

Ke Holdings (BEKE US)

Solid market share gains amid uncertain environment

Beike reported (12 Aug) 2Q24 results: revenue increased 20% YoY to RMB23.4bn, and was 9% ahead of both our forecast and Bloomberg consensus estimates, thanks to a beat on GTV of both new home transactions (NHT) and existing home transactions (EHT), and stronger-than-expected expansion of NHT aided by strong industry demand. Non-GAAP net income was RMB2.7bn, 48% better than both our estimate and consensus, thanks to a beat on revenue and more optimized-than-expected operating expense spend. We remain constructive on Beike's market share gains for its core business aided by its well-established infrastructure and nimble business operation capability, and are positive on its new business development prospect. Our SOTP-based target price is fine-tuned to US$21.5 (was US$22.0), including US$20.6 for Beike Core and US$0.9 for Shengdu, translating into 20.8x 2024E PE (non-GAAP). BUY.

- 2Q results demonstrated solid market share gains and the trend is likely to sustain in 3Q. Beike's 2Q results demonstrated strong market share gains in both EHT and NHT markets: 1) in the four first-tier cities, the total number of online registrations for EHT grew 16% YoY in 2Q24, per housing bureau data, as compared to 40% on Beike's platform; 2) NHT GTV on Beike's platform declined by 20% YoY, as compared to a decline of 35% YoY for the whole industry. In addition, for NHT, the reduction in account receivables days to 45 days in 2Q (from 69 days in 1Q), increase in take rate to 3.4% (from an already high level of 3.2% in 1Q), and a relative stable percentage of GTV generated from Kuaiyong Program (which requires counterparty to pay commissions in advance) all speak to Beike's strong bargaining power, in our view. We expect market share gains for both Beike's EHT and NHT businesses to sustain in 3Q, mainly due to: 1) strong industry destocking demand from developers; and 2) Beike's well established agency cooperation network and enhanced operating efficiency.
- Home renovation: business development target shifted from pure scale growth to a focus on margin expansion as well. In 2Q24, Beike generated RMB4.0bn of revenue in home renovation and furnishing business, up 54% YoY. Management noted that the KPI for home renovation business is shifting from rapid scale expansion to gross margin expansion in 2024, and contribution margin for the business has improved to 31% in 2Q24 (2Q23: 29%). Driven by more refined operation, we expect loss margin of home renovation and furnishing business to improve from -10% in 2023 to -4% in 2024 (previous forecast: -5%), while maintaining 44% YoY revenue growth forecast in 2024E.
- Management remains committed to enhancing shareholder return. Management highlighted that it has in aggregate repurchased shares with a total consideration of c.US$480mn YTD in 2024, which accounted for approximately 2.75% of Beike's total issued shares at the end of 2023. Beike has upsize and extended the existing share repurchase program to 31 Aug 2025, with the repurchase authorization being increased to US$3bn (was US$2bn), and Beike maintains its target of 6-7% shareholder return per annum on a repurchase and dividend combined basis in 2024.
- Property market outlook: Amid the typical summer sales lull in Jul and Aug, sales momentum has decelerated post June's peak. Daily avg. transaction volume for new homes in 30 major cities recorded -24%/-19% MoM change in July/MTD in Aug (as of Aug 11). For secondary market, daily avg. sales volume in 17 cities booked +4%/-21% in July/MTD in Aug. In terms of YTD performance, new home sales and second-hand home sales declined 35% and 4% YoY, respectively. Our leading indicator shows a narrowed reduction in property-related searches in Jul, suggesting a narrowed new home sales decline in Aug. Considering 1) Our leading indicator suggests a narrowed sales decline in Aug, the anticipated increase in new project launches in Sep and Oct, and the promotional season in Nov and Dec in new home market, and 2) the rising listing number, the ongoing price-for-volume dynamic, as well as the lower base in 2H24 for secondary market, we maintain our full-year forecasts of a -20%/+1% YoY change in primary/secondary sales value for the industry in 2024E.
