Citywire Investment Trust Insider - Specialist Equities Award 2025

Golden Prospect Precious Metals Limited (LSE:GPM) has been awarded Citywire Investment Trust Insider's Specialist Equity award.

The annual Citywire Investment Trust Awards celebrate the top-performing closed-end funds across 18 categories, recognising outstanding performance in growth in net asset value (NAV) over the three years to 31 August 2025.

The performance awards are given to investment companies judged to have delivered the best underlying return in terms of growth in NAV in the three years to 31 August 2025. Funds investing in publicly-listed equities are ranked on risk-adjusted performance against their benchmark indices.

Golden Prospect Precious Metals secured the Specialist Equities award following strong risk-adjusted returns relative to peers and its benchmark, reflecting both disciplined and well-informed portfolio management, and exposure to precious metals during a volatile period for global equities.

Keith Watson and Robert Crayfurd, co-fund managers of Golden Prospect Precious Metals, commented:

"We are delighted that Golden Prospect Precious Metals has been recognised by Citywire for its performance within the Specialist Equities category. This award is testament to the strong performance of the Company, not just over the past few months, which have been exceptionally strong, but also over a three-year period. Within this timeframe, we have been able to deliver a 94.7% NAV total return and 91.3% share price total return over the three-year period to 31 August 2025. Whilst the backdrop of a high gold price has been supportive of the underlying miners in which we invest, we very much aim to keep working diligently to enable further healthy performance of the trust."
