Videndum plc

Delay to 2023 Full Year Results Date

Videndum plc, the international provider of premium branded hardware products and software solutions to the content creation market, announces that the release of its results for the year ended 31 December 2023, due on 19 March 2024, has been delayed because more time is required to finalise its full year financial reporting, including the treatment of certain adjusting items relating to FY 2023. A revised date will be announced in due course.

2024 trading has started in line with the Board's expectations, with orders increasing as the cine/scripted TV market recovery begins, however the macroeconomic environment remains challenging.
