2023 orders to over 30 countries

Image Scan (AIM: IGE), specialists in the field of X-ray imaging for the security and industrial inspection markets, confirms orders so far in its financial year ending 30 September 2023 to over thirty countries. Some of the highlights include orders for the portable security x-ray ThreatScan in Spain and Indonesia and an important supply to an international intergovernmental agency undertaking valuable peace keeping operations in Africa.

The new ThreatScan AS1 product mentioned in the January RNS has now reached double digit unit orders and will be demonstrated at this year's DSEi (Excel London 12-15 September) by our channel partners NP Aerospace, a leading armour and bomb suit manufacturer.

Vince Deery, Chief Executive Officer of Image Scan commented: "I am pleased not only with the wide geographic spread of orders and sales in the year to date but with the efforts of the whole team to make them happen. Hopefully this year's DSEi will generate further interest."
