Appointment of Lenigas as Strategic Consultant

2 February 2024

Red Rock Resources Plc, ("Red Rock" or "the Company"), a natural resource development company with projects and investments in Oil & Gas, Gold and new generation energy metals, announces the appointment of Mr David Lenigas as a Strategic Consultant to assist the board and the Company as it begins a new phase of growth.

Red Rock's Chairman Andrew Bell comments:

"We have known David for some years now and worked well with him in the past when we jointly developed onshore oil projects in Southern England. His drive, his ability to think outside the box, his instinctive grasp of the big picture, allied with his mining engineering and corporate expertise make him a good match for Red Rock at this juncture. His appointed is at the perfect time for us as we begin to structure a new and very exciting future for Red Rock.

We now want to bring some of our key assets further along the production path and we need people of David's experience and drive around us who understand what is needed and how to get us there.

David Lenigas is someone we have had a good experience working with and who can help the Company achieve what it is capable of. We welcome his arrival to the Company."

David Lenigas commented:

"Red Rock Resources has a number of really top-shelf assets and I really do like the push that the board has initiated into reviewing opportunities in the oil and gas sector. I'm looking forward to assisting Andrew and his team in trying and build a company of real size. I see the value of the assets in their portfolio as being worth considerably more that RRR is currently worth, and I will relish the opportunity of helping Andrew deliver growing shareholder value."
