About Haydale

Haydale plc is an advanced materials and clean-technology company focused on the development and deployment of energy- and water-efficient technologies at scale.

The Group leverages its proprietary HDPlas® platform technology to develop patented graphene-enabled products across heating, cooling and energy-efficiency applications. These technologies are deployed through an integrated commercial model that combines in-house product development with established customer access, delivery capability and long-term partner relationships, including through the SaveMoneyCutCarbon Impact Partner programme.

Haydale's strategy is focused on accelerating the deployment of cost-effective decarbonisation solutions across the UK's built environment, while building a scalable platform for wider international deployment through strategic partners. The Group is execution-led and product-focused, translating advanced materials science into commercially deployable solutions that deliver measurable energy, water and carbon savings.
