Interview with Professor Ronjon Nag and Richard Edwards
Following Strategic Alliance with R42

capAI plc (LSE: CPAI) is pleased to share an interview with Professor Ronjon Nag and Richard Edwards, hosted by StockBox, following the Company's recently announced strategic alliance ("Alliance") with Silicon Valley venture firm R42.

In the interview, Professor Nag and Richard Edwards speak positively about the Alliance and how it is instrumental in shaping capAI's three-pillar operating strategy: Identify, Incubate, and Invent. They also discuss how the partnership provides capAI with capital-efficient access to early-stage AI innovation, particularly in the areas of media and medicine.

As part of the conversation, Professor Nag demonstrates an AI-powered book generator; an example of the types of high-impact, commercialisable tools under early review by the Alliance.
