("tinyBuild" or the "Company")

Concert party update

tinyBuild, the premium video games publisher and developer with global operations, announces a change to the concert party pursuant to the Company's Certificate of Incorporation.

Luke Burtis resigned from the Company on the 29 March 2023 and is no longer involved with the Company. The Directors of the Company, having obtained US legal advice and consulted with Berenberg as Nominated Adviser, have removed Luke Burtis and associated parties from the concert party that was put in place at the IPO. Therefore, Alex Nichiporchik (CEO) and Luke Burtis are no longer presumed to be acting in concert and they will act independently in matters regarding the Company.

About tinyBuild:

Founded in 2013, tinyBuild (AIM: TBLD) is a global video games publisher and developer, with a catalogue of more than 70 premium titles across different genres. tinyBuild's strategy is to focus on its own intellectual property (IP) to build multi-game and multimedia franchises, in partnership with developers.

tinyBuild is headquartered in the USA with operations stretching across the Americas and Europe. The Group's broad geographical footprint enables the Company to source high-potential IP, access cost-effective development resources, and build a loyal customer base through its innovative grassroots marketing.

tinyBuild was admitted to AIM, a market by the London Stock Exchange, in March 2021.
