Main elements impacting the quarter aggregates

- Hydrocarbon production of the second quarter 2025 is expected to be at the midpoint of the quarterly guidance, around 2.5% growth compared to second quarter 2024.
- Exploration & Production results are expected to reflect the evolution of the environment (7/b average liquids price decrease vs first quarter 2025), in line with published sensitivities while being supported by accretive production growth both in results and cash.
- Integrated LNG results are expected to reflect the evolution of the environment (average LNG selling price of 9.1/Mbtu vs 10.0/Mbtu in the first quarter of 2025, reflecting crude price evolution) and low volatility in gas trading.
- Integrated Power results are expected to be between 500 and 550 million, and quarterly cash flow in line with the annual guidance.
- Refining & Chemicals results are expected to reflect the improvement of refining margins (ERM growing to 35.3/t vs 29.4/t in the first quarter) and of the refining utilization rate. Downstream results will benefit from the positive effect of seasonality in Marketing & Services, whose results are expected to be at the same level as the second quarter 2024.

2025 Sensitivities*	Change	Estimated impact on adjusted net operating income	Estimated impact on cash flow from operations
Dollar	+/- 0.1 per â,â	-/+ 0.1 B	~0 B
Average liquids price 	+/- 10 /b	+/- 2.3 B	+/- 2.8 B
European gas price â€ TTF	+/- 2 /Mbtu	+/- 0.4 B	+/- 0.4 B
European Refining Margin Marker (ERM)	+/- 10 /t	+/- 0.4 B	+/- 0.5 B

* Sensitivities are revised once per year upon publication of the previous yearTMs fourth quarter results. Sensitivities are estimates based on assumptions about TotalEnergiesTM portfolio in 2025. Actual results could vary significantly from estimates based on the application of these sensitivities. The impact of the -â,â sensitivity on adjusted net operating income is essentially attributable to Refining & Chemicals.

 In an 70-80 /b Brent environment.

This document may contain forward-looking statements (including forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995), notably with respect to the financial condition, results of operations, business activities and strategy of TotalEnergies. This document may also contain statements regarding the perspectives, objectives, areas of improvement and goals of TotalEnergies, including with respect to climate change and carbon neutrality (net zero emissions). An ambition expresses an outcome desired by TotalEnergies, it being specified that the means to be deployed do not depend solely on TotalEnergies. These forward-looking statements may generally be identified by the use of the future or conditional tense or forward-looking words such as “will”, “should”, “could”, “would”, “may”, “likely”, “might”, “envision”, “intend”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “consider”, “explain”, “expect”, “think”, “target”, “commit”, “aim” or similar terminology. Such forward-looking statements included in this document are based on economic data, estimates and assumptions prepared in a given economic, competitive and regulatory environment and considered to be reasonable by TotalEnergies as of the date of this document.

These forward-looking statements are not historical data and should not be interpreted as assurances that the perspectives, objectives or goals announced will be achieved. They may prove to be inaccurate in the future, and may evolve or be modified with a significant difference between the actual results and those initially estimated, due to the uncertainties notably related to the economic, financial, competitive and regulatory environment, or due to the occurrence of risk factors, such as, notably, the price fluctuations in crude oil and natural gas, the evolution of the demand and price of petroleum products, the changes in production results and reserves estimates, the ability to achieve cost reductions and operating efficiencies without unduly disrupting business operations, changes in laws and regulations including those related to the environment and climate, currency fluctuations, technological innovations, meteorological conditions and events, as well as socio-demographic, economic and political developments, changes in market conditions, loss of market share and changes in consumer preferences, or pandemics such as the COVID-19 pandemic. Additionally, certain financial information is based on estimates particularly in the assessment of the recoverable value of assets and potential impairments of assets relating thereto.

Readers are cautioned not to consider forward-looking statements as accurate, but as an expression of the Company’s views only as of the date this document is published. TotalEnergies SE and its subsidiaries have no obligation, make no commitment and expressly disclaim any responsibility to investors or any stakeholder to update or revise, particularly as a result of new information or future events, any forward-looking information or statement, objectives or trends contained in this document. In addition, the Company has not verified and is under no obligation to verify any third-party data contained in this document or used in the estimates and assumptions or, more generally, forward-looking statements published in this document.

The information on risk factors that could have a significant adverse effect on TotalEnergies’ business, financial condition, including its operating income and cash flow, reputation, outlook or the value of financial instruments issued by TotalEnergies is provided in the most recent version of the Universal Registration Document which is filed by TotalEnergies SE with the French Autorité des Marchés Financiers and the annual report on Form 20-F filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Additionally, the developments of climate change and other environmental-or social related issues in this document are based on various frameworks and the interests of various stakeholders which are subject to evolve independently of our will. Moreover, our disclosures on such issues, including disclosures on climate change and other environmental or social-related issues, may include information that is not necessarily “material” under US securities laws for SEC reporting purposes or under applicable securities law.

Financial information by business segment is reported in accordance with the internal reporting system and shows internal segment information that is used to manage and measure the performance of TotalEnergies. In addition to IFRS measures, certain alternative performance indicators are presented, such as performance indicators excluding certain adjustment items described below (adjusted operating income, adjusted net operating income, adjusted net income), return on equity (ROE), return on average capital employed (ROACE), gearing ratio, operating cash flow before working capital changes, the shareholder rate of return. These indicators are meant to facilitate the analysis of the financial performance of TotalEnergies and the comparison of income between periods. They allow investors to track the measures used internally to manage and measure the performance of TotalEnergies. The adjusted results (adjusted operating income, adjusted net operating income, adjusted net income) are defined as replacement cost results, adjusted for special items, excluding the effect of changes in fair value. For further details on the adjustment items, please refer to the last published earnings statement and notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Euro amounts presented for the fully adjusted-diluted earnings per share represent dollar amounts converted at the average euro-dollar (€, -) exchange rate for the applicable period and are not the result of financial statements prepared in euros.

Cautionary Note to US Investors – “The SEC permits oil and gas companies, in their filings with the SEC, to separately disclose proved, probable and possible reserves that a company has determined in accordance with SEC rules. We may use certain terms in this document, such as “potential reserves” or “resources”, that the SEC’s guidelines strictly prohibit us from including in filings with the SEC.
