New Corporate Presentation

EnergyPathways plc (AIM: EPP), an integrated energy transition company, announces that it has uploaded a new corporate presentation to its website: <https://energypathways.uk/presentations>

The presentation outlines EPP's plans to develop the Marram Energy Storage Hub ("MESH") in the UK Irish Sea to provide critical clean energy supply and storage infrastructure to the UK's energy market. Specifically, the presentation outlines how the UK's fragile energy security will be a priority topic for any government and how EPP's unique business model, which focuses on an initial sustainable gas development before transitioning to gas storage operations, correlates to the energy policies set out in the leading parties' manifestos as they seek to achieve a responsible energy transition for UK.
