On the 9 March 2023, at the Dublin Convention Centre, Zero Day Con will bring together leading technology firms, industry experts and government officials to allow business leaders to learn more about the latest cybersecurity trends. This year, over 500 international cybersecurity industry leaders are expected to be in attendance.

The theme for this year is 'Connect', where topics such as connecting the user and technology, mitigating threats from within, and navigating emerging geopolitical tensions will be explored. Raluca Saceanu, CEO of Smarttech247, commented:

"The threat landscape is evolving at an alarming rate. Our security operations centres have noted an increase of 40% in cyber attacks facing European Businesses in 2022 caused by three key factors: businesses' reliance on cloud and third-party providers, the geopolitical situation that has been causing a high degree of cyber instability since last year, and lastly, the advancements in criminal tools and tactics.

"We will discuss these growing concerns and other macro trends that influence the cybersecurity industry at our conference on 9 March in Dublin."
