Solar Foods Commences Trading on the Nasdaq First North Growth Exchange

Agronomics (LSE: ANIC), a leading listed company in the field of cellular agriculture is pleased to report that, as announced on 29 August 2024, its portfolio company Solar Foods Oyj ("Solar Foods") begins trading on the Nasdaq First North Growth Exchange today under the ticker "SFOODS".

About Solar Foods

Solar Foods produces protein using carbon dioxide and electricity. Solein[®] production, irrespective of weather and climate conditions, liberates global protein production from the constraints of traditional agriculture. Solar Foods, founded in 2017 in Espoo, Finland by Dr Pasi Vainikka, Dr Juha-Pekka Pitkänen, Sami Holmström, Jari Tuovinen, Professor Jero Ahola, and Janne Mäkelä as a spinoff from VTT Technical Research Centre of Finland and LUT University. www.solarfoods.com.

About Agronomics

Agronomics is a leading London-listed company focussing on investment opportunities within the field of cellular agriculture. The Company has established a portfolio of over 20 companies in this rapidly advancing sector. It seeks to invest in companies owning technologies with defensible intellectual property that offer new ways of producing food and materials with a focus on products historically derived from animals. These technologies are driving a major disruption in agriculture, offering solutions to improve sustainability, as well as addressing human health, animal welfare and environmental damage. This disruption will decouple supply chains from the environment and animals and improve food security for the world's expanding population.
