Second interim dividend - exchange rate and Irish dividend withholding tax

28 June 2024 - Experian plc, the global data and technology company, hereby notifies the market that, further to the announcement on 15 May 2024 of a second interim dividend of 40.50 US cents per ordinary share payable on 19 July 2024 to shareholders on the register of members at the close of business on 21 June 2024, the exchange rate to be used to convert the dividend payment from US dollars to sterling pounds, for those shareholders who did not elect by 21 June 2024 to receive payment in US dollars, will be £1 = $1.26426. Accordingly, the sterling amount of dividend payable on 19 July 2024 to such shareholders will be approximately 32.0345 pence per share.

Shareholders who did not elect to receive UK sourced dividends through the income access share arrangements are reminded that, as previously advised, their dividends will be subject to Irish dividend withholding tax unless the Company's Registrars are in possession of a valid exemption form. As previously advised, the final date for submission of elections to receive UK sourced dividends via the income access share arrangements was 21 June 2024. In the absence of any such elections, previous elections or deemed elections will remain in force.
