Sealand Capital Galaxy and EVOO AI PLC Select Vacuumlabs as Strategic Development Partner for SEA-VOO AI ASIA

Sealand Capital Galaxy Limited [LSE: SCGL] and EVOO AI PLC are pleased to announce that after an extensive global search, they have selected Vacuumlabs as their strategic development partner for the rollout of SEA-VOO AI ASIA.

Vacuumlabs is an internationally recognized technology firm specializing in fintech solutions, consumer engagement platforms, and large-scale digital banking infrastructure. With a team of over 300 engineers, designers, and product experts and clients spread across Europe, North America, and Asia, the company has a proven track record of building cutting-edge digital experiences that drive real commercial value.

The decision to partner with Vacuumlabs was driven by their deep expertise in fintech and consumer engagement technologies, which aligns perfectly with SEA-VOO AI ASIA's mission to deliver a personalized, AI-powered luxury e-commerce experience across the APAC region.

Dr. Thomas Sawyer, CEO of Sealand Capital Galaxy, commented:

"Selecting the right development partner is a critical step towards ensuring SEA-VOO AI ASIA's success. Vacuumlabs stood out not only for their world-class engineering capabilities but also for their experience in building scalable, high-performance platforms that blend fintech solutions with digital commerce. Their ability to drive consumer engagement through seamless technology integrations made them the ideal partner for this ambitious project, and we and the EVOO team are looking forward to working with them to deliver an exceptional technology platform that drives revenue across our group of companies."

Michael Callas, Chief Strategy Officer of EVOO AI PLC, added:

"Vacuumlabs brings an unmatched level of expertise in secure, data-driven technology solutions, having played a pivotal role in the success of major financial and digital commerce initiatives worldwide. Their work in APAC, particularly in helping build Mox by Standard Chartered in Hong Kong, underscores their ability to execute at the highest level in our target markets. We are excited to collaborate with a partner that shares our vision for using AI to redefine luxury e-commerce."

Tomáš Mašek, CEO Vacuumlabs, commented:

"We are excited about the SEA-VOO vision and the opportunity to help bring an innovative platform to market. EVOO shares our passion for delivering value through the use of digital technology."

Vacuumlabs has earned a strong reputation for its work in fintech and digital banking, notably contributing to the success of Mox, the next-generation digital bank developed by Standard Chartered in Hong Kong. Their extensive experience in the APAC region and their ability to develop secure, scalable, and AI-driven platforms were key factors in the decision-making process.

SEA-VOO AI ASIA is set to revolutionize the luxury e-commerce landscape in APAC, providing consumers with a curated and data-driven shopping experience powered by EVOO's AI technology. With Vacuumlabs as the lead development partner, Sealand and EVOO are confident in delivering a world-class platform that seamlessly integrates AI, fintech, and personalized commerce to elevate consumer engagement in the region.
