Update

18 October 2024

Red Rock Resources Plc, ("Red Rock" or "the Company"), is a natural resource development company with interests in gold and base metals, principally in Africa and Australia.

The Company notes that it has submitted and remitted payment for samples to be tested by SGS in Yamoussoukro and expects results as soon as payment is received. The samples include 75 termite mound samples from its two granted Côte d'Ivoire licences: the Yamoussoukro licence, covering some alluvial areas, and 19 rock chip samples from the Djekanou licence. All samples were tested for multielements and those from Djekanou tested in addition for their potential lithium content.

In parallel with its preparation for exploitation of the alluvial gold potential of its Burkina Faso licences, the Company is preparing for potential alluvial production in Côte d'Ivoire.

Red Rock Chairman Andrew Bell comments: "In the course of the next few days, besides visiting the DRC for important meetings, we will be making progress in our West African gold licences, determining the first locations for production, bringing in equipment, and revisiting and briefing local communities."
