waste collection across office areas, and ensure qualified third parties handle the disposal of packaging materials from raw materials and products used in trial production.

Anti-Corruption and Anti-Bribery

To uphold our strong business reputation and ethical standards, we have implemented a strict anti-corruption and anti-bribery policy. This policy is designed to prevent and prohibit any form of corruption or bribery, ensuring that our employees adhere to high standards of integrity and transparency in all business activities.

We maintain a zero-tolerance approach to corruption and bribery and strictly enforce internal controls to enhance employees' legal awareness and ethical principles. We have established secure, confidential and effective reporting channels to encourage employees and partners to report or file complaints about any suspected corruption or bribery. All reports are thoroughly investigated, and the rights of whistleblowers are fully protected.

Through background checks and compliance reviews, we ensure that all third-party business partners adhere to the same anti-corruption and anti-bribery standards before entering into any collaboration.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS AND COMPLIANCE

During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we had not been involved in any actual or pending legal, arbitration or administrative proceedings (including any bankruptcy or receivership proceedings) that we believe would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition or reputation and compliance.

During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we had not been involved in any material non-compliance incidents that have led to fines, enforcement actions, or other penalties that could, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial conditions.

According to our PRC Legal Advisor, the business operations we engaged in had been carried out in compliance with applicable PRC laws and regulations in all material respects during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date.

In 2025, the U. S. government announced a series of tariff increases on imports from China. Beginning in February 2025, a baseline 10% tariff was imposed on all imports from China, followed by successive adjustments in March and April 2025. In April 2025, the tariff rate on imports from China introduced by the U. S. government had increased to 145%. In response to the tariff tensions initiated by the U. S., China implemented a series of measures, including raising additional tariffs on U.S. goods to as high as 125%. In May 2025, the U.S. and China reached an agreement to temporarily defer the implementation of tariff increases for at least 90 days. On August 11, 2025, President Trump signed an Executive Order to further extend the suspension of the additional 24% reciprocal tariffs on Chinese goods, originally set to expire on August 12, for an additional 90 days until November 10, 2025. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, our revenue generated from the U.S. market accounted for an immaterial portion of our total revenue, respectively. Although we imported certain U.S. laboratory instruments during the Track Record Period, such imports accounted for an immaterial portion our total purchase in each year of the Track Record Period. Based on the above, we believe the recent tariff increases are not expected to have any material impact on our business and results of operations.

IMPACT OF THE FINAL RULE

For details of the Final Rule, please see “Regulatory Overview – Final Rule by the U.S. Department of the Treasury”.

Following consultations with our legal advisor regarding U.S. foreign investment laws and taking into account of their view, our Directors believe that the Final Rule has no material adverse impact to our business operations, financial performance and the Global Offering for the reasons outlined below:

- (i) We are a “covered foreign person” and our business constitutes “covered activities” and investments by U.S. persons in us likely constitute “notifiable transactions” under the Final Rule. However, they do not constitute “prohibited transactions” under the Final Rule, as our business involving the design of ICs do not meet the standard of the design of advanced ICs under the “prohibited transaction” criteria;
- (ii) Should the purchase of our H Shares in the Global Offering by U.S. persons be considered notifiable transactions, the obligation to report such notifiable transactions to the U.S. Department of the Treasury lies with the U.S. persons making such investments, and there is no reporting obligation imposed on us under the Final Rule;
- (iii) Investments by persons other than U.S. persons as defined under the Final Rule are not subject to the Final Rule;
- (iv) An exception to the notifiable transactions allows U.S. persons to invest in our publicly traded securities, including securities traded on a non-U.S. exchange, as long as (a) the trade does not afford the U.S. person rights beyond standard minority shareholder protections with respect to the covered foreign person; and (b) the shares are officially available for public trading after the initial public offering on a non-U.S. exchange such as the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. The exception does not apply to the shares purchased by investors before the public trading of the shares issued pursuant to an initial public offering officially begins. This means that transactions by any U.S. person purchasing our H Shares before the public trading of our H Shares issued pursuant to the Global Offering starts would be deemed a “notifiable transaction” under the Final Rule; and
- (v) Additionally, our major shareholders, Directors, and senior management are not considered “U.S. persons” as defined by the Final Rule.

Nonetheless, the Final Rule may increase the compliance burden on U.S. investors if any U.S. investors intend to purchase shares before the initial public offering or if future U.S. investors intend to make other types of “covered transactions.” See “Risk Factors – Risks Relating to Our Industry and Business – We may be subject to the risks associated with international trade policies, geopolitics and trade protection measures, including imposition of trade restrictions and sanctions, and our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.”

See “Risk Factors – If third parties claim that we infringe upon their intellectual property rights, we may incur liabilities and penalties and may have to redesign or suspend the sales of products involved.” To ensure proper management of our intellectual property and avoid litigation concerning intellectual property infringement, we have implemented various internal policies and established an internal intellectual property management system. Please see “– Intellectual Property.”

BUSINESS

OVERVIEW

We are an analog chip provider in China. As a fabless company, we offer a comprehensive portfolio of high-performance and reliable products and solutions for application sectors such as (i) automotive electronics, (ii) energy and industrial automation and (iii) consumer electronics. Our three core product categories – sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips – form a complete chain that covers (i) sensing, (ii) signal processing and (iii) system power supply and power drive. These products play a critical role in enabling the connection and interaction between the physical and digital worlds.

Our revenue amounted to RMB1,670.4 million, RMB1,310.9 million, RMB1,960.3 million, RMB848.9 million and RMB1,523.7 million in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively.

SIGNIFICANT FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Our business and results of operations are affected by a number of general factors, including:

- overall economic growth and conditions in China and globally;
- technological advancement in the industry in which we operate;
- geopolitical relations; and
- regulatory oversight and government policies.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

In addition, our business and results of operations have been and will continue to be affected by company-specific factors, which primarily include the following:

Our product portfolio

Our ability to offer a comprehensive portfolio of analog IC products is one of the primary factors influencing our financial conditions and results of operations. During the Track Record Period, our primary product categories included (i) sensor products, (ii) signal chain chips and (iii) power management chips. Our products are well recognized for their outstanding performance and robust and reliable quality. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, our aggregate sales volume of (i) sensor products, (ii) signal chain chips and (iii) power management chips amounted to 1,430.9 million, 1,915.5 million, 3,001.3 million, 1,231.3 million and 2,160.1 million units, respectively. Our future success depends on our ability to anticipate industry trends and develop products with high-performance and differentiated IC design that meet the evolving demand of end customers in various application fields.

During the Track Record Period, we primarily derived our revenue from sale of (i) sensor products, (ii) signal chain chips and (iii) power management chips. We price each product based on a variety of factors, including costs, gross margin and market conditions. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, our gross profit margin was 48.5%, 33.9%, 28.0%, 29.7% and 32.9%, respectively. Our product mix may fluctuate in response to the technological changes in the industries and markets to which our products are sold. If there are any significant changes in our product mix, our gross profit margin will be affected by the changes in gross profit margin attributable to each type of product.

We aim to further enrich our product portfolio, broaden our customer base and maintain a strong focus on high-margin product categories. By continuously refining our product mix and leveraging technological innovation, we are committed to sustain robust financial performance and drive long-term growth. However, fluctuations in product demand, shifts in market dynamics and evolving competitive pressures may impact our financial performance.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Demand from downstream market and end customers

Our business performance is affected by the downstream market size and customer demand for more efficient analog IC products. The overall growth of global and China's analog IC market is mainly driven by growing downstream industries, the escalating demand for high-efficiency solutions in AI infrastructure, power systems for new energy vehicles and smart devices. According to Frost & Sullivan, the global analog IC market increased from RMB383.9 billion in 2020 to RMB565.7 billion in 2024, with a CAGR of 10.2%. The market is expected to further grow from RMB565.7 billion in 2024 to RMB803.5 billion in 2029, with a CAGR of 7.3%. Driven by the robust market demand, China's analog IC market has achieved rapid expansion, with a market size of RMB195.3 billion in 2024, accounted for approximately 35% of the global market share. Downstream market demand could be affected by number of factors including macroeconomic conditions, technological advancements and the evolving needs of end customers across various sectors. Furthermore, the analog IC industry is experiencing trends such as increasing domestic substitution, higher integration level and development towards more intelligent products. According to Frost & Sullivan, benefiting from the booming development of new energy vehicles and the rapid growth in demand for automotive electronics, the market size of China's automotive Analog ICs reached RMB37.1 billion in 2024, and is expected to further increase to RMB85.8 billion by 2029, with a CAGR of 18.3%. China's sensor market is also growing rapidly with the development of new energy and intelligent vehicles, energy and industrial automation, and smart consumer electronics. In 2024, China's sensor market size reached RMB272.5 billion, with magnetic sensors accounting for RMB7.1 billion. Furthermore, China's sensor market size is expected to reach RMB601.3 billion by 2029, with a CAGR of 17.1%, and the market size of magnetic sensors is expected to increase to RMB19.0 billion by 2029, representing the fastest growth rate among all sensor segments.

Our financial performance relies on our ability to innovate and develop products that align with the latest technological trends and customer preferences. We believe that our diverse product offering, proven track record of business growth, and our ability to constantly innovate and adapt to evolving technological advancements, combined with our strong R&D capabilities in analog IC design well-position us to capture the market opportunities in global and China's growing analog IC industry.

Competitive landscape within our industry

Our financial performance may be affected by the competitive landscape in the global and Chinese analog IC markets. According to Frost & Sullivan, the analog IC industry is highly competitive, with foreign companies maintaining dominant positions as a result of their advanced technological expertise across semiconductor segments, extensive product portfolios and economies of scale. These industry leaders exert considerable competitive pressure, for instance, in terms of product pricing, which can materially affect the pricing strategies and gross margins of domestic players, including us. According to Frost & Sullivan, in recent years, intensified price competition from leading global players has created challenges for the business of domestic analog IC companies, requiring them to adjust our pricing and impacting their profitability.

However, according to Frost & Sullivan, despite the competitive pressure, Chinese companies, including us, have demonstrated notable growth by delivering tailored products that address specific industry requirements and customer needs. In 2024, we ranked 14th in terms of revenue of analog ICs in the Chinese market, being one of the top five domestic players in the same market, according to Frost & Sullivan.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Competitive pressures may influence our revenue growth, gross margins and overall financial performance. To address these challenges, we will continue to focus on utilizing our technological capabilities, understanding customer needs and strengthening our market position to support steady growth and improve our profitability.

Upstream supply and production capacity

We operate with the fabless model, focusing on the R&D and design of ICs while outsourcing wafer fabrication to external foundries. We arrange most of the subsequent chip packaging and testing with third-party packaging and testing service providers, or to a much lesser extent, at our own factory. During the Track Record Period, we established strong and long-term cooperation with our major suppliers. See “Business – Procurement and Suppliers – Our Suppliers” for more details. Therefore, our ability to maintain stable business relationship with our wafer channel partners to obtain quality and price-competitive wafers on a timely basis is crucial for our business and results of operations. We believe our efficient supply chain management enable us to quickly launch and upgrade products in response to customer demand. We also seek to enhance our bargaining power in supply purchases by leveraging our growing procurement scale.

However, supply chain disruptions, shortage of raw materials and manufacturing limitations may result in delayed delivery, which in turn would lead to reduced or canceled orders. See “Risk Factors – Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry – We are exposed to concentration risk of reliance on our major suppliers” for more details. During the Track Record Period, we were not subject to any material shortages in the supply of raw materials or services from our suppliers. We do not anticipate any supply chain constraints that would materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our ability to continue R&D activities, develop new technologies, design new products and enhance existing products is critical to our success. We have historically dedicated significant resources towards R&D. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, we recorded R&D expenses of RMB403.8 million, RMB521.6 million, RMB540.0 million, RMB319.2 million and RMB361.3 million. Specifically, the progress of our technology and product development depends largely on our R&D talents. As of June 30, 2025, our R&D team consisted of 588 members, representing 47.9% of total employees as of the same date. Employee compensation for our research and development staff amounted to 47.3%, 49.6%, 70.0%, 52.1% and 71.4% of our research and development expenses in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025. As we believe our market success and financial performance will significantly depend on our ability to maintain our technological advantages, we will continue to invest in proprietary technology development and innovation to grow our competitive strengths against our peers.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Our ability to maintain and improve operating efficiency

Our profitability depends in part on our ability to manage costs and optimize our operating efficiency. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, we incurred selling and marketing expenses of RMB70.0 million, RMB117.4 million, RMB188.9 million, RMB85.5 million and RMB110.0 million, representing 4.2%, 9.0%, 9.6%, 10.1% and 7.2% of our total revenue during the same years/periods, respectively, and our administrative expenses amounted to RMB169.1 million, RMB245.1 million, RMB286.9 million, RMB139.5 million and RMB143.2 million, representing 10.1%, 18.7%, 14.6%, 16.4% and 9.4% of our total revenue during the same years/periods, respectively. We managed to improve operational efficiency by maintaining a streamlined operational workforce and implementing rigorous cost management practices. Simultaneously, we have sought to enhance the management of our operating expenses through detailed budget management and performance monitoring, enabling us to manage overhead costs effectively.

While we expect the absolute amounts of our research and development expenses, selling and marketing expenses and administrative expenses will continue to increase along with our business growth in the future, we are committed to further enhancing our operational efficiency through economies of scale, optimized resource allocation, and continuous investment in employee training and development.

NON-IFRS MEASURE

To supplement our consolidated financial statements, which are presented in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards, we also use adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) as an additional financial measure, which is not required by, or presented in accordance with, IFRS Accounting Standards.

The following table reconciles our profit/(loss) for the year/period presented in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards to adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure).

Adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure)	420,388	(93,745)	(348,002)	(118,583)	(41,439)

We define adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) as profit/(loss) for the year/period, excluding equity-settled share-based transactions and effect of corresponding income tax. We have made the following adjustment consistently during the Track Record Period.

- Equity-settled share-based transactions represent the non-cash employee benefit expenses incurred in connection with our award to key employees after taxation adjustment. Such expenses in any specific period are not expected to result in future cash payments.
- Effect of corresponding income tax represents the tax impact associated with equity-settled share-based transactions.

We believe that adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our consolidated results of operations in the same manner as they help our management. However, our non-IFRS measure does not have a standardized meaning prescribed by IFRS Accounting Standards, and our presentation of adjusted profit/(loss) for the year (non-IFRS measure) may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. The use of adjusted profit/(loss) for the year/period (non-IFRS measure) has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider them in isolation from, or as a substitute for an analysis of, our results of operations or financial condition as reported under IFRS Accounting Standards.

Comparison between the six months ended June 30, 2025 and the six months ended June 30, 2024: Our revenue increased by 79.5% from RMB848.9 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB1,523.7 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily driven by the increase in revenue from sales of (i) sensor products, (ii) power management chips and (iii) signal chain products, mainly due to the continued growth in demand from the automotive electronics sector, the recovery of demand from the industrial and automation sector, as well as the consolidation of the business and financial performances of MagnTek.

- Sensor Products: Our revenue from sales of sensor products increased by 349.8% from RMB91.8 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB413.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to (i) our acquisition of MagnTek, a company focusing on the design and production of high-performance magnetic sensors, in October 2024. The acquisition contributed to the increase in the number of sensor products sold as a result of the consolidation of the business and financial performances of MagnTek; (ii) recovery of the demand from downstream end customers.
- Signal Chain Chips: Our revenue from sales of signal chain chips increased by 28.8% from RMB454.8 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB585.8 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to an increase in the sales volume of signal chain chips from 988.8 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 1,183.2 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025 as a result of strong demand from all downstream application sectors.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

- Power Management Chips: Our revenue from sales of power management chips increased by 73.5% from RMB299.4 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB519.4 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to an increase in the sales volume of power management chips from 185.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 352.9 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, particularly the increase in sales of gate drivers used in NEVs as well as recovery of demand from the energy and industrial automation sector.

Comparison between 2024 and 2023: Our revenue increased by 49.5% from RMB1,310.9 million in 2023 to RMB1,960.3 million in 2024, primarily driven by the increase in revenue from sales of (i) sensor products, (ii) signal chain chips and (iii) power management chips, mainly due to the increased sales volume in line with the increasing demand from end customers, particularly in the automotive electronics sector.

- Sensor Products: Our revenue from sales of sensor products increased by 65.3% from RMB165.8 million in 2023 to RMB274.0 million in 2024, primarily due to (i) our acquisition of MagnTek, a company focusing on the design and production of high-performance magnetic sensors, in October 2024. The acquisition contributed to the increase in the number of sensor products sold as a result of the consolidation of the business and financial performances of MagnTek. The revenue growth rate for our sensor products from 2023 to 2024 is lower than the sales volume growth rate, primarily due to the relatively lower prices and large sales volume of magnetic sensor products sold through MagnTek and (ii) our continuous efforts to launch new sensor products for our automotive and consumer electronics customers.
- Signal Chain Chips: Our revenue from sales of signal chain chips increased by 36.6% from RMB705.3 million in 2023 to RMB963.3 million in 2024, primarily due to an increase in our sales volume of signal chain chips from 1,625.0 million units in 2023 to 2,260.8 million units in 2024, as a result of (i) growing demand from the downstream consumer electronics and automotive electronics sectors, for example, the increase in sales of our microphone signal conditioning ASIC chips and isolators; and (ii) our continuous efforts to expand our customer base and product portfolio through ongoing market development and new product launches.
- Power Management Chips: Our revenue from sales of power management chips increased by 64.4% from RMB427.8 million in 2023 to RMB703.2 million in 2024, primarily due to an increase in our sales volume of power management chips from 227.6 million units in 2023 to 448.9 million units in 2024 as a result of steady growth in the NEV industry during the year, which led to a significant year-on-year increase in sales of gate drivers within our power management product portfolio.

Comparison between 2023 and 2022: Our revenue decreased by 21.5% from RMB1,670.4 million in 2022 to RMB1,310.9 million in 2023, primarily due to the decrease in revenue from signal chain chips and power management chips, mainly as a result of intensified price competition from leading global companies, which led us to adjust our product pricing accordingly.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

- Sensor Products: Our revenue from sales of sensor products increased by 49.2% from RMB111.1 million in 2022 to RMB165.8 million in 2023, primarily due to (i) an increase in our sales volume of sensor products from 53.2 million units in 2022 to 63.0 million units in 2023 as a result of the successful integration of our new magnetic sensor products into the products of certain of our end customers, which drove higher demand and order volumes in 2023, and (ii) increase in average selling price of sensor products, primarily because more temperature and humidity sensor products and pressure sensor products were sold relative to magnetic sensor products, and temperature and humidity sensor products and pressure sensor products typically carried substantially higher prices than magnetic sensor products.
- Signal Chain Chips: Our revenue from sales of signal chain chips decreased by 32.5% from RMB1,045.7 million in 2022 to RMB705.3 million in 2023, primarily due to (i) weakened customer demand for products such as isolators and signal conditioning chips which were commonly used in energy and industrial automation sectors, as end customers in the energy and industrial automation sectors were undergoing an inventory destocking phase and (ii) a decline in our average selling prices of signal chain chips in response to intensified market competition. Although the sales volume of signal chain chips increased from 2022 to 2023, the increase was mainly a result of increased sales of certain products used for consumer electronics, which typically carried lower selling prices.
- Power Management Chips: Our revenue from sales of power management chips decreased by 16.1% from RMB509.8 million in 2022 to RMB427.8 million in 2023, primarily due to (i) a decrease in our sales volume of power management chips from 236.3 million units in 2022 to 227.6 million units in 2023, and (ii) a decrease in average selling price of power management chips from 2.16 RMB/unit in 2022 to 1.88 RMB/unit in 2023, due to the weakened customer demand, as end customers in the energy and industrial automation sectors (the PV and power storage sectors, in particular) were undergoing an inventory destocking phase.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

As a fabless company, our cost of sales mainly consists of (i) material costs, which primarily included costs for wafers and PCBs, (ii) processing fees primarily related to product packaging and testing, (iii) other costs, which primarily included labor costs, quality inspection fees, IP licensing fees and depreciation and amortization, and (iv) impairment loss of inventories. In 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, our cost of sales amounted to RMB860.1 million, RMB866.9 million, RMB1,410.9 million, RMB597.1 million and RMB1,023.0 million, respectively. Material costs is the largest component of our cost of sales, accounting for 46.1%, 45.4%, 47.1%, 44.9% and 46.2% of our cost of sales for the same years/periods. The increase in material costs, particularly since 2024, was primarily due to a change in product mix to include certain products for which the cost includes a higher proportion of material costs relative to other costs such as processing fees.

The following table sets forth a breakdown of our cost of sales by products, in absolute amounts and as percentages of our total cost of sales, for the years/periods indicated:

(1) Others primarily included our costs incurred for customization services and sales of ancillary components.

Our cost of sales increased by 0.8% from RMB860.1 million in 2022 to RMB866.9 million in 2023, and further increased by 62.8% to RMB1,410.9 million in 2024, and increased by 71.3% from RMB597.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB1,023.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2025, which was generally in line with our sales expansion and business growth. Our impairment loss of inventories increased from RMB25.1 million in 2022 to RMB61.8 million in 2023, and further to RMB91.6 million in 2024, primarily due to our recognition of inventory impairment for ageing products. Our impairment loss of inventories remained relatively stable at RMB36.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and RMB35.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Note:

(1) Others primarily included our revenue from customization services and sales of ancillary components.

Our gross profit margin decreased from 48.5% in 2022 to 33.9% in 2023, and further decreased to 28.0% in 2024. The gross profit margins of our three main categories of products, namely sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips, also experienced a consistent decrease from 2022 to 2023 and further to 2024. The decrease in gross profit margins from 2022 to 2024 was mainly because of the intense market competition from leading global analog IC companies, which led us to adjust our prices to remain competitive price-wise. However, the rate of the overall gross profit margin decline from 2023 to 2024 was relatively smaller than the decline from 2022 to 2023, primarily due to our cost-saving efforts, including enhanced manufacturing efficiency and more effective control over production costs.

Our gross profit margin increased from 29.7% in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 32.9% in the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in gross profit margins was mainly because of (i) increasing demand from downstream markets; (ii) our strategic optimization of our product mix, which led to a decreased sales contribution from products with lower gross margins; and (iii) implementation of cost-reduction initiatives that lowered our overall cost of production including material costs and packaging and testing costs. The gross profit margin for our signal chain chips slightly decreased primarily because we adopted competitive pricing to secure market share and remain competitive price-wise.

Comparison between the six months ended June 30, 2025 and the six months ended June 30, 2024: Our selling and marketing expenses increased by 28.7% from RMB85.5 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB110.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to the increase in employee compensation of RMB35.4 million attributable to the increase in the number of sales personnel (including as a result of the acquisition of MagnTek), and partially offset by the decrease in equity-settled share-based transactions, as the amount recognized in the first half of 2025 was limited to the amortization of the final vesting period under our Restricted Share Incentive Plans.

Comparison between 2024 and 2023: Our selling and marketing expenses increased by 60.9% from RMB117.4 million in 2023 to RMB188.9 million in 2024, primarily due to the increase in employee compensation of RMB58.6 million attributable primarily to the increase in the number of sales personnel from 125 in 2023 to 191 in 2024 to support our global market operation, launch and promotion of new products and acquisition and maintenance of relationship with key customers.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Comparison between 2023 and 2022: Our selling and marketing expenses increased by 67.8% from RMB70.0 million in 2022 to RMB117.4 million in 2023, primarily due to (i) the increase in employee compensation of RMB23.6 million, attributable primarily to the increasing sales personnel salaries and the increase in sales personnel from 93 in 2022 to 125 in 2023 to support our global market operation, launch and promotion of new products and acquisition and maintenance of relationship with key customers and (ii) the increase in equity-settled share-based transactions of RMB10.2 million, primarily in relation to our employee share incentive plans.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Comparison between the six months ended June 30, 2025 and the six months ended June 30, 2024: Our other net income remained relatively stable at RMB41.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 and RMB41.7 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Comparison between 2024 and 2023: Our other net income decreased by 37.7% from RMB158.2 million in 2023 to RMB98.5 million in 2024, primarily due to (i) the decrease in investment income on wealth management products and (ii) the decrease in value-added tax deduction. Starting from September 2023, we were eligible for the preferential value-added tax deduction policies applicable to IC enterprises, which was promulgated by the PRC Ministry of Finance and the State Taxation Administration. The value-added tax deduction was higher in 2023 compared to 2024, because of payments for our purchase of an office building in Shanghai and the construction of office building in Suzhou, which resulted in higher value-added tax deductions.

Comparison between 2023 and 2022: Our other net income increased by 31.9% from RMB119.9 million in 2022 to RMB158.2 million in 2023, primarily due to the increase in (i) value-added tax deduction. The abovementioned value-added tax deduction policies was promulgated in 2023, as a result of which we did not record any such value-added tax deduction in 2022, (ii) investment income on wealth management products and (iii) bank interest income as a result of increased bank deposit.

Government grants we received during the Track Record Period mainly represented (i) the financial support we received from relevant local governments to incentivize our R&D projects and (ii) job-subsidy program of local authorities in the PRC according to the respective local government policies. Our government grants are typically non-recurring in nature with no unfulfilled conditions or contingencies attached to them, and the amount of the grants were subject to the discretion of the relevant government authority. See “Risk Factors – Failure to obtain or maintain any of the government grants or preferential tax treatments could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition” for more details.

Impairment Loss on Trade Receivables

We recognized impairment loss on trade receivables of RMB6.7 million, RMB0.6 million, RMB13.5 million, RMB8.1 million and RMB3.7 million in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, primarily due to changes in the balances of trade and bills receivables and other receivables at the end of the respective years/periods, which impacted the provisions for expected credit losses.

Comparison between the six months ended June 30, 2025 and the six months ended June 30, 2024: Our impairment loss on trade receivables decreased by 53.5% from RMB8.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB3.7 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to the reversal of a previously recognized impairment provision of other receivables in the first half of 2024 as the receivables were subsequently recovered.

Comparison between 2024 and 2023: Our impairment loss on trade receivables increased from RMB0.6 million in 2023 to RMB13.5 million in 2024, primarily due to the expansion of our sales during 2024. As a result, the balance of trade and other receivables as of the end of 2024 increased substantially compared to the end of 2023, leading to a higher provision for expected credit losses based on aging analysis.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Comparison between 2023 and 2022: Our impairment loss on trade receivables decreased from RMB6.7 million in 2022 to RMB0.6 million in 2023, as the balance of trade and other receivables at the end of 2023 did not experience significant increase compared to the end of 2022. Accordingly, the provision for expected credit losses based on aging analysis was relatively small in 2023.

Comparison between 2024 and 2023: Our finance costs increased by 157.5% from RMB6.4 million in 2023 to RMB16.4 million in 2024, primarily due to the increase in loans resulting from our business expansion including the acquisition of MagnTek and the purchase of an office building for our subsidiary, Shanghai Naxi.

Comparison between 2023 and 2022: Our finance costs decreased by 14.4% from RMB7.5 million in 2022 to RMB6.4 million in 2023, primarily due to the decrease in loans and lease liabilities resulting from the decrease of interest rate on loans in 2023.

Share of Losses and Provision for Impairment of Associates

We recognized share of losses and provision for impairment of associates of RMB20.0 million, RMB8.2 million, RMB6.3 million, RMB1.6 million and RMB2.4 million in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, primarily due to losses incurred by certain associates and the impairment loss recognized in respect of our investment in an associate, Xiangyang Zhenxin Sensing Technology Co., Ltd., during the respective years/periods.

In 2022, our effective tax rate calculated as our income tax expense divided by our profit before taxation, was 1.2%, which was lower than the 25% statutory rate, primarily because we and our subsidiaries enjoyed preferential tax treatments. See Note 7 to the Accountants' Report in Appendix I to this prospectus for more details.

Our income tax expense increased by 173.4% from RMB3.0 million in 2022 to RMB8.3 million in 2023, primarily because the reversal of deferred tax in 2023. In 2024, our income tax expense turned into a net tax credit of RMB1.3 million (comprised a current income tax expense of RMB4.1 million, offset by a deferred tax credit of RMB5.4 million), representing a 115.4% decrease from 2023, primarily due to the increase in our loss before taxation. Our income tax benefit increased by 183.4% from RMB4.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 to RMB11.6 million in the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily because of increase in deferred tax as a result of equity-settled share-based transactions.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Profit/(Loss) for the Years/Periods

As a result of the foregoing, we recorded profit of RMB250.1 million in 2022 and loss of RMB305.3 million in 2023 and RMB402.9 million in 2024. We recorded loss of RMB265.3 million and RMB78.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, respectively. Our losses during the Track Record Period were primarily due to (i) intensified market competition, which led us to adjust our product prices to remain competitive price-wise, (ii) our substantial investment in R&D and market expansion, and (iii) equity-settled share-based transactions in relation to the implementation of a restricted share incentive plan following our A-share listing. While we still recorded net loss, our net loss margin (calculated as loss for the period divided by total revenue) significantly reduced from 31.2% for the six months ended June 30, 2024 to 5.0% for the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily because of (i) increasing demand from downstream markets; (ii) our strategic optimization of our product mix, which led to a decreased sales contribution from products with lower gross margins; and (iii) implementation of cost-reduction initiatives that lowered our overall cost of production including material costs and packaging and testing costs. Additionally, our selling and marketing expenses, administrative expenses and R&D expenses, as percentages to revenue, consistently decreased from the six months ended June 30, 2024 to the same period in 2025, as a result of (i) our efforts to optimize expense management and enhance operational efficiency, resulting in a more cost-effective allocation of resources, and (ii) a reduction in equity-settled share-based transactions. We plan to improve our profitability by implementing business initiatives of achieving sustained growth in revenue, managing gross profit profile and enhancing operating efficiency. See “Business – Challenges to our Industry and Business” for more details.

Measures to Improve Net Operating Cash Position and Working Capital Efficiency

We have adopted the following measures to improve our net operating cash position and enhance working capital efficiency: (1) increasing product sales through continuous product innovation and multi-channel marketing to increase cash inflows; (2) establishing a comprehensive customer credit management policy applicable to all customers, including direct sales customers and distributors, to monitor and strengthen the collection of receivables, including obtaining information from distributors, such as transaction records and other relevant data, which are reviewed by our sales and legal department before we grant credit terms. This process allows us to establish an appropriate credit limit that aligns with the customer's risk profile. We also conduct ongoing monitoring of our customers' payment patterns and financial condition to proactively identify potential credit issues; (3) optimizing supplier negotiations and strategic partnerships to extend credit terms; and (4) improving procurement efficiency by implementing a supplier comparison mechanism to reduce procurement costs and reinforcing inventory management to reduce long-aged stock.

We have evaluated and made provisions of inventory impairment based on the current market conditions and historical experience of selling production of similar nature, and net realizable value of the inventory. See Note 19(b) to the Accountants' Report in Appendix I to this prospectus for more details.

The following table sets forth the turnover days of our inventories for the years/periods indicated:

	Year ended December 31,			Six months ended
	2022	2023	2024	June 30,
				2025
Inventory turnover days ⁽¹⁾	172	294	211	166

Note:

- (1) Average inventory turnover days were calculated based on the average of the beginning and ending balances of inventories of a given year/period divided by the cost of sales for that corresponding year/period and multiplied by the number of days in that year/period.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Our inventory turnover days increased from 172 days in 2022 to 294 days in 2023, primarily due to a period of inventory adjustment among our end customers, which resulted in decreased demand for our products and consequently slower inventory turnover. Our inventory turnover days decreased from 294 days in 2023 to 211 days in 2024 and further decreased to 166 days in the first half of 2025, primarily due to our increased sales and enhanced inventory management.

As of September 30, 2025, RMB753.0 million, or 67.6% of our inventory as of June 30, 2025 had been utilized or sold. Our Directors confirm that there are no recoverability issues for our inventories, and that sufficient provision has been made in view of the low subsequent utilization.

Contract Costs

Our contract costs represented the costs we incurred in relation to provision of customization services to our customers. These costs will not be immediately recognized as cost of sales before the check and acceptance by our customers. Our contract costs increased from RMB12.4 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB22.4 million as of December 31, 2023, as we incurred more costs in preparation of provisions for customization services. Our contract costs decreased from RMB22.4 million as of December 31, 2023 to RMB9.7 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily because (i) some of the costs incurred have been recognized as our cost of sales as the customization services we provided have been checked and accepted by our customers and (ii) we made provisions to contract costs in 2024. Our contract costs increased from RMB9.7 million as of December 31, 2024 to RMB11.0 million as of June 30, 2025, primarily because we incurred more costs in the provisions for customization services.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Our balance of trade and other receivables increased from RMB389.7 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB470.2 million as of December 31, 2023 and further increased to RMB647.0 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily due to (i) our business expansion and (ii) we granted more flexible credit periods to a few major customers on a case by case basis, based on our comprehensive assessment. Our balance of trade and other receivables increased from RMB647.0 million as of December 31, 2024 to RMB923.8 million as of June 30, 2025, in line with our business growth and revenue increase.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Our trade receivables and bills receivables turnover days increased from 34 days in 2022 to 53 days in 2023, and further to 57 days in 2024, primarily due to an increased proportion of revenue generated from direct sales customers, to whom we generally granted longer credit terms. Our trade receivables and bills receivables turnover days further increased to 60 days in line with our business expansion and corresponding increase in trade receivable amount.

During the Track Record Period, we did not experience any significant losses associated with our trade receivables and the increase in our trade receivables did not have any material adverse impact on our liquidity or cash flows.

As of September 30, 2025, RMB544.0 million, or 87.3% of our total trade and bill receivables as of June 30, 2025, had been settled.

Interest-bearing Borrowings

Our current interest-bearing borrowings increased from RMB21.4 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB264.1 million as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to additional bank loans obtained for business operations. Our current interest-bearing borrowings decreased from RMB264.1 million as of December 31, 2023 to RMB62.4 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily because we partially repaid the loan principals in 2024. Our current interest-bearing borrowings increased from RMB62.4 million as of December 31, 2024 to RMB69.6 million as of June 30, 2025, primarily due to the reclassification of a portion of our long-term borrowings to short-term borrowings upon maturity. Property, Plant and Equipment

Our property, plant and equipment primarily consist of general equipment, special equipment, motor vehicles, buildings, construction in process and leasehold improvements. The following table sets forth the breakdown of our property, plant and equipment as of the dates indicated:

	As of December 31,			As of
	RMB'000	RMB'000	RMB'000	2025

Total	544,023	1,284,570	1,523,589	1,587,087

Our property, plant and equipment increased from RMB544.0 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB1,284.6 million as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to an increase in construction in progress attributable to our office building in construction. Our property, plant and equipment increased from RMB1,284.6 million as of December 31, 2023 to RMB1,523.6 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily due to (i) the increase in buildings attributable to (a) our purchase of a building in Shanghai for R&D and office use and (b) the continued construction of our office buildings in Suzhou, which resulted in the increase in buildings and decrease in construction in progress, and (ii) the increase in our purchase of special equipment for our product design and production. Our property, plant and equipment remained relatively stable at RMB1,523.6 million as of December 31, 2024 and RMB1,587.1 million as of June 30, 2025.

Right-of-use Assets

Our right-of-use assets primarily consist of leasehold buildings. Our right-of-use assets decreased, from RMB25.0 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB23.2 million as of December 31, 2023, RMB16.4 million as of December 31, 2024 and further to RMB15.7 million as of June 30, 2025, mainly due to depreciation of our right-of-use assets.

Our Directors assessed if there is any indication of impairment for the property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and intangible assets at the end of each reporting period, and, where any such indication exists, determined the recoverable amount of these assets, which are the higher of their fair value less costs of disposal and their value in use. Based on our assessment, we did not make any impairment for the property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets or intangible assets in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Intangible Assets

Our intangible assets primarily consist of software, intellectual properties and patents. The following table sets forth the breakdown of our intangible assets as of the dates indicated:

	As of December 31,			As of
	2022	2023	2024	June 30,
				RMB'000
Software	27,549	41,917	71,527	56,749
Intellectual properties	579	3,102	2,306	1,908
Patents	—	—	316,899	300,785
Total	28,128	45,019	390,732	359,442

Our intangible assets increased from RMB28.1 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB45.0 million as of December 31, 2023, mainly due to the increase in software attributable to our purchase of software. Our intangible assets increased from RMB45.0 million as of December 31, 2023 to RMB390.7 million as of December 31, 2024, mainly due to our acquisition of MagnTek, which granted us its patents portfolio. Our intangible assets decreased from RMB390.7 million as of December 31, 2024 to RMB359.4 million as of June 30, 2025, primarily due to intangible asset depreciation.

Goodwill

We recorded goodwill of RMB504.1 million as of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2025. Our acquired goodwill arose from our acquisitions of MagnTek and Shanghai Lairui and Shanghai Liuci in October 2024. See “History and Corporate Structure – Major Acquisitions, Disposals and Mergers – Acquisition of MagnTek” for more details. The goodwill is not deductible for income tax purposes. Assumptions were used in the value in use calculation of the cash-generating units (“CGU”) as of June 30, 2025. As of June 30, 2025, the recoverable amount of the MagnTek CGU exceeded its carrying amount by RMB220.9 million, and no impairment was recognized. Based on our sensitivity analysis, we believe that no reasonably possible change in key assumptions would result in the carrying amount of the CGU exceeding its recoverable amount. The following sets forth details of impairment testing for our goodwill:

Goodwill is allocated to our CGUs as follows:

	As at	As at
	December 31,	June 30,
	2024	2025
	RMB'000	RMB'000
MagnTek Group	504,142	504,142

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The recoverable amount of the CGU is determined based on value-in-use calculations. We engaged an independent professional valuer to assist with the calculation. These calculations use cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using an estimated terminal growth rate of 0%. The discount rate used is pre-tax and reflect specific risks relating to the relevant industry, the CGUs themselves and macro-environment. The key assumptions used in estimating the recoverable amount are as follows:

	As at December 31, 2024	As at June 30, 2025
Annual revenue growth rate during the forecast period (i):	from 10% to 20%	from 10% to 25%
	from 45.83% to	from 45.83% to
Gross profit margin	49.19%	49.19%
Growth rate beyond the forecast period	0%	0%
Pre-tax discount rate	11.75%	12.02%

- (i) The basis used to determine the value assigned to the annual growth rate of revenue was based on the average growth levels experienced over the past years and the estimated sales volume and price growth for the next five years.

	As at December 31, 2024 RMB'000	As at June 30, 2025 RMB'000

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Our management have undertaken sensitivity analysis on the impairment test of goodwill. The following table sets out the hypothetical changes to annual growth rate during the 5-year forecast, gross margin rate and discount rate that would, in isolation, have removed the remaining headroom respectively as at December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2025:

	MagnTek Group
	As at
	December 31,	As at June 30,
	2024	2025
Compound annual growth rate of revenue during the 5-year forecast period	-2.0%	-5.6%
Gross margin rate	-2.1%	-6.0%
Pre-tax discount rate	+6.2%	+54.2%

We perform impairment test on goodwill at each reporting date. The recoverable amount of the CGU based on the value-in-use (“VIU”) calculations is higher than its carrying amount as at December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2025. With regard to the assessment of the VIU of the CGUs, our Directors believe that any reasonably possible change in any of the above key assumptions would not cause the carrying value, including goodwill, of the CGUs to exceed the recoverable amounts.

Interest-bearing Borrowings

Our non-current interest-bearing borrowings increased from RMB7.0 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB330.4 million as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to our subsidiary, Shanghai Naxi, obtaining bank financing for the purchase of an office building. Our non-current interest-bearing borrowings increased from RMB330.4 million as of December 31, 2023 to RMB791.4 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily because we sought financing for the acquisition of MagnTek in 2024. Our non-current interest-bearing borrowings increased from RMB791.4 million as of December 31, 2024 to RMB808.7 million as of June 30, 2025, primarily due to new drawdowns made by us under existing facilities in the first half of 2025 for the acquisition of MagnTek. As of December 31, 2022, the range of the effective interest rate of our non-current interest-bearing borrowings was 3.8% per annum, as of December 31, 2023, the effective interest rate of our non-current interest-bearing borrowings was 2.68% per annum, as of December 31, 2024, the effective interest rate of our non-current interest-bearing borrowings was 2.69% per annum, and as of June 30, 2025, the effective interest rate of our non-current interest-bearing borrowings was 2.69% per annum.

Our non-current interest-bearing borrowings during the Track Record Period were primarily used for business operation purposes, and the purchase of an office building by Shanghai Naxi and our acquisition of MagnTek. As of September 30, 2025, all of our non-current interest-bearing borrowings were fixed-rate borrowings, and all of our borrowings were denominated in Renminbi.

During the Track Record Period, we entered into certain related party transactions from time to time, primarily related to the compensation of our key management personnel. See Note 34 to the Accountants' Report in Appendix I to this prospectus for more details. Our Directors believe that our transactions with related parties during the Track Record Period were conducted in the ordinary and usual course of business and on an arm's length basis, and they did not distinct our results of operations or make our historical results not reflective of our future performance.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

DIVIDENDS

Dividend distribution to our shareholders is recognized as a liability in the period in which the dividends are approved by our shareholders or Directors, as appropriate. During the Track Record Period, we paid dividends of RMB80.9 million, RMB80.9 million, nil and nil in 2022, 2023, 2024 and the six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively.

We do not have any pre-determined dividend payout ratio or formal dividend policy. Pursuant to our Articles of Association and in accordance with the Company Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國公司法》) and the No. 3 Guideline for the Supervision of Listed Companies – Cash Dividend Distribution of Listed Companies (2025 Revision) (《上市公司監管指引第3號—上市公司現金分紅(2025年修訂)》), we have adopted a general annual dividend policy, according to which we may declare dividend by way of cash dividends, stock dividends, or a combination of cash and stock dividends. We prioritize cash dividends. Where specific conditions are met, we shall distribute cash dividends in an amount not less than 10% of the distributable profit realized for that year after making the required appropriations to statutory reserves. The aforementioned specific conditions include: (i) we have realized positive distributable profits for the relevant year; (ii) our cumulative distributable profits as of such year remain positive; (iii) our auditors are able to issue an unconditioned opinion on our financial statements for the relevant year; (iv) we have sufficient capital resources, profitability and cash flow to support our ongoing and long-term operations; (v) we do not anticipate any material investment plans or capital expenditures in the next twelve months; and (vi) there are no other material circumstances that would cause our shareholders' meeting to approve a resolution not to distribute cash dividends. However, any proposed distribution of dividends is subject to the discretion of our Board and the approval at our Shareholders' meetings. Our Board may recommend a distribution of dividends in the future after taking into account our results of operations, financial condition, operating requirements, capital requirements, shareholders' interests and any other conditions that our Board may deem relevant.

As advised by our PRC Legal Advisor, pursuant to the provisions of the PRC Company Law, only the residual after-tax profits of the Company after it has made up for its losses and accrued reserves may be used to distribute dividends.

LISTING EXPENSES

Listing expenses represent professional fees, underwriting commissions and other fees (such as the discretionary incentive fee) incurred in connection with the Global Offering. We estimate that our listing expenses will be approximately RMB105.2 million (or HK$115.6 million, representing 5.2% of the gross proceeds from the Global Offering) (assuming an Offer Price of HK$116.00 per Offer Share (being the maximum Offer Price) and no exercise of the Over-allotment Option), of which (i) approximately RMB101.5 million, directly attributable to the issue of our Offer Shares, will be subsequently charged to equity upon completion of the proposed Listing, (ii) approximately RMB3.7 million will be expensed in our consolidated statements of profit or loss for the year ended December 31, 2025.

Notes:

- (1) Current ratio was calculated by dividing current assets by current liabilities.
- (2) Liability-to-asset ratio was calculated by dividing total liabilities by total assets.
- (3) Gearing ratio was calculated by dividing total indebtedness by total equity.
- (4) Compared to the same period in 2024.

Current Ratio

Our current ratio decreased from 17.5 times in 2022 to 9.1 times in 2023 and further decreased to 6.2 times in 2024, primarily due to an increase in trade payables in line with our growing procurement needs during the Track Record Period. Our current ratio remained relatively stable at 6.3 times for the first half of 2025. In addition, given the relatively low base of our current liabilities, even small changes in current liabilities may lead to fluctuations in our current ratio. Nevertheless, our current ratio remained above 1.0 throughout the Track Record Period, indicating a healthy level of liquidity.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Liability-to-asset Ratio

Our liability-to-asset ratio increased from 5.1% in 2022 to 13.3% in 2023, primarily due to the addition of interest-bearing bank borrowings by our subsidiary, Shanghai Naxi, which obtained an external loan to fund the purchase of an office building. Our liability-to-asset ratio increased from 13.3% in 2023 to 22.5% in 2024, primarily due to the acquisition of MagnTek in 2024, for which we obtained an external loan to finance the acquisition. Our current ratio remained relatively stable at 22.2% for the first half of 2025.

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT FINANCIAL RISKS

Credit Risk

We trade only with recognized and creditworthy third parties. It is our policy that all customers who wish to trade on credit terms are subject to credit verification procedures. There are no significant concentrations of credit risk for trade receivables from third parties as our customer bases are dispersed. In addition, receivable balances are monitored on an ongoing basis. For transactions that are not denominated in the functional currency of the relevant operating unit, we do not offer credit terms without the specific approval of our credit control department. See Note 32(a) to the Accountants' Report set out in Appendix I to this prospectus for more details.

Liquidity Risk

We monitor the risk in relation to shortage of funds through using a recurring liquidity planning tool. This tool considers the maturity of both its financial instruments and financial assets, such as trade receivables and projected cash flows from operations. Our objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility through the use of internally generated cash flows from operations.

For the maturity profile of our financial liabilities as of December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 and June 30, 2025, please see Note 32(b) to the Accountants' Report set out in Appendix I to this prospectus.

Foreign Currency Risk

We have transactional currency exposures. Such exposures arise from sales or purchases by operating units in currencies other than our functional currencies. For a sensitivity analysis of a reasonably possible change in the USD exchange rates, with all other variables held constant, of our profit/(loss) after tax for each year of the Track Record Period, please see Note 32(d) to the Accountants' Report set out in Appendix I to this prospectus.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA ADJUSTED COMBINED NET TANGIBLE ASSETS

Please see Appendix IIB to this prospectus for details.

Cost of Sales

Cost of Sales of MagnTek consists of (i) material costs, (ii) processing fees, (iii) other costs and (iv) impairment loss of inventories.

The following table sets out a breakdown of the cost of sales of MagnTek by nature in absolute amounts and as percentages of MagnTek's cost of sales for the years/periods indicated:

	Year ended December 31,				Period ended October 18,

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Cost of Sales of MagnTek increased from RMB126.8 million in 2022 to RMB151.6 million in 2023, primarily because of (i) the business expansion of MagnTek and (ii) the higher wafer procurement costs. Certain wafers were procured in 2022 at high prices but the products produced from these wafers were sold in 2023, which resulted in higher costs recognized in 2023. Cost of Sales of MagnTek increased from RMB118.9 million for the period ended October 18, 2023 to RMB169.6 million for the period ended October 18, 2024, primarily due to the business expansion of MagnTek.

Gross Profit and Gross Profit Margin

Gross profit of MagnTek decreased from RMB141.8 million in 2022 to RMB138.4 million in 2023. Gross profit of MagnTek increased from RMB110.7 million for the period ended October 18, 2023 to RMB166.4 million for the period ended October 18, 2024.

The table below sets forth a breakdown of the gross profit and gross profit margin of MagnTek by products for the years/periods indicated:

	Year ended December 31,				Period ended October 18,
	2022		2023		2023		2024
	Gross Profit	Gross Margin	Gross Profit	Gross Margin	Gross Profit	Gross Margin	Gross Profit	Gross Margin

Total	141,777	52.8	138,377	47.7	110,672	48.2	166,384	49.5

Gross profit margin of MagnTek decreased from 52.8% in 2022 to 47.7% in 2023, primarily because (i) we adopted more competitive pricing strategies to sensor products used in the PV sector and (ii) we sold a greater proportion of low-margin products in 2023. Gross profit margin of MagnTek slightly increased from 48.2% for the period ended October 18, 2023 to 49.5% for the period ended October 18, 2024, primarily due to the decrease in the wafer procurement costs in 2024 compared to 2023.

Other Net Income

Other net income of MagnTek consists of bank interest income, changes in fair value of wealth management products, government grants, net foreign exchange gain/(loss), value-added tax deduction and net losses on disposal of property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets. Other net income of MagnTek amounted to RMB5.9 million in 2022 and RMB12.5 million in 2023. Other net income of MagnTek amounted to RMB5.5 million for the period ended October 18, 2023 and RMB3.9 million for the period ended October 18, 2024. The relatively higher amount of other net income in 2023, as compared to 2022 and for the period ended October 18, 2024, was primarily because of the increase in the government grants received by MagnTek in that year.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Selling and Marketing Expenses

Selling and marketing expenses of MagnTek consist of employee compensation, equity-settled share-based transactions, promotion and advertising expenses, business entertainment expenses, traveling expenses and depreciation and amortization.

Assuming an Offer Price of HK$116.00, being the maximum Offer Price stated in this prospectus, the total number of Offer Shares to be subscribed for by the Cornerstone Investors would be 9,388,200 Offer Shares, representing approximately 49.23% of the Offer Shares pursuant to the Global Offering and approximately 5.81% of our total issued share capital immediately upon completion of the Global Offering (assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans).

The Cornerstone Placing will form part of the International Offering, and, save as otherwise obtained consent from the Stock Exchange, the Cornerstone Investors and their respective close associates will not subscribe for any Offer Shares under the Global Offering (other than pursuant to the Cornerstone Investment Agreements). The Offer Shares to be subscribed by the Cornerstone Investors will rank pari passu in all respects with the other fully paid H Shares in issue following the Global Offering of our Company and will be counted towards the public float of our Company under Rule 19A.13A of the Listing Rules and in compliance with the requirement under Rule 8.08(3) of the Listing Rules. Immediately following the completion of the Global Offering, the Cornerstone Investors or their close associates will not, by virtue of their cornerstone investments, have any Board representation in our Company; and none of the Cornerstone Investors and their close associates will become a substantial Shareholder. Other than a guaranteed allocation of the relevant Offer Shares at the final Offer Price, the Cornerstone Investors do not have any preferential rights under each of their respective Cornerstone Investment Agreements, as compared with other public Shareholders.

CORNERSTONE INVESTORS

To the best knowledge of our Company, each of the Cornerstone Investors is (i) an Independent Third Party and is not a connected person as defined under the Listing Rules; (ii) independent of the Group, the Group's connected persons and their associates, not a connected person or close associate of the Group, and not an existing shareholder or a close associate of any existing shareholder of the Group, (iii) not accustomed to take instructions from our Company, our Directors, chief executive, the Single Largest Shareholder Group, substantial Shareholders or existing Shareholders or any of our subsidiaries or their respective close associates in relation to the acquisition, disposal, voting, or other disposition of Shares registered in its name or otherwise held by it; and (iv) not, directly or indirectly, financed, funded or backed by our Company, our Directors, chief executive, the Single Largest Shareholder Group, substantial Shareholders or existing Shareholders or any of our subsidiaries or their respective close associates. In addition, to the best knowledge of our Company, save as otherwise disclosed in this prospectus, each of the Cornerstone Investors is independent from each other and makes independent investment decisions.

As confirmed by the Cornerstone Investors, each Cornerstone Investor's subscription under the Cornerstone Placing would be financed by its own internal financial resources, financial resources of its shareholders or the assets managed for its investors (in the case of Cornerstone Investors which are funds or investment managers), and it has sufficient funds to settle its respective investment under the Cornerstone Placing. There are no side agreements or arrangements between our Company and the Cornerstone Investors or any benefit, direct or indirect, conferred on the Cornerstone Investors by virtue of or in relation to the Global Offering or Listing, other than a guaranteed allocation of the relevant Offer Shares at the final Offer Price, following the principles as set out in Chapter 4.15 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants. Each of the Cornerstone Investors has confirmed that all necessary approvals have been obtained with respect to the Cornerstone Placing and that no specific approval from its shareholder(s) or any stock exchange (if relevant) is required for the relevant Cornerstone Placing.

The Cornerstone Investors have agreed to pay for the relevant Offer Shares that they have subscribed before dealings in the H Shares commence on the Stock Exchange. Certain Cornerstone Investors, including Oriza Naxin, 3W Fund, Hield International, Golden Link, Dream'ee HK Fund and Green Better have agreed that our Company and the Overall Coordinators may in their sole discretion defer to the delivery of all or part of the Offer Shares they will subscribe to on a date later than the Listing Date. Such delayed delivery arrangement is in place to facilitate the over-allocation in the International Offering. There will be no delayed delivery if there is no over-allocation in the International Offering. Where delayed delivery takes place, (i) there would be delayed delivery of Offer Shares to the aforementioned Cornerstone Investors based on commercial negotiations with the Cornerstone Investors; (ii) the delayed delivery date should be no later than three business days following the last day on which the Over-allotment Option may be exercised; (iii) no extra payment will be made to the relevant Cornerstone Investors for the purpose of the delayed delivery arrangement; and (iv) each of the Cornerstone Investors has agreed that it shall nevertheless pay for the relevant Offer Shares in full before the Listing. As such, there will not be any deferred settlement in payment by the Cornerstone Investors.

CORNERSTONE INVESTORS

To the best knowledge of the Company and the Overall Coordinators, and based on the indicative interest of investment of the Cornerstone Investors and/or their close associates as of the date of this prospectus, certain Cornerstone Investors and/or their close associates may participate in the International Offering as placees and subscribe for further Offer Shares in the Global Offering. The Company will seek the Stock Exchange's consent and/or waiver to allow the Cornerstone Investors and/or their close associates to participate in the International Offering as placees pursuant to Chapter 4.15 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants. Whether such Cornerstone Investors and/or their close associates will place orders in the International Offering and the allocation to such investors as placees in the International Offering are uncertain and will be subject to the final investment decisions of such investors and the terms and conditions of the Global Offering.

The total number of Offer Shares to be subscribed for by the Cornerstone Investors under the Cornerstone Investment Agreements may be affected by reallocation of the Offer Shares between the International Offering and the Hong Kong Public Offering in the event of over-subscription under the Hong Kong Public Offering, as described in the paragraphs headed "Structure of the Global Offering – The Hong Kong Public Offering – Reallocation" in this prospectus. The number of Offer Shares to be acquired by each Cornerstone Investor may be reduced in accordance with the terms of the Cornerstone Investment Agreements to satisfy the short fall, after taking into account the requirements under the Listing Rules as well as the discretion of the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the International Underwriters) to exercise the Over-allotment Option. Details of the actual number of Offer Shares to be allocated to each of the Cornerstone Investors will be disclosed in the allotment results announcement to be issued by the Company on or around December 5, 2025.

We believe that the Cornerstone Placing demonstrates our Cornerstone Investors' confidence in our Company and our business prospect, and will help raise the profile of our Company. Our Company became acquainted with each of the Cornerstone Investors in our ordinary course of operation through our business network or through introduction by our business partners or the Underwriters.

In addition, all major decisions are made in consultation with members of the Board, including the relevant Board committees, and independent non-executive Directors. Our Board will reassess the division of the roles of chairman and the general manager from time to time, and may recommend dividing the two roles between different people in the future, taking into account the circumstances of our Group as a whole.

DIRECTORS AND SENIOR MANAGEMENT

Our Company has adopted a board diversity policy which sets out the approach to achieve diversity of the Board. We recognize and embrace the benefits of having a diverse Board and see increasing diversity at the Board level, including gender diversity, as an essential element in maintaining our competitive advantage and enhancing our ability to attract, retain and motivate employees from the widest possible pool of available talent. In line with our strategies, we intend to use our proceeds from the Global Offering for the purposes and in the amounts set forth below:

	2026	2027	2028	2029	2030	Total approximate % of the net proceeds
Enhancing our foundational R&D capabilities and manufacturing process platforms	21%	15%	26%	19%	21%	18%

As we broaden our product portfolio, we require a larger team of highly skilled engineers with expertise in analog design and product reliability testing. The addition of R&D personnel is essential to accelerate our innovation pipeline, enhance customization capabilities, and support the full life cycle of chip development from design to mass production:
 - (i) approximately 8% of the net proceeds, or HK$163.4 million (equivalent to approximately RMB148.8 million), will be used to enhance our product portfolio by expanding into a full-spectrum range of analog IC, ensuring coverage across key application areas. Specifically, we plan to incur additional cost in (a) procuring wafers and chip packaging and testing services for product development and supporting capacity enhancement at our packaging and testing service suppliers through investment in critical equipment and (b) recruiting and retaining 78 product development personnel in the next five years with extensive experience in sensor products, signal chain chips and power management chips to assist with the development of products that cater to the needs of end customers. By broadening our product categories, we anticipate increasing the value of our products per vehicle and further solidifying our achievement in the automotive electronics sector. We expect to incur additional cost in (a) the product certification process, (b) procuring wafers and chip packaging and testing services for product development and supporting capacity enhancement at our packaging and testing service suppliers through investment in critical equipment, and (c) recruiting and retaining 114 product development personnel in the next five years with extensive experience in automotive markets. The average annual salary for the R&D talents is expected to be RMB900 thousand to RMB1 million per person.

 - (i) approximately 11% of the net proceeds, or HK$227.0 million (equivalent to approximately RMB206.7 million) be used to build a global sales network to assist with the expansion of our sales coverage and provide prompt sales services to overseas customers. We expect to incur costs in (i) recruiting approximately 58 sales staff in the next five years, and (ii) leasing overseas office space potentially in Southeast Asia, South Korea, Japan and Europe (such as Germany), depending on business needs and market priorities;
 - (ii) approximately 6% of the net proceeds, or HK$121.3 million (equivalent to approximately RMB110.4 million) be used to acquire and engage top-tier international customers, deepening our relationships with leading global industry players. We plan to incur costs in (i) recruiting approximately 11 supply chain personnel in the next five years, and (ii) investing in overseas logistics and warehousing infrastructure to improve delivery efficiency.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

- approximately 25% of the net proceeds, or HK$524.1 million (equivalent to approximately RMB477.1 million), is expected to be used for strategic investments and/or acquisition to achieve our long-term growth strategies. We seek potential investment and acquisition opportunities in both domestic and international markets, aim to expand our product portfolio, enhance our market reach, and fortify our supply chain capabilities. We evaluate investment opportunities in semiconductor ecosystem infrastructure, including advanced packaging, testing, and process technology, to further secure our competitive edge.

Specifically, we expect target companies to (i) have a mature and relatively comprehensive product portfolio, primarily consisting of analog chips (such as power management chips, drivers, interfaces, operational amplifiers, ADCs) and sensor products (such as flow, encoder, inertial and optoelectronic sensors); (ii) focus on high-barrier applications such as industrial, automotive, medical, and home appliances, and rank within the top three in their respective market segment; (iii) have strong customer base or distribution channels; (iv) have a stable and capable R&D team; (v) adopt a fabless business model; and (vi) maintain stable profitability or demonstrate a clear path to synergistic profitability post-acquisition. Through effective industry resource integration, we will strengthen our competitive positioning and drive sustainable long-term value creation. In addition to acquisitions, we plan to explore strategic partnerships with leading technology companies, universities, and research institutions to drive collaborative innovation. According to Frost & Sullivan, it is estimated that there are 50-100 available targets in the markets. Currently, we are still in the process of searching for potential targets and have not identified any specific target, or participated in any commercial negotiation or entered into any memorandum of understanding or letter of intent with respect to any potential target.

- approximately 10% of the net proceeds, or HK$209.6 million (equivalent to approximately RMB190.8 million), is expected to be used for working capital and general corporate uses.

To the extent that the net proceeds from the Global Offering are either more or less than expected (including as a result of (i) the Offer Price being set at a price lower than the maximum Offer Price; or (ii) additional net proceeds from the exercise of the Over-allotment Option), we will adjust our allocation of the net proceeds for the above purposes on a pro rata basis.

If any part of our development plan does not proceed as planned for reasons such as changes in government policies that would render the development of any of our projects not viable, or the occurrence of force majeure events, we will carefully evaluate the situation and may reallocate the net proceeds from the Global Offering.

To the extent that the net proceeds of the Global Offering are not immediately used for the above purposes or if we are unable to put into effect any part of our plan as intended, and to the extent permitted by the relevant laws and regulations, we will only deposit such net proceeds into short-term interest-bearing accounts at licensed commercial banks and/or other authorized financial institutions (as defined under the Securities and Futures Ordinance or the applicable laws and regulations in other jurisdictions). In such event, we will comply with the appropriate disclosure requirements under the Listing Rules.

UNDERWRITING

Undertakings to the Hong Kong Underwriters pursuant to the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement

Undertakings by our Company

Pursuant to the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement, we have undertaken to each of the Joint Sponsors, the Overall Coordinators, the Joint Global Coordinators, the Joint Bookrunners, the Joint Lead Managers, the CMI and the Hong Kong Underwriters that except for the issue, offer, allotment or sale of the Offer Shares pursuant to the Global Offering (including pursuant to the exercise of the Over-Allotment Option) and the issue of any Shares pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans as disclosed in this prospectus, not to, and to procure each other member of our Group not to, without the prior written consent of the Joint Sponsors and the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Hong Kong Underwriters) and unless in compliance with the Listing Rules, at any time during the period commencing on the date of the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement and ending on, and including, the date that is six months after the Listing Date (the “First Six-Month Period”):

- (a) allot, issue, sell, accept subscription for, offer to allot, issue or sell, contract or agree to allot, issue or sell, assign, mortgage, charge, pledge, hypothecate, lend, grant or sell any option, warrant, contract or right to subscribe for or purchase, grant or purchase any option, warrant, contract or right to allot, issue or sell, or otherwise transfer or dispose of or create an Encumbrance (as defined in the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement) over, or agree to transfer or dispose of or create an Encumbrance over, either directly or indirectly, conditionally or unconditionally, or repurchase, any legal or beneficial interest in any Shares or any other securities of any member of our Group, as applicable, or any interest in any of the foregoing (including, without limitation, any securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for or that represent the right to receive, or any warrants or other rights to purchase any Shares or any other securities of any member of our Group, as applicable, or any interest in any of the foregoing) or deposit any Shares or any other securities of any member of our Group, as applicable, with a depositary in connection with the issue of depositary receipts; or
- (b) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership (legal or beneficial) of any Shares or any other securities of any member of our Group or any interest in any of the foregoing (including any securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for, or that represent the right to receive, or any warrants or other rights to purchase, any Shares); or
- (c) enter into any transaction with the same economic effect as any transaction described in (a) or (b) above; or

UNDERWRITING

- (d) offer or agree to effect any transaction set out in (a), (b) or (c) above or publicly announce any intention to do so,

in each case, whether any of the transactions specified in (a), (b) or (c) above is to be settled by delivery of Shares or other securities of any member of our Group, as applicable, or in cash or otherwise (whether or not the issue of such Shares or other securities will be completed within the First Six-Month Period).

We have further agreed that, in the event that during the six-month period commencing on the date on which the First Six-Month Period expires (the “Second Six-Month Period”) our Company enters into any of the transactions specified in (a), (b) or (c) above or offers or agrees or publicly announces an intention to, enter into any such transactions, our Company shall take all reasonable steps to ensure compliance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements relating to the avoidance of creating a disorderly or false market in the Shares or other securities of any member of our Group, where applicable.

Our Company has further agreed and undertaken to each of the Joint Sponsors, the Overall Coordinators, the Joint Global Coordinators, the Joint Bookrunners, the Joint Lead Managers, the CMIs and the Hong Kong Underwriters that we will not (i) effect any purchase of H Shares, or agree to do so, which may reduce the holdings of H Shares held by the public (as defined in Rule 8.24 of the Listing Rules) to below the minimum public float requirements specified in the Listing Rules or any waiver granted and not revoked by the Stock Exchange prior to the expiration of the Second Six-Month Period without first having obtained the prior written consent of the Joint Sponsors and the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Hong Kong Underwriters); or (ii) enter into any agreement, arrangement or transaction which shall cause or have the effect of causing the portion of the H Shares that are held by the public and that are available for trading and not subject to any disposal restrictions (whether under contract, the Listing Rules, applicable Laws or otherwise) on the Listing Date to fall below the minimum free float requirement under Rule 19A.13C of the Listing Rules.

Indemnity

We have agreed to jointly and severally indemnify the Joint Sponsors, the Overall Coordinators, the Joint Global Coordinators, the Joint Bookrunners, the Joint Lead Managers and the Hong Kong Underwriters for certain losses which they may suffer, including losses incurred arising from our performance of our obligations under the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement and any breach by our Company of the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement.

The International Offering

In connection with the International Offering, it is expected that our Company will enter into the International Underwriting Agreement with the International Underwriters, among others. Under the International Underwriting Agreement, the International Underwriters will, subject to certain conditions set out therein, severally and not jointly, agree to procure subscribers or purchasers for the International Offer Shares, failing which they agree to subscribe for or purchase their respective proportions of the International Offer Shares which are not taken up under the International Offering.

UNDERWRITING

Our Company is expected to grant to the International Underwriters the Over-allotment Option, exercisable by the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the International Underwriters) at any time from the date of the International Underwriting Agreement until Friday, January 2, 2026, being the 30th day from the last day for the lodging of applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering, to require our Company to issue and allot up to an aggregate of 2,860,200 additional Offer Shares, representing 15% of the initial Offer Shares, at the Offer Price under the International Offering to cover, among other things, over allocations (if any) in the International Offering.

It is expected the International Underwriting Agreement may be terminated on similar grounds as the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement. Potential investors shall be reminded that in the event that the International Underwriting Agreement is not entered into, the Global Offering will not proceed.

Underwriting Commission and Expenses

The Underwriters will receive an underwriting commission of 2.5% of the aggregate Offer Price of all the Offer Shares (including any Offer Shares to be issued pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option) (the “Fixed Fees”), out of which they will pay any sub-underwriting commission and other fees. For unsubscribed Hong Kong Offer Shares reallocated to the International Offering, our Company will pay an underwriting commission to the relevant International Underwriters (but not the Hong Kong Underwriters). The Company may also in its sole discretion pay the Underwriters an additional incentive fee of up to 1.0% of the aggregate Offer Price of all the Offer Shares (including any Offer Shares to be issued pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option) (the “Discretionary Fees”).

Assuming that all of the 1.0% Discretionary Fees will be paid in full to the Underwriters, the aggregate amount of fees payable by us to all syndicate members will be 3.5% of the gross proceeds from the Global Offering, comprising 71.43% in Fixed Fees and 28.57% in Discretionary Fees.

Assuming an Offer Price of HK$116.00 per Offer Share (being the maximum Offer Price), the aggregate commissions and fees (assuming the full payment of Discretionary Fees and no exercise of the Over-allotment Option), together with listing fees, SFC transaction levy, AFRC transaction levy, Stock Exchange trading fee, legal and other professional fees and printing and other expenses, payable by our Company relating to the Global Offering are estimated to be approximately HK$115.6 million in total.

The commission and expenses were determined after arm’s length negotiation between the Company and the Hong Kong Underwriters or other parties by reference to the current market conditions.

UNDERWRITING

HONG KONG UNDERWRITERS' INTERESTS IN THE COMPANY

Save for its obligations under the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement or otherwise disclosed in this prospectus, none of the Hong Kong Underwriters has any shareholding interests in our Company or the right or option (whether legally enforceable or not) to subscribe for or nominate persons to subscribe for securities in our Company.

Following the completion of the Global Offering, the Underwriters and their affiliated companies may hold a certain portion of the H Shares as a result of fulfilling their obligations under the Underwriting Agreements.

JOINT SPONSORS' INDEPENDENCE

RESTRICTIONS ON THE OFFER SHARES

No action has been taken to permit a public offering of the Offer Shares other than in Hong Kong, or the distribution of this prospectus in any jurisdiction other than in Hong Kong. Accordingly, this prospectus may not be used for the purpose of, and does not constitute, an offer or invitation in any jurisdiction or in any circumstances in which such an offer or invitation is not authorized or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such an offer or invitation. In particular, the Offer Shares have not been offered or sold, and will not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in China and the U.S.

ACTIVITIES BY SYNDICATE MEMBERS

The underwriters of the Hong Kong Public Offering and the International Offering (together, the “Syndicate Members”) and their affiliates may each individually undertake a variety of activities (as further described below) which do not form part of the underwriting or stabilizing process.

The Syndicate Members and their affiliates are diversified financial institutions with relationships in countries around the world. These entities engage in a wide range of commercial and investment banking, brokerage, funds management, trading, hedging, investing and other activities for their own account and for the account of others. In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the Syndicate Members and their respective affiliates may purchase, sell or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade securities, derivatives, loans, commodities, currencies, credit default swaps and other financial instruments for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investment and trading activities may involve or relate to assets, securities and/or instruments our Company and/or persons and entities with relationships with our Company and may also include swaps and other financial instruments entered into for hedging purposes in connection with our Group's loans and other debt.

UNDERWRITING

In relation to the H Shares, the activities of the Syndicate Members and their affiliates could include acting as agent for buyers and sellers of the H Shares, entering into transactions with those buyers and sellers in a principal capacity, including as a lender to initial purchasers of the H Shares (which financing may be secured by the H Shares) in the Global Offering, proprietary trading in the H Shares, and entering into over the counter or listed derivative transactions or listed or unlisted securities transactions (including issuing securities such as derivative warrants listed on a stock exchange) which have as their underlying assets, assets including the H Shares. Such transactions may be carried out as bilateral agreements or trades with selected counterparties. Those activities may require hedging activity by those entities involving, directly or indirectly, the buying and selling of the H Shares, which may have a negative impact on the trading price of the H Shares. All such activities could occur in Hong Kong and elsewhere in the world and may result in the Syndicate Members and their affiliates holding long and/or short positions in the H Shares, in baskets of securities or indices including the H Shares, in units of funds that may purchase the H Shares, or in derivatives related to any of the foregoing.

In relation to issues by Syndicate Members or their affiliates of any listed securities having the H Shares as their underlying securities, whether on the Stock Exchange or on any other stock exchange, the relevant rules of the exchange may require the issuer of those securities (or one of its affiliates or agents) to act as a market maker or liquidity provider in the security, and this will also result in hedging activity in the H Shares in most cases.

All such activities may occur both during and after the end of the stabilizing period described in “Structure of the Global Offering” in this prospectus. Such activities may affect the market price or value of the H Shares, the liquidity or trading volume in the H Shares and the volatility of the price of the H Shares, and the extent to which this occurs from day to day cannot be estimated.

It should be noted that when engaging in any of these activities, the Syndicate Members will be subject to certain restrictions, including the following:

- (a) the Syndicate Members (other than the Stabilization Manager or any person acting for it) must not, in connection with the distribution of the Offer Shares, effect any transactions (including issuing or entering into any option or other derivative transactions relating to the Offer Shares) whether in the open market or otherwise, with a view to stabilizing or maintaining the market price of any of the Offer Shares at levels other than those which might otherwise prevail in the open market; and
- (b) the Syndicate Members must comply with all applicable laws and regulations, including the market misconduct provisions of the SFO, including the provisions prohibiting insider dealing, false trading, price rigging and stock market manipulation.

Certain of the Syndicate Members or their respective affiliates expect to provide in the future, investment banking and other services to our Company and its affiliates for which such Syndicate Members or their respective affiliates will receive customary fees and commissions. In addition, the Syndicate Members or their respective affiliates may provide financing to investors to finance their subscriptions of Offer Shares in the Global Offering.

OVER-ALLOTMENT AND STABILIZATION

Details of the arrangements relating to the Over-allotment Option and stabilization are set forth in the section headed “Structure of the Global Offering”.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

THE GLOBAL OFFERING

This prospectus is published in connection with the Hong Kong Public Offering as part of the Global Offering.

The Global Offering comprises:

- (a) the Hong Kong Public Offering of initially 1,906,900 H Shares (reallocation as mentioned below) in Hong Kong as described in the paragraph headed “– The Hong Kong Public Offering” below; and
- (b) the International Offering of initially 17,161,500 H Shares (subject to reallocation and the Over-allotment Option as mentioned below) to be offered only outside the United States (including to professional and institutional investors within Hong Kong) in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S, as described in the paragraph headed “– The International Offering” below.

Investors may apply for Offer Shares under the Hong Kong Public Offering or apply for or indicate an interest for Offer Shares under the International Offering, but may not do both.

The Offer Shares will represent approximately 11.8% of the enlarged registered share capital of our Company immediately after completion of the Global Offering without taking into account the exercise of the Over-allotment Option, if any. If the Over-allotment Option is exercised in full and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans, the Offer Shares will represent approximately 13.3% of the enlarged registered share capital of our Company immediately after completion of the Global Offering and the exercise of the Over-allotment Option as set out in the paragraph headed “– Over-allotment Option” below.

References in this prospectus to applications, application monies or the procedure for applications relate solely to the Hong Kong Public Offering.

The number of Offer Shares to be offered under the Hong Kong Public Offering and the International Offering, respectively, may be subject to reallocation as described in the paragraph headed “– The Hong Kong Public Offering – Reallocation” below.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

THE HONG KONG PUBLIC OFFERING

Number of Offer Shares Initially Offered

Our Company is initially offering 1,906,900 H Shares for subscription by the public in Hong Kong at the Offer Price, representing 10% of the total number of Offer Shares initially available under the Global Offering.

The number of Offer Shares initially offered under the Hong Kong Public Offering, subject to any reallocation of Offer Shares between the International Offering and the Hong Kong Public Offering and assuming that the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans, will represent approximately 1.2% of the enlarged issued share capital of our Company immediately following the completion of the Global Offering.

The Hong Kong Public Offering is open to members of the public in Hong Kong as well as to institutional and professional investors. Professional investors generally include brokers, dealers, companies (including fund managers) whose ordinary business involves dealing in shares and other securities and corporate entities that regularly invest in shares and other securities.

Completion of the Hong Kong Public Offering is subject to the conditions set out in the paragraph headed “– Conditions of the Global Offering” below.

Allocation

The allocation of Offer Shares to investors under the Hong Kong Public Offering will be based solely on the level of valid applications received under the Hong Kong Public Offering. The basis of allocation may vary, depending on the number of Hong Kong Offer Shares validly applied for by applicants. Such allocation could, where appropriate, consist of balloting, which could mean that some applicants may receive a higher allocation than others who have applied for the same number of Hong Kong Offer Shares, and those applicants who are not successful in the ballot may not receive any Hong Kong Offer Shares.

For allocation purposes only, the total number of Hong Kong Offer Shares available under the Hong Kong Public Offering (after taking into account any reallocation referred to below) will be divided equally into two pools: pool A and pool B (with any odd board lots being allocated to pool A). The Hong Kong Offer Shares in pool A will be allocated on an equitable basis to applicants who have applied for Hong Kong Offer Shares with an aggregate subscription price of HK$5 million (excluding the brokerage, SFC transaction levy, AFRC transaction levy and the Stock Exchange trading fee payable) or less. The Hong Kong Offer Shares in pool B will be allocated on an equitable basis to applicants who have applied for Hong Kong Offer Shares with an aggregate subscription price of more than HK$5 million (excluding the brokerage, SFC transaction levy, AFRC transaction levy and the Stock Exchange trading fee payable) and up to the total value in pool B.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

Investors should be aware that applications in pool A and applications in pool B may receive different allocation ratios. If any Hong Kong Offer Shares in one (but not both) of the pools are unsubscribed, such unsubscribed Hong Kong Offer Shares will be transferred to the other pool to satisfy demand in that other pool and be allocated accordingly. For the purpose of the immediately preceding paragraph only, the “price” for Hong Kong Offer Shares means the price payable on application therefor (without regard to the Offer Price as finally determined). Applicants can only receive an allocation of Hong Kong Offer Shares from either pool A or pool B and not from both pools. Multiple or suspected multiple applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering and any application for more than 953,400 Hong Kong Offer Shares (being 50% of the Offer Shares initially available under the Hong Kong Public Offering) is liable to be rejected.

Reallocation

The Offer Shares to be offered in the Hong Kong Public Offering and the International Offering may, in certain circumstances, be reallocated as between these offerings at the discretion of the Joint Global Coordinators. Subject to the allocation cap described in the subsequent paragraph, the Overall Coordinators may in their discretion reallocate Offer Shares from the International Offering to the Hong Kong Public Offering to satisfy valid applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering. In addition, if the Hong Kong Public Offering is not fully subscribed, the Overall Coordinators will have the discretion (but shall not be under any obligation) to reallocate to the International Offering all or any unsubscribed Hong Kong Offer Shares in such amounts as it deems appropriate.

In each case, the additional Offer Shares reallocated to the Hong Kong Public Offering will be allocated between Pool A and Pool B and the number of Offer Shares allocated to the International Offering will be correspondingly reduced in such manner as the Overall Coordinators deems appropriate. In the event of reallocation of Offer Shares between the International Offering and the Hong Kong Public Offering in the circumstances where (a) the International Offer Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed and the Hong Kong Offer Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed irrespective of the number of times, or (b) the International Offer Shares are undersubscribed and the Hong Kong Offer Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed irrespective of the number of times, then up to 953,300 Offer Shares may be reallocated from the International Offering to the Hong Kong Public Offering, so that the total number of Offer Shares available for subscription under the Hong Kong Public Offering will increase up to 2,860,200 Offer Shares, representing approximately 15% of the number of Offer Shares initially available under the Global Offering (before any exercise of the Over-allotment Option) in accordance with Chapter 4.14 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants. For the avoidance of doubt, where the International Offer Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed and the Hong Kong Offer Shares are undersubscribed, there will be no reallocation as mentioned above from the International Offering to the Hong Kong Public Offering. Where both the International Offer Shares and the Hong Kong Offer Shares are undersubscribed, the Global Offering will not proceed and will lapse, unless the shortfall is taken up by the Underwriters.

Given the initial allocation of the Offer Shares to the Hong Kong Public Offering and the International Offering follows Mechanism B set out under paragraph 2 of Chapter 4.14 of the Guide for New Listing Applicants and the provision of Paragraph 4.2(b) of Practice Note 18 of the Listing Rules, no mandatory clawback or reallocation mechanism is required to increase the number of Offer Shares under the Hong Kong Public Offering to a certain percentage of the total number of Offer Shares offered under the Global Offering.

Applications

Each applicant under the Hong Kong Public Offering will be required to give an undertaking and confirmation in the application submitted by him/her/it that he/she/it and any person(s) for whose benefit he/she/it is making the application has not applied for or taken up, or indicated an interest for, and will not apply for or take up, or indicate an interest for, any International Offer Shares under the International Offering. Such applicant's application under the International Offering is liable to be rejected if such undertaking and/or confirmation is/are breached and/or untrue (as the case may be).

Applicants under the Hong Kong Public Offering may be required to pay, on application (subject to application channels), the maximum Offer Price of HK$116.00 per Offer Share in addition to the brokerage, SFC transaction levy, AFRC transaction levy and the Stock Exchange trading fee payable on each Offer Share, amounting to a total of HK$11,716.99 for one board lot of 100 H Shares. If the Offer Price, as finally determined in the manner described in “– Pricing and Allocation” below, is less than the maximum Offer Price of HK$116.00 per Offer Share, appropriate refund payments (including the brokerage, SFC transaction levy, AFRC transaction levy and the Stock Exchange trading fee attributable to the surplus application monies) will be made to successful applicants (subject to application channels), without interest. Please refer to the section headed “How to Apply for Hong Kong Offer Shares” in this prospectus for further details.

THE INTERNATIONAL OFFERING

Number of Offer Shares Initially Offered

The number of Offer Shares initially offered under the International Offering, subject to any reallocation of Offer Shares between the International Offering and the Hong Kong Public Offering, will consist of an initial offering of 17,161,500 H Shares, representing 90% of the total number of Offer Shares initially available under the Global Offering (assuming that the Over-allotment Option is not exercised) and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans.

Allocation

The International Offering will involve private placements of the Offer Shares to institutional and professional investors and other investors anticipated to have a sizeable demand for our International Offer Shares. Professional investors generally include brokers, dealers, companies (including fund managers) whose ordinary business involves dealing in shares and other securities and corporate entities which regularly invest in shares and other securities. Allocation of Offer Shares pursuant to the International Offering will be effected in accordance with the “book-building” process described in the paragraph headed “Pricing and Allocation” below and based on a number of factors, including the level and timing of demand, the total size of the relevant investor's invested assets or equity assets in the relevant sector and whether or not it is expected that the relevant investor is likely to buy further H Shares and/or hold or sell its H Shares after the Listing. Such allocation is intended to result in a distribution of the H Shares on a basis which would lead to the establishment of a solid professional and institutional shareholder base to the benefit of our Group and our Shareholders as a whole.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

The Overall Coordinators (for themselves on behalf of the Underwriters) may require any investor who has been offered Offer Shares under the International Offering and who has made an application under the Hong Kong Public Offering to provide sufficient information to the Overall Coordinators so as to allow them to identify the relevant applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering and to ensure that they are excluded from any allocation of Offer Shares under the International Offering.

Reallocation

The total number of Offer Shares to be issued or sold pursuant to the International Offering may change as a result of the exercise of the Over-allotment Option in whole or in part and/or any reallocation of unsubscribed Offer Shares originally included in the Hong Kong Public Offering and/or any Offer Shares from the International Offering to the Hong Kong Public Offering at the discretion of the Overall Coordinators.

OVER-ALLOTMENT OPTION

In connection with the Global Offering, our Company is expected to grant the Over-allotment Option to the International Underwriters, exercisable by the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the International Underwriters).

Pursuant to the Over-allotment Option, the International Underwriters will have the right, exercisable by the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the International Underwriters) at any time from the Listing Date until 30 days after the last day for lodging applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering, to require our Company to issue up to an aggregate of 2,860,200 additional Offer Shares (being the last day for the exercise of the Over-allotment Option, which is Friday, January 2, 2026), representing not more than 15% of the total number of Offer Shares under the Global Offering, at the Offer Price under the International Offering to cover over-allocations in the International Offering, if any.

If the Over-allotment Option is exercised in full and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans, the additional Offer Shares to be issued pursuant thereto will represent approximately 1.9% of the enlarged issued share capital of our Company immediately following the completion of the Global Offering and the exercise of the Over-allotment Option. If the Over-allotment Option is exercised, an announcement will be made.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

STABILIZATION

Stabilization is a practice used by underwriters in some markets to facilitate the distribution of securities. To stabilize, the underwriters may bid for, or purchase, the securities in the secondary market during a specified period of time, to retard and, if possible, prevent a decline in the initial public market price of the securities below the offer price. Such transactions may be effected in all jurisdictions where it is permissible to do so, in each case in compliance with all applicable laws and regulatory requirements, including those of Hong Kong. In Hong Kong, the price at which stabilization is effected is not permitted to exceed the offer price.

In connection with the Global Offering, the Stabilization Manager (or any person acting for it), on behalf of the Underwriters, may over-allocate or effect transactions with a view to stabilizing or supporting the market price of our H Shares at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail for a limited period after the Listing Date. However, there is no obligation on the Stabilization Manager (or any person acting for it) to conduct any such stabilizing action. Such stabilizing action, if taken, (a) will be conducted at the absolute discretion of the Stabilization Manager (or any person acting for it) and in what the Stabilization Manager reasonably regards as the best interest of our Company, (b) may be discontinued at any time and (c) is required to be brought to an end within 30 days from the last day for lodging applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering, which is Friday, January 2, 2026.

Stabilization actions permitted in Hong Kong pursuant to the Securities and Futures (Price Stabilizing) Rules of the SFO include (a) over-allocating for the purpose of preventing or minimizing any reduction in the market price of our H Shares, (b) selling or agreeing to sell our H Shares so as to establish a short position in them for the purpose of preventing or minimizing any reduction in the market price of our H Shares, (c) purchasing, or agreeing to purchase, our H Shares pursuant to the Over-allotment Option in order to close out any position established under paragraph (a) or (b) above, (d) purchasing, or agreeing to purchase, any of our H Shares for the sole purpose of preventing or minimizing any reduction in the market price of our H Shares, (e) selling or agreeing to sell any H Shares in order to liquidate any position established as a result of those purchases and (f) offering or attempting to do anything as described in paragraph (b), (c), (d) or (e) above.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

Specifically, prospective applicants for and investors in our Offer Shares should note that:

- (a) the Stabilization Manager (or any person acting for it) may, in connection with the stabilizing action, maintain a long position in our H Shares;
- (b) there is no certainty as to the extent to which and the time or period for which the Stabilization Manager (or any person acting for it) will maintain such a long position;
- (c) liquidation of any such long position by the Stabilization Manager (or any person acting for it) and selling in the open market may have an adverse impact on the market price of our H Shares;
- (d) no stabilizing action can be taken to support the price of our H Shares for longer than the stabilization period, which will begin on the Listing Date, and is expected to expire on the 30th day after the last day for lodging applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering. After this date, when no further stabilizing action may be taken, demand for our H Shares, and therefore the price of the H Shares, could fall;
- (e) the price of our H Shares cannot be assured to stay at or above the Offer Price by the taking of any stabilizing action; and
- (f) stabilizing bids or transactions effected in the course of the stabilizing action may be made at any price at or below the Offer Price and can, therefore, be done at a price below the price paid by applicants for, or investors in, the Offer Shares.

In order to effect stabilization actions, the Stabilization Manager may arrange cover of up to an aggregate of 2,860,200 Offer Shares, representing up to 15% of the total number of our Offer Shares under the Global Offering, through delayed delivery arrangements with our Cornerstone Investor(s) or investors who have been allocated Offer Shares in the International Offering. The delayed delivery arrangements (if specifically agreed to by an investor) relate only to the delay in the delivery of our Offer Shares to such investor and the Offer Price for the Offer Shares allocated to such investor will be fully paid prior to Listing, accordingly there will be no delayed settlement of payment of our Offer Shares. Both the size of such cover and the extent to which the Over-allotment Option can be exercised will depend on whether arrangements can be made with investors such that a sufficient number of Offer Shares can be delivered on a delayed basis. If no investor in the International Offering agrees to the delayed delivery arrangements, no stabilizing actions will be undertaken by the Stabilization Manager and the Over-allotment Option will not be exercised.

Our Company will ensure or procure that an announcement in compliance with the Securities and Futures (Price Stabilizing) Rules of the SFO will be made within seven days of the expiration of the stabilization period.

PRICING AND ALLOCATION

We will determine the Offer Price by reference to, among other factors, the closing price of the A Shares on the Shanghai Stock Exchange on the last trading day on or before the Price Determination Date (which is accessible to the Shareholders and potential investors at https://english.sse.com.cn/markets/equities/list/overview/?COMPANY_CODE=688052&STOCKCODE%20=688052), and the Offer Price will not be more than HK$116.00. Note:

- (1) Average daily trading volume (“ADTV”) represents daily average number of A Shares traded over the relevant period.

The Offer Price will not be more than HK$116.00 per Offer Share, unless otherwise announced, as further explained below. Applicants under the Hong Kong Public Offering may be required to pay, on application (subject to application channels), the maximum Offer Price of HK$116.00 per Offer Share plus brokerage of 1.0%, SFC transaction levy of 0.0027%, AFRC transaction levy of 0.00015% and Stock Exchange trading fee of 0.00565%, amounting to a total of HK$11,716.99 for one board lot of 100 Offer Shares.

The International Underwriters will be soliciting from prospective investors indications of interest in acquiring Offer Shares in the International Offering. Prospective professional and institutional investors will be required to specify the number of Offer Shares under the International Offering they would be prepared to acquire either at different prices or at a particular price. This process, known as “book-building,” is expected to continue up to, and to cease on or about, the last day for lodging applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

The Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) may, where they deem appropriate, based on the level of interest expressed by prospective investors during the book-building process in respect of the International Offering, and with the consent of our Company, reduce the number of Offer Shares offered and/or the maximum Offer Price below that stated in this prospectus at any time on or prior to the morning of the last day for lodging applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering. In such a case, our Company will, as soon as practicable following the decision to make such reduction, and in any event not later than the morning of the last day for lodging applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering, cause to be published on the websites of our Company at www.novosns.com and the Stock Exchange at www.hkexnews.hk, respectively, an announcement, cancel the Global Offering and relaunch the Global Offering at the revised number of Offer Shares and/or the revised maximum Offer Price and the requirements under Rule 11.13 of the Listing Rules (which include the issue of a supplemental prospectus or a new prospectus (as appropriate)). Upon issue of such announcement or supplemental prospectus (as appropriate), the number of Offer Shares offered in the Global Offering and/or the revised maximum Offer Price will be final and conclusive, and the Offer Price, if agreed upon by the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and the Company, will be fixed with reference to such revised maximum Offer Price. The Global Offering must first be cancelled and subsequently relaunched on FINI pursuant to the supplemental prospectus.

Before submitting applications for the Hong Kong Offer Shares, applicants should have regard to the possibility that any announcement of a reduction in the number of Offer Shares and/or the maximum Offer Price may not be made until the last day for lodging applications under the Hong Kong Public Offering. In the absence of any such announcement so published, the number of Offer Shares will not be reduced.

In the event of a reduction in the number of Offer Shares, the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) may, at their discretion, reallocate the number of Offer Shares to be offered in the Hong Kong Public Offering and the International Offering. The Offer Shares to be offered in the Hong Kong Public Offering and the Offer Shares to be offered in the International Offering may, in certain circumstances, be reallocated between these offerings at the discretion of the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters).

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FINAL OFFER PRICE

The final Offer Price, the level of indications of interest in the International Offering, the level of applications in the Hong Kong Public Offering, the basis of allocations of the Hong Kong Offer Shares and the results of allocations in the Hong Kong Public Offering are expected to be announced on Friday, December 5, 2025 on the website of our Company at www.novosns.com and the website of the Stock Exchange at www.hkexnews.hk.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

HONG KONG UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT

The Hong Kong Public Offering is fully underwritten by the Hong Kong Underwriters under the terms and conditions of the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement and is subject to the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and our Company agreeing on the Offer Price. Our Company expects to enter into the International Underwriting Agreement relating to the International Offering on the Price Determination Date.

These underwriting arrangements, including the Underwriting Agreements, are summarized in the section headed “Underwriting” of this prospectus.

CONDITIONS OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

Acceptance of all applications for Offer Shares will be conditional on:

- (a) the Stock Exchange granting approval for the listing of, and permission to deal in, the H Shares to be offered pursuant to the Global Offering (including any additional H Shares which may be issued pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option), on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange, and such approval not subsequently having been withdrawn or revoked prior to the Listing Date;
- (b) the Offer Price having been agreed between the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and our Company;
- (c) the execution and delivery of the International Underwriting Agreement on or about the Price Determination Date; and
- (d) the obligations of the Hong Kong Underwriters under the Hong Kong Underwriting Agreement and the obligations of the International Underwriters under the International Underwriting Agreement becoming and remaining unconditional and not having been terminated in accordance with the terms of the respective agreements, in each case on or before the dates and times specified in the respective Underwriting Agreements (unless and to the extent such conditions are validly waived on or before such dates and times).

If, for any reason, the Offer Price is not agreed between the Overall Coordinators (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and our Company on or before 12:00 noon on Thursday, December 4, 2025, the Global Offering will not proceed and will lapse.

The consummation of each of the Hong Kong Public Offering and the International Offering is conditional upon the other offering becoming unconditional and not having been terminated in accordance with its terms.

STRUCTURE OF THE GLOBAL OFFERING

If the above conditions are not fulfilled or waived prior to the dates and times specified, the Global Offering will lapse and the Stock Exchange will be notified immediately. Notice of the lapse of the Hong Kong Public Offering will be published by our Company on the websites of our Company at www.novosns.com and the Stock Exchange at www.hkexnews.hk, respectively, on the next day following such lapse. In such a situation, all application monies will be returned (subject to application channels), without interest, on the terms set out in the section headed “How to Apply for Hong Kong Offer Shares – D. Despatch/Collection of H Share Certificates and Refund of Application Monies.”

H Share certificates for the Offer Shares will only become valid at 8:00 a.m. on Monday, December 8, 2025 provided that the Global Offering has become unconditional in all respects at or before that time and the right of termination as described in the section headed “Underwriting – Underwriting Arrangements and Expenses – Hong Kong Public Offering – Grounds for Termination” in this prospectus has not been exercised.

ADMISSION OF THE H SHARES INTO CCASS

All necessary arrangements have been made enabling the H Shares to be admitted into CCASS.

If the Stock Exchange grants the listing of, and permission to deal in, the H Shares and the Company complies with the stock admission requirements of HKSCC, the H Shares will be accepted as eligible securities by HKSCC for deposit, clearance and settlement in CCASS with effect from the date of commencement of dealings in the H Shares on the Stock Exchange or any other date HKSCC chooses. Settlement of transactions between participants of the Stock Exchange is required to take place in CCASS on the second settlement day after any trading day.

All activities under CCASS are subject to the General Rules of HKSCC and HKSCC Operational Procedures in effect from time to time.

Investors should seek the advice of their stockbroker or other professional advisor for details of the settlement arrangements as such arrangement may affect their rights and interests.

There is a risk of money settlement failure. In the extreme event of money settlement failure by a HKSCC Participant (or its Designated Bank), who is acting on your behalf in settling payment for your allotted shares, HKSCC will contact the defaulting HKSCC Participant and its Designated Bank to determine the cause of failure and request such defaulting HKSCC Participant to rectify or procure to rectify the failure.

Hong Kong Offer Shares applied for by you through the broker or custodian may be affected to the extent of the settlement failure. In the extreme case, you will not be allocated any Hong Kong Offer Shares due to the money settlement failure by such HKSCC Participant. DIRECTORS' RESPONSIBILITY FOR HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of Historical Financial Information that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 1 to the Historical Financial Information, and for such internal control as the directors of the Company determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the Historical Financial Information that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

REPORTING ACCOUNTANTS' RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Historical Financial Information and to report our opinion to you. We conducted our work in accordance with Hong Kong Standard on Investment Circular Reporting Engagements 200 “Accountants’ Reports on Historical Financial Information in Investment Circulars” issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the “HKICPA”). This standard requires that we comply with ethical standards and plan and perform our work to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Historical Financial Information is free from material misstatement.

Our work involved performing procedures to obtain evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the Historical Financial Information. The procedures selected depend on the reporting accountants' judgment, including the assessment of risks of material misstatement of the Historical Financial Information, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the reporting accountants consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of Historical Financial Information that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 1 to the Historical Financial Information in order to design procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Our work also included evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the Historical Financial Information.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the Stub Period Corresponding Financial Information based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Hong Kong Standard on Review Engagements 2410 "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity" issued by the HKICPA. A review consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion. Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the Stub Period Corresponding Financial Information, for the purpose of the accountants' report, is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 1 to the Historical Financial Information.

NOTES TO THE HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION*(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)1 BASIS OF PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION OF THE HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Suzhou Novosense Microelectronics Co., Ltd. (蘇州納芯微電子股份有限公司), hereinafter referred to as the “Company”, was established in Suzhou City, Jiangsu Province, People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”) on May 17, 2013 as a limited liability company under the PRC Company Law. In March 2016, the Company was converted into a joint stock limited liability company. In April 2022, the Company’s A shares were listed on the STAR Market of the Shanghai Stock Exchange under the stock code 688052.

During the Track Record Period, the Company and its subsidiaries (together, “the Group”) are principally engaged in design, research and development (R&D) of various types of chip products.

In October 2024, the Company and its subsidiary, Suzhou Naxing Venture Capital Management Co., Ltd. (蘇州納星創業投資管理有限公司), completed the acquisition of 100% equity interest of Shanghai MagnTek Microelectronics Inc. (上海麥歌恩微電子股份有限公司) (“Shanghai MagnTek”) and its subsidiaries (together, the “MagnTek”) and its shareholding platforms, Shanghai Lairui Enterprise Management Partnership (Limited Partnership) (上海萊睿企業管理合夥企業(有限合夥)) (“Shanghai Lairui”) and Shanghai Liuci Enterprise Management Partnership (Limited Partnership) (上海留詞企業管理合夥企業(有限合夥)) (“Shanghai Liuci”) (collectively as the “MagnTek Group”). Immediately before the acquisition by the Group: (i) the MagnTek was held as to 62.68% by QST Corporation Limited (上海矽睿科技股份有限公司) (“QST”), 17.56% by Shanghai Lairui and 19.76% by Shanghai Liuci; (ii) the partnership interests of Shanghai Lairui were held by QST and twenty-seven individuals; and (iii) the partnership interests of Shanghai Liuci were held by four individuals.

The financial statement of the Company and the subsidiaries of the Group for which there are statutory requirements were prepared in accordance with the relevant accounting rules and regulations applicable to entities in the countries in which they were incorporated and/or established. The statutory financial statements of the Company for the years ended December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 were prepared in accordance with the Accounting Standard for Business Enterprises issued by the Ministry of Finance of the PRC and audited by Pan-China Certified Public Accountants (天健會計師事務所 (特殊普通合夥)). Information about the statutory financial statements of the subsidiaries within the Group are set out in Note 15.

The Historical Financial Information have been prepared in accordance with all applicable IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”). Further details of the material accounting policy information adopted are set out in Note 2.

The IASB has issued a number of new and revised IFRS Accounting Standards. For the purpose of preparing this Historical Financial Information, the Group has adopted all applicable new and revised IFRS Accounting Standards to the Track Record Period, except for any new standards or interpretations that are not yet effective for the Track Record Period. The Group has not applied any new standard or interpretation that is not yet effective during the Track Record Period. The revised and new accounting standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective are set out in Note 38.

The Historical Financial Information also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited.

The Stub Period Corresponding Financial Information has been prepared in accordance with the same basis of preparation and presentation adopted in respect of the Historical Financial Information.

The Historical Financial Information and the Stub Period Corresponding Financial Information are presented in RMB and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand (RMB’000) except when otherwise indicated.

2 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES INFORMATION(a) Basis of measurement

The measurement basis used in the preparation of the Historical Financial Information is the historical cost basis except the financial assets and liabilities measured at FVPL, the financial assets measured at FVOCI and contingent liabilities assumed in business combination are stated at their fair values as explained in Note 2(f) and Note 2(s)(ii).

(b) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of Historical Financial Information in conformity with IFRS Accounting Standards requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income, and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Judgements made by management in the application of IFRS Accounting Standards that have significant effect on the Historical Financial Information and major sources of estimation uncertainty are discussed in Note 3.

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control commences until the date on which control ceases.

Intra-group balances and transactions, and any unrealized income and expenses (except for foreign currency transaction gains or losses) arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated. Unrealized losses resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in the same way as unrealized gains, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

For each business combination, the Group can elect to measure any non-controlling interests ("NCI") either at fair value or at the NCI's proportionate share of the subsidiary's net identifiable assets. NCI are presented in the consolidated statement of financial position within equity, separately from equity attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company. NCI in the results of the Group are presented on the face of the consolidated statement of profit or loss and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as an allocation of the total profit or loss and total comprehensive income for the year between NCI and the equity shareholders of the Company. Loans from holders of NCI and other contractual obligations towards these holders are presented as financial liabilities in the consolidated statement of financial position in accordance with Notes 2(o) or 2(p) depending on the nature of the liability.

Changes in the Group's interests in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, it derecognises the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, and any related NCI and other components of equity. Any resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss. Any interest retained in that former subsidiary is measured at fair value when control is lost.

In the Company's statement of financial position, an investment in a subsidiary is stated at cost less impairment losses (see Note 2(j)), unless it is classified as held for sale (or included in a disposal Group classified as held for sale).

(d) Associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity in which the Group or the Company has significant influence, but not control or joint control, over the financial and operating policies.

A joint venture is an arrangement whereby the Group or Company and other parties contractually agree to share control of the arrangement, and have rights to the net assets of the arrangement.

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for under the equity method, unless it is classified as held for sale (or included in a disposal group that is classified as held for sale). Under the equity method, the investment is initially recorded at cost, adjusted for any excess of the Group's share of the acquisition-date fair values of the investee's identifiable net assets over the cost of the investment (if any). The cost of the investment includes purchase price, other costs directly attributable to the acquisition of the investment, and any direct investment into the associate or a joint venture that forms part of the Group's equity investment. Thereafter, the investment is adjusted for the post acquisition change in the Group's share of the investee's net assets and any impairment loss relating to the investment (see Note 2(f)(ii)). Any acquisition date excess over cost, the Group's share of the post-acquisition, post-tax results of the investees and any impairment losses for the year are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss, whereas the Group's share of the post-acquisition post-tax items of the investees' other comprehensive income is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

When the Group's share of losses exceeds its interest in the associate or the joint venture, the Group's interest is reduced to nil and recognition of further losses is discontinued except to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the investee. For this purpose, the Group's interest is the carrying amount of the investment under the equity method, together with any other long-term interests that in substance form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or the joint venture.

Unrealized profits and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its associates and joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee, except where unrealized losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred, in which case they are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

In all other cases, when the Group ceases to have significant influence over an associate or joint control over a joint venture, it is accounted for as a disposal of the entire interest in that investee, with a resulting gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. Any interest retained in that former investee at the date when significant influence or joint control is lost is recognised at fair value and this amount is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition of a financial asset (see Note 2(f)(ii)).

(e) Business combination and goodwill

The Group accounts for the business combination using the acquisition method when the acquired set of activities and assets meets the definition of a business and control is transferred to the Group. Business combination is accounted for using the acquisition method as at the acquisition date when control is transferred to the Group. In determining whether a particular set of activities and assets is a business, the Group assesses whether the set of assets and activities acquires includes, at a minimum, an input and substantive process and whether the acquired set has the ability to produce outputs.

The consideration transferred in acquisition is generally measured at fair value, as are the identifiable net assets acquired. Any goodwill that arises is tested annually for impairment. Any gain on a bargain purchase is recognised in profit or loss immediately. Transaction cost are expensed as incurred.

Goodwill represents the excess of

- (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the fair value of the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree; over
- (ii) the net fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets and liabilities measured as at the acquisition date.

When (ii) is greater than (i), then this excess is recognised immediately in profit or loss as a gain on a bargain purchase.

Goodwill is stated at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill arising on acquisition of businesses is measured at cost less accumulated impairment losses and is tested annually for impairment (see Note 2(j)(ii)).

On disposal of a cash generating unit during the year, any attributable amount of purchased goodwill is included in the calculation of the profit or loss on disposal.

(f) Other investments in securities

Investments in securities are recognised/derecognised on the date the Group commits to purchase/sell the investment. The investments are initially stated at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs, except for those investments measured at fair value through profit or loss for which transaction costs are recognised directly in profit or loss. For an explanation of how the Group determines fair value of financial instruments, see Note 32(e). These investments are subsequently accounted for as follows, depending on their classification.

(i) Non-equity investments

- Amortized cost, if the investment is held for the collection of contractual cash flows which represent solely payments of principal and interest. Expected credit losses, interest income calculated using the effective interest method (see Note 2(t)(iii)), foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.
- Fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVOCI”) – recycling, if the contractual cash flows of the investment comprise solely payments of principal and interest and the investment is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both the collection of contractual cash flows and sale. Expected credit losses, interest income (calculated using the effective interest method) and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss and computed in the same manner as if the financial asset was measured at amortized cost. The difference between the fair value and the amortized cost is recognised in OCI. When the investment is derecognised, the amount accumulated in OCI is recycled from equity to profit or loss.
- Fair value through profit or loss (“FVPL”) if the investment does not meet the criteria for being measured at amortized cost or FVOCI (recycling). Changes in the fair value of the investment (including interest) are recognised in profit or loss.

(ii) Equity investments

An investment in equity securities is classified as FVPL, unless the investment is not held for trading purposes and on initial recognition the Group makes an irrevocable election to designate the investment at FVOCI (non-recycling) such that subsequent changes in fair value are recognised in OCI. Such elections are made on an instrument-by-instrument basis, but may only be made if the investment meets the definition of equity from the issuer’s perspective. If such election is made for a particular investment, at the time of disposal, the amount accumulated in the fair value reserve (non-recycling) is transferred to retained earnings and not recycled through profit or loss. Dividends from an investment in equity securities, irrespective of whether classified as at FVPL or FVOCI, are recognised in profit or loss as other income (see Note 2(t)(ii)).

(g) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses (see Note 2(j)(ii)). The cost of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to working condition and location for its intended use. Subsequent expenditure relating to an item of property, plant and equipment that has already been recognised is added to the carrying amount of the asset when it is probable that the future economic benefits, in excess of the original assessed standard of performance of the existing asset, will flow to the Group. All other subsequent expenditure is recognised as an expense in profit or loss in the period in which it is incurred.

Construction in progress represents buildings and various machinery, plant and equipment under construction and pending installation, and is stated at cost less impairment losses (see Note 2(j)(ii)). Cost comprises direct costs of construction as well as interest charges during the periods of construction.

Construction in progress is transferred to property, plant and equipment when the asset is substantially ready for its intended use. No depreciation is provided in respect of construction in progress.

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and are recognised in profit or loss on the date of retirement or disposal. Any related revaluation surplus is transferred from the revaluation reserve to retained profits and is not reclassified to profit or loss.

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost or valuation of items of property, plant and equipment less their estimated residual values, if any, using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, and is generally recognised in profit or loss.

– Special equipment	3 – 10 years
– Motor vehicles	4 years
– Buildings	30 years
– Leasehold improvements	short of useful lives or lease term

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of the item is allocated on a reasonable basis between the parts and each part is depreciated separately. Both the useful life of an asset and its residual value, if any, are reviewed annually.

(h) Intangible assets (other than goodwill)

Expenditure on research activities is recognised in profit or loss as incurred. Development expenditure is capitalized only if the expenditure can be measured reliably, the product or process is technically and commercially feasible, future economic benefits are probable and the Group intends to and has sufficient resources to complete development and to use or sell the resulting asset. Otherwise, it is recognised in profit or loss as incurred. Capitalized development expenditure is subsequently measured at cost less accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment losses.

Other intangible assets, including patents, that are acquired by the Group and have finite useful lives are measured at cost less accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment losses (see Note 2(j)(ii)).

Amortization is calculated to write off the cost of intangible assets less their estimated residual values using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, if any, and is generally recognised in profit or loss.

The estimated useful lives for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

– Software	5 – 10 years
– Intellectual properties	5 years
– Non-patented technologies	5 years
– Patents	10 years

Amortization methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed annually and adjusted if appropriate.

(i) Lease

At inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease. This is the case if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Control is conveyed where the customer has both the right to direct the use of the identified asset and to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from that use.

Where the contract contains lease component(s) and non-lease component(s), the Group has elected not to separate non-lease components and accounts for each lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component for all leases.

At the lease commencement date, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, except for leases that have a short lease term of 12 months or less, and leases of low-value items such as laptops and office furniture. When the Group enters into a lease in respect of a low-value item, the Group decides whether to capitalize the lease on a lease-by-lease basis. If not capitalized, the associated lease payments are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the lease term.

Where the lease is capitalized, the lease liability is initially recognised at the present value of the lease payments payable over the lease term, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, using a relevant incremental borrowing rate. After initial recognition, the lease liability is measured at amortized cost and interest expense is recognised using the effective interest method. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or rate are not included in the measurement of the lease liability and are charged to profit or loss as incurred.

The right-of-use asset recognised when a lease is capitalized is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received. The right-of-use asset is subsequently stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see Notes 2(g) and 2(j)(ii)). Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over unexpired term of lease.

Refundable rental deposits are accounted for separately from the right-of-use assets in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to investments in non-equity securities carried at amortized cost (see Notes 2(f)(i), 2(t)(iii) and 2(j)(i)). Any excess of the nominal value over the initial fair value of the deposits is accounted for as additional lease payments made and is included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

The lease liability is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Group's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if the Group changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option. When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

The lease liability is also remeasured when there is a lease modification, which means a change in the scope of a lease or the consideration for a lease that is not originally provided for in the lease contract, if such modification is not accounted for as a separate lease. In this case, the lease liability is remeasured based on the revised lease payments and lease term using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

In the consolidated statement of financial position, the current portion of long-term lease liabilities is determined as the present value of contractual payments that are due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period.

(j) Credit losses and impairment of assets

(i) Credit losses from financial instruments and contract assets

The Group recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses (ECLs) on financial assets measured at amortized cost (including cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables, contract assets and loans to associates).

Financial assets measured at fair value, including bills receivables measured at FVOCI (non-recycling) and equity securities measured at FVPL, are not subject to the ECL assessment.

Measurement of ECLs

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Generally, credit losses are measured as the present value of all expected cash shortfalls between the contractual and expected amounts.

For undrawn loan commitments, expected cash shortfalls are measured as the difference between (i) the contractual cash flows that would be due to the Group if the holder of the loan commitment draws down on the loan and (ii) the cash flows that the Group expects to receive if the loan is drawn down.

The expected cash shortfalls are discounted using the following rates if the effect is material:

- fixed-rate financial assets, trade and other receivables and contract assets: effective interest rate determined at initial recognition or an approximation thereof;
- variable-rate financial assets: current effective interest rate;
- loan commitments: current risk-free rate adjusted for risks specific to the cash flows.

The maximum period considered when estimating ECLs is the maximum contractual period over which the Group is exposed to credit risk.

In measuring ECLs, the Group take into account reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort. This includes information about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

ECLs are measured on either of the following bases:

- 12-month ECLs: these are the portion of ECLs that result from default events that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date (or a shorter period if the expected life of the instrument is less than 12 months); and
- lifetime ECLs: these are the ECLs that result from all possible default events over the expected lives of the items to which the ECL model applies.

The Group measures loss allowances at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs, except for the following, which are measured at 12-months ECLs:

- financial instruments that are determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date; and
- other financial instruments (including loan commitments issued) for which credit risk (i.e. the risk of default occurring over the expected life of the financial instrument) has not increased significantly since initial recognition.

Significant increases in credit risk

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial instrument (including a loan commitment) has increased significantly since initial recognition and when measuring ECLs, the Group considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Group's historical experience and informed credit assessment, that includes forward-looking information.

For loan commitments, the date of initial recognition for the purpose of assessing ECLs is considered to be the date that the Group becomes a party to the irrevocable commitment. In assessing whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of a loan commitment, the Group considers changes in the risk of default occurring on the loan to which the loan commitment relates.

The Group considers a financial asset to be in default when the debtor is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Group in full, without recourse by the Group to actions such as realizing security (if any is held).

The Group considers a financial instrument to have low credit risk when its credit risk rating is equivalent to the globally understood definition of 'investment grade' in accordance with the globally understood definition or if an external rating is not available, the asset has an internal rating of 'performing'. Performing means that the counterparty has a strong financial position and there is no past due amounts.

ECLs are remeasured at each reporting date to reflect changes in the financial instrument's credit risk since initial recognition. Any change in the ECL amount is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss. The Group recognises an impairment gain or loss for all financial instruments with a corresponding adjustment to their carrying amount through a loss allowance account.

Credit-impaired financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether a financial asset is credit-impaired. A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable events:

- significant financial difficulties of the debtor;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or being more than 90 days past due;
- the restructuring of a loan or advance by the Group on terms that the Group would not consider otherwise;
- it is probable that the debtor will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization; or
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties of the issuer.

Write-off policy

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset or contract asset is written off to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Group determines that the debtor does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off.

Subsequent recoveries of an asset that was previously written off are recognised as a reversal of impairment in profit or loss in the period in which the recovery occurs.

(ii) Impairment of other non-current assets

Internal and external sources of information are reviewed at the end of reporting period to identify indications that the following assets may be impaired or, except in the case of goodwill, an impairment loss previously recognised no longer exists or may have decreased:

- Property, plant and equipment;
- Construction in process;
- Intangible assets;
- Right-of-use assets;
- Goodwill;
- Interest in associates and joint ventures;
- Investment in subsidiaries.

If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. In addition, for goodwill intangible assets that are not yet available for use and intangible assets that have indefinite useful lives, the recoverable amount is estimated annually whether or not there is any indication of impairment.

– Calculation of recoverable amount

The recoverable amount of an asset is the greater of its fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Where an asset does not generate cash inflows largely independent of those from other assets, the recoverable amount is determined for the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows independently (i.e. a cash-generating unit). A portion of the carrying amount of a corporate asset (for example, head office building) is allocated to an individual cash-generating unit if the allocation can be done on a reasonable and consistent basis, or to the smallest group of cash-generating units if otherwise.

– Recognition of impairment losses

An impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss if the carrying amount of an asset, or the cash-generating unit to which it belongs, exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses recognised in respect of cash-generating units are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the cash-generating unit (or group of units) and then, to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit (or group of units) on a pro rata basis, except that the carrying value of an asset will not be reduced below its individual fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable) or value in use (if determinable).

– Reversals of impairment losses

In respect of assets other than goodwill, an impairment loss is reversed if there has been a favorable change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not reversed.

A reversal of an impairment loss is limited to the assets carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior years. Reversals of impairment losses are credit to profit or loss in the year in which the reversals are recognised.

(k) Inventories and contract costs

(i) Inventories

Inventories are assets which are held for sale in the ordinary course of business, in process of production for such sale or in the form of material or supplies to be consumed in the production process or in the provision of services.

Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realizable value as follows:

Cost is calculated using the weighted average cost formula and comprises all costs of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

When inventories are sold, the carrying amount of those inventories is recognised as an expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognised.

The amount of any write-down of inventories to net realizable value and all losses of inventories are recognised as an expense in the period the write-down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write-down of inventories is recognised as a reduction in the amount of inventories recognised as an expense in the period in which the reversal occurs.

Contract costs are either the incremental costs of obtaining a contract with a customer or the costs to fulfil a contract with a customer which are not capitalized as inventory (see Note 2(k)(i)), property, plant and equipment (see Note 2(g)) or intangible assets (see Note 2(h)).

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract, e.g. sales commissions, are capitalized if the costs relate to revenue which will be recognised in a future reporting period and the costs are expected to be recovered. Other costs of obtaining a contract are expensed when incurred.

Costs to fulfil a contract are capitalized if the costs relate directly to an existing contract or to a specifically identifiable anticipated contract; generate or enhance resources that will be used to provide goods or services in the future; and are expected to be recovered. Otherwise, costs of fulfilling a contract, which are not capitalized as inventory, property, plant and equipment or intangible assets, are expensed as incurred.

Capitalized contract costs are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses. Impairment losses are recognised to the extent that the carrying amount of the contract cost asset exceeds the net of (i) remaining amount of consideration that the Group expects to receive in exchange for the goods or services to which the asset relates, less (ii) any costs that relate directly to providing those goods or services that have not yet been recognised as expenses.

Amortization of capitalized contract costs is recognised in profit or loss when the revenue to which the asset relates is recognised (see Note 2(t)(i)).

(l) Contract assets and contract liabilities

A contract asset is recognised when the Group recognises revenue (see Note 2(t)(i)) before being unconditionally entitled to the consideration under the terms in the contract. Contract assets are assessed for ECLs (see Note 2(j)(i)) and are reclassified to receivables when the right to the consideration becomes unconditional (see Note 2(m)).

A contract liability is recognised when the customer pays non-refundable consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue (see Note 2(t)(i)). A contract liability is also recognised if the Group has an unconditional right to receive non-refundable consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue. In such latter cases, a corresponding receivable is also recognised (see Note 2(m)).

(m) Trade and other receivables

A receivable is recognised when the Group has an unconditional right to receive consideration and only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are initially measured at their transaction price. All receivables are subsequently stated at amortized cost (see Note 2(j)(i)).

(n) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and on hand, demand deposits with banks and other short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, having been within three months of maturity at acquisition. Cash and cash equivalents are assessed for ECL (see Note 2(j)(i)).

(o) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially recognised at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition, trade and other payables are stated at amortized cost unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at invoice amounts.

(p) Interest-bearing borrowings

Interest-bearing borrowings are measured initially at fair value less transaction costs. Subsequently, these borrowings are stated at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense is recognised in accordance with Note 2(v).

(q) Employee benefits

(i) Short term employee benefits and contributions to defined contribution retirement plans

Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid if the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

Obligations for contributions to defined contribution retirement plans are expensed as the related service is provided.

(ii) Share-based payments

The Company grant the restricted share units ("RSUs") as incentives and rewards to eligible participants who contribute to the success of the Group's operations. Employees (including directors) of the Group receive remuneration in the form of such share-based payments, whereby employees render services in exchange for equity instruments ("equity-settled transactions").

The cost of equity-settled transactions with employees is measured by reference to the fair value of the RSUs at the grant date. The fair value of RSUs granted is recognised as expenses with a corresponding increase in capital reserve within equity. The fair value is measured at grant date using the RSUs model, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the RSUs were granted. Service and non-market performance conditions are not taken into account when determining the grant date fair value of RSUs, but the likelihood of the conditions being met is assessed as part of the Group's best estimate of the number of RSUs that will ultimately vest.

Where the grantees have to meet vesting conditions before becoming unconditionally entitled to the RSUs, the total estimated fair value of the RSUs is expensed over the vesting period, taking into account the probability that the RSUs will vest. During the vesting period, the number of RSUs that is expected to vest is reviewed. Any resulting adjustment to the cumulative fair value recognised in prior years is charged/credited to the profit or loss for the year of the review, unless the original expenses qualify for recognition as an asset, with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserve.

On vesting date, the amount recognised as an expense is adjusted to reflect the actual number of equity-settled share-based payments award that vest with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserve.

Where the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, as a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified and if the original terms of the award are met. In addition, an expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payments, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee as measured at the date of modification.

Where an equity-settled award is cancelled, it is treated as if it had vested on the date of cancellation, and any expense not yet recognised for the award is recognised immediately. This includes any award where non-vesting conditions within the control of either the Group or the employee are not met. However, if a new award is substituted for the cancelled award, and it is designated as a replacement award on the date that it is granted, the cancelled and new awards are treated as if they were a modification of the original award.

(iii) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are expensed at the earlier of when the Group can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when the Group recognises costs for a restructuring.

(r) Income tax

Income tax expense comprises current tax and deferred tax. It is recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income ("OCI").

Current tax comprises the estimated tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustments to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The amount of current tax payable or receivable is the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received that reflects any uncertainty related to income taxes. It is measured using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax also includes any tax arising from dividends.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is not recognised for:

- temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences;
- temporary differences related to investment in subsidiaries, associates and joint venture to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future;
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill; and
- those related to the income taxes arising from tax laws enacted or substantively enacted to implement the Pillar Two model rules published by the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Future taxable profits are determined based on the reversal of relevant taxable temporary differences. If the amount of taxable temporary differences is insufficient to recognise a deferred tax asset in full, then future taxable profits, adjusted for reversals of existing temporary differences, are considered, based on the business plans for individual subsidiaries in the Group. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized; such reductions are reversed when the probability of future taxable profits improves.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only if certain criteria are met.

(s) Provisions and contingent liabilities(i) Provision and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation arising as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made. Where the time value of money is material, provisions are stated at the present value of the expenditure expected to settle the obligation.

Where it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required, or the amount cannot be estimated reliably, the obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability, unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote. Possible obligations, whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more future events are also disclosed as contingent liabilities unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote.

(ii) Contingent liabilities assumed in business combinations

Contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination which are present obligations at the date of acquisition are initially recognised at fair value, provided the fair value can be reliably measured. After their initial recognition at fair value, such contingent liabilities are recognised at the higher of the amount initially recognised, less accumulated amortisation where appropriate, and the amount that would be determined in accordance with Note 2(s)(i).

(t) Revenue and other income

Income is classified by the Group as revenue when it arises from the sale of goods or the provision of services.

Revenue is recognised when control over a product or service is transferred to the customer, at the amount of promised consideration to which the Group is expected to be entitled, excluding those amounts collected on behalf of third parties. Revenue excludes value added tax or other sales taxes and is after deduction of any trade discounts.

(i) Sales of goods and provision of services

(a) Sale of chip products

Revenue is recognised when the Group transfers the control over the chip products to customers (i.e. goods accepted by customers) or satisfies the performance obligation in the contract.

(b) Provision of services

Revenue of management services is recognised over time during the contract period beginning on the date that the service is made available to the customer. Revenue of other services is recognised when the customer passes the acceptance and the development results are submitted.

(ii) Dividends

Dividend income is recognised in profit or loss on the date on which the Group's right to receive payment is established.

(iii) Interest income

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method. The "effective interest rate" is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset. In calculating interest income, the effective interest rate is applied to the gross carrying amount of the asset (when the asset is not credit-impaired). However, for financial assets that have become credit-impaired subsequent to initial recognition, interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortized cost of the financial asset. If the asset is no longer credit-impaired, then the calculation of interest income reverts to the gross basis.

(iv) Government grants

Government grants are recognised in the statement of financial position initially when there is reasonable assurance that they will be received and that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them.

Grants that compensate the Group for expenses incurred are recognised as income in profit or loss on a systematic basis in the same periods in which the expenses are incurred.

Grants related to assets shall be recognised as deferred income in the balance sheet and recorded in other net income in a reasonable and systematic manner within the service life of the relevant assets. Government grants related to income, those to be used as compensation for future expenses or losses shall be recognised as deferred income and shall be recorded in other net income in the period in which the relevant expenses or losses are recognised; other government grants shall be recorded in other net income directly.

(u) Translation of foreign currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency differences are generally recognised in profit or loss.

The assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into RMB at the exchange rates at the reporting date. The income and expenses of foreign operations are translated into RMB at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. The resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity in the exchange reserve.

On disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative amount of the exchange differences relating to that foreign operation is reclassified from equity to profit or loss when the profit or loss on disposal is recognised.

(v) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset which necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

(w) Related parties

- (a) A person, or a close member of that person's family, is related to the Group if that person:
 - (i) has control or joint control over the Group;
 - (ii) has significant influence over the Group; or
 - (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or the Group's parent.
- (b) An entity is related to the Group if any of the following conditions applies:
 - (i) The entity and the Group are members of the same Group (which means that each parent, subsidiary and fellow subsidiary is related to the others).
 - (ii) One entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or an associate or joint venture of a member of a group of which the other entity is a member).
 - (iii) Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party.
 - (iv) One entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity.
 - (v) The entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group.
 - (vi) The entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a).
 - (vii) A person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).
 - (viii) The entity, or any member of a group of which it is a part, provides key management personnel services to the Group or to the Group's parent.

Close members of the family of a person are those family members who may be expected to influence, or be influenced by, that person in their dealings with the entity.

(x) Segment reporting

Operating segments, and the amounts of each segment item reported in the financial statements, are identified from the financial information provided regularly to the Group's most senior executive management for the purposes of allocating resources to, and assessing the performance of, the Group's various lines of business and geographical locations.

Individually material operating segments are not aggregated for financial reporting purposes unless the segments have similar economic characteristics and are similar in respect of the nature of products and services, the nature of production processes, the type or class of customers, the methods used to distribute the products or provide the services, and the nature of the regulatory environment. Operating segments which are not individually material may be aggregated if they share a majority of these criteria.

3 ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES

Notes 27 and 32(e) contains information about the assumptions and risk factors relating to fair value of equity-settled share-based transactions and other financial assets. Other key sources of estimation uncertainty are as follows:

(i) Net realisable value of inventories

Net realizable value of inventories is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. Special consideration is given to estimate the selling price of those technically obsolete and/or slow-moving inventory items.

Management reassesses these estimations at the end of reporting period to ensure inventory is shown at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

(ii) Impairment of goodwill

The Group determines whether goodwill is impaired at least on an annual basis. This requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which the goodwill is allocated. Estimating the value in use requires the Group to make an estimate of the expected future cash flows from the cash-generating units and also to choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows. Further details are given in Note 14.

(iii) Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilized. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

(b) Segment reporting

IFRS 8, Operating Segments, requires identification and disclosure of operating segment information based on internal financial reports that are regularly reviewed by the Group's chief operating decision maker for the purpose of resources allocation and performance assessment. On this basis, the Group has determined that it only has one operating segment which is the sales of chip products.

(i) Geographic information

The following table sets out information about the geographical location of the Group's revenue from external customers. All of its non-current assets and capital expenditure were located/incurred in Chinese Mainland. 10 EARNINGS/(LOSS) PER SHARE

(a) Basic earnings/(loss) per share

The basic earnings/(loss) per share for the Track Record Period is calculated by dividing the profit/(loss) attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue for the Track Record Period as follows:

As disclosed in Note 31(c), the capital reserve was converted into share capital on the basis of four new shares for every 10 shares. Accordingly, the weighted average number of ordinary shares has been adjusted retrospectively from January 1, 2022.

(b) Diluted earnings per share

For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2024 and six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2025, the restricted shares (Note 27) were not included in the calculation of diluted loss per share because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive. The Company does not have other potential ordinary shares and therefore the amount of diluted loss per share is the same as basic loss per share for those years/periods.

For the year ended December 31, 2022, the diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing the above profit attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares after adjusting the effect of dilutive potential ordinary shares in respect of the Company's equity-settled share-based payment schemes for the Track Record Period as follows:

Weighted average number of ordinary shares at December 31	129,699
Effect of deemed issue of restricted shares under the Company's restricted shares incentive scheme for 2022 (Note 27)	203

14 GOODWILL

	As at December 31, 2024 RMB'000	As at June 30, 2025 RMB'000
Cost (Note 30(b))	504,142	504,142
	504,142	504,142

Goodwill arising from the Group's acquisition of the MagnTek Group in October 2024.

Impairment tests for cash-generating units containing goodwill

Goodwill is allocated to the Group's CGUs as follows:

	As at December 31, 2024 RMB'000	As at June 30, 2025 RMB'000
MagnTek Group	504,142	504,142

The recoverable amount of the CGU is determined based on value-in-use calculations. The Group engaged an independent professional valuer to assist with the calculation. These calculations use cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using an estimated terminal growth rate of 0%. The discount rate used is pre-tax and reflect specific risks relating to the relevant industry, the CGUs themselves and macro-environment. The key assumptions used in estimating the recoverable amount are as follows:

	As at December 31, 2024	As at June 30, 2025
Annual revenue growth rate during the forecast period
(i):	from 10% to 20%	from 10% to 25%
Gross profit margin	from 45.83% to 49.19%	from 45.83% to 49.19%
Growth rate beyond the forecast period	0%	0%
Pre-tax discount rate	11.75%	12.02%
(i) The basis used to determine the value assigned to the annual growth rate of revenue was based on the average growth levels experienced over the past years and the estimated sales volume and price growth for the next five years.

	As at December 31, 2024 RMB'000	As at June 30, 2025 RMB'000
MagnTek Group	71,800	220,946

Management have undertaken sensitivity analysis on the impairment test of goodwill. The following table sets out the hypothetical changes to annual growth rate during the 5-year forecast, gross margin rate and discount rate that would, in isolation, have removed the remaining headroom respectively as at December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2025:

	MagnTek Group
	As at December 31, 2024	As at June 30, 2025
Compound annual growth rate of revenue
during the 5-year forecast period	-2.0%	-5.6%
Gross margin rate	-2.1%	-6.0%
Pre-tax discount rate	+6.2%	+54.2%

The Company performs impairment test on goodwill at each reporting date. The recoverable amount of the CGU based on the value-in-use ("VIU") calculations is higher than its carrying amount as at December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2025. With regard to the assessment of the VIU of the CGUs, the directors of the Company believe that any reasonably possible change in any of the above key assumptions would not cause the carrying value, including goodwill, of the CGUs to exceed the recoverable amounts.

(e) Nature and purpose of reserves

(i) Capital reserve

The capital reserve comprises the following:

- the portion of the grant date fair value of unvested restricted shares granted to employees of the Group that has been recognised in accordance with the accounting policy adopted for share-based payments in Note 2(q)(ii); and

(ii) Exchange reserve

The exchange reserve comprises all foreign exchange differences arising from the translation of the financial statements of foreign operations. The reserve is dealt with in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2(u).

(f) Capital management

The Group's primary objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders, by pricing products and services commensurately with the level of risk and by securing access to finance at a reasonable cost.

The Group actively and regularly reviews and manages its capital structure to maintain a balance between the higher shareholder returns that might be possible with higher levels of borrowings and the advantages and security afforded by a sound capital position, and makes adjustments to the capital structure in light of changes in economic conditions.

The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged throughout the years ended December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 and six months ended June 30, 2025. The Group monitors its capital structure with reference to its debt position. The Group's strategy is to maintain the equity and debt in a balanced position and ensure there are adequate working capital to service its debt obligations. The Group's debt to asset ratio, being the Group's total liabilities over its total assets, as at December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 and June 30, 2025 was 5.1%, 13.3%, 22.5% and 22.2% respectively.

32 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT AND FAIR VALUES OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Exposure to credit, liquidity, interest rate and currency risks arises in the normal course of the Group's business.

The Group's exposure to these risks and the financial risk management policies and practices used by the Group to manage these risks are described below.

(a) Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in a financial loss to the Group. The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to accounts receivable, contract assets or other financial assets including the risk that receivables will be collected late or not at all if a customer or another contractual party does not fulfill its contractual obligations. The Group's exposure to credit risk arising from cash and restricted bank deposits and bills receivable is limited because the counterparties are banks and financial institutions with high credit standing, for which the Group considers to have low credit risk.

The Group does not provide any guarantees which would expose the Group to credit risk.

Trade receivables

The Group has established a credit risk management policy under which individual credit evaluations are performed on all customers requiring credit over a certain amount. These evaluations focus on the customer's past history of making payments when due and current ability to pay and take into account information specific to the customer as well as pertaining to the economic environment in which the customer operates. Normally, the Group does not obtain collateral from customers.

The Group has no significant concentration of credit risk in industries or countries in which the customers operate. Significant concentrations of credit risk primarily arise when the Group has significant exposure to individual customers. As at December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 and June 30, 2025, 19.92%, 27.33%, 9.05% and 11.51% of the total trade receivables was due from the Group's largest customer respectively, and 65.44%, 63.81%, 43.76% and 35.17% of the total trade receivables, respectively, was due from the Group's five largest customers.

The Group measures loss allowances for trade receivables and contract assets at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs, which is calculated using a provision matrix. As the Group's historical credit loss experience does not indicate significantly different loss patterns for different customer segments, the loss allowance based on past due status is not further distinguished between the Group's different customer bases.

The following table provides information about the Group's exposure to credit risk and ECLs for trade receivables and contract assets:

	As at December 31, 2022
	Expected loss rate %	Gross carrying amount RMB'000	Loss allowance RMB'000

Over 2 years but less than 3 years	50%	2	1
		608,874	30,851

Expected loss rates are based on actual loss experience over the past years. These rates are adjusted to reflect differences between economic conditions during the period over which the historic data has been collected, current conditions and the Group's view of economic conditions over the expected lives of the receivables.

Movement in the loss allowance account in respect of trade receivables and contract assets during the year/period is as follows:

	RMB'000
Balance at January 1, 2022	5,602
Amounts written off	(43)
Impairment losses recognised	4,864
Disposal of subsidiaries	(465)

Amounts written off	(825)
Impairment losses recognised	9,752
Balance at June 30, 2025	30,851

Other receivables

Credit risk in respect of other receivables is limited since the balance mainly includes deposits, value-added-tax recoverable, and amounts due from related parties.

The Group has assessed that during the Track Record Periods, other receivables have not had a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. Thus, a 12-month expected credit loss approach that results from possible default event within 12 months of each reporting date is adopted by management. The Group do not expect any losses from non-performance by the counterparties of other receivables and no loss allowance provision for other receivables was recognised.

(b) Liquidity risk

Individual operating entities within the Group are responsible for their own cash management, including the short term investment of cash surpluses and the raising of loans to cover expected cash demands, subject to approval by the parent company's board when the borrowings exceed certain predetermined levels of authority. The Group's policy is to regularly monitor its liquidity requirements and its compliance with lending covenants, to ensure that it maintains sufficient reserves of cash and adequate committed lines of funding from major financial institutions to meet its liquidity requirements in the short and longer term.

The following tables show the remaining contractual maturities at the end of the reporting period of the Group's financial liabilities, which are based on contractual undiscounted cash flows (including interest payments computed using contractual rates or, if floating, based on rates current at the reporting date) and the earliest date the Group and can be required to pay:

(c) Interest rate risk

Interest-bearing financial instruments at variable rates and at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest risk and cash flow interest rate risk, respectively. The Group determines the appropriate weightings of the fixed and floating rate interest-bearing instruments based on the current market conditions and performs regular reviews and monitoring to achieve an appropriate mix of fixed and floating rate exposure. The fair value interest rate risk and cash flow interest rate risk that the Group exposed to are not significant.

(i) Interest rate risk profile

The following table, as reported to the management of the Group, details the interest rate risk profile of the Group's borrowings, lease liabilities, capacity deposit, cash and cash equivalents and restricted bank deposits as at the end of the reporting period:

(ii) Sensitivity analysis

As at December 31, 2022, 2023 and 2024 and June 30, 2025, it is estimated that a general increase/decrease of 100 basis points in interest rates, with all other variable held constant, would have increase/decrease the Group's profit/loss after tax and retained profits by approximately RMB10,754,000, RMB14,885,000, RMB8,788,000 and RMB6,262,000 in response to the general increase/decrease in interest rates.

The sensitivity analysis above indicates the instantaneous change in the Group's profit/loss after tax and retained profits that would arise assuming that the change in interest rates had occurred at the end of each reporting period and had been applied to re-measure those financial instruments held by the Group which expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk at the end of each reporting period. In respect of the exposure to cash flow interest rate risk arising from floating rate non-derivative instruments held by the Group at the end of each reporting period, the impact on the Group's profit/loss after tax and retained profits is estimated as an annualized impact on interest expense or income of such a change in interest rates.

(d) Currency risk

In respect of cash at bank and on hand, accounts receivable and payable, short-term loans and long-term loans denominated in foreign currencies other than the functional currency, the Group ensures that its net exposure is kept to an acceptable level by buying or selling foreign currencies at spot rates and doing hedging when necessary to address short-term imbalances.

(i) Exposure to currency risk

The following table details the Group's exposure at the end of the reporting period to currency risk arising from recognised assets or liabilities denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the entity to which they relate. For presentation purposes, the amounts of the exposure are shown in Renminbi, translated using the spot rate at the year/period end date.

The following table indicates the instantaneous change in the Group's profit/(loss) after tax (and retained profits) and other components of consolidated equity that would arise if foreign exchange rates to which the Group has significant exposure at the end of the reporting period had changed at that date, assuming all other risk variables remained constant.

Results of the analysis as presented in the above table represent an aggregation of the instantaneous effects on each of the Group entities' profit after tax and equity measured in the respective functional currencies, and then translated into RMB at the exchange rate ruling at the end of the reporting period for presentation purposes.

The sensitivity analysis assumes that the change in foreign exchange rates had been applied to re-measure those financial instruments held by the Group which expose the Group to foreign currency risk at the end of the reporting period, including inter-company payables and receivables within the Group which are denominated in a currency other than the functional currencies of the lender or the borrower. The analysis excludes differences that would result from the translation of the financial statements of foreign operations into the Group's presentation currency.

(e) Fair value measurement

(i) Financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value

Fair value hierarchy

The following table presents the fair value of the Group's financial instruments measured at the end of the reporting period on a recurring basis, categorised into the three-level fair value hierarchy as defined in HKFRS 13, Fair value measurement. The level into which a fair value measurement is classified is determined with reference to the observability and significance of the inputs used in the valuation technique as follows:

- Level 1 valuations: Fair value measured using only Level 1 inputs i.e. unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities at the measurement date.
- Level 2 valuations: Fair value measured using Level 2 inputs i.e. observable inputs which fail to meet Level 1, and not using significant unobservable inputs. Unobservable inputs are inputs for which market data are not available.
- Level 3 valuations: Fair value measured using significant unobservable inputs.

IFRS 18, Presentation and disclosure in financial statements

IFRS 18 will replace IAS 1 Presentation of financial statements and aims to improve the transparency and comparability of information about an entity's financial statements. IFRS 18 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027 and is to be applied retrospectively.

Among other changes, under IFRS 18, entities are required to classify all income and expenses into five categories in the statement of profit or loss, namely the operating, investing, financing, discontinued operations and income tax categories. Entities are also required to provide specific disclosures about management defined performance measures in a single note in the financial statements. Minor amendments to IAS 7 Statement of cash flows are also made.

The Group does not plan to early adopt IFRS 18. IFRS18 will impact the presentation of financial statements and is not expected to have significant impact on the financial performance and positions of the Group.

PRC JUDICIAL SYSTEM

According to the Constitution and the Law of Organization of the People's Court of the People's Republic of China (《中華人民共和國人民法院組織法》), as amended by the NPC Standing Committee on October 26, 2018 and effective from January 1, 2019, the people's courts of the PRC are divided into the Supreme People's Court, local people's courts at various levels and special people's courts. Local people's courts at various levels are divided into three levels, namely, basic people's courts, intermediate people's courts and higher people's courts. Basic people's courts may set up special civil tribunals based on region, population and case-related considerations. The Supreme People's Court serves as the highest judicial organ in the PRC. The Supreme People's Court exercises its supervisory authority over the trial practices of local people's courts at various levels and special people's courts, while higher people's courts exercise their supervisory authority over the trial practices of people's courts at lower levels.

The people's courts employ a two-tier trial system, i.e., judgments or rulings of the second instance at people's courts are final. A party may appeal against the judgment or ruling of the first instance of a local people's court. The people's procuratorate may present a protest to the people's court at the next higher level in accordance with the procedures stipulated by laws. In the absence of any appeal by the parties and any protest by the people's procuratorate within the stipulated period, the judgment or ruling of the people's court shall be final. Judgments or rulings of the second instance of intermediate people's courts, higher people's courts and the Supreme People's Court and those of the first instance of the Supreme People's Court shall be final. However, if the Supreme People's Court finds any definite error in a legally effective final judgment or ruling of a people's court at any level, a higher people's court finds any definite error in a legally effective final judgment or ruling of a people's court at a lower level, or if the president of a people's court at any level finds any definite error in a legally effective final judgment or ruling of such court, the case can be retried according to judicial supervision procedures.

The Civil Procedure Law of the People's Republic of China (《中華人民共和國民事訴訟法》) last amended on September 1, 2023 and effective from January 1, 2024 (the “Civil Procedure Law”) provides for the conditions for instituting a civil action, the jurisdiction of people's courts, the procedures for conducting a civil action, and the procedures for enforcement of a civil judgment or ruling. All parties to a civil action conducted within the PRC must abide by the Civil Procedure Law of the People's Republic of China. A civil case is generally under the jurisdiction of the court located in the defendant's place of domicile. The litigants of a contract dispute or other property rights dispute may agree in writing on selection of the jurisdiction of a people's court at the location of the defendant's domicile, place of performance of contract, place of execution of contract, address of the plaintiff, location of the subject matter or a venue which has actual connection with the dispute, provided that the selection does not violate the provisions of the Civil Procedure Law on hierarchical jurisdiction and exclusive jurisdiction.

A foreign individual, person without nationality, foreign enterprise or foreign organization shall have the same litigation rights and obligations as a Chinese citizen, legal person or other organization in initiating or defending against a litigation in a people's court. Where a foreign court restricts the litigation rights of a Chinese citizen or enterprise, the Chinese people's courts shall apply the principle of reciprocity to the civil litigation rights of the citizens and enterprises of that country. Where a foreign individual, person without nationality, foreign enterprise or foreign organization initiates or responds to a litigation in a people's court in the PRC and needs to engage a lawyer to represent he/she/it in the litigation, he/she/it must engage a Chinese lawyer. In accordance with the international treaties to which the PRC is a signatory or party, or according to the principle of reciprocity, a people's court and a foreign court may request each other to serve documents, conduct investigations and collect evidence and conduct other actions on their behalf. A people's court shall not accede to any request made by a foreign court which results in the infringement of the sovereignty, security or public interests of the PRC.

All parties to a civil action shall perform the legally effective judgments and rulings. If any party to a civil action refuses to abide by a judgment or ruling made by a people's court or an award made by an arbitration tribunal in the PRC, the other party may apply to the people's court for the enforcement of the same within two years subject to application for postponed enforcement or revocation. The laws governing the suspension or interruption of the statute of limitations shall apply to the suspension or interruption of the statute of limitations for the application for enforcement. If a party fails to satisfy within the stipulated period a judgment which the court has granted an enforcement approval, the court may, upon the application of the other party, mandatorily enforce the judgment against such party.

Where a party requests for the enforcement of an effective judgment or ruling made by a people's court, but the opposite party or his/her/its property is not within the territory of the People's Republic of China, the party making the request may directly apply to the foreign court with jurisdiction for the recognition and enforcement of the judgment or ruling, or the people's court may, in accordance with the provisions of international treaties to which the PRC is a signatory or party, or according to the principle of reciprocity, request for the recognition and enforcement of the judgment or ruling by the foreign court. Similarly, for an effective judgment or ruling made by a foreign court that requires recognition and enforcement by a people's court of the PRC, the party concerned may directly apply to an intermediate people's court of the PRC with jurisdiction for recognition and enforcement of the judgment or ruling, or the foreign court may, in accordance with the provisions of international treaties to which that country and the PRC are signatories or parties, or according to the principle of reciprocity, request for the recognition and enforcement by the people's court, unless the people's court considers that such judgment or ruling is contrary to the fundamental principles of the PRC laws or to the sovereignty or security of the PRC, or is not in the social and public interests of the PRC.

Securities Laws and Regulations

In October 1992, the State Council established the Securities Committee and the CSRC. The Securities Committee is responsible for coordinating the drafting of securities regulations, formulating securities-related policies, planning the development of securities markets, directing, coordinating and supervising all securities-related institutions in the PRC and administering the CSRC. The CSRC is the regulatory arm of the Securities Committee and is responsible for the drafting of regulatory provisions of securities markets, supervising securities companies, regulating public offers of securities by Chinese companies both at home and abroad, regulating the trading of securities, compiling securities-related statistics and undertaking research and analysis. On March 29, 1998, the State Council consolidated the above two departments and reformed the CSRC.

The Provisional Regulations on the Issue and Trading of Shares (《股票發行與交易管理暫行條例》), promulgated by the State Council and effective on April 22, 1993, regulates the application and approval procedures for the public issue of shares, the trading of shares, the acquisitions by listed companies, the deposit, settlement and transfer of listed shares, the disclosure of information by listed companies, the investigation and penalties, and the arbitration of disputes.

The Provisions of the State Council on Domestic Listing of Foreign Shares by Companies Limited by Shares (《國務院關於股份有限公司境內上市外資股的規定》), promulgated by the State Council and effective on December 25, 1995, mainly regulates the issue, subscription, trading and payment of dividends of domestic listing foreign shares and the disclosure of information of companies limited by shares with domestic listing foreign shares.

The Securities Law of the People's Republic of China (《中華人民共和國證券法》) latest amended by the NPC Standing Committee on December 28, 2019 and effective from March 1, 2020 (the “PRC Securities Law”) provides a series of provisions regulating, among other things, the issue and trading of securities, the acquisitions by listed companies, securities exchanges, securities companies and the duties and responsibilities of the State Council's securities regulatory authorities in the PRC, and comprehensively regulates activities in the PRC securities market. The PRC Securities Law provides that a domestic enterprise must comply with the relevant provisions of the State Council in issuing securities directly or indirectly outside the PRC or listing and trading its securities outside the PRC. Currently, the issue and trading of foreign issued shares are mainly governed by the rules and regulations promulgated by the State Council and the CSRC.

Arbitration and Enforcement of Arbitral Awards

In accordance with the Arbitration Law of the People's Republic of China (《中華人民共和國仲裁法》) amended by the NPC Standing Committee on September 1, 2017 and effective from January 1, 2018 (the “Arbitration Law”), the Arbitration Law is applicable to economic disputes involving foreign parties, where all parties have entered into a written agreement to refer the matter to an arbitration committee constituted in accordance with the Arbitration Law. An arbitration committee may, before the promulgation by the China Arbitration Association of arbitration regulations, formulate interim arbitration rules in accordance with relevant regulations under the Arbitration Law and the Civil Procedure Law of the People's Republic of China. When parties concerned have reached an agreement for arbitration but one party brings a suit in the people's court, the people's court shall not accept the case, except in the case that the agreement for arbitration is invalid.

In accordance with the Arbitration Law, an arbitral award is final and binding on the parties. If a party fails to comply with an award, the other party to the award may apply to the people's court for enforcement according to the Civil Procedure Law of the People's Republic of China. A people's court may refuse to enforce an arbitral award made by an arbitration commission if there is any procedural irregularity (including irregularity in the composition of the arbitration committee or the making of an award on matters beyond the scope of the arbitration agreement or the jurisdiction of the arbitration commission). Where a party applies for enforcement of an arbitral award made in the PRC pursuant to laws which has come into legal effect, and the person subject to enforcement or its properties are not located in the PRC, the party may apply to a foreign court with jurisdiction over the case for recognition and enforcement. Similarly, an arbitral award made by a foreign arbitration body may be recognized and enforced by the people's court in accordance with the principles of reciprocity or any international treaty concluded or acceded to by the PRC.

According to the Arrangement of the Supreme People's Court on Mutual Enforcement of Arbitral Awards between the Mainland and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (《最高人民法院關於內地與香港特別行政區相互執行仲裁裁決的安排》) promulgated by the Supreme People's Court on January 24, 2000 and effective on February 1, 2000, and the Supplementary Arrangement of the Supreme People's Court on Mutual Enforcement of Arbitral Awards between the Mainland and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (《最高人民法院關於內地與香港特別行政區相互執行仲裁裁決的補充安排》) promulgated by the Supreme People's Court on November 26, 2020 and effective on November 27, 2020, awards made by PRC arbitral authorities can be enforced in Hong Kong, and Hong Kong arbitration awards are also enforceable in the PRC.

Judicial Judgment and its Enforcement

In accordance with the Supreme People's Court's Arrangement on Reciprocal Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters by the Courts of the Mainland and of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region Pursuant to Choice of Court Agreements between Parties Concerned (《最高人民法院關於內地與香港特別行政區法院相互認可和執行當事人協議管轄的民商事案件判決的安排》) promulgated by the Supreme People's Court on July 3, 2008 and effective on August 1, 2008 and was abolished on January 29, 2024, as for an enforceable final judgment made by a court in Mainland China or Hong Kong court concerning a civil and commercial case under a written agreement on jurisdiction, in which payment must be made, the party concerned may, under the Arrangement, apply to a court in Mainland China or a Hong Kong court for recognition and enforcement. The term "written agreement on jurisdiction" refers to agreements clearly stipulated in written form by parties concerned that a court in Mainland China or a Hong Kong court has sole jurisdiction as to the effectiveness of the Arrangement, so as to settle disputes relevant to a certain legal relationship that has either arisen or might arise. Therefore, the party concerned may apply to the court in Mainland China or the court of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region to recognize and enforce the final judgment made in Mainland China or Hong Kong that meet certain conditions of the aforementioned regulations.

On January 25, 2024, the Supreme People's Court promulgated the Arrangement on Reciprocal Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters by the Courts of the Mainland and of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (《關於內地與香港特別行政區法院相互認可和執行民商事案件判決的安排》) (the "New Arrangement"), which came into effect on January 29, 2024, aiming to establish a mechanism with further clarification on and certainty for recognition and enforcement of judgments in a wider range of civil and commercial matters between the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region and China.

The number of restricted Shares granted and/or vested and/or the grant prices shall be adjusted upon the occurrence of certain events, including increase in the share capital by way of capitalization of capital reserves, distribution of dividends, subdivision of shares, placing and share reduction. Our Company may void the granted but unvested restricted Shares upon occurrence of certain events as set out in the Restricted Share Incentive Plans, including but not limited to the termination of employment of the grantees with our Company.

(i) Outstanding restricted Shares

As of the Latest Practicable Date, the number of outstanding restricted Shares granted under the Restricted Share Incentive Plans as resolved by our Board was 2,003,053, representing approximately 1.22% of the total issued Shares immediately following completion of the Global Offering (assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans). Assuming full vesting of all outstanding restricted Shares granted under the Restricted Share Incentive Plans by issue of A Shares, instead of repurchase of A Shares from the secondary market, and the Over-allotment Option is not exercised, the shareholding of our Shareholders immediately following completion of the Global Offering will be diluted by approximately 1.22%, and such issue of A Shares will have anti-dilutive effect on the earning per Share.

The following table sets forth the number of outstanding restricted Shares granted to Directors and senior management of our Company under our Restricted Share Incentive Plans as of the Latest Practicable Date:

Name	Position in our Group	Restricted Share Incentive Plan	Date of grant	Vesting period	Grant price	Number of outstanding restricted Shares	As an approximate percentage of issued share capital upon completion of the Global Offering ⁽¹⁾
Director and Senior Management

- (1) The calculation is based on the assumption that the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans.
- (2) The vesting schedule for the restricted Shares under the 2022 Restricted Share Incentive Plan is (i) 25% to be vested between the first year and the second year from the date of the initial grant; (ii) 25% to be vested between the second year and the third year from the date of the initial grant; (iii) 25% to be vested between the third year and the fourth year from the date of the initial grant; and (iv) 25% to be vested between the fourth year and the fifth year from the date of the initial grant.

Notes:

- (1) The calculation is based on the assumption that the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and no additional Shares are issued pursuant to our Restricted Share Incentive Plans.

- (3) Represent the outstanding 2022 Retained Restricted Shares granted to 27 grantees who are not Directors or senior management of our Company as resolved by our Board. As the 2022 Retained Restricted Shares was granted on October 25, 2022, after the release of our Company's 2022 third quarterly report, the vesting schedule for the 2022 Retained Restricted Shares is (i) 25% to be vested between the first year and the second year from the date of the initial grant; (ii) 25% to be vested between the second year and the third year from the date of the initial grant; (iii) 25% to be vested between the third year and the fourth year from the date of the initial grant; and (iv) 25% to be vested between the fourth year and the fifth year from the date of the initial grant.
