Petards, the AIM quoted developer of advanced security, communication and surveillance systems, announces that its subsidiary, QRO Solutions (QRO), has been awarded a contract worth in excess of £0.6 million for ANPR systems, with an option for the customer to increase this further to £0.8 million.

The customer's option to increase the order value by a further £0.2 million to procure other ANPR equipment, may be exercised for deliveries within the next three years.

Raschid Abdullah, Chairman of Petards Group plc said:
