VIII. The nature of the issuer's business.

A. Business Development. Javalution Coffee Company is a Florida corporation (hereinafter referred to as the "Company," "we," "our," or "us") formed in February of 2003. The Company's Fiscal Year End is December 31st. We are an early stage revenue producing, publically traded company (JCOF) that has developed and begun marketing our unique JavaFit™ line of coffee based nutritionally enhanced "functional food" products. Additionally, the company owns a 100% equity interest in CLR Roasters which is a coffee roasting operation that produces the JavaFit brand of coffee among other coffee brands.

We are in our eighth year in business. We began by developing our first fortified coffee, Diet Plus, which targeted the weight conscious consumer. Shortly after establishing market acceptance to its Diet Coffee the company began developing additional fortified gourmet coffees.

The base product in JavaFit's gourmet coffee consists of a blend of coffee beans that are of the highest quality available in the world. We only utilize choice Grade 1 beans from the world's finest coffee growing regions. We combine these beans with various nutrients and supplements that when blended together provide a great tasting cup of coffee that provides wellness functions and we market these coffees under the brand JavaFit®.

Fortified foods and beverages have gained wide acceptance on a worldwide basis and has experienced significant growth over the last several years. Many product categories are evaluating the entry into the fortified arena. We believe that the key to entry is to fortify a product that already has wide and, more importantly, daily use by consumers. We believe that with the wide and daily use of coffee by so many consumers JavaFit's fortified gourmet coffee has significant market potential. To date, we have tried a number of distribution channels and a wide variety of advertising media. None of these distribution channels has generated sufficient revenues for us to operate profitably. Management has explored and evaluated multi-level marketing as an optimal distribution strategy for the JavaFit brand since 2007. Beginning in 2009 we elected to enter this business platform and launched a Direct Sales Program (“ DSP”) approach in April of 2009.

B. MULTI LEVEL MARKETING:

MLM is a business-distribution model that allows a parent company to market its products directly to consumers by means of relationship referrals and direct selling. Independent, unsalaried salespeople of multi-level marketing, referred to as distributors (or associates, independent business owners, dealers, sales consultants, consultants, independent agents, etc.), represent the parent company and are awarded a commission based upon the volume of product sold through each of their independent business operations.

Independent distributors develop their organizations by either building an active customer base, who buy direct from the parent company, or by recruiting a downline of independent distributors who also build a customer base, thereby expanding the overall organization. Additionally, distributors can also earn a profit by retailing products they purchased from the parent company at wholesale price.

Distributors earn a commission based on the sales efforts of their organization, which includes their independent sale efforts as well as the leveraged sales efforts of their downline. Commissions are paid to multi-level marketing distributors according to the company's compensation plan. There can be multiple levels of people receiving royalties from one person's sales. After investing significant dollars in software, web development, recruiting tools, and alternative packaging JavaFit orchestrated a national launch in July of 2009.

RICHMONT HOLDINGS STRATEGIC ALLIANCE: As of July 15, 2010 the company entered into a strategic alliance with Richmond Holdings. Richmond brings a experienced team of leaders to Javalution led by their Chariman, John Rochon, who is the former chairman of Mary Kay Cosmetics. Richmond will focus their efforts on sales and marketing.

Through December 31, 2010 approximately 3800 affiliates have joined the company and JavaFit products are distributed in 48 states. The company plans to enter it first international markets in later this year.

CLR ROASTERS

In 2007 Javalution Coffee Company acquired a 50% stake in its coffee roaster. In October of 2008 the company acquired an additional 10% of the roasting business and by September 1, 2009 the remaining interest in CLR Roasters was acquired by Javalution Coffee Company. CLR Roasters is a strategic investment for the company and will help to maximize shareholder value. We strongly feel vertical integration is an important step to controlling quality, growing revenue and servicing our customers.

Currently CLR Roasters generates revenue with its product and roasting capabilities as follows:

- 1 Brick Packs in Retail: CLR, our roasting division, has a proprietary brand known as Café La Rica. Café La Rica is an espresso sold in a 10 oz brick pack (Vacuum sealed for long shelf life). This brand is currently sold in Wal-Mart, Winn-Dixie, and Albertsons'. We service this market directly and through sales representatives. We expect further growth in our brick pack business over the next several years and have received interest from both Navarro's and Sam's.

- 2 Super Sacks to Distributors: Since our roasting capabilities are greater than our packaging capabilities we market our roasting services to a number of distributors to take advantage of our excess roasting capacity. We roast coffee for a number of distributors and ship to them in 1,000 pound sacks called Super Sacks. Our distributors then package these roasted coffees (either whole bean or ground) with their own packaging equipment.

Packs and Bags to Distributors and Private Label Users: CLR Roasters roasts and packages coffee for a number of companies as their private label producers. We currently produce product for wholesalers like Best Coffee, Gourmet Cup and Diplomat Coffee as well as manufacture and distribute coffee and coffee accessories to LP Signature assisted living centers. Additionally, CLR Roasters provides coffee for Carnival Cruise Lines, Costa Cruise Lines, Regent Cruise Lines, and Aldi Stores. CLR is targeting other wellness centers to expand this opportunity as well as exploring opportunities with cruise lines to be their private label provider of ground coffee.

Our JavaFit Brand and the Importance of Functional Foods

Two of the most visible functional foods are (1) nutrition/sports bars, which deliver energy, fiber and nutritional ingredients in a convenient, easy to eat food form, and (2) functional beverages, which are enhanced with vitamins, calcium and other nutrients. We expect to see a proliferation of functional foods and beverages, creating widespread awareness of their benefits. We intend to use our unique JavaFit line of coffee products to develop a leading position within the coffee category within the fast growing “functional food” market, estimated to grow to be $49 billion by decade’s end. “Functional foods” are commonly consumed food or drink products that have been enhanced by the addition of vitamins or other nutraceuticals to provide special nutritional benefits. Examples, include, bottled fruit juice or water with added nutrients (i.e., Sobe®, VitaminWater®, Tazo®); orange juice fortified with calcium or breakfast cereals fortified with vitamins.

At least 109 million Americans drink coffee every day. An estimated 127 million Americans are overweight and dieters are spending an estimated $48 billion each year on equipment, supplements and other diet products. Energy based beverages in 2007 experienced 700% growth. Wellness as a general category is experiencing exponential growth. Our goal is to aggressively target our marketing efforts at the fitness, energy and general wellness segments of the market. We believe that drinking JavaFit, when combined with a proper diet and exercise regimen, will assist consumers in reducing fat, losing weight, increasing energy, and maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

The Demand for Energy Products

We are living in a high intensity, high performance world, in which the demanding level of expectation in almost everything we do requires more energy, whether that's at the office, in school, at the gym or in just coping with the pressures of everyday life.

This has created a huge market that has grown around products that help people have more energy. From Red Bull, Gatorade, Excel, Accelerade and the plethora of sports energy drinks to an array of nutritional supplements and food bars containing ephedra, Ma Huang, ginseng, yerbamate and guarana, the enhanced energy business is booming and these products have nearly ubiquitous retail distribution.

Manufacturing and Raw Materials

JavaFit Ground Coffee and Espresso: All of our product manufacturing is currently placed through our wholly owned subsidiary CLR Roasters. Our roasting company maintains their own inventory of coffee beans and roasts and grinds our coffee to our specifications on a per order basis. The blending of our proprietary formulation of nutrients and supplements is handled by our science team under the leadership of our Chief Science Officer.

To assist us in meeting the rapid ramp up that occurs within a direct marketing platform we have already invested in a second roaster that will allow us to produce up to 3.5 million pounds of coffee annually.

JavaFit Ready to Drink Products: In 2007 we aligned ourselves with three large organizations in the development and manufacturing of our Ready to Drink Products (“RTD”). Utilizing the research and development from Insight Beverage Company we have developed a line of RTD’s that have performed well in internal taste studies. Insight has selected Tetra Pak as our packaging company and we have selected Jasper Co. out of Joplin, Missouri as our manufacturer. Our sales samples are produced and ready to be placed in the hands of our direct marketing team at the appropriate time. The shelf life on our product is 1 year non-refrigerated.

CLR Roasters: Currently all JavaFit ground coffee is roasted and packaged with our own roast plant operating under the name CLR Roasters. Our plant is currently operating at 40% of its roasting capacity and we already have additional roasting equipment in place that will allow us to double our roasting capacity. Our roasting operation is capable of producing regular and decaf coffee in ground coffee, espresso coffee, and in whole roasted beans. We also can produce flavored coffees. In the second quarter of 2008 we added production equipment that allows us the ability to produce brick packs in house as well as additional equipment that automates the production of our bagged ground coffee.

Compliance with Government Regulations

The manufacturing, processing, formulating, packaging, labeling, distributing, selling and advertising of our products are subject to regulation by one or more federal agencies. The most active regulation has been administered by The Food and Drug Administration (hereinafter the FDA) which regulates our products pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (hereinafter the FDCA) and regulations promulgated there under. In particular, the FDA regulates the safety, manufacturing, labeling and distribution of dietary supplements, including vitamins, minerals and herbs, food additives, food supplements, over-the-counter drugs and prescription drugs, medical devices and cosmetics. In addition, the Federal Trade Commission (hereinafter the FTC) has overlapping jurisdiction with the FDA to regulate the labeling, promotion and advertising of dietary supplements, over the counter drugs, cosmetics and foods.

Compliance with applicable FDA and any state or local statute is critical. Although we believe that we will be in compliance with applicable statutes, there can be no assurance that, should the FDA amend its guidelines or impose more stringent interpretations of current laws or regulations, we would be able to comply with these new guidelines. We are unable to predict the nature of such future laws, regulations, interpretations or applications, nor can we predict what effect additional governmental regulations or administrative orders, when and if promulgated, would have on our business in the future. These regulations could, however, require the reformation of our coffee to meet new standards, market withdrawal or discontinuation of certain products not able to be reformulated.

Advertising of dietary supplement products is subject to regulation by the FTC under the Federal Trade Commission Act (hereinafter the "FTCA"). Section 5 of the FTCA prohibits unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive trade acts or practices in or affecting commerce. Section 12 of the FTCA provides that the dissemination or the causing to be disseminated of any false advertising pertaining to drugs or foods, which would include dietary supplements, is an unfair or deceptive act or practice. Under the FTC's Substantiation Doctrine, an advertiser is required to have a "reasonable basis" for all objective product claims before the claims are made. Pursuant to this FTC requirement, we are required to have adequate substantiation of all material advertising claims made for its products.

Marketing Campaign

The key to JavaFit's acceptance in the market place is to get the consumer tasting our coffee. All of our marketing efforts will be geared toward achieving that goal. We hope to accomplish this objective through a number of approaches that puts a cup of JavaFit into the hands of the consumer. Although we will support or direct marketing effort with some target marketing it has been proven that with a direct marketing approach word of mouth from your army of sales people will produce the greatest results.

Competition

The diet fitness and health food industries, as well as the food and drink industries in general, are highly competitive, rapidly evolving and subject to constant change. The number of competitors in the overall diet, fitness, health food, nutraceutical industries is virtually endless. We expect that as our products establish a market niche, competition will arise from a variety of sources, from large multinationals like General Foods and Nestle, already in the coffee business, to the myriad of other smaller national and regional nutraceutical companies.

Many of our potential competitors have:

- greater financial, technical, personnel, promotional and marketing resources;
- longer operating histories;
- greater name recognition; and
- larger consumer bases than us.

We believe that existing industry competitors are likely to continue to expand their product offerings. Moreover, because there are few, if any, substantial barriers to entry, we expect that new competitors are likely to enter the "functional foods" and nutraceutical market and attempt to market a "functional food" or nutraceutical coffee products similar to our products, which would result in greater competition. We cannot be certain that we will be able to compete successfully in this extremely competitive market.

X. The nature and extent of issuer facilities.

We operated our business at the following facilities:

If all outstanding warrants are exercised, we will receive additional proceeds of approximately $6,000,000 in financing and we will be required to issue approximately 24,000,000 shares of our common stock.

XVII. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

A. Operations to Date

We have incurred significant operating losses to date. These losses are directly attributable to the fact that we were required to spend significant sums of money developing and testing our product, conducting market research, identifying proper channels of distribution, traveling to trade shows and taking such steps as necessary in order for us to bring our product to market.

For the 12 month reporting period ended December 31, 2010, our net sales were 3,506,870, cost of sales were, $2,855,369 resulting in a gross loss of $651,501. Total operating expenses were $2,160,025. We incurred a loss from operations of $(1,508,524).

During 2011 we will continued to operate at a loss as we begin the year, however, our burn rate will drop substantially based on new business begun in ther 4th quarter of 2010 and a new contract with Aldi Stores that will start to realize revenue in the 2nd quarter of 2011. Assuming we receive the required financing and we execute on our contracts management anticipates reaching profitability by the 2nd quarter of 2011 and beyond.

Copies of our 2009 year end financial statements and our 2010 financial statements are posted on pinksheets.com under the trading symbol jcof.

B. Management Discussion

We continue to execute a multiple revenue stream business model with major focus on our Direct Sales business that currently markets the JavaFit brand and commercial sales through our roasting unit CLR Roasters. In the 4th quarter of 2010 we decided to re-launch the direct sales business utilizing a uni-level compensation program designed to increase retention. With this decision we changed our software platform and provider to Greystar Inc. The new platform will come up live on January 3rd 2011. JavaFit's line of products is well received as a direct sales product and we expect the new compensation program

We are proud to have you view our new site at www.myjavafit.com. Our web based capabilities now place us in a position to capitalize on the growth prospects before us both domestically and internationally and we strongly feel our investment has us well positioned to attract and retain the best networkers.

CLR Roasters

Our effort to acquire 100% of our coffee roasting facility was accomplished on September 1, 2009. We are pleased to have CLR Roasters operating as a wholly owned subsidiary of Javalution Coffee Company. We believe controlling 100% of our roasting for the JavaFit brand as well as the additional revenue opportunities that exist through CLR Roasters Café La Rica brand and its established private label business provides us with a more stable diversified revenue platform than we could establish by only marketing under the JavaFit brand. CLR Roasters added significant new business by becoming a supplier to Carnival Cruise Lines in the 4th Quarter.

Diversified Revenue Model

We have a very exciting and stable business model that includes four areas for revenue generation. We are generating revenue in the following areas:

Traditional Retail: CLR Roasters Café La Rica brand is currently sold in Wal-Mart and Winn Dixie and various other small retailers

Private Label: CLR Roasters currently provides roasting service to a number of customers and our coffees can be found in, Walt Disney world Resorts, and various cruise lines

Distribution Business: CLR Roasters has been providing coffee to LP Signature Wellness centers for quite some time. In March we were granted distribution rights for other products and negotiated distributorships with Splenda, Filter Pack, Diamond Crystal and other suppliers.

Network Marketing Business: JavaFit is now being marketing through a network marketing platform that already has 3800 active affiliates in our program.

Summary: We expect to see continued quarter to quarter revenue growth and have our sites on achieving profitability in 2011.
