PETARDS GROUP PLC

("Petards" or the "Group")

Contract Win

Petards, the AIM quoted developer of advanced security, communication and surveillance systems, announces that its subsidiary, QRO Solutions (QRO), has recently received an order worth almost £0.3 million for ANPR systems.

The order is from one of its UK police force customers, for the supply and installation of QRO's NASBox roadside ANPR systems, under a framework agreement, adding to the NASBox systems it already successfully operates in its region. The order is scheduled to be delivered and installed during the current financial year.

Raschid Abdullah, Chairman of Petards Group plc said:

"We are delighted that QRO has again been selected by this customer to supply its roadside ANPR technology which we believe continues to illustrate the high levels of confidence customers have in QRO's products, and the value they place on the high quality of customer service it provides."
